GUESTS GAVE LINEN FOR THE HOSPITAL

Novel Tea and Reception for for Benefit of Muhlenberg Was Held Yesterday.

THEN THERE WAS CASH

EACH GUEST BROUGHT SOMETHING OF USE AT THE HOSPITAL.

Delightful Affair Given by Mrs. Gilford Mayer and Mrs. T. S. Wheeler, at the Home of the former on Park Avenue.

At the home of Mrs. Gilford Mayer, of Park avenue, a tea and reception was given yesterday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital. That it was a success is shown in the fact that there were over $100 worth of linen towels and other things contributed towards the hospital and a little over $10 in money was collected. The reception was given by Mrs. Mayer and Mrs. Thomas S. Wheeler.

The entire lower floor of the house was tastefully decorated with yellow daffodils and greens which presented an attractive appearance. The same scheme of decorations were carried out upon the table at which the tea was poured.

It has been the cutom in giving teas for the benefit of the hospital to have a silver collection taken but at the tea of yesterday that custom was departed from and instead, contributions in linen ware and other necessary articles used at the hospital were received. The idea took well and the contributions were very large. There were fully a hundred people present but contributions were received from many who were unavoidably detained.

Mrs. Mayer and Mrs. Wheeler were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Walter M. McGee, Mrs. Frank S. Martin, Mrs. N. Pendelton Rogers, Mrs. George Wharton Edwards, Mrs. Frank deL. Hyde, Mrs. Abram G. Hooley, Miss Cooks, Mrs. Otto Arens, Miss Edith Arens, Miss Mary Tweedy, Mrs. Josiah Brown, Mrs. W. E. Lowe, Mrs. Howard Fleming, Mrs. Frank Herring, Mrs. E. L. French and Mrs. J. K. Pendelton. Three members of the first Auxiliary Board of the Hospital, who were members when the hospital first opened in this city, were present and they were Mrs. Mayer, Miss Kenyon and Dr. Martha Stillman.

The young women who assisted in the dining room and who looked after the comfort of the guests were Miss Charlotte Lowe, Miss Lulu Holly, Miss Helen Martin, Miss Marjory Fleming, Miss Marie Finch, Miss Goddard, Miss Helen Brown and Miss Guion.

Last Wagner Recital.

The fourth and last of the series of Wagner musicales was given yesterday morning at the home of Miss Emilie Schipper, of West Seventh street, by Miss Estella Neuhaus. The subject was "Gotterdammerung," and its interpretation was equally as charming as the three preceding ones. There was a large and appreciative audience present, and much enthusiasm was evidenced during the musicale.

Fifty Dropped In.

A surprise party was tendered Adam Fritz at his home on Somerset street last evening when fifty friends and relatives dropped in on him unexpectedly. The surprise was arranged in honor of his fifty-second birthday. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing games, dancing and in enjoying a feast which was spread for the guests. Many presentations were made.

Making a Success.

Paul Ackerly, formerly of The Daily Press staff, who has had remarkable success in the cultivation of tobacco in Connecticut, recently purchased a large tract of tobacco land in the town of East Granby, Conn. This is the fourth purchase made by Mr. Ackerly during the past year, aggregating more than 800 acres.

Ensemble Club Recital.

An interesting piano recital was given yesterday afternoon by the Ensemble Club at the residence of Miss Anna O. Marsh, of Madison avenue. Italian music was discussed and selections from Rosinni and Verdi were rendered.

CYCLIST HURT IN COLLISION

JACOB VOEHL, JR., INJURED IN A CRASH LAST EVENING.

While Riding Without a Light, He Collided With Unknown Wheelman on Summit Avenue.

Jacob Voehl, Jr., the youngest son of Henry Voehl, the baker of Somerset street, was seriously injured last evening in a collision between two bicycles on Summit avenue. He was taken into the house at the corner of Watchung avenue and Summit avenue in an unconscious condition and it was not until strong stimulants were administered that he regained consciousness.

Young Voehl was riding without a light when, in turning the corner of Summit avenue into Watchung, he ran into another man on a bicycle. Voehl was thrown violently to the ground and was injured on the chest. The man with whom he collided was hurt, and his wheel was wrecked but in the excitement he walked off and his name is not known.

Voehl was taken into the house by Sherman Haberle, of Chatham street, and word was sent for his father. Dr. Pitts was called in and he found that the injuries were serious. The young man is resting easier this morning.

ANOTHER PLANT COMING HERE

PLAINFIELD TOOL AND EQUIPMENT COMPANY TO HAVE A FACTORY.

Joseph Loughead Will Head Concern—Has Secured Several Options on Sites.

While not as large as some others which have preceded it, another manufacturing concern is destined for this city. Within a few weeks a company headed by Joseph Loughead, well-known in Plainfield as the former superintendent of the Columbia Tool Works on East Fourth street, will open a plant that will employ twenty-five skilled machanics. It will be known as the Plainfield Tool and Equipment Company and the output will consist of a general line of machine tools, special machinery and punch and die work.

Mr. Loughead was in this city, yesterday, and secured options on several desirable locations. He will make a selection inside of a week. Associated with him are R. H. Snider and R. W. Branwood, Philadelphia men, who are quite well-known in Plainfield manufacturing circles. They have invested $10,000 in the enterprise and intend to branch out as soon as the business is placed on a firm foundation.

SAFE WORKS GROUNDS.

Will Soon Start Putting the Myrtle Avenue Grounds in Condition.

It was stated this morning that the members of the Manganese Steel Safe Works baseball team will shortly begin operations towards putting their baseball field in condition for the coming season. A large grandstand will be erected and the diamond will be treated with a top dressing of a combination of macadam and clay. This makes a fine hard ground, which packs well and can be readily scraped and kept in condition. The grounds are on Myrtle avenue.

The grounds are used by the North Plainfield High School ball team and its first game will be played on April 11 with the Batten High School at Elizabeth.

Old Land Mark.

Jacob Kettelring, of Race street, yesterday afternoon cut down a large cherry tree in the front yard of his house which has stood for almost a hundred years. Years ago it was known about this town for its fine large fruit, but of late years it has borne poor fruit, and as evidences of dry rot began to appear the owner decided to cut it down.

CITY OFFICIALS SEE 'PHONES AT TRENTON

Inspect Plant in That City as Guests of Company Looking for Local Franchise.

A DINNER FOLLOWED

INTER-STATE TELEPHONE COMPANY HAS A $60,000 BUILDING.

Visitors See the Exchange in Operation and the Company's Representatives Explain the Workings of Its Telephones.

Upon the invitation of the Inter-State Telephone Company, of New Jersey, a number of local officials went to Trenton yesterday afternoon for the purpose of inspecting the plant of the company established in that city. Those in the party comprised Councilmen J. F. Suckle, R. I. Tolles, Robert L. Lee, Frank D. Randolph and Clarence L. Murphy, Chief P. S. Kiely, Andrew McCardell and a representative of The Daily Press. The party was escorted to Trenton by H. M. Coulter, a special agent for the Central New Jersey Telephone Company, the one applying for a franchise to operate in Plainfield.

Upon reaching Trenton the party was taken at once to the exchange of the telephone company, where a close inspection of the plant and system was made. The company is comfortably quartered in a $60,000 building and it was the opinion of those present that the plant is one of the most complete in operation. Mayor Katzenbach, of Trenton, met the party and solely from the standpoint of a public spirited citizen explained the benefits the company had been to Trenton.

The building is a three story and basement structure and is wholly occupied for the telephone business. The system in many respects is similar to the Bell system, but there are some changes. The telephone is not operated with a crank, the "central" being called simply by removing the receiver from the hook. Instead of the 'phone being supplied with batteries, this apparatus is at the "exchange" in storage battery form. The wall instrument used is about half the size of the one in use in this city. One advantage claimed is that if a party should leave his 'phone without hanging up the receiver there is a continuous musical sound in the receiver until the party returns and hangs it on the hook.

The entire equipment of the "exchange" is first-class and evidently no expense has been spared in making it a model plant. On the trip through the building the party was accompanied by C. W. Wright, auditor; Bruce Bedford, superintendent of construction, and B. C. Groh, electrical engineer, who explained in detail the working of the system.

After the inspection, Mayor N. B. Smalley, Samuel Townsend, W. C. Smith and H. S. Taylor, who were in Trenton on other business, called at the building and they, too, were shown through.

The party was then escorted to a local restaurant, where dinner was served and the various features of the telephone system were discussed. The company claims to be rapidly gaining ground in various parts of the State and it also has communication with Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Wilmington. While at the "exchange," members of the party were given an opportunity to talk to Camden. The courtesy shown by the Trenton officials was appreciated and they were thanked cordially.

ARMORY BILL SEEMS DOOMED

Brief Hearing Set for This Afternoon on the Annexation Law "Repealer."

ACTIVITY AT TRENTON

Senator Cross Reports City Armory Bill, Despite Objections of His Committee—Essex Armory Bill's Defeat Presages Fate of Other—Leavitt Working for Repealer.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, April 1—There seems little chance that the Plainfield armory bill will be passed by the State Senate this term. It was sent over to the Senate Monday night after having passed through the House. Senator Cross, to whose committee the bill was referred, reported back to the Senate this morning against the protest of the other members of the committee. It may come up for a vote this afternoon.

A general feeling exists that the bill will not pass the Senate, particularly as the Senate this morning voted down the bill which appropriated $125,000 for the Essex Troop armory at Newark.

Prominent citizens of both Plainfield and North Plainfield are in evidence here today. An attempt was made yesterday to rush the "repealer" to the annexation act through without a hearing. So much pressure was brought to bear that Assemblyman Leavitt, of Mercer, who is chairman of the committee to which it was referred, has reluctantly granted a brief hearing which will take place this afternoon. Assemblyman Leavitt is a supporter of State Senator Hutchinson and is following the latter's orders in attempting to rush the bill through the House. Assemblyman Newcorn is making a vigorous fight to defeat it. The fate of the "repealer" is in doubt. It may be reported back to this House this afternoon or evening.

BOUGHT OUT.

Patterson Brothers, Tobacconists Here for Thirty-Three Years, Dispose of Their Prosperous Business.

Papers were signed yesterday whereby the wholesale and retail tobacco business, conducted on West Front street by Patterson Brothers for the last thirty-three years, becomes the property of John R. Miller & Son, of Newark. The entire trade and good will of the old concern goes to the new firm. The business is now more prosperous than ever before since the firm was organized.

It is understood that the new firm will not continue the retail business but will transfer the stock to its Newark establishment and direct operations from there. Bert Boe, who has been in the employ of Patterson Brothers, will have charge of the business of the new firm in this section.

Shirley in the carpet and window shade business. CHURCH CHOIR GIVES ITS SECOND MUSICALE

A Large Audience Present at First Presbyterian Church to Hear It Rendered.

ENJOYED PROGRAMME

QUARTETTE CHOIR ASSISTED BY MISS AIMEE LOUISE EMMONS.

Also Two Members of the Euterpean Glee Club—The Selections Were Well Rendered and the Audience Was Well Pleased.

Another large audience greeted the quartette choir of the First Presbyterian church at its second private musicale, last evening. The programme was, if anything, better than its predecessor. The members of the organization appearing were Miss S. Etta Raybert, soprano; Mrs. Stephen H. Tugwell, contralto; Elmer D. Cutting, tenor, and Sydney R. Titsworth, baritone. For last evening they were assisted by Miss Elsie R. Giles, soprano; Miss Jessie Haynes, contralto; Max Honeyman, second tenor; R. Wilson Derby, bass, the latter two of the Euterpean Glee Club, and Miss Aimee Louise Emmons, elocutionist. Clifford A. Braider acted as conductor and his work was particularly effective.

The opening selection was given by the Glee Club, "Ave Marie," and was rendered in the usual exact tempo and pleasing tones which has made the quartette popular. "At the Sign of the Cleft Heart," a recitation, by Miss Emmons, followed and was longly applauded. It is one of the best selections in her wide repertoire and affords her an opportunity to display the elocutionary talent she possesses.

Bennett's "Come, Live With Me" was given by the entire chorus and proved to be one of the most pleasing numbers of the evening. The voices blended admirably. Mr. Cutting followed with an excellently rendered solo, "My Ladies' Bower." A feature of the programme was a solo by Miss Raybert, "The Image of the Rose," assisted by the Glee Club. While she gave the solo part, the club continued a crooning accompaniment which was quite novel. Mrs. Tugwell was seen at her best in Thomas' "A Summer Night." The first part closed with Barnby's "Sweet and Low" by the chorus.

Part second consisted of Macy's "Pickaninny Lullaby" by the Glee Club, Zardo's "To the Angels" by Miss Raybert, Abt's "The Twilight Fast is Falling" by Mrs. Tugwell assisted by the Glee Club, a monologue, "The Sweet Girl Graduate," by Miss Emmons, a solo, "Vulcan's Song" by Mr. Derby and Pinsuti's "Good Night, Good Night, Beloved" by the chorus.

The proceeds from the collection were quite large and will be added to the music fund. Those who acted as ushers, last evening, were Henry B. Drake, Harry Williams, Edward Burroughs, John Burroughs and Herbert DuBois.

THE GUESTS CAME AS FADS

A NOVEL SOCIAL HELD AT THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

Arranged by the Women's Association and Christian Endeavor Society of the Church.

A "fad" social was held last evening at the Congregational church which proved to be a most enjoyable affair. The social was given by the Woman's Association of the church, assisted by the members of the Christian Endeavor Society social committee.

The reception room of the church was arranged with palms and potted plants which gave to the rooms a most hospitable appearance. Each person who attended the social wore some article of clothing which represented some fad such as golf, rowing, tennis, burnt wood work, or embroidery. The plan was a novel one and was very well carried out.

During the evening Mrs. Lance sang several very pleasing solos and after a pleasant evening had been spent in playing games, refreshments were served by the committee which consisted of Mrs. J. V. Beekman, Mrs. F. A. Weeks, of the Women's Association, and Miss Marion Woodcock, of the social committee of the Christian Endeavor Society.

HENRY NISCHWITZ COMES INTO PART OF HIS FATHER'S ESTATE.

The Latter Died in Germany, and Left Fortune to His Three Sons.

Through the recent death of his father, Henry Nischwitz, the senior partner of the firm of Henry Nischwitz, grain dealers, of Watchung avenue, has been notified that he has been left a good sized fortune in Germany. Just how much the fortune amounts to is not known but it is believed to be quite large.

The death of John Nischwitz, the father of the local man, occurred at his home in Weinheim, Germany, several months ago. Recently the will has been opened for probate and it was found that the property left by the deceased is to be divided among three sons. The sons are Jacob, Philip and Henry, who resides in this city. A fourth son died recently.

Both the other sons are living in Germany and the will provides that they are to have the property, which consists of a large estate there and to Henry is to be given all the moneys, outstanding accounts and other negotiable property.

His attorneys advised a trip to Germany pending the settlement of the estate but he said yesterday that he thought he would remain right here and let his attorneys there settle the matter.

Asked if the sudden receipt of such a large amount as the estate is supposed to be worth would affect his business in this city he said that he would remain here.

THEATRICAL.

When the Casino company playing "A Chinese Honeymoon" goes to Chicago for its summer run at the pretty Illinois Theatre there will be two new faces among the many principals. Miss Estelle Wentworth will replace Miss Amelia Stone in the role of Princess Soo Soo, and Benjamin Howard will be the Capt. Tom Hatherton in place of VanRensselaer Wheeler. Miss Stone and Mr. Wheeler will remain with the Messrs. Sam. S and Lee Shubert indefinitely filling new roles in the series of musical comedies which they are to produce from time to time at the Casino. Miss Wentworth who was the prima donna of the Lulu Glaser Opera Company in "Dolly Varden," is expected to make a big hit as the pretty Chinese princess of the merry musical play, as she is not only a beautiful woman, but the music of the role is particularly well suited to her.

Williams & Walker, the noted colored comedians, who have attracted much attention during their long run at the New York Theatre, will end their engagement at this house Saturday evening. This week, therefore, presents the last opportunities to see these comedians and their great company of 150 people in "In Dahomey" on Broadway, where they have achieved a very notable success, playing to the best people in the city. Immediately following the departure of Williams & Walker, Klaw & Erlanger will begin the reconstruction of the New York Theatre, on which they will expend $150,000 in innovations and decorations. The house will reopen in September with an elaborate revival of "Ben Hur," presented on even a grander scale than during its run at the Broadway Theatre its first season. Instead of two chariots in the race scene there will be four and sixteen horses. It is a point of interest to note that the 1,000th performance of "Ben Hur" in this country was presented at the Great Southern Theatre in Columbus, Ohio, Thursday evening, March 26.

There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary S. Crick, of White Plains, Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years—tried all kinds of remedies but continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once, and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. L. W. Randolph.

Spring Time in Washington.

Washington is a typical spring resort and its bustle is purely social and political. There are gathered in the Capital representatives of every nation and country, and their comings and goings are of no little interest. Then the doings of the Senate and House are features which every tourist delights in following, and these features together with the visits to the numerous public buildings keep one busy all the while one is in Washington. The Royal Blue Line of which the New Jersey Central is the initial road is going to operate an excursion to Washington on April 9, and cost of tickets for the three days' excursion including all expenses is $12. Train leaves New York at 1 p. m., and arrives Washington at 6:10 p. m. If you want to know about the trip drop a postal to C. M. Burt, General Passenger Agent, New York City, for tour book. THE NEW RAINES LAW

New York Assembly Passes the High Liquor Tax.

STRICTLY PARTISAN VOTE OF 84 TO 61

Bill Increasing License Fees Fifty Per Cent Awaits the Governor's Signature, Which It is Certain to Receive.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 1.—Very much less spectacular than the senate's action, but none the less inexorable, was the battle between the Republican majority and the Democratic minority in the assembly yesterday, at the close of which the bill of Senator Raines, increasing by 50 per cent the liquor license fees throughout the state, was passed by a vote of 84 yeas to 61 nays Assemblymen Ruehl and Patton of the Sixth and Seventh districts of Erie respectively, both Republicans, voted against the bill with the Democrats though their action was hardly a surprise, having been expected ever since the caucus of the assembly Republicans which adopted the bill as a party measure, when they protested against the bill and declared that they would not be bound by the caucus action. Their vote of "no" on the bill was applauded by the Democrats.

The absentees were Coon (Albany) Ferre (New York), who sent word that he wanted to be recorded in the negative; J. J. McCarthy (Rensselaer) and Treat (Cayuga). Speaker Nixon did not vote.

Nearly every Democrat on the floor spoke at some period in the debate. Mr. McManus asserted that if the bill passed the brewers would hereafter buy hops in other states at whatever cost and that a like policy would be exerted against the cheese districts of the state on the ground that the bill was put forward and passed by the farmers. Mr. Dale declared that the Raines law had demoralized Brooklyn, and Mr. Miller argued in favor of a tax on land values.

Of the Republicans who spoke in favor of the bill Mr. G. H. Smith denied that the distillers, brewers and saloon keepers represented the true sentiment of the state; Mr. Burnett declared that as the saloons caused a large proportion of the expense for police, charities and reformatory institutions they should pay their share of the cost, and Mr. Dwyer, while according every degree of reputability to saloon keepers as engaged in a legitimate business, said he bowed to the wisdom of his party, which had made this a party bill.

Leaders Palmer and Rogers closed for their respective sides, and the previous question was moved.

At 5:30 p. m., six hours of unbroken debate, the bill was passed by a vote of 84 yeas to 61 nays, a strictly partisan result, with the exception of the votes of Messrs. Patton and Ruehl, the only Republicans who voted against the bill. No Democrat voted in its favor.

Twenty Thousand on Strike.

NEW YORK, April 1.—About 20,000 carpenters, plumbers, masons and other mechanics employed in the building trades between the New York city line and Hartford, Conn., went on a strike today for a 20 per cent advance in wages. The contractors and builders have an organization of 800 to resist the demand. They have included in their organization all the lumber yards and dealers in building supplies, who are under a bond of $250 each not to sell building material to any contractor who concedes to the demands of union men. The members of the labor unions have declined a 10 per cent advance offered them in several places.

Kidnaped In Omaha.

OMAHA, Neb., April 1.—Alberta Strohmeier of Kansas City, aided by his wife and son, yesterday kidnaped Lola Young, the adopted eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Young, prominent Omaha people. She is the daughter of Strohmeier by a former wife. The men made their escape with the child in a buggy, but Mrs. Strohmeier was arrested as she was attempting to escape on a street car. The child was kidnaped while playing near Monmouth park. The three drove up in a buggy, forcibly placed the girl in the vehicle and after Mrs. Strohmeier had alighted drove away.

Wabash Buys St. Louis Property.

ST. LOUIS, April 1.—The entire city block bounded by Carr, Collins and Third streets and Franklin avenue has been transferred to a representative of the Wabash Railroad company, which will use the site for a new freight depot. Nine hundred and fifty thousand dollars was paid for the property, which is located in the down town business section of the city.

Aged Woman Robbed and Murdered.

FINDLAY, O., April 1.—Sarah Dietz, a widow, aged seventy-three years, living alone, has been found dead in her home. She had been choked to death by bedticking being tied around her throat. Robbery was the motive of the crime, as the house was ransacked and a number of checks taken.

Treaty Ratifications Exchanged.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Ratifications of the Cuban reciprocity treaty have been exchanged at the state department by Secretary Hay and Senor Quesada, the Cuban minister. There was little formality about the exchange.

Large Offers of Bonds.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The secretary of the treasury has already received offers of 3 and 4 per cent bonds in exchange for 2 per cent consols amounting to $5,617,000.

PENNELL SUSPECTED

Identity of Burdick's Slayer Not Proved.

JUDGE MURPHY'S INQUEST VERDICT

Dead Lawyer Had a Stronger Motive Than Any One Else, but Guilt Was Not Established.

BUFFALO, April 1.—The verdict in the Burdick inquest handed down by Judge Murphy, while stating that the identity of the murderer of Edwin L. Burdick has not been proved, practically charges Arthur R. Pennell, the dead lawyer, with the crime.

Pennell had a stronger motive than any one else for putting Burdick out of the way, Judge Murphy says, and all the facts brought out by the inquest constitute just grounds for the issuance of a warrant against Pennell if he were alive. The verdict is softened somewhat so far as it relates to Pennell by stating that if Pennell were alive he would be given the presumption of innocence until proved guilty.

In the opinion of Judge Murphy, Burdick had no woman guest in his "den" on the night of the murder, and the crime was not the work of a burglar. He exculpates Mrs. Gertrude B. Paine and Miss Hutchinson from any connection with the crime and in conclusion criticises Mrs. Maria A. Hull and censures Mrs. Burdick, the former for her attitude toward the authorities and the inconsistency of her actions with the theory that she had no knowledge of the murder.

Judge Murphy states that he will hold the inquest into the death of Arthur R. Pennell the latter part of this week or the first of next week.

"The Burdick inquest has taught us one thing," said Judge Murphy, "and that is to hold such investigations promptly. The police court inquest is the most natural machinery under the law for investigating such matters. Under it persons under suspicion can be brought before a magistrate and compelled to tell what they know, while there is no chance for sentimental persons to shout against a 'third degree.' It abolishes the 'third degree' absolutely."

Flood Conditions Improving.

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—With a net fall of two-tenths of a foot in the past twenty-four hours and encouraging news from the scene of the struggle at Hymelia the river conditions are considerably improved. The only disquieting news of the day was the reported break at Angola, but the importance of this break was minimized to some extent by the news that the damage resulting would be largely confined to the state farm located there. The eleven miles of levees protecting Angola have cost approximately $100,000. The stock and bulk of the convicts there had been removed to the Tunica hills as a matter of precaution and steps taken to protect the camps. The plantation is one of the best in the state, and the cotton grown upon it has been a large source of revenue.

Crum In Charleston Custom House.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 1.—W. D. Crum has taken charge of the custom house as collector of the port. There was no incident of interest in connection with his assuming office except the immediate tender of his resignation by the chief inspector of customs, which had been placed in the hands of the deputy collector to take effect on the colored official's entrance to authority. There has been some talk here of possible application to the courts for a restraining order against Crum's exercise of the duties of office. It is understood that the matter has been brought to the notice of the mayor, and it is said he has referred it to the corporation counsel for consideration and report, but it is not thought that anything will be done.

Strippers Get an Advance.

HAZLETON, Pa., April 1.—Cuyle Bros., coal operators, have granted the 500 men employed at their strippings an increase of 10 per cent in wages, to go into effect today. This will placate the stripping hands, who were not included in the strike commission award, although they quit work when the miners struck. The stripping employees had agreed in the absence of any concessions to quit in a body and force the issue of a nine hour work day granted all outside men by the commission. The action of Cuyle Bros. has forestalled this move, and if the other contractors fall into line, as is expected, the men say they will continue work on the ten hour basis.

Secretary Baer's Successor.

BOSTON, April 1.—After having devoted six months to the duty of selecting a general secretary to succeed J. Willis Baer the committee of sixteen trustees of the United Society of Christian Endeavor appointed for the purpose have chosen for the office Von Ogden Vogt of Beloit, Wis. Mr. Vogt since his graduation from Beloit college in 1901 has been secretary to the president of that institution and will assume his new duties not later than June 1.

GOOD HATS CAN BE CHEAP.

NOT a few of the uninformed have an idea that because our millinery is of the better sort—in good taste, refined, elegant, well made—that it is necessarily expensive, and a great many who visit our Millinery Salon see more of the higher grade and more costly hats and judge the whole collection by them. Let us disillusion you—let us make it plain that we can and do sell you beautiful hats at moderate cost—that women of any means can buy and wear with satisfaction.

What do you wish to pay for a hat? $10?—here is a beauty in black—hand-made of maline folds and satin braid with San Toy front drooping towards back; trimmed on side with green foliage and black cowslips with green stems; black velvet loops, caught with long jet bar, fall over hair.

Here is another one for $10.—a Walking Turban of black chiffon in bias folds, with facing of horsehair braid; trimmed with black satin ribbon; cluster of grapes in back; long jet bar on front edge; a handsome hat, indeed.

And here is a gem at only $8.75—a hand-made Shepherdess, with solid tuscan braid top with white satin facing, covered with white all-over lace, with straps of red velvet ribbon around the band; trimmed on top with band of red velvet ribbon, with long bows on left side and a bow falling over hair in back, with bunches of cherries on front brim.

Still cheaper is this one at $8.50—a Shepherdess in black, with top brim of horsehair braid with cord edge, bias folds of chiffon form the facing; trimmed with folded straps of pink satin ribbon and pink rosettes; two bunches of pink roses are on side brim and two rosettes of pink satin ribbon are on under side of brim—truly a splendid hat.

On down the price scale we find this one at $7.50—a striking hand-made Sailor Hat of black yeddo braid with tuscan braid edge, with bias straps of black velvet ribbon caught with nail jet heads; a large tuscan quill, running over front of crown, is studded with jet nail heads and fastened with straps of velvet ribbon; a full bow of velvet ribbon bedecks the side band.

Still more astonishing is this hat at $5.50—a gun metal gray Turban of satin braid, with wreath of white June roses and fine green foliage and buds around outer edge; a large black velvet edelweisse bow on top and bunch of June roses neiped with velvet ribbon on under brim at back.

Perhaps you want a $5 bill to cover the cost—Well, here is a very pretty hat at only $4.95—a black Walking Hat of lace braid with shirring of narrow black ribbon on top of crown and under brim; surmounted by a wreath of white buttercups and green foliage caught on each side at back with satin ribbon rosettes from which groups of tiny buds fall over hair; a wreath of green foliage around inside edge of brim.

Do these evidences satisfy you that we not only have the highest grade hats, but low priced ones as well? If they do not, we would ask you to come in and see hundreds of hats at the prices quoted above and hundreds lower in price.

GREAT TRIP BEGUN.

President Leaves Washington on 14,000-Mile Journey.

A SPLENDIDLY EQUIPPED TRAIN.

Roosevelt's Guests on the Tour Will Include John Burroughs and Presidents Butler of Columbia and Wheeler of California.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The special train on which the president left here today for his western trip was furnished by the Pennsylvania railroad and was one of the finest ever run out of Washington. It had been specially decorated and equipped for the trip. It consisted of six cars, manned by a picked crew, with Conductor William H. Johnson, who has been with the president on many trips, in charge. Spencer Murray was in charge of the president's private car, the Elysian. It has a parlor and observation compartment, three state sleeping rooms, a dining room, two sleeper sections, a kitchen and sleeping sections for servants. The other cars of the train were the Texas, a compartment sleeper; the Senegal, a section sleeper; the St. James, a diner; the Atlantic, a combination buffet and baggage car, and a regular baggage car.

The trip will continue from April 1 until June 5, nine weeks and three days. During that time the president will travel about 14,000 miles.

John Burroughs, the poet naturalist, of New York arrived here. He will accompany President Roosevelt until he arrives at St. Louis, making the tour of the Yellowstone park with him. From St. Louis Mr. Burroughs will return to New York.

President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university will join the party at St. Louis and will be the president's guest until he arrives in California. When that state is reached, the president will be joined by Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California, who will accompany him through the state.

Helen Gould Will Not Attend.

ST. LOUIS, April 1.—Illness will prevent Miss Helen Miller Gould from attending the world's fair dedication ceremonies in St. Louis April 30. She had planned to come to St. Louis at that time and to bring a party of guests, but at the direction of her physician she has canceled the arrangements for the trip, so a letter just received here announces. Miss Gould is a member of the world's fair board of lady managers.

A Toledo Sensation.

TOLEDO, O., April 1.—The shipment to Toledo and the burial here of the remains of Frank Adams, the postoffice robber who was killed near Cleveland while attempting to rob the Bedford (O.) postoffice, has had startling results. The first was the arrest at the union depot of a man who was awaiting the arrival of the remains and his subsequent hearing and detention for examination under $2,500 bonds. The prisoner gave his name as John M. Ray of Cleveland. An examination of his clothing showed that it had been made in Cleveland, but a purse was stamped "John M. Ray, Lorain, Ohio." This has led the police to believe that the dead robber, Frank Adams, was traveling under an assumed name, that he was a member of one of the most prominent and respectable families in Lorain or one of the neighboring towns and that his sister and Ray had brought him here for burial to keep his identity secret.

Brisk Pension Office Business.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—During the month of March the interior department through its board of pension appeals disposed of 1,600 appeals in pension cases, which is 300 in excess of the record for any previous month in the history of the department. Assistant Secretary Miller expresses the opinion that at the present rate of increase the time is not far distant when pension appeals can be disposed of within sixty days after their filing as against the present average of eighteen months. There are now about 14,000 cases on appeal in the office.

Rough Riders to Entertain President

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 1.—The plans for President Roosevelt's entertainment here include a rough riding exhibition which probably will equal that given at the annual frontier celebration. Among the riders who will be present is Elkton Perry, winner of last year's championship belt.

LONDON, April 1.—The treasury returns just issued show that the total revenue of the United Kingdom during the financial year ended March 31 was $805,998,000 compared with $763,008,185 for the previous year. The net increase of revenue over the previous year was $42,990,715.

Mine Explosion Kills Five.

INVESTIGATE THEM.

Like a bolt of lightning out of a clear sky came the politely framed condemnation of certain phases of the management at the Industrial Home by the local committee of the State Charities Aid Association. It was not a sweeping charge against the manner in which the institution was conducted but the committee pointed out that the sanitary arrangements were poor, there was an inadequate supply of water and that the discipline was not what it should be when inmates were allowed to became intoxicated. If the public at large had ever given the subject any attention, it was probably to suppose that the Industrial Home was conducted on economical but modern lines. This announcement can, therefore, be safely classed as a decided surprise.

While there is no hint that the public funds are being squandered or that life and health are seriously endangered, the report of the Charities Aid Association should receive the immediate attention of the Common Council. Plainfield is proud of its police and fire departments and its streets. Although most of us have been fortunate enough not to need assistance from the city, it has been the general impression that this department was of equally high standing. If such is not the case, then let the trouble be remedied without delay. We want Plainfield to be a model municipality in all respects.

Although this subject has not been brought formally to the attention of the Common Council as yet, that body should act at its meeting Monday evening. A committee should be appointed to carefully investigate the charges and report the exact needs to the Council. Nobody has even suggested any underhanded dealings on the part of the alms committee or any of its employes. It is on the judgment of that committee and the Common Council that the trouble is blamed. It is to be earnestly hoped, therefore, that the Council will act without delay and, if the conditions at the Industrial Home are not what they should be, see that they are corrected. The alms committee should, and probably will court the fullest investigation. Plainfield wants that department to be on a par with the others of the municipality and no effort should be left undone to accomplish that end.

It will be too bad if the politicians are allowed to spoil all the good features of the primary election bill. Without doubt the changes will take power from the party leaders and put it in the hands of the people. All the more reason why it should be made a law.

It really looks as if the State Legislature was in danger of making several serious mistakes before its session closes.

'TIS NOAH RABY'S BIRTHDAY

REMARKABLE CHARACTER AT PISCATAWAY POOR FARM.

He Claims to be One Hundred and and Thirty-One Years Old—Celebrates Event at Poor House Today.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Market, April 1—Today is Noah Raby day at the Piscataway township poor farm. For the 132nd time, "Uncle Noah," as he is familiarly called, is celebrating his birthday and dozens of people are flocking to the place to see "the oldest man in America" and offer congratulations, not forgetting to wish him "many happy returns." His birthday is always a pleasant event to the aged man and he is eager to receive all callers but few are allowed to see him owing to his weakened condition.

Noah Raby's history is familiar to all residents in this vicinity but it may not be amiss to say that he claims to have been born at Eatentown, Gates Court House, N. C., April 1, 1772. He came north when still a young man and has resided in Piscataway ever since. He is now totally blind but his hearing and speech are unimpaired and he loves to tell of his boyhood experiences. He has smoked for 120 years and has used liquor but never to excess.

FATE OF FARM.

Famous Bowery Farm, Near Woodbridge, is to be Sold at Auction Tomorrow.

The many Plainfielders who have been interested in the Bowery Y. M. C. A. farm at Woodbridge, will regret that the farm is to be sold tomorrow at auction. The sale includes all the live stock, carriages, farm implements, harness and furniture, as well as the real estate. It is evident that the managers consider the experiment a failure, though they refuse to talk about it.

This farm has been run for several years by the managers of the Bowery Y. M. C. to give the "human failures" of the East Side a chance to earn an honest living if they chose. It was not a favorite place with the lazy, as no wages were paid until the candidates had become competent farm hands. Then they were allowed to hire out to neighboring farmers, from whom they got as much as $9 a week and board.

Middlesex county, New Jersey, has recently been the scene of numerous burglaries and petty thefts and the residents of Woodbridge, Keasbey, Carteret and other Middlesex villages have heard with great pleasure of the abandonment of the Bowery farm.

DUNELLEN.

An interesting meeting of the Literary Circle was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Meserole, of Dunellen avenue, last evening. The papers that were read dealt mostly with the developement of the national life of the country and were very good. The evening's programme was as follows: "National Political Parties," F. T. Dickerson; "Developement of the Pacific Coast," Miss Ada Weatherwax; roll call, current topics; "A Visit to Yellowstone Park," Mrs. L. T. Titsworth; "Selections from Bret Harte," Miss Martha Whitenack. Besides papers were read which had been laid over from other meetings. Refreshments were served during the course of the evening.

It is probable that one of the largest building booms in the history of the town will be started here this spring. With the new factories going up around Dunellen cannot fail to attract at least a portion of their employes and as there are few vacant houses of the right kind some new ones will have to be built.

The prayer meeting in the Methodist church this evening will be in charge of the temperance committee, the members of which belong to the W. C. T. U.

A meeting of the Borough Council will be held Monday in the hall and a meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Miss Tennie Klemser, president of the Amnity Club, entertained the members of the society last night at one of the pleasantest evenings the members have enjoyed since its organization. Miss Helen Whitenack gave a number of pleasing selections upon the phonograph. Tableaux by the different members was another feature enjoyed. During the evening refreshments were served.

The Union County Sunday-school Union will meet at the Baptist church tomorrow. Two sessions will be held. The afternoon meeting at 3 o'clock will be in charge of Mrs. Pedlit, of Newark, and will be in the nature of a question box meeting. The evening session at 7:45 will be the Sunday-school lesson for Sunday. Morris Ferguson, secretary of the Union, will teach the lesson.

Fanwood Council, R. A., held a special meeting in its rooms last night for the purpose of initiating the candidates for membership. Two new members were initiated into the mysteries of the order. This is only a start of a determined effort by the members of the local Royal Arcanum to increase the membership in this great fraternal organization.

The residents along Front street are depending upon the moon for guidance when out walking. Several of the electric lights having gone out of commission. Albert Hollingsworth, who has been spending a few days at his home, returned Tuesday to his studies at Pratt Institute, Brooklyn.

Owing to the Sunday-school Union meeting Thursday evening of this week at the Baptist church, no meeting of the teachers of the Sunday-school will be held.

SHAMROCK'S FIRST TRIAL.

Extremely Satisfactory Was the Test of the New Cup Seeker.

GOUROCK, April 1.—The Shamrock III., the challenger for the America's cup, went out for her first trial spin yesterday. There was a fine light breeze. The challenger set her mainsail early with her jib and staysail in stops. Shortly afterward the jibheaded topsail was sheeted. The Shamrock I. followed suit and shortly before 10 o'clock, when the head sails had been broken out, the two yachts cast off their moorings and drew out of Gourock bay in a gentle westerly breeze.

The challenger reached out on the port tack for several hundred yards and stayed round for the short turn back into the bay around the Erin, the jibtopsail being set flying.

While both boats dodged around, waiting for the arrival of Designer Fife, their distinct characteristics showed to a marked degree. The Shamrock I. is of the strong bulldog type. The challenger is the greyhound in every point and feature.

The breeze was not full enough to afford proof of her facility in coming around, but it was plain that she can turn on her heel with wonderful celerity.

The calculation of the total sail plan makes the area over 14,000 square feet, which is rather more than Shamrock II. carried.

The trials extended between forty and fifty miles and lasted five hours. They were extremely satisfactory from every point of view and demonstrated that the challenger sails well to windward in light breezes, comes about quickly and sheds off the bow waves effectively. Designer Fife and Sir Thomas Lipton are both satisfied and hopeful of winning the cup.

Racing at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 1.—The Tennessee club purse at six furlongs was the feature race at Montgomery park, as it brought to the post eleven promising Derby candidates. John A. Scott, owned by John W. Schorr, was made favorite, and Judge Himes was a strongly backed second choice. Bullman took Scott to the front at the first furlong pole, and he was never headed, winning in a romp by two lengths. The time, 1:15¾, is considered very fast for the local track. The fifth race was a steeplechase over the short course with ten contestants. It was a picturesque struggle for a mile, when Lord Radnor, the favorite, drew away and won easily from Montanic. Thane, the odds on favorite, won the fourth race handily from Kenova.

Bennings Results.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Pleasant weather, a heavy, sticky track and a fairly good card were the conditions under which the races at Bennings were run yesterday. Favorite players had a bad day, as only two of the first choice horses won, Orloff in the first and Gould in the third. Orloff was at the prohibitive odds of 1 to 20, the race, owing to scratches, being only a two horse affair. The fifth was the prettiest race of the meeting thus far, scarcely two lengths separating the six horses from start to finish. Star and Garter won, with the favorite, Carroll D., second.

The Importance of the Belt—Smart Shades For Spring Costumes.

Almond and biscuit shades are very popular with the all black hat, and white is having its usual run of popularity.

The new rich claret tone is not so much seen as was predicted, yet a few well known leaders of society look wonderfully well in this shade. It had, of course, to be well carried out and only looks its best in costly fabrics.

Waistbands bought ready made are admirably arranged to keep the waist short in the back and long in the front, a generally becoming line. It is better to buy these belts ready made than to attempt them at home, as they have to be carefully boned.

The woman of slight figure who does not wear much of a corset needs a smart and becoming belt.

The illustration shows a tailor made suit of blue cheviot which is very useful for general wear.

Where one has black or white skirts which are to be worn out at home an ecru coat is more than useful, while choux of bright colors will vary the toilet.

The all black point d'esprit gown is about the most economical and useful a woman can have, for it admits of many effects with the use of flowers, pale tinted chiffon, rosettes, etc.

Discharged Himself.

An amusing story is told of a young Scotch lad who in a very quiet, determined way made his exit from a house in which he had been but a little while installed as a domestic help. He had been told that he would be dismissed if he broke any of the china under his charge.

On the morning of a great dinner party he was intrusted, rather rashly, with a great load of plates, which he was to carry upstairs from the kitchen to the dining room and which were piled upon his two hands.

In going upstairs his foot slipped, and the plates were broken to atoms. He at once went to the drawing room, put his head in at the door and shouted:

"The plates are a' smashed, and I'm awa'!"

CHAPTER VIII.

The greater part of that day the man hunters were beating the swamp for the escaped prisoner. The colonel's household was under a stress of excitement that wore sharply on the nerves of the ladies, who momentarily expected to hear of the capture. Grim curiosity had drawn nearly all the negroes to the swamp, and the plantation presented a deserted aspect that had not rested upon it since the close of the civil war. About noon Capt. Winkle, who had been riding from one point of observation to another, came in to rest and refresh himself at the punch-bowl of his host.

"The rascal certainly has given them the slip so far," he said, with unmasked discontent, to the colonel and the ladies on the veranda. As he spoke his glance was bent designedly on Evelyn's face. It was as if he were deliberately trying to shock her, well knowing how she felt on the matter. "The sheriff thinks he is lying under water somewhere with only his nose out. They are going through the swamp again after dinner, however, and then they will come his way. We can see it all on this side. The line of men is two miles long; and they have sent for a pair of bloodhounds!"

"Bloodhounds!" cried Evelyn. "Why, they will tear him to pieces."

Winkle smiled broadly over the success of his conrseness, but he said nothing.

"I know I wish it were over," was Caroline Hasbrooke's contribution to the conversation; "these things are so disgusting!"

Evelyn fixed the captain with a contemptuous gaze.

"But the man may be as innocent as you are," burst from her lips. "I mean," she added, spitefully, "as innocent as you are of killing the old woman."

Winkle bit his lower lip and twisted his mustache. He gave her his eyes threateningly for a moment, and then took another tack.

"Fanshaw certainly is making himself conspicuous enough. He's running around shouting like a roaring parson at a revival, but these sturdy men take no notice of him whatever."

The shot told on Evelyn. In the presence of her father, she dreaded the disclosure that Winkle, in his anger, might make with regard to her intimacy with Ronald; but the old gentleman paid no heed to their innuendoes.

"He certainly is foolhardy," he joined in; "but to save me I can but admire the fellow's courage. Why," the colonel snapped his fat fingers, "if he keeps that sort of thing up, or tries to interfere when the man is caught, I wouldn't give a pinch of snuff for his life. Some chap like Syd Hart would draw a bead on him, and be proud of it till the end of his days."

Then Mrs. Lancaster came and put her arms round Evelyn's waist.

"Don't act hastily, my dear," was her whispered warning; and she drew the girl to the other end of the veranda. "Don't you see what he wants?" she asked; "he is trying to rouse your father's suspicions."

About five o'clock the occasional shouts in the swamp grew louder and nearer, and into them was suddenly blended the ominous baying of dogs.

"The hounds!" announced the colonel, tragically.

"And they are out for business," gleefully added the captain; "they are headed this way."

Evelyn and Mrs. Lancaster stood leaning against the balustrade, their faces towards the swamp.

"Come inside, dear," said the latter. "It will do no good to witness it."

But our young lady only shook her head.

After a few minutes the shouting and baying of the hounds died down. The colonel gave it as his opinion that they were off the track, but that it was only a question of time before they would catch the scent again.

Two hours passed. The sun sank behind the distant mountain peaks. The sky beyond was as red as blood. The wisps of clouds lying against the mountain-sides looked like glaciers. The landscape took on a delicate veil of gray. Objects in the distance began to assume vague shapes. The dark outlines of the swamp were fast merging into the night.

"They have been taking a zig-zag course," proclaimed Hasbrooke from his end of the veranda. "The rascal will be as limber as a rag when he is treed. There are no two ways about it; it's all up with him; the darkness will not be in his favor; nothing but blood will satisfy the fury of that mob."

"Do you mean that the sheriff will not be able to control them?" queried Mrs. Lancaster, who had begun to walk about nervously.

"He'd have to have a lot of backbone to even try it," answered her host. "He'd be knocked out like a straw in a hurricane; murderers of old women stand no chance with these crude Anglo-Saxons."

It had grown dark, save for the light of the moon, which had just risen and loomed up like a huge conflagration beyond the tree-tops. For yet half an hour only an intermittent shout or the sudden outburst of barking was heard from the swamp, but each time the sounds were nearer. Old Ephraim, as if anticipating his master's desires, drove round the horses and trap.

"A good idea," approved the colonel; "gentlemen, we might as well get nearer. I think I know where they will come out."

"By all means!" cried the captain, with enthusiasm. He was the first to get a seat in the vehicle, and was followed by his host and Mr. Hardy.

When the trap had gone, Miss Hasbrooke retired to her room with some complaining allusion to her nerves, and Evelyn and Mrs. Lancaster remained on the veranda, guarded only by the old negro, who stood like a sentry on duty at the foot of the steps.

"Oh, Mrs. Lancaster!" exclaimed Evelyn, "I feel as if he is going into danger—that they will kill him!"

For a moment the old woman made no response, and when she did it was with evident emotion.

"I pray God that he may not be harmed." Her tone was almost a prayer in itself.

The baying and shouting were now very near. Half a mile away torch-lights like fireflies began to flit along the swamp. The line of men was now in the open. They seemed to be headed in one direction, and it was not many minutes before all the lights had run together. Evelyn knew that the prisoner was in the center of that cluster of torches. The shouting had died down to a far-off murmur. Then into the yellow, smoky glare the two observers saw a white horse rearing and plunging. Presently the frightened animal seemed under the control of its rider, and a loud, ringing voice like that of an experienced open-air speaker, broke the stillness.

"It is he!" gasped Evelyn, and her eyes seemed set in their sockets as she peered through the gloom. "God have mercy on him!"

Mrs. Lancaster's arm tightened round the girl's waist, but her voice lay dead in her throat. The distance was too great to distinguish the words of the speaker, but his stentorian tones seemed to cut the dark intervening space like a knife. At times the tempest of cries and yells would rise above the mob and drown the leading voice, but gradually, persistently, it would struggle up to mastery again. This went on for about ten minutes, and then the two on the veranda heard several loud voices raised in threatening tones and there was a sharp ringing report of a pistol. The cluster of lights widened and the white horse was seen to plunge away from the crowd, the beat of his hoofs being the only sound in the still air.

"Ugh! Somebody hit dat time," grunted old Ephraim. "My Lawd, what a pity!"

Evelyn gazed into the white face of her friend, her terrified eyes seeking a confirmation of her own fears. She could not frame the words for the question in her heart. Mrs. Lancaster did not know what to make of it all, but she was afraid some calamity had befallen Ronald Fanshaw.

"I could not see if anyone was on the horse as it broke away," she faltered.

"I thought I saw him fall off," said Evelyn. "Oh, if—if he is dead—"

SPORTING NEWS

ON THE DIAMOND.

"Ted" Shortman has signed with the Hope team for the coming season. He will probably play short.

The City High School baseball team will meet the team from the Westfield High School this afternoon on Stillman field. The game will be called at 3:30.

The West End Terrors are asking for games with teams averaging thirteen years. Communications should be addressed to George Lowden, 221 Stebbins place.

The class of 1907 of the City High School has formed a baseball team and will play their first game with the class of 1906 on Thursday afternoon at Hope Common.

Announcement is made that the Safe Works' team season will commence April 18. The schedule has been almost completed and includes games with some of the best semi-professional teams in the Metropolitan district.

Two teams captained by Jack Hurlett and "Duke" Mulford will play a game near the Driving Park, Sunday, for $10 a side. A contest between the two, last Sunday, resulted in defeat for Hurlett's team by a score of 47 to 5, and he is determined to win the second.

The City High School baseball team will meet the team from the Westfield High School on Stillman field this afternoon. The pracice yesterday afternoon by the High School boys was highly satisfactory and they are anxious to wipe out their defeat of last Saturday.

The Freshman-Sophomore baseball schedule, of the North Plainfield High School has been made public. It is as follows:

April 2—Whittier School at Hope Common.
April 8—Scotch Plains at Y. M. C. A.
April 13—Y. M. C. A. at Y. M. C. A.
April 15—Westfield High School at Westfield.
April 17—Underwood A. A. at Hope Common.
April 24—Underwood A. A. at home.
April 27—Juniors and Seniors at home.
May 2—Netherwood F. C. at home.
May 7—Whittier School at home.
May 13—Westfield High School at home.
May 16—Juniors and Seniors at home.
May 20—Scotch Plains High School at home.
May 23—Netherwood F. C. at home.

In the event of the Y. M. A. retaining its common on Sherman avenue, it will probably arrange matters in order to let other teams have the use of the grounds. Baseball fields continue to get scarcer each year and, at present, the Hope diamond is the best in the way of location and fitness.

The scrub team of the Underwood Athletic Club defeated the class of 1906 of the City High School in a ten inning game on Hope Common yesterday afternoon. The score was 8 to 5. The batteries were, for the Underwood's, E. Taylor, Minford and R. Taylor, and for the class of 1906, Davis and Freeman.

William Feiring, who is getting up a representstive team for "Prideville," has signed a new pitcher in the person of James Craig, of Rockaway. He has secured a position in this city and will be seen regularly with the team which is to be known as the West End Athletic Club. Grounds in the vicinity of the Maple avenue brickyard will be used.

COLUMN FOR THE SHOPPERS

SOME OF ATTRACTIONS TO BE FOUND AT LOCAL STORES.

A Few Interesting Items Concerning Greater Plainfield's Merchants

Wirth's pies and confectionery are famous. None of the dyspepsia producing kind but fresh and wholesome. Orders delivered.

The New York Bargain Store has rented the store at 122 North avenue temporary, and will open on Saturday with a complete line of goods.

Especial attention is called to the fine line of ranges advertised by the Gayle Hardware Company. There may be others just as good but none any better.

Bonn, the milliner, is now showing some of the most attractive and stylish hats to be found anywhere. They represent the best workmanship, style and quality and the prices are within reason.

Schreiner's tasteless cod liver oil is perhaps one of the very best of spring medicines. Its effect is mild and it builds up the tissues. This celebrated tonic is on sale at Schreiner's drug store at the corner of Park avenue and Second street.

The large stock of suitings, shirt waists, silk coats, etc., at the Paris Cloak Store is attractive these days. Mr. Fass, the proprietor, has lately engaged a number of ladies' tailors and suits can be made on short notice. A perfect fit is guaranteed.

At Armstrong's pharmacy, at the corner of Park avenue and North avenue, some of the very best tonics for the spring are to be found. Mr. Armstrong always endorses his Sarsaparilla and Burdock as being one of the pleasantest and easiest taken of spring tonics.

Cleanliness is a necessary essential to good health. There are many ways to secure the former, one in particular being the use of Shaw's hard water soap. It is one of the greatest articles on the market for the skin and is particularly adapted to Plainfield water. It is sold only by R. J. Shaw.

For this week only, the local store of the A. and P. Tea Company will make a specialty of selling the very best brands of canned salmon at ridiculously low prices. An agreement entered into with one of the largest canning concerns in the country makes this possible and Plainfielders will secure the benefit. In the meantime all A. and P. goods will remain at the same high standard and will be sold at "way down" prices.

ORACLE OUT TODAY.

April Number of City High School Puplication Appears.

The April number of the City High School Oracle appeared today. The number is the first to be issued under the second board of editors and is of unusual interest. Fred T. VanAuken, 1903, has ably answered the literary article in the March issue by Van Wyck Brooks, 1904, entitled "Athletic vs. Intellectual." VanAuken's article is entitled "Athletics" and is of especial merit.

REFORM FIVE WINS ON CLEVER THROWS

Defeats Y. M. C. A. Business Men's Team by a Score of 15 To 12.

GAME AT REFORM HALL

ALTHOUGH THE BUSINESS MEN HAD THE BETTER TEAM WORK.

Taylor Won for His Team by Throwing Three Goals on Four Fouls in the First Half of the Game—The Field Scores Were Even.

A brisk game of basket ball developed last evening when the Reform A. A. five and the Business Men's team of the Y. M. C. A. met at Reform Hall. While the play might have been better, the game was an exciting one from the very start and it was until it was over that there was any certainty as to which would win. As it was, the Reform boys came out on top by a score of 15 to 12.

From the very start, the Business Men developed the better team work. As the game progressed, this team work began to grow in strength. Neither side was very accurate in goal throwing from the field but there was a slight superiority on the part of the home team. This feature of the Reform's game showed steady improvement. While the Reform players did not have as many opportunities toward the last, the shots for the goal were better judged.

With the Business Men's better team play and the more accurate throwing of the Reformers, it was an even thing. The game hung in the balance and it was Taylor, that clever little forward, who won the game for the Reform A. A., scoring three times out of four on foul throws. In the second half he had three chances but failed to score. The first half showed the score 9 to 6, those foul goals doing the business. In the second each team scored three field goals and that gave victory to the Reform A. A.

The teams lined up as follows:

BUSINESS MEN.		REFORM A. A.
Spicer, Doane	right forward	Taylor
Egan, Spicer	centre	Scott

Score—Reform A. A., 15; Business Men, 12. Goals from the field—Spicer (3). Doane, Whitford, Browning, Taylor (2), Galbraith (2), Smith (2). Goals on fouls—Taylor (3). Fouls—Business Men, 7; Reform A. A., 1. Referee—Charles B. Morse, of Hope Y. M. A. Umpires—Geo. Whitley and George McCombe, of Hope Y. M. A. Timekeeper—John H. Cose, of Hope Y. M. A. Scorer—Wm. Chamberlain, of Hope Y. M. A.

M'KINLEY MEMORIAL.

Certificates for Contributors to the National Fund.

Postmaster E. H. Bird has received from the McKinley National Memorial Association a limited supply of the certificates which have been prepared for distribution to contributors to the monument fund as souvenirs of their participation in that great enterprise.

The certificate is a beautiful work of art on which is given an excellent reproduction of Mrs. McKinley's favorite likeness of her husband, together with a picture of the McKinley home in Canton and of the White House. The workmanship and artistic effects are of the very highest order, the house of Tiffany & Company, of New York, being the designers and manufacturers.

The supply in the hands of Postmaster Bird is a portion of the first edition of the certificates and is sent to enable those who have not as yet contributed to do so. Parties who have already identified themselves with the movement will receive souvenirs direct from the office of the association or through local committees.

ALIS SECURES CRESCENT OVAL

Clubhouse Will be on Arlington Avenue, and Grounds on Randolph Road.

PLANS FOR THE SEASON

Important Session of Alis Club Held Last Evening, When Report Was Made on Grounds and Clubhouse — Twenty-Five Applications for Membership Received.

Plans for the coming baseball season was the most important matter of business which came up before the Alis Club at its meeting at the Hotel Kensington last evening. Almost a full representation of the members was present, and during the session twenty-five applications were made for admission into the club.

The house at 1,058 Arlington avenue has been secured by the house and grounds committee and that place will be fitted up as a clubhouse in the most approved style. Shower baths will be installed and all the most approved accommodations for a rendezvous of that kind will be introduced. Among other things the club will later install are billiard tables and perhaps a shuffle board. A reception room will be sumptuously furnished which will make the place one of the most completely fitted up places of its kind in the city.

The old Crescent Oval, on Randolph road near Park avenue, has been secured for the season and there the games will be played. The club will erect a commodious grandstand which will accommodate 600 people and a diamond will be laid out according to the very latest ideas. A tennis court promises to be one of the features of the grounds near the clubhouse.

It was announced that the season would be formally opened at Westfield, Decoration Day, May 30, when the club will play ball with Westfield. That game wil be played in the morning and in the afternoon a game with a strong team in this city will be arranged. It will be played on the home grounds.

A schedule for June has been partly arranged. Some of the teams which have consented to play ball are Madison A. A., of Madison; Pearsall B. B. Club, Scotch Plains, and possibly the Equitables, of New York. There will no doubt be other games arranged for that month.

The members of the local team for the season will be Bond, Burt, Dupee, Loizeaux, Noble, George Taylor, William, George and Ralph Schoonmaker, Pond, Cathcart, Al. Egan and others, who have not yet been definitely decided upon.

Uniforms have been ordered and are expected to arrive next week. They will be gray with trimmings of black. The cap will be of the same color and style.

The club is desirous of arranging practice games with the City League teams during the month of May. The first game of practice ball will be played here Saturday and it is expected that all the members of the team and all the candidates will be on hand. The manager of the team this year will be John G. MacLaughlin.

The next meeting of the club will be held April 16 when other committees will make their reports and business of importance will be transacted.

SMALL BOY MISSING; GONE SINCE TUESDAY

No Trace to Present Whereabouts of Arthur Keiderling, Postoffice Messenger.

SIMPLY DISAPPEARED

HAD RETURNED AFTER DEPOSITING MONEY IN THE BANK.

The Deposit Was Made All Right and the Book Returned—Parents Are at a Loss to Account for the Boy's Disappearance.

The parents of Arthur Keiderling, a boy who has been employed at the local postoffice as a special delivery carrier, are anxious to learn of his whereabouts. He mysteriously disappeared a few days ago and nothing has been seen or heard of him since.

The lad has been an employe of the postoffice for several months and has given very fair satisfaction. Suddenly Tuesday morning he went out of the postoffice and has not been seen since. The boy had been sent to the bank with about $200. He returned from his errand and handed in the deposit book. It was immediately after that that he went out and completely dropped out of sight. It was learned that the money had been deposited as he was instructed.

When seen this morning the boy's mother, Mrs. Charles Keiderling, wife of the upholsterer, of East Front street, said that she was at a loss to account for her son's sudden disappearance and was equally in the dark as to his present whereabouts.

The last seen of the missing boy was by a colored man named John Dunham, who is employed at the postoffice as janitor. He saw the lad boarding a west bound train. The train was a Philadelphia express and did not stop between this city and Philadelphia.

RODE INTO WAGON.

John F. McMurtry Injured While on His Bicycle Last Evening.

John F. McMurtry, of Manning avenue, collided with a wagon on Somerset street last evening, while returning from Elizabeth on a bicycle and was only saved from serious injury by his quickness in steering clear of the horse. As it was he received injuries on the head and face which have effectually closed his eye.

The wagon turned into Somerset street from Race street and McMurtry, not seeing the vehicle ran into the side of the wagon and was thrown off. He struck his forehead on the wagon and fell in a stunned condition on the road. He was taken to his home where he had his injuries dressed.

Two New Houses.

John A. McNally, of Spooner avenue, will shortly begin operations on the erection of two large houses on Webster place. They will be fitted with all the modern improvements and will be, when completed, a great addition to the block.

APRIL FOOL'S DAY IS NOT FORGOTTEN

Plainfielders See the Usual Amount of April Fool Jokes Played on Unsuspecting.

ALL SORTS OF TRICKS

HISTORY OF HOW THE DAY CAME TO BE OBSERVED.

The Ingenious Ones Found Much to Amuse Them, But It Was Quite Different With the Ones on Whom Jokes Were Played.

With delightful spring weather was April Fool's Day received. It offered unusual opportunities and the small boy of city and borough was not slow to grasp them. So yesterday proved somewhat more entertaining than usual to a select few while the victims of the countless practical jokes bore the brunt of it with either resignation or denunciation.

There were pocket books, strange and tempting packages and all other form of delusions known to the mind of the small boy. Those who forgot what day it was ate candy which proved to be full of red pepper or else smoked cigars which suddenly developed pyrotechnic qualities. Then the mild weather of the evening offered further chances for fun and all sorts of unusual things happened. The day managed to pass off without any very serious results from the varied styles of fun which marked the operations of the jokers.

April Fool Day, or All Fools' Day, is observed almost universally throughout Christendom in the playing of more or less asinine tricks upon one's neighbors.

Of the origin of this custom nothing positive is known. It probably had its origin with the French. This nation took the lead over all Christendom in commencing the new year, January 1, instead of March 25. Before the change the new year merry-making culminated on the octave of the feast, April 1, when visits were paid and gifts bestowed. With the adoption of the reformed calendar in 1564, new year's day was carried back to January 1 and only pretended gifts and mock ceremonial visits were made April 1, with the view of making fools of those who had forgotten the change of date. The custom once started was kept up after its origin had been forgotten. Its continuance was helped on by the fact that it appeals to an integral part of human nature which has asserted itself at all times and in all countries.

The English borrowed their April fooling from the French, the custom seeming to have been begun in Great Britain about the beginning of the eighteenth century.

PLAYS OWN OBLIGATO.

Miss Stori is a Violinist as Well as a Vocalist.

Miss Marie Stori, prima donna soprano and solo-violiniste with the Mozart Symphony Club, of New York, who appear at the Casino, Tuesday, April 7, although very young, is an artist of high rank, with a dramatic soprano voice, remarkable for breadth, fullness of tone and sweetness. It must not be supposed that because Miss Stori is an accomplished vocalist, she must of necessity be an amateur performer on the king of instruments—the violin. Such is not the case, for she is equally talented in both. One of her most attractive accomplishments which never fails to surprise and delight her audiences, is the playing of her own violin obligato while she sings. This feature of her work is a novelty altogether unique. Popular prices. Tickets on sale at Armstrong's. See advertisement.

AIDING TENNESSEE NEGROES

MISS RACHEL JEFFERSON TELLS OF THE WORK AT INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Address at Vincent Chapel Under Auspices of Women's Home Missionary Society.

Under the auspices of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, of the First M. E. church, a meeting of exceptional interest was held last evening in Vincent chapel, when Miss Rachel Jefferson, of the Morristown, Tenn., Industrial School for Negroes, was present and gave a talk. She told in a very entertaining way the work being done at this school and of the progress of education.

There are between three and four hundred boys and girls at the school and the girls are taught housekeeping, sewing, etcc., in addition to the English branches. It is hoped to teach the boys the various trades as soon as the income will permit. Miss Jefferson says that in her section of the south the negro is not nearly as dependent and slothful as in other parts of the country, especially the north. They are beginning to realize the importance of doing for themselves and making their own living and she said that with the passing of the old negro a more ambitious and intelligent type is coming on.

She spoke words of praise for the religious training of the negroes, saying that it is only when they are truly converted that they come into a full realization of their duties. She thanked the Board of Home Missions for its constant and earnest support of this work and hoped that the work would go forward with even greater success.

Miss Jefferson is a descendant of President Jefferson and is a bright, intelligent and ready speaker.

WESTFIELD IS BEATEN BY CITY HIGH SCHOOL

Although Weak at Bat, Local School Boys Win by the Score of 8 To 5.

STRONG IN THE FIELD

SECOND GAME PLAYED ON STILLMAN FIELD THIS SEASON.

Monro and VanAuken Both Tried in the Box—Visitors Show Good Stick Work—Their Fielding Not Up to Plainfield's.

The City High School baseball team defeated the team from the Westfield High School on Stillman Field yesterday afternoon. The score was 8 to 5.

Munro was tried in the box for the home team and put up a steady game, striking out eight men. In the seventh inning, however, VanAuken took his place in the box, giving him a place behind the bat. The Westfield boys, while not nearly so alert in the field, did good stick work, making six singles. The High School team showed great weakness at the bat. Ulrich, who played left field in Saturday's game, was not in uniform and his place was taken by Miner. Brakeley took Miner's place at second where he put up a good game, though his stick work was weak.

The home team started off scoring in the first inning, Thompson and Craig bringing in runs and VanAuken making another in the fourth. In the fifth inning by clever stick work coupled with two costly errors by the city boys, the Westfield team brought in three runs. VanAuken took the box in the seventh and pitched the rest of the game.

LOTS OF COAL.

Lehigh Valley's Coal Storage Plant at South Plainfield is Crowded With Coal.

It seems like awakening from a terrible dream when one thinks of the great scarcity of coal in this district only a few months ago while today, at South Plainfield, only one mile from the heart of the business district of the city there is more coal stored than has ever been known in that place. This is one of the storage plants of the Lehigh Valley Railroad and while the hugh black tent-like piles of fuel climb higher, trainload after trainload comes into the place weekly and deposits more, making other piles which soon grow to great proportions.

There are fourteen of the great stacks and each of them is estimated to contain 42,000 tons. This means that there is no less than 588,000 tons of coal in South Plainfield. Heretofore the Lehigh Railroad Company have given the South Plainfield storage plant's capacity 315,000 tons which makes the amount now in storage there 273,000 tons more than has ever before been stored in that place.

Commencement in Borough.

The Borough High School commencement will take place this year on June 19. At the meeting of the Borough Board of Education, last night, a committee was appointed to look after arrangements for the day and it is probable that there will be an interesting programme rendered.

CITY JUDGE SAYS MORALS TOO LOOSE

After Hearing Case in Which Alleged Domestic Infidelity Was the Cause.

WAS A LIVELY FRACAS

FISTS, SCISSORS AND AXE WERE USED FOR THE WEAPONS.

William Layton Objected to Thos. Lumpkins Attentions to His Wife and Took Law in His Own Hands.

In disposing of a couple of disturbers of the peace brought before him, this morning, City Judge Runyon took occasion to take a fling at the moral status of a good part of the community, especially some of the colored element.

The defendants were William Layton and Thomas Lumpkin, both colored, who reside near each other in Morse's row on West Fourth street. Layton is a hard working man and during his absence from home neighbors say Lumpkin is altogether too much in Mrs. Layton's society. Lumpkin was warned but to no purpose and when Layton came home last night and found his wife and the other man making goo-goo eyes over a fence he became hot-headed. Words led to a blow from Lumpkin's fist and then, it is said, Layton stabbed the aggressor in the back with a pair of scissors. An axe got mixed up in the scuffle somehow but Patrolman Quass arrived in time to prevent its being used.

Both men were locked up and when they were arraigned the courtroom was packed. Layton told a straightforward story, admitting the stabbing with the scissors but at the same time giving evidence against Lumpkin as a household breaker-up that he could not very well wiggle out of. He made several ineffectual attempts but was finally forced to admit that he purchased beer for Mrs. Layton and kept her in a state of drunkenness a great part of the time.

It was then that the court became indignant and declared not only for Lumpkin's benefit but the entire crowd present that immorality in Plainfield is entirely too prevalent for its own good and that the domestic relations of many families is extremely loose.

Layton's good reputation and provocation resulted in his being released with a suspended sentence, but with a warning that he was never again to take the law in his own hands. Lumpkin was also let go, but only because he had been pretty well used up in the scuffle in addition to the two stab wounds.

FIGHTING VERDICT.

Trolley Company Opposing Verdict for $600 to Miss Sheehan.

Frank Bergen, counsel for the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Railway Company, has commenced argument in the Union county court to have set aside a verdict for $600 rendered by a jury in February, 1902, against the concern in favor of Miss Elizabeth Sheehan, of Jersey City. The woman was injured by being thrown from an open trolley car at the Watchung avenue terminus in this city. Former Judge Thomas F. Noonan, of Jersey City, opposed the motion and Judge Vail reserved decision.

HOUSE PASSES THE REPEALER

But Its Unconstitutionality Is Revealed by Annexationists at a Hearing.

GOVERNOR WILL SIGN

Was Carried Through Legislature at Behest of President of the Senate Hutchinson—Committee Has Short Hearing—Annexationists Not Discouraged.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, April 2—The right of the people of North Plainfield to determine which county they should be a part of was denied by the House yesterday afternoon when the "repealer" to the annexation act went through the Lower House by a vote of 34 to 15. Eleven Democrats were excused from voting. It was rushed through at the behest of President of the Senate Hutchinson, whose efforts were seconded in the House by his colleague from Mercer, Assemblyman Leavit. The bill goes to the Governor and the general impression seems to be that he will sign it.

An attempt was made to rush the bill right through the House without even a hearing but there was such a vigorous howl from the objection that Assemblyman Leavit did not dare to carry out his original scheme. A hearing was accordingly ordered and held during the noon recess.

Mayor Newton B. Smalley and Former Mayor W. L. Saunders, of North Plainfield, headed a delegation of North Plainfielders who came to make a final protest against the passage of the "repealer." The fact that the "repealer" was opposed by many of the anti-annexationists was brought to the attention of the legislators. The annexationists also urged that the "repealer" was unconstitutional because it had not been advertised as special legislation.

Speaking for the bill were A. V. D. Honeyman and W. W. Howland, of North Plainfield, and Former Assemblyman H. W. Hoagland, of Somerset. They declared that the unconstitutional charge was ridiculous.

The bill was first on the calendar for the afternoon and went through without delay according to the vote already given.

The Plainfield armory bill came up before the Senate, yesterday afternoon, and was defeated. The influence of Senator Cross was used against it.

Preparatory to adjournment today the Legislature rushed bills through on double quick time yesterday, and last night found the members dickering and trading votes with each other for their pet measures. Both houses will adjourn at noon today.

The House concurred in the Senate amendments to the Passaic pollution bill.

The House passed Senator Shinn's bill preventing the employment of children under fourteen years old in factories and workshops, and the bill providing for the taxation of mining properties on the basis of their output.

The House defeated the bill to prevent sheriffs from making any profit from the feeding of prisoners.

Governor Murphy sent to the Senate the nomination of Senator Theodore Strong, of Middlesex county, as a member of the State Board of Assessors to succeed John C. Rankin, deceased. Senator Strong's nomination was confirmed.

The Senate passed the House amendment to the primary election bill; extending the ballot reform law to townships; the Passaic pollution bill after a vigorous fight; providing for a commission to make an investigation and report to the next Legislature a bill for the regulation of tenement houses; giving cities power to pass ordinances regulating the heighth of fences and the use of billboards; confirming the conclusions of the joint commission of Delaware and New Jersey on the question of the boundary line of the two States and fishing rights in Delaware Bay.

The railroad codification bill was amended by substituting the word adjoining for adjacent in the paragraph authorizing companies to acquire additional property. The bill was then passed by a vote of 13 to 4.

After strenuous opposition on the part of the Democrats the Senate passed Senator Bradley's bill provid-

THEATRICAL.

One of the biggest successes ever achieved by a racing drama in the history of the New York stage was recorded last Monday night upon the initial presentation at the Academy of Music, New York, of Jacob Litt's sumptuous production of "The Suburban." The piece is on for a long and prosperous run, there can be little doubt, for the enthusiasm shown by the audience as the various big scenes of the play were disclosed increased until it culminated in a veritable ovation after the big race scene. No more realistic and thrilling stage picture has ever been shown in New York than the running of the big race in this melodrama. There have been stage races before on the Academy stage but nothing to compare with the one given in "The Suburban."

"Mr. Blue Beard" is in its eleventh week at the Knickerbocker Theatre with not a sign of waning popularity in sight. The attendance still keeps up to the utmost capacity of the house and the advance sale continues at phenomenal figures. The attention which "Mr. Blue Beard" has attracted is another demonstration of the demand of the public for big things in the way of amusements, and also its willingness to patronize them to an extent commensurate with their merit. This production represents the highest attainment in scenic art, magnificence of costuming and in comic musical entertainment ever seen in this country and is therefore the most popular attraction in New York. The Wednesday matinee performances are largely attended by women and children, special care being taken to provide for their accommodation and comfort. Seats may be ordered by mail or telegraph for any performance as far ahead as four weeks. All communications in reference to reservation of seats receive prompt attention.

CHANGES TO PARK LINKS

THREE NEW HOLES HAVE BEEN LAID OUT IN THE COURSE.

The Changes Made Necessary on Account of Recent Improvement to the Hyde Estate.

No time is being lost in putting the course of the Park Golf Club in condition for play. Several changes will be made in the course this spring on account of the improvements being made to the property by the Hyde estate but these will not injure its excellent playing qualities and will be made in time for the real opening of the season. It is probable that play will begin there not long after April 1 but that temporary greens will have to be utilized at first.

A conference was recently held at the links when the changes were planned. Frank deL. Hyde, one of the owners, and a director and member of the green committee of the golf club, met with President C. W. McCutcheon, Chairman George T. Rogers and Chas. A. Reed, of the green committee. The course, as laid out, met the approval of all.

There will be no change in the first three holes. The famous "third," 602 yards long, will remain the same. The fourth, fifth and sixth holes are to be laid out anew. When the old fourth hole used to extend toward the east, the new one will start from a teeing ground east of the third green, cross the gully again and run for some 200 yards to the south-west. The new fifth hole will start close by the new green for the fourth and, following a line parallel with the boundary fence, will end with the green formerly used to complete the fourth hole. This hole will be some 400 yards long and will have several sporty hazards on it.

In place of the famous "Desperation," the sixth hole will start close by the line of trees, north of the fifth green, and extend westward to a green near the end of the third hole. This will be a short hole, about 240 yards. The players will then cross the bridge over the gully and resume play at the old seventh teeing ground and follow the old course as before.

SECRET AGREEMENT

New Haven Trainmen Get Unknown Concessions.

TOLD THEY HAVE BEEN WELL TREATED

Mr. Fitzpatrick After Conference With President Hall Issues Statement Very Indefinite, but Pleasing to Workmen.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 2.—The differences between the trainmen of the New York, New Haven and Hartford company and their employers were amicably settled late yesterday. The men appear to be perfectly satisfied with the concessions made by the railroad officials.

The final agreement relieved the tension, which was rapidly reaching the breaking point, not so much among the conferees, but in the rank and file of the trainmen scattered over the railroad system. The many delays were becoming irksome to these men, and there is little doubt but that they would have broken over the traces despite all their committee and their adviser, Valentine Fitzpatrick, could do had not the agreement been reached at such an opportune time.

The men are loud in their praises of Mr. Fitzpatrick, who since he was called into the conference by President Hall has brought the position of the trainmen before the directors' committee in a manner which was satisfactory to both sides. Mr. Fitzpatrick immediately after the final adjournment of the conferences went to his hotel and prepared a statement for the press. In giving it out he made the announcement that the contents of the statements had been agreed upon between President Hall and himself. The statement, which was very brief, contained nothing whatever to indicate just exactly what concessions had been granted to the men by the officials of the railroad. The statement is as follows:

"The committee and Mr. Fitzpatrick met President Hall, Vice President Merrill and Directors Miller and Thayer and succeeded in reaching a settlement which we have every reason to believe will be very satisfactory to all concerned.

"The wages, hours and rules governing the conditions of the employment of road brakemen, switchmen, yard conductors and yard brakemen are materially improved, and we believe when the employees learn of just what has been done in the matter they will feel that they have been justly treated by their employers."

French Convoy Attacked In Algeria.

ALGIERS, April 2.—News has arrived here of an attack by a body of 150 Oulad Djerir tribesmen on a French convoy escorted by detachments of Algerian light infantry, the foreign legion and Spahis at the village of Ksar-El-Azous, southern Algeria. The fighting lasted eight hours, with varying fortunes. The French troops exhausted their cartridges and then fought a hand to hand encounter. Finally the tribesmen were victorious. The French had nine killed, thirteen wounded, including an officer, and two missing. The tribesmen suffered heavily, carrying away their dead and wounded on forty camels, which they captured from the French convoy.

Boston Mail Clerk In Trouble.

BOSTON, April 2.—J. G. Rollins, the night clerk in charge of the pneumatic tubes in the postoffice, has been arraigned before United States Commissioner Fiske, charged with robbing the mails. Rollins pleaded not guilty and was held in $1,500 for a hearing. It is charged that Rollins after being seen to take several packages from the mails was arrested, and no less than ten packages and two letters were found on his person. The inspectors say that he confessed, admitting that he had been pilfering the mail for some time.

Canadians Oppose Cigarettes.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 2.—By a vote of 103 to 48 the house declared its opinion that in order to save the youth of the country the manufacture, sale and importation of cigarettes should be prohibited. JERSEY LEGISLATION

Many Measures Passed, Including Appropriations.

FINAL ADJOURNMENT AT NOON TODAY

Passaic Pollution Bill Has but Two Negative Votes in the Senate. The Senate Passes Big Armory Grab.

TRENTON, N. J., April 2.—The senate yesterday passed the two appropriation bills after the insertion of an amendment appropriating $8,000 for the purchase of land for the purpose of a water supply for the Morris Plains asylum.

The senate then took up on special order assembly bill No. 57, the Passaic pollution bill. Senator Batcheller in advocating the passage of the measure spoke briefly, saying the matter had been so thoroughly discussed that there was no occasion for further argument in behalf of the bill.

Senator McKee in his speech in opposition said the pollution of the Passaic river was due more to the city of Newark than to the city of Paterson. He cited a report of a special commission appointed thirty years ago which claims that the river was being polluted by sewage from Newark carried up the river on the flood tide. He said also that no municipality was taking water from the Passaic for drinking purposes at any point south of Paterson. The trunk sewer scheme, he said, was unnecessary, expensive and impracticable. At the conclusion of Senator McKee's speech the bill passed —17 to 2. Messrs. McKee and Shinn voted in the negative. Senators Ferrell and Lee did not vote.

The house last night after strenuous opposition on the part of the Democrats passed Senator Bradley's bill providing for a bipartisan excise board in Jersey City to supersede the present elective board, which is Democratic.

The house concurred in the senate amendments to assembly bill No. 58, the railroad codification measure.

The senate late at night passed the assembly bill appropriating $125,000 for an armory for the Essex troop in Newark. This bill was defeated earlier in the day.

The senate also passed the house bill revising the building and loan association laws of the state.

The evening session of the house was taken up largely to rushing through under a suspension of the rules of a great lot of bills of minor importance.

The two houses adjourned at midnight and met again this morning. The final adjournment took place at noon.

Cleveland Denies Wild Stories.

PRINCETON, N. J., April 2.—Former President Cleveland makes the following statement relative to his intended visit to St. Louis to attend the dedicatory exercises of the Louisiana Purchase exposition: "I have had no intention of going any farther than St. Louis and intended returning as soon as possible by the most direct route, and yet in some way it has been given out that I was to go to the Pacific coast and visit Colorado and California and I don't know how many other states and territories, and in consequence of this I have received numerous letters from good people giving in those localities making requests based entirely upon the truth of these reports. It may be amusing to those who start such rumors, but it produces a reverse effect on those who are made the victims of such an absurd canard."

Public Debt Statement.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The monthly statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business March 31, 1903, the total debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $939,603,919, an increase for the month of $1,631,021. This increase is accounted for by a corresponding decrease in the amount of cash on hand. The comparative statement of the government receipts and expenditures shows that for the month of March, 1903, the total receipts were $45,435,434 and the disbursements $44,987,587, leaving a surplus for the month of $447,847.

Dr. Roux to Get $20,000 Prize.

PARIS, April 2.—The Figaro states that the Institute of France at a secret meeting yesterday decided to award to Dr. Emile Roux, the subdirector of the Pasteur institute, a prize of $20,000 founded by M. ALBANY, N. Y., April 2.—Forty independent icemen representing the ice cutting industry in the Mohawk and Hudson valleys have organized the Empire State Ice Harvesting association, with Newton B. Vandersee of Albany as president. The organization is expected to embrace all the independent ice cutting men of the state.

Increased Death Rate.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 2.—The bulletin of vital statistics for February, issued by Dr. Daniel Lewis, state health commissioner, shows that there were 10,826 deaths in this state during that month as compared with an average of 10,492 for the corresponding month during the past five years.

Demented Man Shoots to Kill.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 2.—While suffering from dementia Frank Candee, aged forty-five years, shot and mortally wounded his brother, Nathan B. Candee, aged thirty-eight years, and his sister, Miss Oline Candee, aged thirty-five years, after which he shot and fatally wounded himself.

TROUBLES OF LABOR

Strikes For Better Conditions In Many States.

WABASH INJUNCTION IS DISSOLVED.

Peaceful Settlement of the Difficulty Hoped For—Judge Adams Gives Good Advice to Employer and Employee.

ST. LOUIS, April 2.—The injunction issued March 3 by Judge Elmer E. Adams of the United States district court at the instance of the Wabash Railroad company officials to restrain the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Firemen from ordering a strike on that system has been dissolved in a decision handed down by Judge Adams.

What the next move will be on either side is problematical. At Wabash headquarters it was stated that amicable adjustment of the controversy is hoped for. The same sentiment was expressed at the hotels where are quartered the few representatives of the officials of the trainmen and firemen now in the city. Cofinsel for both sides spent the afternoon in conference, but no agreement was reached. The keynote for amicable settlement was sounded by Judge Adams himself in rendering his decision. He said:

"I cannot conclude this opinion without expressing the sincere wish of the court that if the parties are unable to adjust their differences by such mutual concessions as are necessary to that end the offer made in open court by defendant's counsel to submit the question in dispute to the board of arbitration provided for by the act of congress of 1898 will be speedily accepted and another instance of rational and intelligent adjustment of a business difficulty be exhibited to an expectant public."

Judge Adams' decision, which contained 7,000 words, occupied forty minutes in its delivery.

Labor Troubles In New York.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Strikes in the building and allied trades predominate in this state. At Schenectady the long threatened strike of the carpenters for 40 cents an hour instead of 35 cents, the present rate, is on, and building operations are now tied up throughout the city. Over 800 men are affected, and they declare they will have the support of the allied trades. One hundred and sixty carpenters and 300 laborers are on strike at Oswego, the latter's action throwing sixty stonemasons out of work. The carpenters demand an eight hour day at present wages, $2.25 per day, with permission to take private contracts. The laborers want an eight hour day at $1.50, as at present. Similar strikes are also reported from Saratoga, White Plains, Yonkers, Mount Vernon, New Rochelle and other cities and towns.

Indiana Laborers Uneasy.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 2.—Three hundred bricklayers struck here for an increase in pay from 50 to 60 cents an hour. At Veedersburg the employees of the Wabash Clay company, numbering 100 men, went on strike. The strikers demand an increase of 2½ cents an hour and recognition of the union. At Logansport 250 masons and bricklayers struck. All work has been stopped. At Fort Wayne the painters and paperhangers struck, the bosses refusing to sign the new wage scale. At Evansville between 700 and 800 men and boys in ten of the eleven furniture factories went on strike for more pay and shorter hours. The employers will try to get other men.

Five Thousand Out In Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 2.—Five thousand workmen in five lines of industry are out on strike for shorter hours of labor, better wages and other improved conditions. Added to those already involved in conflict with employers, the list of idle workmen in the city numbers 8,500. The latest trades affected are tanners and curriers, steamfitters and their helpers, excavating teamsters, drain layers and journeymen tailors. The tanners and curriers, who number about 3,000, will stop work in the face of an offer of arbitration made by the American Hide and Leather company, which is known as the trust.

Lake Navigation Stopped.

BUFFALO, April 2.—Navigation was to have opened at this port at noon yesterday, but it is now uncertain as to when it will be opened. This condition of affairs is due to action taken at Cleveland, when a strike for higher wages affecting all ports on the great lakes was declared by the Marine Firemen, Oilers and Water Tenders' association. The members of the local branch of the union refuse to discuss the situation in any manner. They say it was agreed at a meeting to say nothing whatever regarding the strike or the plans of the strikers.

Strikers In New Jersey Towns.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., April 2.—About 200 carpenters and half as many hod carriers of this city went on strike yesterday. It is expected that other trades will follow their example next Monday, demanding increased wages and Saturday half holidays. The bosses are organized, and the struggle will be sharp. At Elizabeth the plumbers of that city went on strike for an increase in wages. The men were getting $3 per day. They demand $3.50. At Montclair building operations are practically suspended by the strike of the plumbers, painters and paper hangers.

Pennsylvania Strikes.

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—Numerous strikes, none of which, however, involved a great number of men, were inaugurated in many of the smaller towns in the eastern half of Pennsylvania. The principal trades that struck were painters, plumbers, paper hangers, carpenters and bricklayers. Higher wages and a shorter work day were the principal demands. In some instances the requests of the men were granted.

Tacoma Strike Settled.

TACOMA, Wash., April 2.—The strike of street car men against the Tacoma Railway and Power company has been officially declared off by the street railway employees' union. The strikers are to be taken back at the same wages they received before the strike and as rapidly as places may be found for them in the service of the company. The matter of wages is now under consideration by the company.

Cincinnati Building Trades Affected.

CINCINNATI, April 2.—More than 700 employees of nine architectural iron structure works have struck here, indirectly affecting many others in the building trades. The men demand an increase of wages. Part of the increase has been allowed.

Many Out In Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 2.—Two hundred and fifty painters and decorators, 135 steamfitters and 328 glass blowers have quit work. The men demand an increase in wages and recognition of the union. Several firms are affected.

Paper Hangers and Painters Out.

ELMIRA, N. Y., April 2.—The paper hangers and painters of this city went out on a strike on being refused an eight hour day at $2.50. The offer of the contractors, $2.25 and a nine hour day, was rejected.

Amsterdam Industries Crippled.

AMSTERDAM, April 2.—The port is idle owing to a strike of the water transport workers for an increase of wages. The other industries will speedily be affected by the resultant lack of raw material.

Building Trades Idle.

WHEELING, W. Va., April 2.—The building trade strike was inaugurated here, as was predicted, and with but few exceptions finds the carpenters, tinners and roofers idle.

MACEDONIAN REBELLION.

The Albanian Movement Considered Dangerous.

VIENNA, April 2.—The rebellion in Macedonia is considered here to have begun already, and the situation is expected to become worse. The Albanian movement is regarded as specially dangerous because the sultan will hardly dare to suppress it, he being surrounded by Albanian guards at the Yildiz kiosk. It is therefore thought that the reform plan will remain a dead letter in Old Servia.

The report is confirmed that M. Stcherbina, the Russian consul at Mitrovitza, was shot in the back by Albanian soldiers. It is estimated that there are 20,000 Albanians under arms, and a general rising would be extremely serious.

It is stated that the king of Greece has abandoned his intended visit to the Danish court at Copenhagen on account of the threatening situation in the Balkans.

Treasurer Cooke's Shortage $21,217.

MILFORD, Mass., April 2.—Walter S. V. Cooke, former treasurer of the Milford Co-operative bank, was short $21,217.22 in his accounts at the time he tried to kill himself at his home in Boston a month ago. The report of the expert accountant was submitted to the bank directors last night. This accountant, G. W. Manson of Boston, says that embezzlement, forgery and perjury are shown by the books. Notes on mortgages had been paid, the mortgages left uncanceled and the notes marked unpaid. False entries were made in the cashbook, and checks had been forged with President Eldredge's name and the proceeds taken by Cooke. The books of the bank, Mr. Manson says, were badly kept and that traces of dishonesty were to be found in the accounts as far back as 1897.

Policeman's Murderer Known.

WATERBURY, Conn., April 2.—The most important development in the situation here is the statement made by Deputy Sheriff Rigney that the murderer of Policeman Paul Mendelssohn might be arrested at any moment. Mr. Rigney said that the man was well known to the police, and, although not in the city at the present time, he expected to land him at any moment. The man, according to the deputy sheriff, is a striker. It was rumored about the city that one of the officers of the union might be arrested on a charge of intimidation.

Lawyer Accused of Theft.

TOLEDO, O., April 2.—C. E. Longwell, a prominent young attorney, has been bound over to the grand jury on the charge of embezzling $600 from a client. Longwell, acting as counsel for an assignee, retained the money as fees, asserting that he had a right to do so. The court held that the money first should have been turned over to the probate judge and then repaid to Longwell.

Newark Oil Plant Burned.

NEWARK, N. J., April 2.—The plant of the Western Oil and Manufacturing company, covering about an acre and a half of land on Riverdale avenue, has been totally destroyed by fire, involving a loss of about $200,000. The works had been shut down for some months.

To Carry Weather Signals.

UTICA, N. Y., April 2.—Arrangements have been made whereby the rural free delivery mail carriers in this section will carry flags on their rigs which will be weather signals, a certain flag to denote changes in temperature, storms, etc.

THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL.

Now that the McKee school law has been declared constitutional by the Supreme Court of New Jersey, we may expect to see a move taken in the project to erect a new High School for Plainfield. When the Common Council meets Monday evening, it is quite likely that we will hear that the Board of School Estimate has acted in the matter and that the Common Council will promptly ratify its action.

Anyone who is at all in touch with local educational circles will know of the need of new quarters for that department of the public schools. The members of the Common Council put themselves on record sometime ago as approving any reasonable measure for a new High School. The only delay has been in the unwillingness of the school authorities to proceed under the new law when there was any uncertainty as to its constitutionality. Action under such circumstances might involve the city in no end of trouble and would be more likely to effectually tie up the project than to advance it any.

Now, however, that dreaded bugaboo, which has worried the City Board of Education for several years, has been removed. It only remains for the Council to authorize the bond issue and the Board of Education may go ahead with the new school. This new school involves the expenditure of a large amount of money and it should be spent carefully and economically so that the people will be satisfied. If the needs of the city demand a new High School the public will favor its erection but it is a subject requiring careful consideration and the utmost publicity.

NO ARMORY.

It was with feelings of regret that the people of Plainfield learned that there would be no armory for Company K this year. After the bill providing for one at State expense went through the lower house of the State Legislature, there was general satisfaction expressed. Its fate in the Senate was soon settled however. Plainfield's armory met an end similar to that of the armory for Newark's crack troop.

The boys of Company K have worked hard during their short career and have won honors that have made the company one of the most remarkable in the National Guard. The company has been sadly handicapped by the lack of a proper drill hall and it was hoped that the State would come to its assistance. It is evident, however, that Company K will have to look elsewhere for help this time at least. This is greatly to be regretted as, with a drill master like Captain Martin and a proper drill hall, Company K could make a record for itself that could not be beaten in the State. The armory will come some day, however.

Only the Governor's signature is lacking in order to make a law of the measure, which provides for the election of the city tax collector by the Common Council. The object of this bill is to place the collector in a position so that he will go ahead in the collection of delinquent personal taxes, taking severe measures, without feeling that he is injuring his chances of being re-elected to the place. It is claimed that if the collector is chosen by popular vote, he is not going to injure his chances by making enemies. If the office depends on the Council alone, he will not be afraid to do his duty. The chief objection to the change has been that it takes from the people the right to fill a very important office.

Eleven officials of the North Jersey Traction Company will have to stand trial on the charge of manslaughter for being responsible for the terrible Clifton avenue trolley disaster at Newark. There appears to be no doubt that somebody was to blame and now the county is after the officials of the company believing that had they done their duty the accident never would have happened.

Noah Raby has just completed his one hundred and thirty-first year. All through the State, the newspapers tell of this remarkable old character and how he has reached such a remarkable age. Noah may be happy but most folk are content to take the usual allotment of life and don't envy the aged man at the Piscataway poor farm his longevity.

Poor primary election measure! How it was demoralized when the politicians got at it. And Hamilton Fish Kean, chairman of the Union county Republican committee, declared that Union county didn't want the changes. Whom was he speaking for any way?

This session of the State Legislature has not been a particularly happy one although it gave promise at the start of achieving some very much needed legislation. Several good things fell by the wayside during the course of its sessions.

It really looks as if this time the invading telephone company meant business. There have been several invaders heretofore but they have generally drifted out of sight after a very feeble struggle for existence.

Plainfielders There.

The Sentinel-Record, of Hot Springs, Arkansas, under date of Thursday, March 26, contains a long article about the annual ball given at the Arlington hotel. The affair was described as the most successful in the history of the hotel. Among those present at the ball was Mrs. Eugene A. Gross, of this city. She was gowned in black thread lace, over cream satin point de Bordeaux lace; diamonds and pearls.

Talking of Teachers.

The teachers' committee of the North Plainfield Board of Education met last evening at the home of the chairman, James R. Joy, of Myrtle avenue, when matters relating to the selection of additional teachers in the school were discussed. Several applications for positions were received and considered. The next meeting of the board is to be a special one and will be held Monday night.

Saengerbund Meets.

The monthly meeting of the Gesang and Turn Verein will be held this evening at Saengerbund Hall. It is probable that matters of importance will be brought up for discussion.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning April 5—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—What the parable of the good Samaritan teaches us.—Luke x, 30-37.

The parable of the good Samaritan is the second of those to be found only in Luke's gospel and is one of the loveliest and most suggestive of all the parables of Christ. If Luke had preserved nothing else than this parable and that of the prodigal son, the world would have been immeasurably indebted to him. Nothing so much as these priceless stories illustrates the fact that Christ "spake as never man spake."

The parable was called forth by the question of a lawyer, one whose business it was to interpret the Mosaic law concerning eternal life. Six times Christ met this question in some form: "What shall I do to inherit eternal life?" The lawyer asked it that he might test Christ. In answer Jesus referred to the law, which the lawyer correctly quoted as embracing love to God and love to our neighbors. Attempting to justify his interpretation of the law, which was an exclusive one, the lawyer asked, "And who is my neighbor?" This question called forth the matchless parable of Christ, the good Samaritan.

1. The parable of the good Samaritan teaches us who is our neighbor. A man fell among thieves and was left half dead. A priest passed him by without looking at him; a Levite chanced along, "came and looked on him and passed by on the other side;" then came a Samaritan, a man of different race and religion, and he cared for him and in doing so illustrated neighborliness. In this story Christ teaches us that the man who needs our help and whom we are able to help is our neighbor, regardless of race, nationality, religion or social position. The Jews were most exclusive in their definition of neighbor, while Christ is most comprehensive. Any man the world over who needs our help, temporarily or spiritually, is our neighbor. This truth needs still to be emphasized, and the world needs more and more to see in Jesus Christ the ideal good Samaritan and to imitate His example.

2. The parable of the good Samaritan teaches us how to "love our neighbor as ourselves." How to do this is often a serious question. It cannot mean that there is to be as strong affection in our hearts for all men as for our own interest and that of those bound to us by the natural ties of life. God has placed us in peculiar relation to many people, and our first duty is to them. What does it mean then? What did the Samaritan do? He did unto another as he would have had that other do unto him had the conditions been reversed. Undoubtedly Christ's Golden Rule is the best definition of loving our neighbor as ourselves. Such love is more in the action than in the heart. It is philanthropy rather than affection. The man who keeps the Golden Rule will always love his neighbor as himself.

3. The parable of the good Samaritan teaches that all men should love their neighbors as themselves. Priest and Levite are condemned for their failure to do so, while the Samaritan is commended, and Christ also exhorts the lawyer to follow his example. The world is full of the needy and unfortunate. Let us, following Christ's example and precept, "do unto them as we would have them do unto us."

BIBLE READINGS.

Lev. xix, 18; Prov. iii, 27-29; Hab. ii, 15; Matt. v, 43-48; vii, 12; xxii, 36-39; xxv, 31-46; Rom. i, 14-17; xiii, 7-10; Eph. iv, 25.

The Quiet Hour.

Every comrade of the Quiet Hour will appreciate the following Scripture that bears out so strikingly the idea of the movement:

Our Master's Invitation.—"Come ye yourselves apart."—Mark vi, 31.

Our Master's Command.—"When thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret."—Matt. vi, 6.

Our Master's Example.—"And in the morning, rising up a great while before day, He went out and departed into a solitary place and there prayed."—Mark i, 35.

"Our Master's Promises.—"Lo, I am with you always."—Mark xvi, 15. "And thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly."—Matt. vi, 6.

The Servant's Response.—"O God, thou art my God; early will I seek Thee; my soul thirsteth for Thee."—Ps. lxiii, 1. "My voice shalt Thou hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto Thee and will look up."—Ps. v, 3.

Begin the day with God!
He is thy sun and day.
His is the radiance of thy dawn;
To Him address thy lay,

Take thy first walk with God;
Let Him go forth with thee;
By stream or sea or mountain path
Seek still His company.

—H. Bonar.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning April 5, "The Danger of Indifference." Text, Heb. i, 2; Heb. ii, 1-3; Jude iii, 20, 21.

"How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation?"

The special topic for the month of April is "Danger Signals." There are many foes to the earnest Christian life, and it is well to clearly recognize them and be guarded against them. Among our young people are many who have never made an open profession of faith in Jesus Christ and never taken vows of allegiance to God. They attend the services of the church as a matter of custom and find society among Christian young people, but do not reckon themselves as Christians or feel bound by rules which they think Christians ought to keep.

In actual, spiritual condition they vary greatly. Some feel a deep seated repulsion to the claims and offers of the gospel because to recognize them would be a confession of having been wrong and done wrong. Pride revolts against such a suggestion. The demand for a pure life of unselfish devotion and loving fellowship does not attract since it puts to shame and condemns the self indulgence which has become so confirmed in practice and disposition.

Some there are who have no positive dislike of religion, but habitually dislike earnest exertion of almost any kind. They prefer not to be disturbed by any serious thought or effort. Matters are well enough as they are, and there is no particular danger or cause for special anxiety. This inertia is very common among Christians as well as the nonprofessing friends of the church. Errors in belief and action are not such serious matters as to warrant excitement or anxiety and surely, they think, should be handled quietly and cautiously. Truth and right have never been of enough importance to them to awaken them from their indolent ease and apathy. Others among us are indifferent to the gospel of Christ because they are occupied so completely by other things. They have never stopped to think much about the matter. Mind and heart and time have been preoccupied, and so they have until now been indifferent.

There is danger of the gravest kind in such a situation. A soul not saved is a soul lost. There is salvation only through Jesus Christ. It is the privilege of every one among us to make choice of Him and accept Him as Saviour. Consciousness of personal salvation is the best thing this world can afford to any soul. No one should neglect deliberate choice. Any delay or continued indifference carries these consequences: The longer decision is delayed the more fixed the habits of mind and body become, and the more difficult to change. The strength to accept and do the truth weakens with delay, and powers of evil habits grow. Favorable opportunities and inner impulses grow less with each rejection.

Awake, thou that sleepest!
Arise, shine, for thy light is come!

A Governing God.

When things get beyond your control, when you face an unknown future and when trying conditions confront you, remember that there is a governing God in Israel and that it is His to bring light out of darkness, joy out of sorrow and hope out of despair. Be patient and acquiescent. Let the Ruler of the Universe and the Lord of the individual manage affairs in His own way and at His own time. Neither grow weary nor become too anticipative. Roll upon a covenant keeping God your cares, taking His dispensations as they come and multiplying sorrow neither by distrust nor by foreboding. God unravels the future day by day, hour by hour and moment by moment, accompanying the distribution with His supporting and sanctifying grace.—Presbyterian.

What Is Prayer For?

God knows our needs before we ask. Then what is prayer for? Not to inform Him or to move Him, unwilling, to have mercy, as if, like some proud prince, He required a certain amount of recognition of His greatness as the price of His favors, but to fit our own hearts by conscious need and true desire and dependence to receive the gifts which He is ever willing to give, but which we are not always fit to receive. As St. Augustine has it, the empty vessel is by prayer carried to the full fountain.—A. Maclaren.

The Symphony of Life.

What a splendid symphony is life to one who knows how to interpret it, with its four movements and its one theme! For that one theme is love and God, and love and God are one. First, the dance music of childhood; then the love music of youth; then the labor and martial music of manhood, mingled with the sweet home music of womanhood, with strains of pathetic minor enriching both, and, last of all, the peace of song of old age.—Outlook.

A Secret of Life.

One secret of sweet and happy Christian life is learning to live by the day. Even tomorrow is never ours till it becomes today, and we have nothing whatever to do with it but to pass down to it a fair inheritance in today's work well done and today's life well lived.—Central Presbyterian.

To Perfect His People.

The more the diamond is cut the brighter it sparkles and in what seems hard dealing God has no end in view but to perfect His people's graces.—Dr. Guthrie.

Safe to Forget.

Being in Christ, it is safe to forget the past; it is possible to be sure of the future; it is possible to be diligent in the present.—A. Maclaren.

[Copyright, 1902, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.]

Evelyn's voice broke. They were both silent for a few minutes and then they saw the torches going out one by one. The people were going home. There could be no doubt now. Something had happened. Ronald's voice was heard no more; could it be stilled forever? Then they heard the trap returning. The two women advanced to the steps as the horses were reined in at the door. The occupants alight-

"WHAT DID THEY DO, FATHER?"

ed. As her father ascended the steps Evelyn caught both his hands in hers. "What did they do, father?" she asked.

The old soldier laughed.

"Do?" he exclaimed, enthusiastically, as he rubbed his hands together, "why, they did nothing. Jade Fanshaw's son rode into their ranks and made the grandest speech I ever listened to in my life. He turned the very marrow in my bones to ice. I was cold one minute and as hot as old Nick the next. I believe we were all hypnotized. From the minute he began to show up the horror of lynch law and the risk they were running of hanging an innocent man, I believe I'd a-died rather than let the mob harm the fellow. He stood there with more ropes on him than he could carry and didn't look big enough to harm a fly. After Fanshaw got their attention the first thing he demanded was that they let the prisoner tell his story. He gained his point and the little chap began to talk. You could hardly hear what he said, he was so fatigued and hoarse. 'In the name of God and Christianity,' he said, 'let me have a chance to prove I'm not guilty.'

"Syd Hart, Thad Williams and their faction were too full of whisky and hatred to be moved by mere eloquence; they were there for blood, and they were going to have it; so they tried to drown out what the prisoner was saying. But Fanshaw, towering above them all on his horse, finally succeeded in getting him heard and the boy's story satisfied me of his innocence. He said the money he had was his savings from two years' hard work in an iron foundry in Chattanooga and that he was taking it home to his widowed mother, who depends on him for her support. He said he was tramping home on foot to save the expense of a railroad ticket. Somebody asked him why he had tried to escape from the sheriff, and he said he was afraid of being lynched—that he had heard of the treatment men accused of crime received in these mountains.

"Then some one asked him about the blood on his hands and shirt, and he showed them a cut on his leg which had been bound up and was bleeding.

"About that time Syd Hart became obstreperous again. Captain, I saw you talking to him just then. I wondered if you had said anything to inflame—"

"I thought I might reason with him," broke in Winkle, with a start. "I saw he was clear out of his head, wholly unreasonable, you know."

"Well, you seemed to have struck stony ground for your good seed," laughed Hasbrooke, "for he got wilder than ever."

"Oh, do go on!" cried Mrs. Lancaster. "What became of Mr. Fanshaw?"

"I was coming to him," said the old man. "As soon as he appeared on the scene, the sheriff, who had hardly opened his mouth in any sort of remonstrance, picked up his courage and began to try to get possession of the prisoner; but nobody paid any attention to him. Hart and Williams had their ears. However, young Fanshaw saw how the thing was going and brought it to a focus by the most unexpected and risky move I ever saw. Pretending that he wanted the people in the edge of the crowd to see how small the prisoner was, he lifted the little fellow onto his horse in front of him, and, before anyone suspected what he was up to, he had wheeled his horse and was off like the wind. Syd Hart pulled his revolver and aimed it at Fanshaw's back, but Dave Fanshaw knocked the weapon up, and it went off without harming anyone. Then Dave held a pistol at Hart's head and dared him to stir a muscle. This quarrel drew the attention of the mob from the prisoner and Fanshaw bore him away without any opposition.

The sheriff followed at his heels. They have gone with him to the jail in Danube. He'll be safe there."

Evelyn was closely watching Winkle; she had read him better than had her father.

"It was the noblest deed I ever heard of," she said, exultingly.

Winkle responded with a shrug and a frown.

"Fanshaw will pay well for it, in all probability," he said, sullenly.

Despite her habitual command over her emotions Evelyn's face fell, but she did not gratify her enemy by replying to his thrust.

Her father agreed with Winkle.

"Yes," he said, "it is not over yet by any means. Syd and Thad will certainly be bent on revenge, and Fanshaw will be their target. I never saw a more malignant countenance than Hart's when he realized that his plans were thwarted. I guess he will lie in wait for Fanshaw on his return from Danube."

Grown suddenly faint, Evelyn turned into the hall. Mr. Hardy's voice followed her and beat pleasantly on her ears. "I certainly take off my hat to that sort of courage," he was saying. "Fanshaw has the right kind of grit. It's a pity the world has not more men like him."

Evelyn's window commanded a view of the road leading from Danube to Fanshaw's house, and the remainder of the night, sleepless and distraught, she sat gazing across the fields at a spot she knew he must pass on his way home. And there, in that awful still suspense, she read her heart as she had never read it before.

"Yes," she confessed to herself, aloud, because she loved to hear her own voice pronouncing a truth which seemed to have quickened her soul into a new and higher life, "yes, I love him! I love him!"

About five o'clock, after it had grown light—when the sky in the east was turning golden—her long vigil was rewarded. Moving along the road, with a tired step, she saw a white horse, and a moment later she recognized the rider. Then she put her icy hands to her face and burst into tears of relief.

An hour later, with a mother's solicitude, Mrs. Lancaster stole into her room and found her asleep, her head resting on the bare window board. The good woman comprehended it all, and, raising the girl's face, she kissed her eyelids till they opened.

"He is safe!" were Evelyn's first words. "I saw him come home. I intended to go to bed then, but I was saying my prayers here when I fell asleep."

Mrs. Lancaster's lips twitched sympathetically as she put Evelyn to bed and sat by her stroking her brow until sleep came again. Then the old lady sat with her chin resting in her hand, quite thoughtful.

"I really don't know which way my duty lies," she mused. "She loves him—she loves him just as I should have done at her age, and she will suffer overgiving him up as I suffered when he was torn out of my life."

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

They Are Plainfield People and What They Say Is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press, are published as facts, people become skeptical. On the subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right here at home, one whom you can see every day leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

Mr. C. E. Hepburn, of 123 Duer street, formerly of Canada where he first heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have my endorsement for they cured me of a long standing case of backache which annoyed me very much, especially if I took cold for at such times I was in pretty bad shape. I heard different people speak very highly of Doan's Kidney Pills, concluded to try them, got a box from my druggist, Mr. L. W. Randolph, and used them according to directions with the above results. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement of a preparation like Doan's Kidney Pills."

SHAMROCK'S SECOND TRIAL.

New Cup Challenger Proves Herself Faster Than Shamrock I.

GOUROCK, Scotland, April 2.—The second trial spin between the Shamrock III., Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America's cup, and the Shamrock I. took place yesterday afternoon.

The biggest jackyarders were hoisted shortly after 3 o'clock and, with a hardening northwesterly wind, the challenger at 3:30 slipped her moorings. As the jib was broken out and she headed out of the bay the Shamrock I. was after her.

The challenger raced out on the starboard tack, walking through the water, which was now white topped, with a steadiness and grace of action that could not but be remarked. The Shamrock I. shot off in the rear of the challenger down the Firth at a pace of ten knots an hour.

The gain of the challenger was perceptible within the first two miles, during which the boats were fairly close hauled. It was reckoned that in the distance of about seven miles to Weymyss point the initial advantage of Shamrock III. had been doubled.

The reaching trial lasted down opposite Skelmorlie, where the challenger was over a mile in the lead. There was no doubt as to the genuineness of the sailing, which was plainly very much in favor of Shamrock III.

The final trial on the Clyde will be sailed today.

McGovern Cries Fraud.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—It is the opinion of ninety-nine out of every hundred persons who saw the feather-weight championship battle here between Terry McGovern and "Young Corbett" that the former was fairly beaten, although McGovern declares that he was counted out in the eleventh round before the requisite time had elapsed. His timekeeper and his friends claim that the erstwhile champion was on his feet before the ten seconds were up, but to every one else it seemed that McGovern had been thoroughly vanquished. It was a rattling good fight all the way through and was so fast that the multitude was constantly howling its approval. The end came in the eleventh round.

Bids For Jeffries-Corbett Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—The bids for the Jeffries-Corbett fight have been opened at Harry Corbett's place. Jeffries was represented by his manager, Billy Delaney, and Corbett by his brother Tom. The first bid opened was that of the Yosemite club of this city, offering a purse of $20,000 or 70 per cent of the gross receipts. A check of $5,000 accompanied the offer. The second bid was from the San Francisco club, offering 67½ per cent of the gross receipts, but no purse. The third and last offer came from Paddy Carroll of Chicago, who offered $30,000 for a fight in Havana in December or $25,000 in Atlanta in June.

Cambridge Took Boat Race.

PUTNEY, England, April 2.—The interuniversity boat race, which was the diamond jubilee of the contest, was won easily by Cambridge by six lengths in 19m. 32½s. Excepting the fact that rain was falling, the weather conditions were favorable. A light wind was blowing, but the water was smooth. Oxford won the toss and chose the Surrey side of the river, but the choice carried little advantage under the prevailing conditions.

Golf Results at Pinehurst.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 2.—Donald J. Rose, professional for the Pinehurst club, won the open thirty-six hole event, the closing feature of the united north and south amateur golf championship tournament here, with a card of 147. Sterling Beckwith of Cleveland, O., finished fourth, tying with Alexander H. Findlay of Boston at 150.

Oakland Racing.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—Nigrette, the 2 to 1 favorite, took the mile handicap at Oakland. Military Man, the odds on choice in the two-year-old race, got away tangled up and received a poor ride, being beaten by the well played Sweet Tone. Weather fine, track heavy.

Yale Defeats Tufts.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 2.—The Yale baseball nine defeated Tufts college nine in an interesting but none too well played game on Yale field by the score of 4 to 3. The visitors batted better than Yale, but made numerous errors in judgment on the bases.

Princeton Defeats Trinity.

PRINCETON, N. J., April 2.—The Princeton university baseball team defeated Trinity college by a score of 11 to 2.

Early Catch of Salmon.

BANGOR, Me., April 2.—The salmon season has opened at the Bangor pool. William Monroe caught the first fish, an eighteen and a half pounder, and Charles Foster and Cornelius McCosker landed the second. The first fish was sold for $1.25 a pound and went to a Portland market. It is extremely unusual to catch a salmon on the first day of the open season.

Baltimore Railroad Men Happy.

BALTIMORE, April 2.—General Manager W. A. House of the United Railways company of this city announces that the company has increased the wages of its 3,500 conductors and motormen. The advance will average from 10 to 20 per cent. Three classes of the men are made.

Special Corks For Poison Bottles.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 2.—A bill has been introduced in the assembly by Mr. Bourke providing that bottles containing poison shall be corked in such a manner as by the sense of touch to apprise any person uncorking such a bottle that its contents are dangerous.

GUARANTEED.

That word means something, when it is backed by the $5,000,000 capital and surplus of the

FIDELITY TRUST COMPANY.

It means for you an easy mind if you have one of those guarantees covering the title to your premises.
The man, who does business the way it was done a generation ago, is surely on the road to failure. This is an age of progress. There has been progress in methods of conveyancing as well as in other lines. Out of the need for something less uncertain than a lawyer's certificate and a lawyer's responsibility, has grown up the system of policies of insurance, or guarantees of title by companies with large capital and a force, specially trained in the work.
There is none better in this line than

THE FIDELITY TRUST COMPANY
OF NEWARK, N. J.

It has an agency at Elizabeth for conducting Union County business. Rates will be given on application at its office, No. 315 Broad Street, and an investigation of its resources and methods is invited.

TRUCK CAME INTO THE CAR

IT NEARLY CAUSED A PANIC AMONG THE PASSENGERS.

Car Was Passing Truck When Horses Shied and Windows in Car Suffered.

A panic was nearly caused among a car load of passengers on Watchung avenue, yesterday afternoon, when one of Hand's big trucks crashed through one of the windows and caused considerable damage and excitement.

Trolley car No. 25, of the Somerset street line, in charge of Conductor John Daly, was making its way along Watchung avenue near the trolley terminus when its way was blocked by a large dray backed up against the sidewalk at 120 Watchung avenue. The horses were cramped to one side and the car proceeded to pass by.

The horses were skittish and just as the car was passing they made an attempt to run and the dashboard of the vehicle and the side wheel crashed into the car, breaking the glass which fell in showers about the passengers and greatly startled the people, most of whom were women.

Some of the more timid made an attempt to rush from the car but the coolness of the conductor prevented many from being injured by a panic. The horses were stopped before they had gone very far.

ing for a bi-partisan excise board in Jersey City to supercede the present elective board, which is Democratic. This bill was passed as a caucus measure by the Republican.

The Greater Plainfield advocates were by no means discouraged at the result. Former Mayor W. L. Saunders said this morning:

"The annexation act, that is the law permitting a section of Somerset county to be put into Union, has been repealed, but the repealer of the consolidation act has failed to pass either house and has been killed in the Senate committee to which it was referred. Our position now is that we may vote to join Plainfield and North Plainfield and make a consolidated city which will be situated both in Union and Somerset counties. All municipal offices will be the same but there will be two sets of county officers. Though this is not complete consolidation, it is very nearly so and it is certainly better than the present situation.

"The repealer of the county line act which has just been passed was not advertised before its introduction in the Legislature. The law plainly requires all acts which affect special localities to be advertised in the localities affected and a test case in the courts will, if made, result in the repealer law being declared illegal."

YEAR'S WORK SUMMED UP AT HOPE CHAPEL

The Annual Meeting Was Held at Hope Chapel Last Evening.

IS GROWING STEADILY

REPORTS FROM THE VARIOUS CHAPEL ORGANIZATIONS WERE RECEIVED.

Chapel Membership Has Grown Twenty-Four During Last Year—Similar Increase Reported in the Various Organizations.

Reports of a most encouraging nature from all of its numerous departments showed that Hope chapel completed another successful year, when the annual meeting was held last evening. The onward march in the cause of good work has continued unabated and more has been accomplished than by institutions twice the size. The session was very well attended.

Rev. L. R. Howard presided over the business and Edward Young acted as secretary. The reports proved to be the most interesting feature and were listened to with great interest. Pastor Howard spoke for the church and declared the membership at present to be 378, a gain of twenty-four for the year. In the same twelve months three members were lost by death and six were dismissed by request. During that period, money was collected to the amount of $582.64, of which $150 had been expended by the relief committee for its work. These facts were furnished by the treasurer, Frederick Pearce.

Secretary George E. Firstbrook, of the Sunday-school, reported the total membership to be 604 with an average attendance of 340. This is a considerable gain and is considered excellent by the workers in this department. The pupils raised $582.09, which was expended with the exception of $4.37. Another important branch of the chapel is the Young Men's Association, a report of which was rendered by President William N. Runyon. It has an active membership of eighty-five and a clear balance of $800, secured within the past four years. Through its influence many young men are brought into the chapel and interested in its spiritual side as well as the social.

For the Ladies' Aid Society, Secretary Mrs. William Gray reported forty-two members, with an average attendance at meetings of twenty-three. The society has been unusually active during the past twelve months and raised a total of $416.44. Three hundred dollars of this amount were set aside for the new kitchen fund and the remainder was expended in various ways to the chapel's interest. It has at present a balance in the treasury of $17.17.

Other reports were presented as follows: Ladies' Missionary Society, Mrs. George Radford, secretary, membership, thirty-two, receipts and expenditures, $95.89. Young People's Society Christian Endeavor, Edward Young, president, membership, thirty-five, amount raised $35. Junior Endeavor Society, Hattie Walls, secretary, Elsie Rimmer, treasurer, amount raised $16.45. Wednesday Afternoon Girls' Club, Friday Afternoon and Wednesday Evening Boys' Clubs, Young Woman's Sewing Society and the Penny Missionary Society, similar reports.

In conclusion, addresses touching on Sunday-school work were made by Superintendent H. C. Squires and Assistant Superintendent I. W. Travell. They outlined the work for the coming year and spoke words of encouragement to the officers of the societies which contribute so much to the welfare of the chapel.

DECLARES SHE WASN'T MEDIUM

Mrs. Korff, Heir by Olcott Will, Says She Didn't Think Much of Spiritualism.

BUT CAN'T EXPLAIN IT

Declares That Her Father Wouldn't Have Anything to Do With Spiritualism Last Years of His Life—Says She Never Influenced Him in Making His Will.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, April 3—The taking of testimony in the Joseph H. Olcott will case was continued yesterday (from Friday) in the Somerset County Orphans' Court here and the fact, which became whispered about town during the early morning hours, that Mrs. Josephine Korff, the daughter, would take the stand and tell of her relations with her father as far as spiritualism was concerned, attracted a large gathering at the Court House by 10 o'clock, when the "seance" opened. Many women were present, filling an entire tier of seats, and all seemed deeply interested in the proceedings.

As has been told in The Daily Press Mrs. Korff was left the bulk of her father's property and the sons, Frank N., and Sands C. Olcott, the residue. On the ground that, as they allege, she and her father were believers in spiritualism, the boys seek to break the will, claiming that she acted as her father's medium in transmitting messages and that he placed such great confidence in her that he would trust no one else to do so; therefore, they assert she unduly influenced him in the disposal of his estate through messages purporting to have been received from spirits of people long since dead. The estate is valued at $40,000.

Mrs. Korff testified to her having lived at East Millstone all her life and told of various times that her brothers had been advanced vast sums of money by their father. He had, she said, sometimes invested as high as $5,000 in their business ventures, which usually proved failures.

When the question of spiritualism was brought up Mrs. Korff smiled and said that it had been merely a source of amusement among her young friends and that her father did not place any great amount of confidence in it. She said there had been a number of things to happen which she could not explain—the writing on the slates and the raps were beyond her comprehension. Her father wondered about them but did not seem to think they were very wonderful. She alleged that her brothers and their chums were even deeper interested in spiritualitic investigations than even herself. She said she did not consider herself a medium. When they wanted to try for raps they always asked all present to join the circle to make the magnetism greater.

"Come, you are a great medium," would be said to anyone who was invited. All were as much mediums as she, she said.

When questioned about the visit to Slade's, testified to by one of her brother's, she said that she and her father did not go there; they went to another medium uptown. They had the slates with them and the witness said she took the slates out of a paper. The medium asked if they had ever investigated in that line before and they said they had not. After a little pencil had been placed in the slates Mrs. Korff said her father had held them on his shoulder. They could hear a scratching as if someone was writing. Then there were three short taps and the medium opened the slates and there was a message from the witness' uncle. Her father had said that was something he had never seen before. He said he could not explain.

"I though it remarkable," said Mrs. Korff, "but I cannot yet explain how the message was written on the slate."

Mrs. Korff denied that Dr. Hawkins had been hired to drive an elemental spirit from her father; she had never heard her parent say that he was bothered in any way by elementals; the midnight visit to the grave of John Garretson was denied; she said she did not recognize the messages read by her brother and said tc have been received when she was present.

John H. Cuthbert, for many years a resident of Plainfield, died yesterday afternoon at his home in the Melrose, 108th street and Central Park West, New York, of cancer of the stomach. He was well-known in this city.

Mr. Cuthbert was born in New York April 14, 1836, and received his education at Columbia Grammar School. He entered the oil business and in the early '60s was one of the few independent refiners in New York. He finally sold out to the Standard Oil Company and moved to Plainfield and later to Titusville, Pa. In 1883, he accepted the place of auditor of all the companies embraced in the Standard Oil Company and originated the system of accounting which that company still uses. In 1893, he gave up this position to become a director and treasurer of the Tidewater Oil Company, both of which places he held at the time of his death. He was also a director of the Associated Producers Company and of the Townsend & Downey Shipbuilding Company. Of late years Mr. Cuthbert lived at Cranford.

He was a member of the Pennsylvania Society, a thirty-second degree Mason and a veteran of the Seventh Regiment, having been a member of Company D, with which he served in the Astor place riots. He was a member of Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M., and Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.

He was married twice. His first wife, who was Miss Maggie Dunn, died in 1886. He married Miss Rose Bass, of this city, in 1891. She and one son, Frederick T. Cuthbert, survive him.

Andrew Stuart Patterson, Many Years a Resident Here, Passed Away.

END COMES SUDDENLY

WAS PROMINENT EXPERT ACCOUNTANT IN NEW YORK.

Retired From Active Business Life a Year Ago—Member of Many Societies—Dr. Richards Will Officiate at the Funeral.

Andrew Stuart Patterson died at his home, Hillcrest, Patterson, Putnam county, New York, yesterday morning. Mr. Patterson had been in failing health for several years but the end came suddenly of Bright's disease. Within half an hour after he was stricken he passed away without having experienced any pain or suffering.

Mr. Patterson was born in Logansport, Indiana, nearly fifty-eight years ago. His parents moved to New York when he was very young and except for three years spent in St. Louis, Missouri, Mr. Patterson has always lived in or near New York, the period from 1885 to 1900 being spent in this city.

Mr. Patterson was formerly business manager of the Christian Intelligence and for a number of years was in the auditing department of the Standard Oil Company. For a number of years he supervised the accounts of Tiffany & Company and many other large interests in New York. At the time of his retirement a year ago he was a senior member of the firm of Patterson, Teele & Dennis, accountants at 30 Broad street, New York. He was several times called upon to investigate the accounts of the city of Plainfield and the borough of North Plainfield.

Mr. Patterson was a member of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church and formerly a teacher in the Sunday-school. At the time of his death he was a member of the Chamber of Commerce, of New York, the Sons of the American Revolution and the Society of the Colonial Wars. He formerly belonged to the Union County Country Club, the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, the Park Golf Club, of this city and the Lawyers' Club, Uptown Association, and Colonial Clubs of New York.

Mr. Patterson was married in 1870 to Mary Hoyt Patterson and has had four children, all of whom with his wife survive him. These children are Stuart H. Patterson, who is a member of the accounting firm of Paterson, Teele & Dennis, and Edward J. Patterson, a lawyer, both of this city, and two daughters, Isabelle and Florence.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Wm. R. Richards at Mr. Patterson's late home at Patterson, New York, Saturday on the arrival of the Harlem R. R. train, leaving the Grand Central Station at 9:08 a. m., and making a special trip.

Spring Time in Washington.

Washington is a typical spring resort and its bustle is purely social and political. There are gathered in the Capital representatives of every nation and country, and their comings and goings are of no little interest. Then the doings of the Senate and House are features which every tourist delights in following, and these features together with the visits to the numerous public buildings keep one busy all the while one is in Washington. The Royal Blue Line of which the New Jersey Central is the initial road is going to operate an excursion to Washington on April 9, and cost of tickets for the three days' excursion including all expenses is $12. Train leaves New York at 1 p. m., and arrives Washington at 6:10 p. m. If you want to know about the trip drop a postal to C. M. Burt, General Passenger Agent, New York City, for tour book. A REPUBLICAN MISTAKE.

If the New Jersey Legislature had attempted any course of action that would effectually keep Somerset county in the Democratic column next fall, it could not have been done any more ably than it has. With no reason save for the unexplained desire of President of the Senate Hutchinson, the Legislature has taken away the right of the people of North Plainfield to say whether they shall remain in Somerset county or become a part of Union. The power of the majority to decide its own fate has been removed despite the earnest protests of greater city advocates and anti-annexationists alike. Able lawyers have declared that the "repealer" to the annexation law is not legal but, whatever is its future, the Legislature has put itself on record along certain lines and the majority party will have to suffer for its mistakes.

The personal animus shown by Senator Hutchinson, of Mercer, has been beneath the dignity of a man holding the presiding office of the Upper House of the Legislature. Ever since the "repealers" were introduced at his request, he has been vindictive and bitter and has refused to advance any reason for his conduct save that he was not going to be "fooled again." It is said that Mr. Hutchinson has gubernatorial aspirations. He would do well to restrain them until the present generation passes away. If he ever runs for any office which would bring him before the present voters of Plainfield and North Plainfield it is likely that he would discover what it means to deprive the people of their just rights.

If other localities were similarly treated by the Legislature, one would almost believe that the saying that "those whom the gods would destroy they first make mad," had come true in this case. No men in their sober senses can expect to see their party continued in power when they pursue such a course. From the Republican standpoint, this winter's session of the Legislature has been a dismal failure and it has lost more votes for the Republican party than it has gained. If the Democrats are quick to meet the emergency, they will have an excellent chance of carrying the State. Between the defeat of the Plainfield armory bill and the passage of the annexation "repealer," Plainfield is likely to be ripe for trouble. As for North Plainfield, Senator Hutchinson has effectually queered the Republican party there.

As far as the greater city movement is concerned, the consolidation act still remains and it will be possible to effect a consolidation of city and borough without changing the county lines. While that will not make an ideal arrangement, it will materially improve the present conditions. When we once have a single municipality, it will not be long before the general demand will compel the Legislature to change the county lines.

Will Plainfield be the gainer if a rival telephone exchange is established here? That is the question which is confronting the members of the Common Council today. Several times before has the question come up but the Central Jersey Telephone Company has shown more signs of life than all the previous applicants put together and it looks as if a strong fight would be made. While the Councilmen have not as yet committed themselves either way, the invading company will have to make the gain very plain before it will secure a franchise. If a new company comes in, it means a double demand on every merchant and business man of importance. To be up to times, they will have to have both systems and the consequent double expense. Then the city streets will have to be torn up anew. It will be up to the new company to overcome those disadvantages if it can.

The return of the Crescent Oval to athletic activities will be welcomed by those who take an interest in amateur sport. The dismantling of one of the best tracks in the State was the cause for much regret among those who loved sport for its own sake. The Alis Club seems to have a bright future before it and it is to be hoped that the oval will prosper as it never did before.

After mismanagement had impaired the business and reputation of a Boston hotel a new manager put it on a paying basis by a system of striking newspaper advertisements in just three weeks, relates the Philadelphia Record. The management was excellent, but without the advertisements, which set people talking, it would have taken years to effect the same result.

The State Legislature has completed its labors for this year. Its work has been as generally condemned by the Republican as by the Democratic papers.

alleged that she and her father had never used it alone for the purpose of spelling out messages.

She said her father did not consider the messages a serious matter. He did not take any stock in the ouija board.

A "starlight" seance was described by the witness. Some spirit materialized and tapped all of the party on the cheek, but told them not to touch her or she might go all to pieces.

Mrs. Korff alleged that after 1886 her father could not be persuaded to join them at the table or anything when they were amusing themselves. He had said he had enough of it. There was no table tipping after 1888. Frank, she said, could lay his hands flat on a table, then raise them and the table would leave the floor. That was called "table lifting." She had seen him do it. She denied emphatically that any messages to the effect that "the boys will be sick; Josephine should be taken care of," were received. She said she had never had any talk with her father about the will; did not know what it contained; not even that she was to be executrix.

In regard to the Ole Bull incident Mrs. Korff testified that while she was playing on the piano at the home of her uncle in Brooklyn the guests present and she, herself heard a vibration following the music. Someone, not she, she declared, said it was the spirit of the celebrated violinist, Ole Bull, playing an accompaniment. The witness said she did not make any noise with her mouth; she said the violin music when there was no violin in the room and no player was something she could not account for.

Continuing in this line Mrs. Korff gave her version of all the incidents related by her brothers; denied at all times her mediumship; declared that all the investigations in spiritualism as far as she had gone were merely for amusement; declared she had never in anyway influenced her father and that he took very little stock of spiritualism anyway.

Mrs. Korff was on the stand at both the morning and afternoon sessions yesterday.

When court convened at 10 o'clock this morning Counsel Steele resumed his cross-examination.

THEATRICAL.

Grace George's sensational success in "Pretty Peggy" at the Herald Square Theatre, New York, has kept that commodious place of amusement packed to the doors nightly for the past two weeks. Wednesday matinees have been inaugurated in order to dispose of a portion of the overflow and Manager William A. Brady has definitely abandoned his announced intention of reviving "Frou Frou" during the engagement. Miss George and "Pretty Peggy" were enthusiastically praised by the metropolitan critics. Miss George appears to better advantage than she did either in "Her Majesty" or in "Under Southern Skies."

Monday "A Chinese Honeymoon" begins the last three weeks of its phenomenal run at the Casino. When the big company gets aboard its special train to travel westward it will have played a solid year in one theatre, (the famous house of musical comedy hits) the Casino. More than 400 consecutive performances will have been played by the players who will work by easy stages to Chicago for an all-summer stay at the lake front. In the party will be those talented players who have been appearing with so much success at the Casino, under the direction of Messrs. Sam. S. Shubert and Nixon & Zimmerman.

DUNELLEN.

Under the auspices of the trustees, an enjoyable entertainment was given in the Methodist church, last evening, by the Dunellen Mandolin Club. The members were assisted by Miss Etta Raybert, soprano; Miss Jessie Haynes, contralto; Mrs. Charles Hazeltine, elocutionist and Mrs. James D. Anderson, cornettist. The programme was widely varied and comprised individual solos by the artists and selections of a high order of merit by the club. The proceeds are for the benefit of the church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles Hill, who was killed on the railroad at Clinton avenue, Monday, were held yesterday afternoon from his late home. The services were in charge of Rev. PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Rev. and Mrs. G. M. Shott, of "The Manse," were agreeably surprised Monday evening by an unexpected invasion made by the members of the church and congregation who called to remind the pastor and his wife that the evening was their wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Shott had noted the fact in a quiet way but had not thought for a moment of any out of the usual until the invaders made a charge upon the parsonage, which surrendered at once. The happy couple was equal to the occasion and in a few minutes the Manse was a scene of pleasure. The invaders brought their own refreshments which were enjoyed during the evening, besides bringing many gifts of a more substantial nature as a reminder of the bride and groom's ten years of wedded life.

A number of the Sunday-school workers throughout this section held their Sunday-school Union in the Baptist church yesterday. Two sessions were held. The afternoon session was devoted to the junior and primary departments of school work. Miss Baldwin, of Newark, and Mrs. Paddett, of Elizabeth, being the speakers. As both are well known workers in this line of the work their remarks were both instructive and interesting. The evening session at 7:45 was a review of the Sunday-school lesson for Sunday. Morris Furguson, secretary of the State Union, was the leader. Delegates were present from nearly all the Sunday-schools in the district.

TROLLEY'S PROFIT IS SMALL

BIG INVESTMENT AND COMPARATIVELY SMALL PROFITS.

One Fourth of Trolley Companies Are Not in Active Operation—Facts and Figures.

Interesting figures concerning the trolley roads of the State are contained in the supplemental annual report of the State Board of Assessors, which has just been issued. It is shown by these figures that with an investment of over $150,000,000 in trolley roads in this State the stockholders in the various lines by which the State is traversed, received but a little over $500,000 in dividends in the year ending December 31, 1902. The figures compiled by the State assessors show that in addition to the sums included in the $150,000,000, which amount represents the cost of the railroads, the sum of $5,091,290 79 is required in a year's operation of the road for repairs, superintendence, management and the like.

According to the report, the total number of miles of trolley tracks in the State foots up to 891,284. The issued capital stock amounts to $83,353,940 and the total of the paid-up capital stock is $80,672,931.07. The funded debts of all the corporations amount to $56,257,500, while their other debts amount to $10,776,256.85.

The exact amount of the cost of the construction of the trolley roads, including equipment and appurtenances, is $150,041,915 34. The gross receipts, expenditures and dividends that have been declared, as compared with the board's report of a year ago, show an excess of receipts over the expenditures of $130,400.56, and that the trolley companies have paid in dividends $54,000 more than during 1901. The following statement will show the material points of difference between the reports:

1901—Gross receipts, $8,137,076 28; expenditures, $4,464,513.22; dividends paid, $486,640.00.

It is shown in the report that nearly one-fourth of the trolley companies in the State are not in active operation, never having constructed the tracks proposed. They have, in fact, never made better progress than to secure a fully paid up capital stock. All but about three millions of the capital represented by these concerns have been turned into the "strong boxes" of the corporations.

Of the sixty-three chartered trolley companies in the State, there are fifteen of them which are not in operation. The majority of this number have yet to commence the construction of their tracks, the roads being merely projected, and on which work will be started some time in the future. Nearly all of the capital stock has been subscribed for in the case of these companies and paid in.

DAINTY EFFECTS.

Immense Amount of Work Required on Hats and Gowns.

Many of the new blouses show the most intricate hand work, and such garments are undoubtedly costly. On all sides dressmakers are complaining of the extra work demanded of them and of the illogical behavior of their clients who grumble at having to pay higher prices when at least two yards extra material are demanded than formerly, not to speak of at least one-third as much work again.

The same applies to millinery, for the most effective headgear is that which shows a great amount of expert hand labor. Truly this is a bad time for the amateur milliner. Every detail concerning hats must be perfect, and now that they are worn right off the face even the bandeau must be skillfully manipulated, to say nothing of the knots of ribbon resting on the hair.

Hats entirely composed of rich foliage are trimmed simply with a bow of pale colored ribbon. This idea is particularly effective when carried out in russet foliage, with a pale blue bow.

A little handkerchief sleeve of lace set on a crisscross band of velvet caught through tiny paste buckles is a fancy to be noted, and it forms a charming evening effect.

A fancy for floral decoration revives with the spring. Fuchsias, forgetmenots, clematis and silver grapes are prominent among the decorations not only of headgear, but of evening coiffure.

FOR WARMER DAYS.

Smart Toques of Tulle — Unlined Wraps of Moire.

Cape collars are charming and will take the place of stoles, which in many cases have been very unbecoming. They look most effective over blouses or on tailor made coats. In fact, they are adaptable to nearly every costume of the day and will be as much a feature of the early spring fashions as the wide, pointed belt.

A smart toque of folded plain gray net was seen recently at an afternoon tea. It was trimmed with a large gray ostrich feather paling to white and at the very farthest tip touched with black.

It was further adorned with a scarf of the new gray lace.

Unlined coats of moire will be both picturesque and useful spring garments made with the three shoulder capes and a stole effect down the front.

Homespun in pale shades is smart for spring walking suits. White serge and all white wool goods will have a greater vogue than ever this season.

CHAPTER IX.

The guests and family at Carnleigh usually came down to breakfast irregularly, but this morning by eight o'clock they were all at the table, including Evelyn. The colonel, who had been out for an early business walk with one of his overseers, was the last to sit down. And as he took his place at the head of the table he had the air of a man anxious to be questioned. He had picked up a piece of news.

"Well," he began, with twinkling eyes, "it seems that Ronald Fanshaw was not spending his breath and riding his horse to death for nothing."

"So he reached the jail all right, did he?" inquired Mr. Hardy, as he put a spoonful of whipped cream into his coffee.

"Oh, yes, he made that trip all right, but the news has just come from Wilkin Station, on the other side of the mountain, that a negro has been arrested who has already confessed to the crime of killing the old woman."

"So the boy was innocent, after all!" cried Hardy.

"Yes; the sheriff nabbed the wrong bird at the start, and if it had not been for Fanshaw his body would have been swinging at the sport of the wind this morning."

"And a widowed mother would have been without her son," put in Mrs. Lancaster, with telling effect.

"Fanshaw did only what any man would have done who believed in the prisoner's innocence," said Capt. Winkle, with an icy smile at no one in particular.

But Mrs. Lancaster was more than a match for him. "It's only what one man did do," she retorted. Thereupon Winkle stirred his coffee in moody silence.

"I am sorry it was Ronald Fanshaw who is to get all the credit," remarked Caroline Hasbrooke, coldly. "Since he has taken up the study of law it looks as if he has a pretty good idea of his importance. Things are coming to a pretty pass when such people as the Fanshaws get into the professions usually held by gentlemen."

"Don't kick against the pricks" (it was a favorite expression of her father's), "the common people have been rising into prominence since the birth of creation."

"And the better class has been degenerating," remarked Mr. Hardy, with a slow smile. "As far as I am concerned, I'd rather employ a man like Fanshaw to defend me, if I were on trial for my life, than some man with more ancestry and less individual force."

"Bravo! bien dit," applauded Mrs. Lancaster, and she rose to accompany Evelyn out on the lawn.

The dew lay as heavy as raindrops on the grass and hung like scintillating gems from the gorgeous hollyhocks, the Indian chieftains, and the roses flared like billows of red on the silvery green-sward of the sloping terraces. Mrs. Lancaster was first to break the silence.

"I need not tell you I'm glad that boy was innocent," she began. "I am especially glad because it emphasizes the nobility of Mr. Fanshaw's act. I am going to drive over to his house in the pony cart this morning. I have something to say to him."

Evelyn raised her great eyes in astonishment, but she uttered no comment.

Mrs. Lancaster's voice shook perceptibly as she went on:

"Nothing has ever affected me so powerfully as all this has. Last night the impassioned fervor of his voice while he was speaking down there brought back some of the tenderest and saddest recollections of my young married life. It reminded me of a speech in favor of secession that my husband made, just before the war broke out. There seemed to be a ring in Mr. Fanshaw's tones like my husband's. It may have been only my imagination, and the great distance, but it drove me nearly wild with the old pain. And last night in thinking of Mr. Fanshaw's danger, it seemed to be my husband who was in peril. Really, I did not sleep a wink. I went to the window a hundred times. I saw Mr. Fanshaw returning this morning, and then I drew my first easy breath. Oh, Evelyn!" (Mrs. Lancaster was gazing into the girl's eyes) "what is the matter with both of us?"

Evelyn shook her head; her rich, abundant hair glistening like threads of burnished gold in the sun.

"I know what's the matter with me," she said, with a little laugh. "I hope something else is wrong with you."

Mrs. Lancaster sighed. "When I get back from his house I may tell you what I am going for, but I shall not now—no, I shall not now."

Mrs. Lancaster had several times taken short drives in the pony cart, which was always at the disposal of the guests of Carnleigh, and so, when she ordered it out at ten o'clock, no one made any comment. As she drove up near the dilapidated domicile of the Fanshaws she began to shrink from her intentions. The place certainly presented a torn-down, forbidding aspect. In front, not twenty yards from the porch, was a decaying rail fence and a gate that sagged to the earth. The roof of the porch was low and flat, dank and moss-grown, and on it lay some pieces of ragged cast-off clothing on which two or three cats lay sleeping in the sun. The two sisters half lay, half sat on the porch, and Mrs. Fanshaw stood in the front doorway, her dull gaze on the cart and its inmate. The dogs sprang from under the horse and ran barking furiously to the gate, and Mrs. Fanshaw, thinking that the lady had stopped to ask some question about the road, as passers-by often did, shambled down the steps and out to the cart. She succeeded in driving the dogs back, and then leaned over the gate expectantly.

"I called to see Mr. Ronald Fanshaw," announced the visitor; "is he at home?"

"Yes, ma'am," answered Mrs. Fanshaw; "he was up in his room jest now. Won't you 'light an' come in?"

The room into which the aristocratic caller was ushered had a worn scrap of carpet from the door to the big, sooty fireplace. There were on the walls several warped chromos and crudely enlarged crayon portraits of Fanshaw and his wife, also photographs of every member of the family except Ronald, who had never cared to have his picture taken. Mrs. Fanshaw gave the visitor a turkey-wing fan, and brought in some fresh water. Mrs. Lancaster was sipping it from the edge of the big cracked tumbler when Ronald came down the narrow creaking stairs and entered the room.

"You may not know who I am," began Mrs. Lancaster, as he stood waiting for her to resume her chair, after she had risen and given him her hand.

"You may rest assured, madam, that everybody in this neighborhood knows you, at least by sight. The poor and needy have good cause for remembering you."

She started at the sound of his voice and stared at him for fully a minute; her eyes were expanded in surprize, and she seemed unable to reply to his compliment. She put her handkerchief to her quivering lips, and when she finally spoke it was with a visible effort at self-control.

"I hope you will pardon me," she faltered, "but your voice is so like that of a dear one who was taken from me a long time ago—my husband, who met a tragic death during the war. Last night when I heard you speaking in the distance I was reminded of him, and now—oh! it is very silly of me, but—you can't imagine how much your voice resembles his, and—" (the speaker swallowed something which seemed to stick in her throat) "then your hair, and eyes, and hands remind me of his so—so very much."

BLUEJACKETS LAND.

Fifty Americans on Guard at Santo Domingo.

SITUATION IS EXTREMELY CRITICAL

Revolutionists Refuse to Surrender the City to President Vasquez. Severe Fighting Has Already Occurred.

CAPE HAITIEN, April 3.—The situation in Santo Domingo City is very critical. The commander of the United States cruiser Atlanta, which has arrived at Santo Domingo from this port, has landed a detachment of fifty bluejackets to guard the United States consulate general in that city.

A shell fired during the night by the Dominican cruiser Presidente, which is on the side of President Vasquez, fell on the German consulate. The damage done, however, was purely material, as the projectile happily did not burst.

A battle lasting three hours took place Wednesday between the government troops and the revolutionists on the banks of the river Ozama, which flows into the Caribbean sea at Santo Domingo. A hundred men were killed or wounded.

President Vasquez demands the surrender of Santo Domingo City, but the revolutionists are disposed to resist up to the last moment.

Stone Ransom For War Material.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Spencer Eddy, secretary of the United States legation at Constantinople, has arrived in Washington on leave from his post and paid his respects to Secretary Hay and Assistant Secretary Loomis. It was in large part due to his energy that the missionary, Miss Stone, was ransomed. The money paid to the captors, it is learned, has gone toward supplying firearms and ammunition to the Macedonians who are in revolt against the Turkish government. The leading spirit of the rebels is Boris Saranoff, who at one time was accused of killing Stambuloff, the Bulgarian premier.

Yale Men at West Point.

HIGHLAND FALLS, N. Y., April 3.—Some time ago Colonel Mills, superintendent of the West Point Military academy, applied to the United States forestry commission bureau for landscape plans, having in view the improvement of the woodland on the reservation, which includes about 1,900 acres. It was arranged through the war department that a class of senior students from the department of forestry of Yale university undertake the work. Accordingly sixteen Yale graduates in order to qualify themselves for the bachelors' degree to be conferred in June have reported here.

Wabash Troubles Near Settlement.

ST. LOUIS, April 3.—Everything seems to point to the amicable adjustment within a short time of the differences existing between the Wabash and its employees. During the day attorneys for parties to the controversy held several conferences, which had for their purpose the paving of the way for a resumption of negotiations between railroad officials and brotherhood men, broken off on March 3 by the issuance of Judge Adams' writ of injunction.

King Edward at Lisbon.

LISBON, April 3.—The British royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with King Edward on board, arrived in the Tagus yesterday from Portsmouth and was saluted by the warships and forts. His majesty on landing was greeted with tremendous enthusiasm. King Edward looked in the best of health and, accompanied by the king of Portugal, walked to the reception pavilion, where the presidents of the two legislative houses and other notabilities were presented.

Miners' Unions Gaining.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 3.—The award of the strike commission has greatly strengthened the firemen's union, and new men are joining every day. According to Secretary Mullahy, the firemen are all returning to their old union, the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen. For the remainder of this month open meetings will be held every night in all towns in the Wyoming valley for those who wish to join.

Warm Welcome For Kaiser.

COPENHAGEN, April 3.—The population turned out en masse to welcome the German emperor on his arrival here. He was met by King Christian, who was accompanied by the princes of the Danish royal family. King Christian embraced the German emperor, kissing him on both cheeks.

Pennell Inquest Next Week.

BUFFALO, April 3.—Judge Murphy announces that the inquest into the death of Arthur R. Pennell will be held at the office of the medical examiner at 3 o'clock next Friday afternoon. The Pennell inquiry will be brief compared with the Burdick inquest.

Fatal Student Riots In Spain.

MADRID, April 3.—Student riots have broken out at Salamanca as an outcome of a quarrel between the students and the police. The civil guards fired several rounds, killing three students and wounding many others. The situation has become very serious.

Mrs. Miles Has Recovered.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Lieutenant General and Mrs. Miles have returned here from New England and New York. Mrs. Miles has almost entirely recovered from the heart trouble with which she was attacked at West Point a few days ago.

Weather Probabilities.

IS GARWOOD'S ONLY CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

Frank W. Morse, Who Founded the Place, is the Unanimous Choice As Borough's First Mayor.

Having established its own identity, Garwood is now preparing to select the officials who shall govern it. The county Board of Elections has set Tuesday as the day for registration and the Tuesday following as election day. There is no question now, however, as to who will be the first mayor of the little borough. In a preliminary caucus, the voters of Garwood have already expressed themselves as unanimously desiring the honor to go to Frank W. Morse, who has been identified with the place since it was first started and who has devoted much time and labor toward its advancement. As the first and only manager and part owner of the Garwood Land and Improvement Company, Mr. Morse has seen it rise from the stretch of woodland to its present thriving condition and its interests have always been his interests.

Frank W. Morse.

Every Plainfielder who goes to New York passes through Garwood. When the initial move was taken eleven years ago, a tiny station was established out in the woods to the amusement of the passersby. A larger and more commodious station has since been erected. There are now eight factories located there the chief of which are the Organ Trust, the C. and C. Electric Company and the Hall Signal Company. A hundred dwellings shelter the 500 people who reside there. Of that number 110 will be entitled to vote.

When originally laid out, Garwood was in both Westfield and Cranford townships, the dividing line passing through the middle of the main street. This division of interests made no end of trouble and has finally resulted in the establishment of a separate borough. The question of schools was a bothersome one but the Boards of Education of both Westfield and Cranford have agreed to the formation of a separate school district and the State Board of Education will undoubtedly form it.

The man who is to be chosen Garwood's first mayor is no stranger to Plainfield where he has resided on two occasions. Mr. Morse was born at Lockport, N. Y., May 14, 1845. He served in the 28th New York Volunteers, was captured and confined at Belle Isle for four months and subsequently enlisted in the navy. While in the employ of the Ocean Oil Company, of Bayonne, he resided in Plainfield for three years. He was prominent in Trinity Reformed church where he established the Christian Endeavor Society. For three years he was in Europe building and operating oil yards for H. Stursberg & Co., of New York.

In 1892, he became connected with the Garwood Land and Improvement Company, which was backed by J. Roger Maxwell, then president of the Jersey Central Railroad and George F. Baker, of the First National Bank of New York. Under his direction this enterprising community has sprung up. From 1894 to 1897, he resided in Plainfield but then moved to Garwood where he has since made his home in a spacious residence built according to his own designs. At the death of Former Sheriff George Kyte, of Fanwood, he succeeded him as agent of the Central New Jersey Land Improvement Company in the district comprising Dunellen, Plainfield and Fanwood, and has since looked after both interests. He has one brother living, Joseph E. Morse, of Franklin place, chief engineer of the Tide Water Oil Company, of Bayonne.

URGENT APPEAL.

Made by Rector Downey, of the Holy Cross Church, for Repair Fund.

Rev. W. Montgomery Downey, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, has issued a circular letter to the members of the parish asking them for loyal support in the matter of improving the church property. The idea is to redecorate the interior of the edifice, which is a positive necessity. The amount required to meet the proposed expenditure and to make the needed improvements is $850. There is already in hand a fund of $430, which has materialized through the efforts of the Woman's Guild. The rector makes a strong and urgent appeal for a large Easter offering.

In Keeping With Subject.

Miss Derby, the soprano soloist at Trinity Reformed church, will render "The Palms" at the evening service tomorrow, in line with Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck's subject, "The Royal Entry."

FOUND MISSING BOY.

Arthur Keiderling Brought Home From Philadelphia Last Night.

Arthur Keiderling, who disappeared Tuesday with George Elliot, a former employe of E. S. F. Randolph's drug store, was found last evening in Philadelphia by Roundsman McCarthy and the boy's father, Charles Keiderling. The lads were found in a cheap lodging house sound asleep.

Keiderling was brought home but his companion was left behind. Both boys were to have gone to work in a factory in Philadelphia next week.

NEW ENGINE HOUSE COMING

Borough Council Orders Committee to Execute the Contracts at Once.

IT WILL COST $11,503

A Heated Argument Preceded Vote, and Incidentally Mayor Smalley Presented Sound Logic—Those Who Have Entered Bids—Other Details.

Warren Engine Company, of the borough, is now practically assured of a new headquarters house. At the meeting of the Borough Council held last evening, the fire, water and lamps committee was authorized by a unanimous vote of the members to execute the contracts for the building at a cost of $11,503, to the lowest bidders on carpentering, masonry and ironwork, eliminating the plumbing and the electrical work and fixtures.

The fact that the total amount of the lowest bidders came to $1,503 above the appropriation of $10,000 voted by the people at a special election, raised a storm of argument which did not subside until Mayor Smalley delivered some sound arguments in its favor. The resolution was then adopted without a dissenting vote.

After the bids were opened by Clerk Rowley, it was found that the amount necessary for the building was more than the appropriation. Chairman Clark, of the fire, water and lamps committee, offered a resolution asking the Council to authorize the execution of the bids. Councilman Northrop opposed the resolution on the ground that the appropriation called for an engine house not to exceed $10,000. Councilman Clark said that inasmuch as the lot was not paid for out of the appropriation there was still $2,500 of the amount which could be used for the erection of the building. Points in the borough law were discussed by Mr. Arnold and Mr. Northrup and after a rather heated argument the resolution was put to a vote and went through.

There were a number of bidders for contracts as follows: For masonry, W. C. Smith, $6,030; Titus H. Laury, $6,977; W. N. Pangborn, $6,100; J. H. Snyder, $5,854; for carpentering, John L. Stryker, $3,913.16; George Hummer, $3,649; John Milne, $3,829; iron work, Hay Foundry Company, $1,971; Berlin Construction Company, $1,941, and W. T. Kirk, $1,841; heating and plumbing, C. W. Krausse, $965.81; Charles H. Dutcher, $956; electrical fittings and wiring, Allan B. Laing, $322.

None of the contracts were awarded as that business is in the hands of the fire, water and lamps committee.

In routine matters, a petition was received signed by several property owners asking the Council to macadamize Walnut street between Harrison avenue and Wilson avenue. The amounts they would subscribe was placed beside their names. This was referred to the street committee and it will report at the next meeting. In connection with this matter Mayor Smalley said he would like to see the committee take under consideration the question of macadamizing Duer street at its upper end, Pearl street, between Watchung avenue and Somerset street, and the widening of Greenbrook road beginning at Rockview avenue.

Treasurer George F. Brown reported that there had been spent during the past month $2,726.20 and that the receipts amounted to $5,789.86. The balance on hand March 1 was $867.52, cash on hand, April 1, amounted to $3,063.66. Claims amounting to about $1,835 were ordered paid.

Chairman Clark, of the fire, water and lamps committee, reported that $487.08 has been spent during the month. Councilman Lee, of the police committee reported that there had been 21 arrests made and $20 received from fines. Chairman Arnold of the street committee reported that $87.05 had been spent on the streets and that $25.20 had been spent for repairs and for crushed stone.

Mayor Smalley appointed Dr. A. H. Dundon borough physician for one year and Henry Johnson special marshal for one year. Both appointments were confirmed.

Thomas T. Paris, of Wilmington, Del., a representative of the International Broom Company, is in Plainfield for a short time.

WINDING UP FAMOUS OLCOTT WILL HEARING

Nothing of Sensational Nature Brought Out at Taking of Testimony Yesterday.

MRS. KORFF'S TESTIMONY

SHE COMPLETED HER STORY YESTERDAY MORNING.

Some Testimony Offered in Rebattal—Summing Up Next Friday—Large Crowd Listened to the Proceedings of Yesterday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, April 4—Testimony was taken all day yesterday in the Joseph H. Olcott will case and the interest manifested so far was apparent from the large number of spectators who eagerly listened to all the proceedings all through the long, weary day of the lawyers haggling over the questions and over the admission of letters and papers in evidence.

Mrs. Korff completed her testimony at noon. There was little new that was discussed about her relations with her father from a spiritualistic point. One incident was worthy of note. Among the gifts of Japanese goods that had been made to the Olcotts by a friend was a mirror that was called a "mystic" mirror. This had a metalic back and frame and on the back of it were markings that, when the mirror was laid on a table, face up, with the sun shining on it, or when the light was good, it would throw a picture on the ceiling in colors. This was always a mystery to those who saw it.

In rebuttal Mr. Steele, counsel for the appellants, introduced several witnesses. Mrs. Melar, of East Millstone, told that Mrs. Rogers, a spiritualist, had declared that Mrs. Korff was a wonderful medium. Mrs. Frank Olcott and John C. Staats and others gave some points in rebuttal.

The testimony is all about in now and counsel will make their argument next Friday.

INDIAN AT OKLAHOMA.

Subject of Discussion at Trinity's Mission Band.

The Young Women's Mission Band, of Trinity Reformed church, met yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the church, at which time an interesting programme, in charge of Mrs. H. S. Potter, was presented. The principal subject was "The Indian at Oklahoma," and able papers on the subject were presented by Mrs. Leonard S. Smith, Miss Abbie VanCleef, Mrs. William Olmstead and Miss Emma Line.

The Band decided to renew its pledge of $30 for the support of a Hindu girl in India and the committee on foreign missions stated that pictures are being prepared for a hospital in Arabia and contributions of pictures were asked for.

TOOK WRONG BOX.

Mistake Sent Robert Venable to Jail, But Explanation Followed.

Robers Venable, colored, who was arrested last Saturday in the borough on the complaint of Mr. Goldstein, who charged that he had taken some articles from the store, was released from the Somerset county jail last night by Judge Schenck. It appears that Venable had a box of underwear when he entered Goldstein's store Saturday night to buy a pair of shoes. After making the purchase, he picked up the wrong box, leaving his underwear. An explanation was made at Somerville yesterday and the court believed that the case was just one of simple mistake.

NEW IRON BRIDGE AT GIRAUD AVENUE

Freeholder Westphal Rushes It Through Board After a Lively Fight.

AND THE COMMITTEE HAS A REPORT READY AT SAME SESSION.

Members Object to Unusual Proceeding, But It Is Finally Carried and a Limit of $1,700 Was Placed on the Bridge.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, April 4—Plainfield is to have its much talked of Giraud avenue bridge but it has to thank its freeholder, William A. Westphal, for it. While the Board of Freeholders has heretofore been in favor of the improvement, it was the strenuous campaign of Freeholder Westphal which secured the bridge at the meeting of the board Thursday afternoon.

It was the occasion of the monthly meeting of the freeholders. Director Hubbard, who is still on the sick list, and Freeholder Cady were absent. Freeholder King acted as director. There were no communications, no resolutions, no reports, until Freeholder Westphal offered the following:

"Whereas, As the Board of Freeholders of the county of Somerset in joint session with a committee from Union county has requested Union county to co-operate with it in building an iron girder, buckle plate bridge over Greenbrook, on Giraud avenue in the city of Plainfield and North Plainfield; be it

"Resolved, That a committee of five members be appointed to look into the advisability of building such a bridge and report back to this body."

Freeholder Westphal, in support of the resolution said that two years ago Somerset county wanted to repair the present bridge. It is a narrow, old wooden structure, and Union county objected to anything but a new bridge. A year ago Somerset again requested Union to appoint a committee to consider this bridge, and the Somerset people, though then persuaded that a new bridge was needed, refused to build anything but a wooden one.

Last month Somerset again took up the question, and decided to ask Union to co-operate in building an iron bridge. Freeholder Westphal called together four other freeholders, and they met the entire Somerset board at the bridge and agreed an iron bridge was needed.

After some discussion on the motion it was adopted without a dissenting vote, and Freeholders Westphal, Robison, Adams, Woodruff and McCandless were appointed on the committee. The resolution had hardly been adopted when the committee at once presented the following report:

"Your committee appointed to look into the advisability of building a bridge over Greenbrook at Giraud avenue in the city of Plainfield in connection with the county of Somerset, would report that it has looked into the matter and would recommend that it be authorized to build a bridge, the cost to Union county not to exceed $1,700."

Freeholder Swain objected to accepting the report on the ground that such a thing was without precedent. He said that Freeholder Westphal had called the committee on his own responsibility, that although the committee had been just appointed it was incumbent on the acting director to appoint them because they were the only members who were acquainted with the situation. It was the method of procedure to which Mr. Swain objected. Mr. Swain called on the county attorney for an opinion, to which Mr. Codington replied. "It is an unusual procedure, but I do not think it is illegal."

Freeholder Farrell supported Mr. Swain in his contention, and Acting Director King was inclined to be of the same opinion. Freeholder Westphal was determined, however, and he paced up and down, back of the seats of the Republican members while the argument continued. Freeholders Brucklacher, Woodruff, Adams, Robison and Tillman supported Mr. Westphal, and their arguments finally persuaded the opposition, and the resolution was adopted unanimously. Aside from the payment of bills it was the only business transacted.

FIRE WHISTLE DIDN'T SOUND

Weak Batteries Responsible For Failure of Fire Alarm to Work Properly.

TWICE LAST EVENING

House Gongs Didn't Ring on Second Alarm, and Alarm Was Discovered Only by Accident—Neither Blaze Amounted to Much—Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Nolan Badly Burned.

Within the space of an hour, the fire department was sent scurrying out on two alarms, early last evening. The blaze in neither case amounted to anything.

The first was turned in from box No. 47 for a small fire in the yard of Frank Cullen's store on South Second street. It threatened the barn but was put out before the department arrived.

Shortly after the apparatus returned to the house, it was summoned to the home of Andrew J. Nolan, of East Front street. Mrs. Nolan had lighted a lamp with a piece of paper and, throwing the remains away, did not notice they were ignited. She was first made aware of it when flames began creeping about her clothing, her dress having caught. Her screams brought her husband to the scene and both were quite badly burned in putting out the blaze. Patrolman Meyers had also been made aware of the fire and turned in an alarm. Mr. and Mrs. Nolans burns were dressed by Dr. Pittis.

In neither case did the fire alarm system work right. When No. 47 was pulled for the first fire, the gong recorded two blows only, at the uptown houses the proper number was registered and at the West End house, the men did not know there was a call until the other apparatus went by. For the second fire, Patrolman Meyers pulled No. 12 at the corner of Front and Somerset streets, but hearing no blows from the gong, ran to the keyless box near Compton's alley. Again no blows were heard and he then went to a telephone.

Headquarters, however, had received the first alarm in a peculiar manner. Chief Doane was conversing with his wife over the telephone for the purpose of learning what number had registered on his home dial. As she looked to see, the figures changed to 12 and she at once informed the chief. Not a bell had sounded at headquarters but looking up he saw the house figures had changed, too. Not one of the men had noticed it and probably would not have but for Mrs. Doane.

Linemen were placed at work in order to locate the trouble and late last night discovered it to be weak batteries. Chief Doane ordered a general overhauling of the system and will insist on its being carefully examined at more frequent intervals. For the purpose of learning if any other trouble exists, boxes Nos. 12, 13 and 25 will be pulled for a test, Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

HERR THEODORE HOCH.

Played a Cornet Solo in a Baloon at Exposition, Berlin.

Herr Theodore Hoch, cornet virtuoso with the Mozart Symphony Club, of New York, who appears at the Casino, Tuesday night, had a novel experience a few years ago, which was well described by the New York Staats Zeitung, as follows:

"Theodore Hoch has just returned from Berlin where he had been engaged at the Exposition. Besides he gave other concerts in his native city, and everywhere he met with the warmest reception. The last day he went up 6,000 feet in a balloon playing a cornet solo, starting with the 'Star Spangled Banner,' 'Dixie Land,' etc. While decending he played the German National Airs, but when he reached the ground he again played 'Home, Sweet Home.' The applause which greeted him was deafening, people from far and near having gathered to hear him." Herr Hoch will also be heard in Roman trumpet and alpine horn solos. Reserved seats for the concert are on sale at Armstrong's. Popular prices. See advertisement.

In the face of the Holy Week dulness, Mr. Proctor, with commendable energy and surprising courage, is going to produce at his Fifth Avenue Theatre Monday night a new comedy by a well-known American author. It is Sydney Rosenfeld's three-act eccentric play, "A Modern Crusoe," originally acted at the Boston Museum a few seasons ago, and lately in Chicago, in both cities with considerable success. Lovers of vaudeville will find at Proctor's Twenty-third Street next week an array of talent which cannot fail to please. The comedy sketches, good story and son monologuists, animal acts, bicycle and acrobatic turns are carefully arranged to give a jest to the programme. Eugene O'Rourke and company, in a brilliant comic playlet, entitled "Parlor A," will be the stellar feature. Next week's offering at Proctor's 125th street will be a dramatization by Miss Marie M. Stone of the famous novel, "A Social Highwayman." Proctor's Theatre over in Newark will have a strong bill headed by George Neville and company, old Newark favorites; Sisson and Wallace, O. M. Sato, Hodges and Launchmere, A. O. Duncan, Farnum and Nelson and many other strong specialties. The popular prices and big entertainments offered the patrons of this house make it the most fashionable theatre in New Jersey.

COUNTY JAILS IN JERSEY

THE PHILADELPHIA PRESS CONDEMNS THEIR PRESENT METHODS.

Declares That Arrangements Fitted for Rural Conditions No Longer Suit State.

New Jersey during the past thirty or forty years has been changing from a rural State, between two cities, into a State which, over much of its area, is today a continuous city or village. This change has come gradually, often without the creation of any new civic administration. It has left in county government laws and conditions which worked reasonably well under rural conditions, but remain unchanged when the population has become much more than one-half urban. Today only 30 per cent. of the population of New Jersey is living in country districts, pure and simple, and the other 70 per cent. is living in villages and cities from 2,500 upward. When existing legislation in regard to county administration was originally passed these conditions were much more than reversed.

Sheriffs who were allowed a fixed sum for the food of prisoners in jail, with the small number of prisoners furnished by a rural county, were little likely to abuse the arrangement by making a profit out of it, though the principle was wrong and abuse was always liable. But as population increases, as the number of prisoners come from a larger extent of population, and as less and less supervision exists, where a population once rural has become urban or semi-urban, the opportunities for profit, for abuse and for the feeding and treatment of prisoners solely for the sake of getting a revenue from the jail steadily increase.

The system was never a good one. It has often led to captious legislation by freeholders or other authorities, as when, six years ago, the Vineland Borough Council reduced the allowance for the town's criminals to 5 cents a meal. Any arrangement which attempts to handle the expense of supporting criminals in this way, whether it is done by a borough council or by freeholders, is a bad plan. It is sure to lead to abuse. It is itself only part of the wider abuse which renders the county jails in New Jersey at many points mere nurseries of crime.

But this particular abuse it is possible to change by the measures now before the Senate and House in Trenton, whose purpose is to substitute salaries and fees for county offices. Today it is to the interest of sheriffs to keep their jails full, to underfeed the prisoners, to leave them in the dirty neglect which led the New Jersey State Charities Association to say of the Mt. Holly jail seven years ago it was "a relic of the dark ages." The measure now before the Legislature proposes that the freeholders in each county shall pay the actual cost of victualing the prisoners and witnesses confined in the jails, the sheriff giving an itemized account.

If this is once done the sheriffs are relieved from the temptation which now exists of making from $800 to $12,000 apiece out of their helpless charges and a gradual amelioration in the condition of the jails will take place. Pretty much any sheriff will do the right thing if he is relieved from the temptation of personal profit. Pretty much any man will do the wrong thing if it is legally made to his personal profit to do so.—Philadelphia Press.

President Visits State Capitol and Soldiers' Home.

SPEAKS ON TRUSTS AT MILWAUKEE

Banquet In Roosevelt's Honor by Merchants and Manufacturers' Association Closed Day of Chill Air, but Warm Welcomes.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 4.—President Roosevelt was the guest of the Milwaukee Merchants and Manufacturers' association at a banquet at the Plankinton House last night, the occasion being the climax of the president's ten hour visit to Milwaukee. Covers were laid for 530 banqueters. A corps of skillful decorators had worked out a complete transformation of the banquet room, which was fairly canopied with Alabama smilax, which, spreading from twelve chandeliers, radiated in graceful arches to all parts of the room. Lines of asparagus vines trailed from chandelier to chandelier, supporting at regular intervals fern balls covered with American Beauty roses, carnations and other beautiful blossoms. A thousand electric lights lent beauty to the room.

The president sat in the center of a long table with other guests of honor. At his immediate right sat United States Senator Quarles, while E. A. Wadhams, president of the Milwaukee Merchants and Manufacturers' association and toastmaster of the occasion, was seated at his left. Extending in opposite directions from the president's table were twelve other tables, at which the members of the association and their friends were seated. After the banquet had been served Toastmaster Wadhams introduced President Roosevelt, who responded to the toast, "The President of the United States." The president took occasion to give his views on the subject of trusts. Among other things he said:

I think I speak for the great majority of the American people when I say that we are not in the least against wealth as such, whether individual or corporate; that we merely desire to see any abuse of corporate or combined wealth corrected and remedied; that we do not desire the abolition or destruction of big corporations, but, on the contrary, recognize them as being in many cases efficient economic instruments, the results of an inevitable process of economic evolution, and only desire to see them regulated and controlled so far as may be necessary to subserve the public good. We should be false to the historic principles of our government if we discriminated either by legislation or administration either for or against a man because of either his wealth or his poverty. There is no proper place in our society either for the rich man who uses the power conferred by his riches to enable him to oppress and wrong his neighbors, nor yet for the demagogic agitator who, instead of attacking abuses as all abuses should be attacked wherever found, attacks property, attacks prosperity, attacks men of wealth, as such, whether they be good or bad, attacks corporations whether they do well or ill and seeks in a spirit of ignorant rancor to overthrow the very foundations upon which rest our national well being.

In consequence of the extraordinary industrial changes of the last half century and notably of the last two or three decades, changes due mainly to the rapidity and complexity of our industrial growth, we are confronted with problems which in their present shape were unknown to our forefathers. Our great prosperity, with its accompanying concentration of population and of wealth, its extreme specialization of faculties and its development of giant industrial leaders, has brought much good and some evil, and it as foolish to ignore the good as willfully to blind ourselves to the evil.

The evil has been partly the inevitable accompaniment of the social changes, and where this is the case it can be cured neither by law nor by the administration of the law, the only remedy lying in the slow change of character and of economic environment. But for a portion of the evil at least we think that remedies can be found. We know well the danger of false remedies, and we are against all violent, radical and unwise change. But we believe that by proceeding slowly, yet resolutely, with good sense and moderation and also with a firm determination not to be swerved from our course either by foolish clamor or by any base or sinister influence we can accomplish much for the betterment of conditions.

Quoting a former address, he said:

There is but the scantiest justification for most of the outcry against the men of wealth as such, and it ought to be unnecessary to state that any appeal which directly or indirectly leads to suspicion and hatred among ourselves, which tends to limit opportunity and therefore to shut the door of success against poor men of talent and finally which entails the possibility of lawlessness and violence, is an attack upon the fundamental properties of American citizenship. Our interests are at bottom common. In the long run we go up or go down together. In my message to congress for 1901 I said:

"In the interest of the whole people the nation should without interfering with the power of the states in the matter itself also assume power of supervision and regulation over all corporations doing an interstate business."

The views thus expressed have now received effect by the wise, conservative and yet farreaching legislation enacted by congress at its last session.

The enactment of this law is one of the most significant contributions which have been made in our time toward the proper solution of the problem of the relations to the people of the great corporations and corporate combinations.

But much though this is it is only a part of what has been done in the effort to ascertain and correct improper trust or monopolistic practices. Some eighteen months ago the industrial commission, an able and nonpartisan body, reported to congress the result of their investigation of trusts and industrial combinations. One of the most important of their conclusions was that discriminations in freight rates and facilities were granted favored shippers by the railroads and that these discriminations clearly tended toward the control of production and prices in many fields of business by large combinations.

That this conclusion was justifiable was shown by the disclosures in the investigation of railroad methods pursued in the fall and winter of 1901-2. It was then shown that certain trunk lines had entered into unlawful agreements as to the transportation of food products from the west to the Atlantic seaboard, giving a few favored shippers rates much below the tariff charges imposed upon the smaller dealers and the general public.

These unjust practices had prevailed to such an extent and for so long a time that many of the smaller shippers had been drives out of business until practically one buyer of grain on each railway system had been able by his illegal advantages to secure a monopoly on the line with which his secret compact was made, this monopoly enabling him to fix the price to both producer and consumer.

Many of the great packing house concerns were shown to be in combination with each other and with most of the great railway lines, whereby they enjoyed large secret concessions in rates and thus obtained a practical monopoly of the fresh and cured meat industry of the country.

These fusions, though violative of the statute, had prevailed unchecked for so many years that they had become intrenched in and interwoven with the commercial life of certain large distributing localities.

Under those circumstances it was a serious problem to determine the wise course to follow in vitalizing a law which had in part become obsolete or proved incapable of enforcement. Congress having had its attention drawn to the matter, enacted a most important antirebate law, which greatly strengthens the interstate commerce law. This new law prohibits under adequate penalties the giving and as well the demanding or receiving of such preferences and provides the preventive remedy of injunction. The vigorous administration of this law, and it will be enforced, will, it is hoped, afford a substantial remedy for certain trust evils which have attracted public attention and have created public unrest.

The president then rehearsed at considerable length the way in which the law had been administered by "the profound jurist and fearless public servant who now occupies the position of attorney general, Mr. Knox." In conclusion the president said:

The law is not to be administered in the interest of the poor man as such, nor yet in the interest of the rich man as such, but in the interest of the lawabiding man, rich or poor. We are no more against organizations of capital than against organizations of labor. We welcome both, demanding only that each shall do right and shall remember its duty to the republic. Such a course we consider not merely a benefit to the poor man, but a benefit to the rich man. We do no man an injustice when we require him to obey the law. On the contrary, if he is a man whose safety and well being depend in a peculiar degree upon the existence of the spirit of law and order we are rendering him the greatest service when we require him to be himself an exemplar of that spirit.

TRIP TO SOLDIERS' HOME.

President Roosevelt's special train reached Milwaukee over the Chicago and Northwestern at 2 p. m. The chief executive of the nation met a hearty reception as he stepped from his car. The weather was quite chilly, and a keen wind was blowing. The president donned his great fur overcoat for the first time on his trip as he reached Milwaukee.

A reception committee headed by Mayor David S. Rose received the distinguished guest and his party, who were immediately assigned to carriages and taken to the National Soldiers' home. The president had as a special escort Troop A, Wisconsin national guard. The drive to the Soldiers' home was over a ten mile route and took in many of the prominent streets, and many thousands of citizens turned out to bid the president welcome.

Arriving at the Soldiers' home, the 2,000 veterans were reviewed by the president, who afterward addressed them.

After leaving the Soldiers' home the procession of carriages returned to the city, coming to a stop at the exposition building, where the president was formally welcomed by Mayor Rose. Ten thousand people had crowded into the building to await the president's arrival. The programme here included several musical numbers by a chorus of 600 singers from the various musical societies of the city.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies at the exposition building the presidential party was taken to the Deutscher club, where a reception was tendered. In responding to a toast proposed by President Kletzch of the club the president said he would endeavor during his administration to preserve peace at home and abroad. He was then taken to the Milwaukee Press club, where half an hour was spent.

EARLY VISIT TO MADISON.

The presidential party reached Madison at 4 o'clock in the morning, but it was 9 o'clock before Governor La Follette and Mayor Groves, at the head of members of the legislature, were received.

The president was escorted to the capitol through cheering crowds by a military guard, including the University of Wisconsin regiment. In the assembly chamber he addressed the two houses in joint session and 700 specially invited guests. Immediately afterward he spoke from a platform to a much larger audience, which it had been impossible to accommodate inside. Then he was escorted to the executive mansion, where he received state officers and members of the legislature.

President Roosevelt arrived at Waukesha at 12:50 p. m. On the arrival of the president's train the great throng assembled gave vent to its feelings by hearty cheers. The president and his party were received by a delegation of citizens headed by Mayor George Harding. The mayor introduced the president, who spoke of the varied interests in Wisconsin. He said the state had produced much, but the best things it had produced were decent men and women, and they were what count.

PATTON PAINT CO.,
Gentlemen:

I have always been insulted
By the Man who's in the Sun;
He has always been most forward
Since our cycle was begun;
And the latest of his doings
That has made me grow quite faint,
Is the shine of his Corona
Since he used your Sun-Proof Paint.

Now, the Sun attracts attention
(From the planets) more than I;
So I asked what caused his brightness
And he made this curt reply:
"I use "Patton's Paints" to paint with
For they do not quickly fade.
You should know they wear the longest
Of many hundreds that are made."

I am writing you this letter
To obtain the agency;
So, whene'er the Sun needs painting
He will have to come to me.
There is one more thing I'm wanting
To help hold him in restraint—
Forty gallons (silver color)
Of your Patton's Sun-Proof Paint.

Yours truly,
The Man in the Moon.

DUFF'S REFINED MOLASSES

"Gingerbread" boys and girls, in thousands of homes, are made sweeter, healthier, and happier by DUFF'S REFINED. All cooking of which it forms a part, is more wholesome, finer flavored, surer to please, than when other molasses is used. There's a richness and sweetness in DUFF'S REFINED, that ordinary molasses never possesses. And its baking qualities speedily show, in the light loaf of gingerbread, or in the crisp snaps or tender cookies. The plain top or screw cap, full weight cans, in which it is sold by grocers, keep it as it is made—the purest, cleanest, sweetest molasses that can be bought. Booklet of choice recipes, free, on request.

THE TAX BUDGET.

The tax budget will be presented to the Common Council at the meeting Monday night and then we will come very close to knowing what the prospects are for an advanced tax rate. The assessors have not started work yet so that taxable valuation is still an unknown quality. A fair increase can be counted on, however, in both First and Fourth wards so that, if the increase in the budget is not very large, there ought not to be any raise in the tax rate. Most of the councilmen are confident that there will not be although it has been said by some who were well acquainted with city affairs that the increased appropriations was bound to put up the tax rate.

It is customary to have the tax budget ready for the April meeting of the Council. Each department presents the amount it desires. The finance committee shaves some down and prepares the budget for the Council. Then the Council decides whether its paring abilities have to be brought into requisition. If the asked-for appropriations are very high, one can expect that the Council will do some reducing in preference to allowing the tax rate to jump up very high.

Last year, the tax rate managed to remain at 2.50 despite improvements and larger appropriations in a number of the city departments. That the public at large was well pleased may be judged from the fact that the present administration was roundly endorsed at the polls. If the Council can maintain the tax rate where it is, we can expect a similar result at the fall election unless the Council happens to make some bad mistakes before that time. What effect a higher tax rate would have is hard to determine.

ON BIRD LIFE.

Frank M. Chapman, of Museum of Natural History, Gave Interesting Lecture on Birds.

Frank M. Chapman, assistant curator at the Museum of National History, New York, gave an illustrated lecture of unusual interest in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church, yesterday, for the benefit of the New Jersey Audubon Society. Mr. Chapman's lecture pictured the home life of birds and treated of bird life study. The pictures were colored and comprise a rare collection. They showed the various kinds of birds, their nests, homes and by way of explanation Mr. Chapman explained the method of feeding birds and he told about bird's eggs.

Mr. Chapman also showed pictures of "Pelican Island," Florida, which has been acquired by the Government and is maintained for the study of bird life. There were a great many young people present and all were delighted with what Mr. Chapman had to say, as well as the pictures shown.

EDUCATIONAL UNITY

Regents and State Department May Yet Be at Peace.

NEW BILLS INTRODUCED AT ALBANY

Public Instruction Department to Be Retained—Life Tenure of Regents to Be Abolished—A Fourteen Year Term Instead.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 4.—Unification of the educational departments of the state seems assured along the lines of the companion bills introduced in the senate by Senator Stevens and containing suggestions made at a hearing by Regent St. Clair McKelway and Assemblyman Landon of Dutchess county, chairman of the public education committee of the senate.

The bill presented by Senator Stevens contains a number of concessions to Superintendent Skinner, principal among which is the provision that the department of public instruction shall remain intact, but shall be a department of the university.

Speaking for his bill, Senator Stevens said: "It seems to me that these last unification bills meet with all objections. First, the department of public instruction is retained; second, the life tenure of regents is abolished, the present regents remaining in office; third, unification will be assured, and the annoying double inspections and examinations will be done away with."

Senator E. R. Brown said: "Things look brighter for unification than ever before. Mr. McKelway's suggestions are in line with my bill, and I am attempting to make concessions for the accomplishment of unification."

The first of the Stevens bills amends section 4 of chapter 378 of the laws of 1892, known as the university law. It eliminates the provision that there shall be nineteen regents and provides that its corporate powers shall be exercised by its elective regents and by the governor, lieutenant governor and secretary of state, who shall be ex officio regents. The provision that the superintendent of public instruction shall be an ex officio regent, as at present, is stricken out.

Elective regents hereafter shall be elected for a term of fourteen years, and no person shall be at the same time a regent and an officer of any institution belonging to the university.

The second Stevens bill, amending section 2 of chapter 556 of the laws of 1894, continues the office of superintendent of public instruction and provides that he shall be elected and hold office during the pleasure and under the control of the regents. The department of public instruction shall be a department of the university. It also provides that the superintendent may be removed and a successor elected at the pleasure of the regents.

Mine Explosion Injured No One.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 4.—An explosion of gas occurred yesterday afternoon in No. 5 mine of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company, situated in the southern part of this city. As soon as the report was sent out the greatest excitement prevailed from the fact that this mine is one of the most gaseous in the Wyoming valley. There were rumors that fifty men were entombed by the caves and wreckage that had occurred, and in less than a half hour an immense crowd gathered about the head of the shaft, and the usual scenes ensued about the colliery. Officials nearby who had heard of the explosion hurried to the spot and at once began to muster all the volunteers they could obtain. Later on they went to the assistance of the men who were in the mine at work at the time the explosion occurred. The rescuing parties found them all within a half hour, and none was buried or in any way injured.

King Edward In Lisbon.

LISBON, April 4.—King Edward and King Carlos, accompanied by their suits and with an escort of cavalry, yesterday visited Cintra, the summer residence of the queen dowager, and other points of interest in the neighborhood of the capital, returning here in the evening. Their majesties were greeted with enthusiastic demonstrations at various points along the day's route. A reception was given at night in honor of King Edward to the members of the diplomatic corps, members of parliament and many social notabilities. The reception was followed by a magnificent pyrotechnic display.

Soft Coal Men on Strike.

ALTOONA, Pa., April 4.—What promises to be one of the most bitterly contested strikes ever known in the central Pennsylvania bituminous coal region has been inaugurated at the mines of the Lehigh Valley Coal company at Snowshoe, Pa. The officials of District No. 2, United Mine Workers of America, say that the coal company is forcing the fight to destroy the union.

Starving in China.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Robert McWade, United States consul at Canton, China, has cabled the state department that the famine was increasing in Kwangsi province. He says that starving parents are killing their children, and he makes an appeal for charitable help to the people of the United States. The state department will forward contributions to Mr. McWade.

Two Deaths From Fever at Ithaca.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 4.—Two additional deaths from typhoid fever have occurred in this city, those of Mrs. E. Schuyler Stoddard and the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hausner. Two new cases have also been reported. The local board of health has ordered two tenement houses to be vacated on account of unsanitary conditions.

SPRING FASHIONS.

Hats Worn Off the Face In Paris. Flower Toques Popular.

Parisians are wearing their hats slightly tilted off the forehead, showing waved tresses. They are also dressing the hair on the top of the head.

Flower toques are always in demand for the spring season, the favorite flowers being shaded hyacinths, forgetmenots, roses, lilacs, mimosa, etc.

THEATER BLOUSE.

These are mostly mixed with tulle and chenille, and a great deal of nutmeg straw is being used.

The useful toques are mostly made in chip, though a coarse straw in a black and white biscuit mixture is a favorite combination.

Dead white straws are much used. Turbans are still worn tilted forward, and these are the most suitable to wear with tailor made frocks.

The tulle toque has entirely given way to light looking straws, which are certainly more practical, though nothing is prettier for restaurant dining than the white chiffon Monte Carlo toque draped with black chantilly lace and adorned with jet.

The cut shows a theater blouse.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

WHAT IS WORN.

Sashes Coming In Again—Voiles Most Popular Fabrics.

The belt is playing a very important part in the up to date gown. Sashes are again coming in in the form of long ends attached to a wide pointed waistband. The effect is quite in keeping with the new gauged skirts so peculiarly becoming to tall, slight figures. The mode of the moment is much more becoming than the severely plain skirt, which showed up only too plainly every defect both of the wearer and the maker.

VISITING GOWN OF WOOL CREPE.

Voile or eolienne is a fabric which is very smart. The best voiles are those of a silky texture which fall very softly. There is not a great deal of difference between these and crepe de chine, but the former come a little cheaper.

Spots, from the smallest to the largest, are to be tremendously popular. Foulard is admirable in all spotted designs. There is something very chic, too, about a brightly spotted muslin.

The illustration shows a wool crape visiting gown.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Legally Qualified.

An old but sprightly patriarch stepped up to vote.

"How long have you resided in this precinct?" asked one of the judges of the election.

"Let me see," said the old man, musingly. "I moved here the next year after Lamech was born. Seven from nine leaves two. Eight from sixteen is eight. One to carry. Two from nine is seven. Something over 780 years, gentlemen. I am old enough to vote, too—if anybody should ask."

Whereupon, there being no objection, Methuselah—for it was he—was allowed to deposit his ballot.—Chicago Tribune.

[Copyright, 1900, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.]

Ronald had flushed red, and seemed at a loss how to proceed.

"I am sorry," he said, finally, "if any features of mine bring up sad recollections."

"I am a silly goose," the visitor said, with a little laugh, which was not quite her own. "I hope you received the note I wrote you yesterday?"

Ronald bowed. "It was the one thing which sustained me—made me work on to the end. I almost lost hope yesterday afternoon. There was not a man on my side, even the sheriff was afraid to open his mouth. A dozen men had threatened to kill me."

His auditor was bending towards him, feasting on his features with wide-open eyes and hands tightly clasped in her lap.

"I was almost sorry I advised you to try to save him, Mr. Fanshaw, when the climax was reached and I realized your own peril; but now that you have triumphed I am glad I wrote you—on, so glad! For your work last night has shown me what a noble man you are, and—"

"I think," he said, seeing that she was not going to proceed, "that the usual haste in such matters is not due to the evil natures of these people, but to a certain inability to believe in the innocence of a man accused as this one was."

"It is certainly good of you to defend them as you do," said the old lady, her eyes still bent eagerly, searchingly on his face. "You have heard perhaps of the capture and confession of the real criminal?"

He told her he had just received the news.

"Then," she went on, "the boy will be released, will he not?"

"Oh, at once, of course!"

"Do you intend to see him before he leaves?"

Ronald told her he was going to ride to town and persuade the prisoner to finish his journey by rail.

"Ah, I am so glad, for that is what I came to see you about. I have brought him a little gift; I understand his mother is old and needy. I hope it will not trouble you to deliver it to him."

"I shall do it with a great deal of pleasure," he told her.

As she gave him the roll of bills which she took from her purse her eyes steadied themselves on his face.

"There is another thing, Mr. Fanshaw," she faltered. "I hope you will forgive me if I am presuming, but since I have heard how hard you are struggling to fit yourself for your chosen profession I have been ashamed of myself for the idle, aimless life I am leading. I have far more money than I can use, even if I were young, and you see I am getting old. If you would only allow me to instruct my banker to—"

He understood what she intended to say and the flush which had died out of his handsome face returned.

"It is most kind of you," he interrupted, "and under some circumstances I might be glad to avail myself of your benevolence, but in my struggles I have found out that all the toil, all the saving, all the deprivations have really been best for me. Besides the worst has passed. I find myself pretty sure of admittance to the bar, and I have really saved up enough to defray my simple expenses for a year or so until I can get started."

Mrs. Lancaster looked crestfallen, but she did not press her point.

"Then I can only hope and pray that all success may come your way, and perfect happiness" (she suddenly thought of Evelyn and sighed).

He seemed to be reading her thoughts, for he started and a grave expression took hold of his features. The color ran out of his face.

"I have made up my mind," he said, simply, "that I am never to have ideal happiness—the sort of happiness that comes to some fortunate people and never to others."

She was sure that he was alluding pointedly to Evelyn, and she felt a sharp tug at her heart-strings. Her eyes seemed to melt on his face; he was so like her dead husband, the sound of his voice was sweeter than a lost chord from some heavenly choir. She stood up and, offering her hand, she pressed his fingers tightly.

"If I had my way you should have all your desires," she said, with a little catch in her voice; "all, every one of them, including the love of the truest, purest girl that ever lived."

Then she saw his strength give way; she felt his hand quiver and grow limp in her clasp; his face was working under tense emotion.

"I do not allow myself to think of that," he said, with sudden firmness. "That has been only a dream of mine, a hopeless, vain dream, sent to teach me how grimly real life is."

Tears sprang into Mrs. Lancaster's eyes and she choked up.

"You must not lose hope," she almost sobbed, as she wrung his hand and then quickly released it.

He laughed bitterly. "I never called it hope at any time," he said. "She has only been my dream."

She had reached the door and was looking out into the yard where old Fanshaw, in his untied brogans, hickory shirt and jeans pants, was oiling the axles of a wagon under an apple tree. She overheard the low voices of his two daughters on the porch and Mrs. Fanshaw's heavy tread in the adjoining sitting-room.

"Remember," said Mrs. Lancaster, "that you have a true friend over there."

"Thank you," he replied as she passed out. He escorted her, hat in hand, to the cart and assisted her to her seat. Then, with a twitching lip, he stood watching the cart as it rolled away.

Evelyn was in the garden gathering flowers for the dining-table when her friend returned. She held her arms full of them when the old lady alighted and came down the walk to her. Evelyn studied her face in astonishment.

"Why, dear Mrs. Lancaster!" she exclaimed, "you have been crying."

The old woman wiped her red eyes and began to shed fresh tears.

"He is so like my husband," she said, huskily. "So noble; such a grand character."

Evelyn's face lighted up. "I have always known that, Mrs. Lancaster. Now you must tell me all that took place—mind, every word that you said and every word he said." Evelyn drew her down on a rustic seat; her whole body seemed ready to listen. Mrs. Lancaster told her of her offer to aid Ronald and Evelyn broke out, impulsively:

"And he refused to accept it! I could have told you that."

"Yes, he refused," and Mrs. Lancaster gave his reasons in detail. Evelyn raised a bunch of pink roses to her face; they were the color of her cheeks.

"Nothing," she said, with conviction, "nothing under high heaven can keep a man down with such a God-given purpose as that."

For a moment the two friends were silent, then Mrs. Lancaster caught Evelyn's hand and pressed it tenderly.

"I made a little discovery this morning," she said.

Evelyn caught her eye and smiled, still knowingly.

"You have discovered that he loves me; I knew that a long time ago, and it has made me unspeakably happy."

"I discovered further," pursued Mrs. Lancaster, "that he does not hope ever to win you." Mrs. Lancaster's lips twitched a little. "It is that which pains me so much. He looked so grand when he made that admission. I almost cried in his presence."

"He does not hope?" said Evelyn, and then she caught her breath, lowered her head and began to gather up her flowers. "He does not hope?" she repeated the words as if to herself, and Mrs. Lancaster rose and followed her up the walk to the house, and as the girl, with bowed head and rigid mien, passed into the grand hall Mrs. Lancaster began to think that Evelyn herself had never really hoped.

Seeing that no one was in the hall, Evelyn wheeled round suddenly.

"I have never once thought that I—that my love would be essential to his well-being—his happiness," she said, looking up into the expectant face of her friend. "But, Mrs. Lancaster, if he should really need me, it would be my duty, before God, to be by his side—it would be my duty in spite of my father's wishes, in spite of everything on earth."

An anxious look lay in the face of the widow as she answered:

"I think he has thought the matter over and decided that the idea of marriage is out of the question. It was that which seemed so sad; poor fellow! he spoke of you as his dream."

"His dream!" Every muscle in Evelyn's face moved; her eyes filled to the brim; it looked as if she wanted to say something else, but was prevented by an overwhelming commotion within herself. She turned suddenly and went into the dining-room.

RISING IN BULGARIA

Turkish Troops Are Attacked With Heavy Loss.

THIRTY VILLAGES IN OPEN REVOLT

Three Thousand Men Led by the Bishop in the Okhrida District Are In Arms—Another Dynamite Outrage.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 4.—Official advices from Monastir say that the Bulgarian inhabitants of thirty villages in the Okhrida district, totaling 3,000 men and supported by the bishop and a number of revolutionary bands, have risen against the Turks. They surrounded a small detachment of Turkish troops in the mountains northward of Okhrida, but the troops succeeded in cutting their way out after sustaining considerable loss. One report is that 1,000 men were killed or wounded.

Another dynamite outrage at the town of Mustapha Pasha has led to the discovery that the revolutionary committee is supposed to be responsible for the attempt to wreck the oriental express early in the morning of March 31, when the bridge of the Turkish Oriental railroad between Adrianople and Mustapha Pasha was blown up by an infernal machine.

Although affairs at Mitrovitza are reported to be calmer, the rising of the Albanians in those districts creates intense concern at the palace, among the ministers and at the embassies.

It is felt that a continuation of the troubles in the vicinity of Novi Bazar is liable to lead at any moment to an extension of Austrian occupation over the entire district and as far as Mitrovitza, although it is believed that nothing short of absolute necessity will induce Austria to take advantage of this right, which is reserved to her by the treaty of Berlin.

New Chinese Minister Arrives.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Sir Chen Tung Liang Cheng, the new Chinese minister to the United States, who, with his entire suit and party, including in all about forty-five persons, arrived in San Francisco last week, has reached Washington. The minister's suit differs from that China sends to any other country, as many of the members are scions of distinguished families who come to the United States to acquire a thorough mastery of the English language and to enter American institutions of learning. The minister and suit went at once to the legation. The new minister is a graduate of a college in New England and was interpreter of the Chinese legation here from 1886 to 1889.

Baron Von Sternburg In Hartford.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 4.—Baron Speck von Sternburg, the envoy of Germany to this country, was the guest of honor last evening at the annual banquet of the Hartford Yacht club at the Allyn House, and the distinguished visitor was accorded a royal greeting. He responded to the toast, "The German Nation and Its Emperor, the Noblest Yachtsman of the World," and his remarks, particularly those relating to the aquatic proclivities of the emperor, won enthusiastic plauditory recognition. Governor Chamberlain and other state officers were in attendance, and they complimented the envoy, eulogized his country and joined with the company in drinking a toast to the kaiser.

No Maple Sugar Weather.

HOOSICK FALLS, N. Y., April 4.—Reports from maple sugar groves in this vicinity show that the yield will not exceed one-third of the average crop. At this time last year growers had their men breaking roads into the woods through snowbanks from three to fifteen feet deep. At present there is hardly any snow on the roads, and there have been no "sugar snows" to give encouragement to producers. Many are not making any maple sugar at all, claiming that on account of the warm temperature the trees were budding before it was really time to tap for sap.

Would Reject Canal Treaty.

COLON, Colombia, April 4.—Alejandro Orellac, one of the ministerial congressmen for the isthmus, announces that he is opposed to the acceptance of the Hay-Herran Panama canal convention on the ground that it is better to suffer poverty than indignity. He says that Colombia should do her utmost to facilitate the opening of the canal for the benefit of the world, but patriotism rejects the sale of a single foot of the soil of the isthmus and scorns to allow a foreign government to exercise its jurisdiction over territory received as a free legacy from her forefathers.

Five Bargemen Killed by Explosion.

NEW LONDON, Conn., April 4.—Five men lost their lives here on board the barge Fitzpatrick, which was blown up as the result of an accident to her boiler while she was being towed by the tug Sweepstake. The Sweepstake, which arrived here in the afternoon, reported that the barge's boiler blew up and that she sank immediately with all on board.

Emperor William In Copenhagen.

COPENHAGEN, April 4.—The German emperor yesterday made a visit to the Museum of Northern Antiquities and in the evening dined with King Christian. Emperor William afterward attended a party given at the residence of the crown prince of Denmark, at which 400 guests, including the high state and city officials, were present.

Finns Going to South Africa.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, April 4.—It is reported that applications have been received for immigration permits for 30,000 Finns.

SAVED FROM CHEWING.

Police Arrived in Time to Prevent Serious Results.

A mix-up between Addie Richardson and Mary Burton, sisters, and their husbands, John Richardson and John Burton, in the row on Arlington avenue near Third street, last night, led to the arrest of all four by Patrolmen McCarthy and Lunger. The policemen arrived just in time to prevent Richardson and Burton from chewing each other to pieces.

Evidence given in the city court, this morning, showed the women, who had been drinking all afternoon, to be responsible for the trouble. They were each fined $3.

ARBOR DAY EXERCISES HELD

OBSERVED BY PUPILS OF PAROCHIAL SCHOOL YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Consisting of Vocal and Instrumental Selections and Awarding of Honor Medals.

Exercises in anticipation of Arbor Day were held yesterday afternoon in the assembly hall of St. Mary's School, when many of the pupils took part in song, reading, recitations and instrumental music. A feature of the programme was the awarding of honor medals to the pupils having the highest averages for the month.

The exercises opened with the entire school singing "The Palms," followed by Arbor Day selections by the pupils of Sister Mary Esther's class. The following members of the fifth grammar grade took part in the programme: Miss Loretta Welsh, solo; Joseph A. Tobin, reading; Miss Margaret Fitzgerald, recitation; Miss Adele VonOhl, recitation; Henry Hillman, solo; Miss Helen Hanrihan, recitation.

One of the interesting events of the afternoon was a grammar contest between the boys and the girls, in which the girls won. Several of the older pupils favored with mandolin selections and their renditions were very well received. Those who took part were: Miss Katherine Harding, Miss Marion Smith, Miss Helen Callahan, accompanied by Miss Helen Hanrihan on the piano. The exercises came to a close with a few remarks by Rev. Father Egan.

During the exercises medals were awarded to those pupils having the highest records for the month. They were conferred upon the following scholars: First grade, Miss Margaret Lutz; second grade, Martin Flatley; third grade, Miss Margaret Flatley; fifth grade, James M. Cullon and Miss Katherine McAuley; first grade primary, Miss Josephine Rock; second grade primary, Albert Kyle; third grade primary, Miss Anna Johnson; sewing class, Miss Nellie Callahan; Sunday-school medal, Cornelius McCarthy.

RECEPTION AT FANWOOD.

Given by Mrs. F. W. Westcott at Her Home Yesterday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Fanwood, April 4—Mrs. F. W. Westcott gave a reception at her home here yesterday afternoon. It was a very delightful affair. The house was tastefully decorated with red carnations giving a very pretty effect. Those who received were Mrs. Westcott, Mrs. E. T. Fancher and Mrs. H. L. D. Gilmoure. Tea was poured by Mrs. H. P. Robinson and Mrs. H. C. Christianson. Eight young women assisted in the dining room. They were Miss Madeline Robinson, Miss Edna Nicholl, Miss Florence Nicholl, Miss Bessie Smith, Miss Mary Westcott, Miss Lillian Francher, Miss Christina Bettman and Miss Hazel Bray.

Corporation Counsel C. A. Marsh represented the Board of Governors of the hospital in the deal. Possession of the property will not be taken before September next. GUARANTEED.

That word means something, when it is backed by the $5,000,000 capital and surplus of the

FIDELITY TRUST COMPANY.

It means for you an easy mind if you have one of those guarantees covering the title to your premises.
The man, who does business the way it was done a generation ago, is surely on the road to failure. This is an age of progress. There has been progress in methods of conveyancing as well as in other lines. Out of the need for something less uncertain than a lawyer's certificate and a lawyer's responsibility, has grown up the system of policies of insurance, or guarantees of title by companies with large capital and a force, specially trained in the work.
There is none better in this line than

THE FIDELITY TRUST COMPANY OF NEWARK, N. J.

It has an agency at Elizabeth for conducting Union County business. Rates will be given on application at its office, No. 215 Broad Street, and an investigation of its resources and methods is invited.

A Blow in the Back.

An overcoat is a necessary nuisance and the tendency to take it off on warmish days in late autumn and winter is as strong as it is unwise. A treacherous wind hits you in the back and the next morning you have lumbago. Rub well and often with Perry Davis' Painkiller and you will be astonished to find how quickly all soreness is banished. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'.

PALM SUNDAY OBSERVED AT LOCAL CHURCHES

Appropriate Services Held Yesterday at Catholic and Episcopal Churches.

MUSIC WAS A FEATURE

BLESSING AND DISTRIBUTION OF PALMS AT R. C. CHURCHES.

Details of the Services at the Local Churches — Remarkable Decorations of Palms at Holy Cross, Brought From Florida.

Palm Sunday was celebrated yesterday in both the Roman Catholic and Episcopal churches. The services were very impressive and the music was especially fine. The attendance was large at all the services, particularly at the Catholic churches where the ceremony of the blessing and distribution of the palms was observed.

At St. Mary's R. C. church, Rev. Father Egan conducted the 10:30 mass with Rev. Father Smith as deacon and Rev. Father Leando, of Bloomsbury, as sub-deacon. During the mass the special choir rendered music appropriate to the day. In the evening the sermon was preached by Rev. Father Egan.

The blessing of the palms and the distribution of the same was solemnized at the 10:30 mass yesterday morning at St. Joseph's church. The services were conducted by Rev. Father Joseph Miller who read the "Passion." The music was especially fine and was rendered by the choir composed of children of the Sunday-school. All during the Lenten season the children have been rendering the music at the church without the aid of the organ and yesterday morning they did remarkably well with the special selections. In the evening, Rev. Father Miller continued his course of special lectures to his congregation upon the Sacred Shrines of Europe. He dwelt more particularly on St. Peter's and the Vatican last evening.

During the coming week special services will be held at both the Roman Catholic churches as the week before Easter is always observed as Holy Week. Special preachers will be here.

At the Episcopal churches services appropriate to the day were read. At most of them decorations of palms were arranged about the pulpits and chancels while special music was rendered by the choirs.

Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson conducted the services at Grace Episcopal church where Communion was held. He was assisted by Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector emeritus, at the morning services. The evening services were held as usual, the sermon being preached by the rector, Mr. Stevenson.

The Church of the Holy Cross was elaborately decorated yesterday with palms in honor of Palm Sunday. The decorations were most complete. The palms were sent up from Jupiter, Florida, the winter home of Edwin S. Hooley. There were two crates of the greens and each pillar of the church was completely covered with the branches giving to the interior of the place the appearance of several avenues of palm trees.

Services were held in the morning at 10:30 when the rector of the church, Rev. W. Montgomery Downey, assisted by Rev. William H. Neilson, officiated at communion. Special music was rendered during the morning by the choir. In the afternoon vesper services were held which were conducted by the rectors.

Services were held yesterday morning and afternoon at St. Stephen's church at Netherwood, Rev. William V. Dawson officiating. The alter and chancel were decorated with palms and in the afternoon special music was rendered by the choir.

ONE OF THE FIRST.

William Howatt, An Old Resident, Passed Away Yesterday After a Long Illness.

William Howatt, aged eighty-four years, one of the oldest residents in Plainfield, died yesterday at his home on Grove street, after a long illness. For some time past Mr. Howatt has been very feeble, his death being expected at any time.

He was born in England and he was a carpet weaver by trade. This business he followed for many years. During the past few years he was unable to do anything. He was a devoted Christian and a faithful member of the First Baptist church, where he attended all of the services as long as he was able to.

At the outbreak of the Civil War, Mr. Howatt enlisted as a private in a New Jersey company and he served until near the close of the war, receiving an honorable discharge.

Mr. Howatt is survived by one son, Joseph P. Howatt, now of Asville, N. C. The funeral services will be held from the home of Duncan Walker, No. 5 Grove street, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

An address of unusual interest was given during the meeting by Rev. Daniel Rapalje who has been actively engaged in mission work in China for forty years. His talk was most interesting as he told of the real needs of the people of that country.

NEW LEAGUE.

Formal Organization Will be Affected at a Meeting to be Held Tonight.

A meeting of the four baseball clubs, which were shut out of the City League, was held Saturday evening at Reform Hall when a preliminary session was held for the purpose of arranging for a meeting this evening when they will organize another league.

The only matter of importance which was transacted during Saturday night's meeting was agreeing to hold their baseball games early in the afternoons so as not to interfere with the games of the other league. The league will consist of the Orange Field Club, Clinton avenues, Cuban Giants and Reform Club. The season will start May 16.

TROLLEY MEN TALK STRIKE

Employes of Elizabeth and Plainfield Company Formally Demand More Wages.

INCLUDES LOCAL LINES

Petition Signed by 225 Motormen and Conductors Handed to the Officials Saturday—Failure to Reply in a Reasonable Time Means a General Strike.

Formal demand for an increase of wages on the entire system of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Street Railway Company has been made by the employes. A petition signed by 225 motormen and conductors attached to the Elizabeth-Plainfield division, and the smaller lines in Elizabeth, Plainfield and Rahway was handed the officials, Saturday. A reasonable length of time has been set for a compliance and if the advance is not granted the men declare they will quit.

In the petition the employes ask for a uniform wage rate of twenty cents per hour, making no mention of what shall constitute a day's work, which is at present twelve hours. The men are now paid different amounts on different lines and this they want remedied. Those on the Plainfield division receive an average of 16⅔ cents an hour, or with deduction for dinner, $1.85 a day. At Rahway, Elizabeth and on the through line, the pay is about 18 cents an hour. The men in all cases work seven days a week.

Within the past few months, the companies operating in Newark, Jersey City and other nearby places have been increasing the wages, until the rate in nearly every case is twenty cents an hour, or over. In several cities both motormen and conductors are paid twenty-two cents an hour. These advances have been noted by the local employes and not having received any intimation that they were to benefit likewise, the petition was drawn up.

As stated, the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Company employs in the neighborhood of 225 men. In the event of their going on strike the road would undoubtedly be tied up as the men claim it would be a difficult matter to secure immediately enough substitutes to man the cars.

UNIQUE INSTRUMENT.

Will be Used at the Concert at the Casino Tomorrow Night.

Many varied instruments figure in the concert to be given by the Mozart Symphony Club at the Casino, tomorrow night, and one of the most interesting is the Viol daGamba, the only instrument of its kind in this country.

This rare instrument was invented in the seventeenth century by an English prisoner who was granted life and freedom as a reward for his work. It has ten strings, and is between a violoncello and a viola d'amour in size. One of these instruments is exhibited in the South Kensington Museum, London. Its tone is expressive and sympathetic. The workmanship is perfect, and the carving a work of art. The head represents a beautifully modelled seraph's face, and the string holder is embellished by a sylph-like female figure—in relief. Mr. Blodeck, the 'cellist of the organization, is the only artist playing this instrument in the United States in public at the present time.

Safe Makers at Traps.

The regular monthly meet of the Safe Works Gun Club was held on the club's grounds, Clinton avenue, Saturday afternoon, and in spite of the strong wind which was blowing during the target practice some very good records were made. The scores are as follows: Emmons broke 49 out of 60; Brosbart, 44 out of 60; Gorden, 38 out of 53; Ludgate, 13 out of 25; and Strachan, 13 out of 25.

INDOOR ATHLETIC CONTESTS

CONTINUATION OF NOVICE CONTEST AT Y. M. C. A. GYM.

Saturday Night's Events Were Fence Vault and Hop, Step and Jump.

The last but one of the novice contests which have been attracting so much attention at the Y. M. C. A. was held Saturday evening at the Y. M. C. gymnasium. There was a large number of spectators present. The events were the fence vault and the hop, step and jump. Good work was done by the contestants in both events.

Neal and Denton tied in the first position in the fence vault. Their records were 5 feet 10 inches. In the play off Denton won by jumping 5 feet 11 inches. Others who took part in that event were Koons, 5 feet 7 inches, Smith, 5 feet 5 inches; and Collins, 5 feet and ½ inch.

In the hop, step and jump, Scull won first place by clearing 25 feet 2 inches. Hand took second place with 24 feet 11 inches; Swam, 22 feet 10 inches; Smith, 22 feet 9½ inches; Koons, 22 feet 8 inches; Sebring, 21.

Walter McNaughton, who has held high place in all the contests, was excused on account of sprained knees but will run off his events next Saturday night. Those who are playing for championship for all around athletes of the Y. M. C. A. are McNaughton, Collins, Smith and Neal. These four have taken part in all the contests and held high points in all.

The contest closes next Saturday night.

NEW MANAGER.

John A. Steiner Chosen to Manage Y. M. C. A. Baseball Team This Season.

At the meeting of the physical work committee held at the Y. M. C. A. last Thursday evening, the physical director, C. E. A. Heywood, requested that John A. Steiner be asked to take the management of the baseball team. Mr. Steiner is considered a thoroughly competent man to take charge of this work and as it requires the entire attention of one man his services will be of great value to the team. The committee voted unanimously in favor of the proposition. All communications for the Y. M. C. A. baseball team should be sent to John A. Steiner, Somerset street.

At that meeting it was decided to have the gymnasium painted and repaired and the time set aside for that work was during the third week in May.

HOSPITAL CROWDED.

Only Cases of Great Emergency Can Now be Admitted.

The Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital wishes to announce to the public that for the present only cases of extreme emergency can be admitted to the hospital. There are thirty patients at the institution and the place is overcrowded. The limit of accommodation is for twenty-four patients. Several days ago an injured railroad man was taken to the hospital without the knowledge of the hospital authorities and a patient who should have remained several days longer was sent home to make room for the accident case. The governors regret exceedingly the present state of affairs and they hope that there will be relief in the near future.

Satisfactorily Settled.

The Daily Press recently reported that a suit had been begun by E. Maxwell Honeyman, of Grove street, through a foreign attorney, against the Jersey Central Railroad Company for damages growing out of the Westfield disaster. It seems that the action grew out of a mistake, and Mr. Honeyman ordered it withdrawn. The matter has now been friendly and satisfactorily settled by Claims Agent John K. Large, acting for the company.

There is talk of double-decked trolley cars on the Elizabeth-Plainfield line this summer. Local officials of the company had heard nothing about them.

MID-WEEK BASEBALL GAMES

AN ALL-PLAINFIELD TEAM IS BEING ORGANIZED FOR THE SEASON.

It Will Play Strong Out-of-Town Teams Every Wednesday Afternoon.

Local baseball cranks who have been unable to witness games on account of Saturday being the only playing day, when business interests are not to be foregone, will have an opportunity this season of being numbered among the spectators at A 1 contests. Plans have been formulated whereby an All-Plainfield team, such as was organized last fall, will play mid-week games on Wednesday during the entire summer.

George E. Firstbrook and Thomas M. Muir, local newspapermen, are behind the scheme and are already at work on a schedule. They concluded arrangements, Saturday, with Manager Denman, of the Westfield nine, for a series of three games. The first will be played in this city on May 20 or 27 and will mark the opening of the mid week season. None but the best semi-professional organizations will be booked and among those who have already asked for dates are the original Cuban X Giants, the Pearsalls, of Jersey City; the Xavier Athletic Club, of New York; the Manjer A. C., of Brooklyn, and the strong Orange A. C., considered the crack semi-professional team of the State. Hope Common has been secured for the contests and they will commence at an hour convenient for all business men.

The best players on the City League teams will be selected for the All-Plainfield nine and "Ted" Shortman, the swift second baseman of the Hopes, has agreed to act as captain. He has his men under consideration and will announce the line-up as soon as possible.

ARMY WORK.

Col. Cox, of Salvation Army, Told of It at First Baptist Church Last Evening.

The First Baptist church was opened last evening to representatives of the Salvation Army and a large audience was present to hear Col. Cox, editor-in-chief of all the publications of the Salvation Army. One of the members of the staff-band sang a familiar Salvation Army selection accompanying himself on a guitar.

After the usual opening church services, Col. Cox was introduced by C. W. McCutchen, who took charge of the service in the absence of Dr. Yerkes, and he gave a strong and helpful talk about the work of the Salvation Army and its relation to the church. He spoke of the various departments of the work, especially that in reference to the Rescue Homes.

At the conclusion of the service mention was made of the coming week being one of self-denial in the Army and an appeal was made for funds to help carry on the work. The offering for the Army work amounted to about $30. During the offertory Mrs. F. M. Ward and Williams Holmes rendered a duet.

SEVENTH-DAY BAPTISTS REVIEW YEAR'S WORK

The Annual Meeting of That Church Held Yesterday Afternoon and Evening.

THE OFFICERS ELECTED

SUPPER AND SOCIAL HOUR BETWEEN THE SESSIONS.

Reports From the Church and Its Societies Received at the Evening Session—Results of Business Meeting in Afternoon.

The congregation of the Seventh-Day Baptist church met yesterday for the annual meeting to close up the year's work and prepare plans for the ensuing twelve months. The session began at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and with an intermission for supper, lasted until 9 o'clock last night.

Following a social greeting and devotional exercises, the afternoon session began with a business meeting, during which the usual elections were made as follows: Trustees, for five years, William M. Stillman; church clerk, Asa F. Randolph; assistant treasurer, George E. Stillman; auditors, Charles H. Dunham and A. L. Titsworth; subscription committee, Frank L. Clawson and Fred F. Stillman; chorister, David E. Titsworth; organist, Miss Jessie M. Utter; ushers, Orra S. Rogers, George L. Babcock, Arthur J. Spicer, Irving F. Niles, George Clarke and Paul Whitford.

Church matters were discussed informally until 5 o'clock when a social and fellowship hour was held. During this time, as is the annual custom, letters were read from members of the church who were unable to attend the meeting but wished to be remembered to the congregation. Supper was served at 6 o'clock by the members of the Women's Society for Christian Work and the Christian Endeavor Society. The meal was prepared under the supervision of Miss Ernestine Smith and Dr. Martha Stillman.

The evening session was devoted to the rendering of reports by Pastor George B. Shaw, Clerk Asa F. Randolph, the Sunday-school committee, the Woman's Society for Christian Work and the Christian Endeavor Society. Verbal communications were also made by members of the church connected with charitable, philanthropic and other Christian work in the city and elsewhere.

In all the reports evidence of a successful year were apparent, especially in that of the pastor, which showed an encouraging gain in membership. The finances of the institution are excellent and in the various societies much good work is being accomplished.

The committee which arranged and had charge of the meeting consisted of Orra S. Rogers, Rev. G. B. Shaw, David E. Titsworth, Mrs. Amanda T. Maxson and Miss Ida L. Spicer.

Castings Delayed Work.

Owing to a delay in receiving castings, work at the Pederick-Ayer shops has been slack for the past week. Within a short time the plant will be in full blast and by summer the full quota of men will have been taken on.

"Forward-march" at once to Van Sickle's North avenue market. "Attention" VanSickle's meats, poultry and game are the best to be had in the city at the lowest cash prices. "Dismissed"—after it is distinctly understood that VanSickle's is the place to go when provisions are needed.

Quite a change in the weather recently, wasn't it? Of course, the few warm days induced you to discard a little heavy clothing. Result—a bad cold and general feeling of illness. Nagle was on the lookout for just such conditions and has the remedy that restores the throat, voice and lungs to normal conditions.

A Sweet Breath

is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary S. Crick, of White Plains, Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years—tried all kinds of remedies but continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once, and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. L. W. Randolph.

THEATRICAL.

If rehearsals are any indication of what a production can be, Chas. E. Evans and Chas. Hopper have what is termed "a winner" in the sprightly comedy "There and Back." This is the smart farce written by George Arliss, the talented player of David Belasco's "Darling of the Gods" company, and which was played with splendid success in London last summer by Chas. Hawtrey and his company. Mr. Evans and Mr. Hopper and their company are getting ready now for a few weeks "on the road" preparatory to going into the Princess Theatre at the end of the engagement of Miss Bingham and her company.

Judging by the amount of newspaper attention being paid to "The Sultan of Sulu" in New York, George Ade must be one of the most popular fellows to drift under the limelight in a long time or else his witty opera must be a spectacular success at Wallack's theatre. The breezy author left his new piece, "Peggy from Paris," to take care of itself in Chicago the past week and visited "The Sultan." The next morning every New York paper contained stories describing how the librettist laughed at the merry capers of Sultan Ki-Ram. The centre of the stage of publicity seems to have been turned over to Mr. Ade by general consent and to be truthful, he seems to be just as picturesquely modest as if he were in the back row of the chorus. In addition to "The Sultan of Sulu" there are nine other musical shows bidding for favor in New York these days, but droll Ki-Ram played by Frank Moulan, and the "Cocktail Song" in Ade's best "Fables in Slang" style appears to be about the biggest hit on Broadway.

Good for Children.

The pleasant to take and harmless One Minute Cough Cure gives immediate relief in all cases of Coughs, Croup and LaGrippe because it does not pass immediately into the stomach, but takes effect right at the seat of the trouble. It draws out the inflammation, heals and soothes and cures permanently by enabling the lungs to contribute pure life-giving and life-sustaining oxygen to the blood and tissues. L. W. Randolph.

Jones, will officiate at the services and they will wear gowns of white.

LITERARY.

Of high importance among the magazine articles of the month is "The Restoration of the White House," written for the April Century by Charles Moore, clerk of the Senate Committee on the District of Columbia, whose accounts of "The Improvement of Washington City" appeared in The Century for February and March last year. Mr. Moore tells in detail the story of the president's house, its first plans, its occasional remodeling, and all the design and accomplishment of the present restoration, an event full of interest to every American. In illustrating the article The Century has employed its best illustrative resources. The exterior drawings by Jules Guerin and the interior by Alfred Brennan, bring out the intention of the architects to a remarkable degree. The frontispiece of the number is a picture by Jules Guerin of the new East Entrance on the occasion of an evening reception. Mr. Brennan has made, among other pictures, double drawings of the State dining room and of the new blue room. Miss Cecilia Beaux's portrait of Mrs. Roosevelt (with her daughter Ethel) is published for the first time.

In the April number of Scribner's Magazine a writer has revealed himself who can interpret the region of a great steamer "Below the Water-Line" with the force and insight and picturesque detail for which McAndrew longed in Kipling's famous poem. Benjamin Brooks, who writes the article, is a practical machinist and draughtsman, who has served on an ocean steamer as assistant to the engineer.

In a far different way the romance of what seems to many a dry subject is portrayed by Frank A. Vanderlip in his article on "The Treasury"—one of the very notable series on Government.

Mrs. Wharton contributes "A Torch-bearer," a beautiful and impressive poem on the moral quality of heroism, suggested by the heroic death of young Mr. Markoe in Philadelphia last November.

E. H. Sothern, the well-known actor, makes his appearance as a poet with a serious and very melodious piece entitled "Life the Lover."

There is a charming essay, "Books About Nature," in which Henry Childs Merwin discourses of the lovers of nature who have written books of literature.

There are four short stories, all of them illustrated:

An amusing tale, "A Procession of Umbrellas," by F. Hopkinson Smith, illustrated by E. M. Ashe.

The story of a Mennonite preacher, by Nelson Lloyd, full of humor, with an illustration by Howard Pyle.

"The Blue Dress," a story told by Josephine Daskam, with pictures by Jessie Willcox Smith.

The romance of a young Irish girl, told by Sydney Preston, with pictures by Shipley.

John Fox's serial, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," gives in this instalment an amusing glimpse of the little girl who is to be the heroine of the story.

Bicyclists in Collision.

While riding her bicycle on Park avenue, Friday afternoon, Miss May Kelley, niece of Mrs. J. J. Coard, of East Ninth street, was run into by a messenger boy, also awheel. She was thrown to the roadway and received cuts and contusions about the head and arms. Her wheel was also partially wrecked. The boy escaped unharmed.

Plans for Extension.

There will be an important meeting of the members of the Park Club at the clubhouse tomorrow evening, at 8 o'clock, to ratify action of the Board of Governors, and approve plans for the new extension to the clubhouse. Contracts are ready to be signed that work may commence at once. It is hoped that every member will be present.

For Her Guest.

Realty Transfers.

These borough real estate transfers have been recorded at the office of the County Clerk at Somerville: John W. Murray, et ux, to Jacob M. Higgins, $350, and Ella B. Stocker, to Henry Nischwitz, $1.

Cellar Gang to Meet.

A meeting of the "Cellar Gang," of Warren Engine Company is called for tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. It is very important that all those who signed for the work be on hand.

Repairing Harrison Avenue.

Needed repairs are being made to Harrison avenue. In front of the West End Hose Company new top dressing of crushed stone is being laid.

RUMOR STIRS PEKING

Increase of United States Asiatic Squadron the Cause.

BOXER OUTBREAKS NOT ALARMING.

Chinese Authorities Said to Be Hiring Rebels to Keep Quiet—Rulers and Court Journey to the Western Tombs.

PEKING, April 6.—The report received here that the action of the United States in increasing her Asiatic squadron is on account of "the alarming reports on the situation in China" excites surprise in Peking. Such reports were not sent by the United States or British legations, which possess good facilities for judging the situation in China.

The only disturbances considered serious are those in the Kwangsi province, the southern province of China, bordering Tonkin, where 100,000 rebels are said to be under arms, which were never directed against foreigners. The latest reports regarding General Tung Fuh Siang, the Boxer leader, and Prince Tuan, the exiled antiforeigner, who are at the head of the insurgent forces in the northwestern province of Kansu, are reassuring. The government claims to have come to an understanding with them whereby they agree to refrain from hostilities. It is believed that the government is supplying them with funds on condition that they remain quiet.

The officials promise the foreign ministers that the indemnity bonds will soon be signed. The officials have apparently concluded that it will be impossible to obtain any concession in the terms of the indemnity until that formality is fulfilled.

The dowager empress and the court have started on their journey to the western tombs. They will be absent from Peking eighteen days. The cars of the train bearing the dowager empress and the emperor have been specially constructed and decorated at a lavish expenditure. Other trains will carry most of the high officials in Peking and the court's entire household of eunuchs and concubines. Business traffic on the railways entering Peking will be practically suspended for several days. The masses regard the pilgrimage with astonished disapproval and predict that heaven will send disasters.

The United States consul at Canton telegraphs that the famine in the Kwangsi province resulting from the rebellion there is serious. Thousands will die unless assistance is forthcoming. He recommends that relief funds be started abroad.

THE ORIENTAL SQUADRON.

Reasons For Increase Given Out at Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The United States naval representation in the orient will be increased materially as soon as the vessels now under orders to proceed to those waters arrive there.

The navy department in making this increase contemplates squadrons in Asiatic and Philippine waters under three general heads—viz, vessels of the line of battle, made of the battleships Kentucky, Oregon and Wisconsin and the monitors Monterey and Monadnock, all of which are now there except the Wisconsin, which sails from Puget sound about May 1; second, the cruiser squadron, made up of the New Orleans, which is already on the Asiatic station, and the Raleigh, now in the Caribbean sea, and the Albany and the Cincinnati, and the third squadron, made up of gunboats and small craft designed especially for service in the smaller bodies of water where the larger ships because of their draft are unable to go.

The idea of the three squadron formation is a favorite one with many naval officers, who to some extent have arranged its counterpart with the vessels of the Atlantic fleet.

It is said here that the change in the character of the Asiatic squadron is due primarily to what naval experts consider the proper division of our navy and was decided on some time ago. It also is felt to be a good precautionary measure to have a strong representation in the far east ready for service should the occasion unexpectedly arise.

Chinese Labor For Transvaal Mines.

NEW YORK, April 6.—H. Herbert Noyes and H. Ross Skinner, from Johannesburg, Transvaal, commissioners appointed by the British government to proceed to China for the purpose of investigating Chinese labor, with a view of its employment in the mines of the Transvaal, arrived in New York on the Cunard line steamer Umbria from Liverpool. They are on their way to San Francisco, where they will inquire into the methods of working and value of Chinese labor as employed in California. Owing to the insufficiency of native labor in the Transvaal the immigration of Asiatics under government control, which would provide for the indenting and repatriation of the laborers, is favored by the authorities there.

Shoe Cutters Get an Advance.

HAVERHILL, Mass., April 6.—Arbitration through the state board put into use for the first time since the union stamp agreement was signed between the shoe manufacturers and the Boot and Shoe Workers' union here has resulted in a victory for the cutters, who had asked for an increase in their wages. Between 375 and 450 cutters in local union stamp factories will be benefited.

HORSEBACK RIDE IN THE AFTERNOON

Train Halts Nearly Twenty-four Hours at Sioux Falls—An Early Closing Rule Announced. Pickpocket Arrested.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., April 6.—President Roosevelt was the guest of Sioux Falls over Sunday. His special train arrived here about 8 o'clock a. m. and left this morning shortly after 9 o'clock.

On his arrival here he was met by a delegation headed by Mayor G. W. Burnside and State Senator A. H. Stites. Senator Kittridge also greeted him. The president was escorted to the Cataract House by detachments of the two local militia companies and enjoyed a day of comparative rest, the first he has had since his trip began.

He attended church both in the morning and evening and in the afternoon went for a horseback ride, accompanied by Seth Bullock, superintendent of the Black hills forest reserves.

The fact that President Roosevelt attended divine services twice yesterday was due to an error on the part of the local committee. The committee had the impression that the president was a member of the German Lutheran church and accordingly arranged to have him attend that church in the morning. When it was learned later that the president worshiped at the Dutch Reformed church, arrangements were made to have services in the evening at the Livingstone Reformed church here. While it is not the custom of the president to attend services on Sunday evening, he made an exception when the facts were made known to him. The services in the morning were conducted by Rev. Herman Selt, president of the German-English college at Wilton, Ia., who came here for that purpose. The German language was used throughout.

Owing to the fact that both in Milwaukee and Minneapolis the length of the programme did not permit the president to reach his car until after midnight, he has been obliged to announce that hereafter he will not begin speaking later than 8:30 in the evening and always will be back in his car by 10 o'clock. He will adhere strictly to this rule.

A pickpocket tried to work his game in the crowd gathered in front of the Lutheran church yesterday morning. Just as the president was about to enter the edifice a man who gave the name of G. W. Earl took $23 from the pocket of a resident of this city. He was detected in the act, but before he could be seized he handed the money to a confederate, who disappeared. Earl was arrested.

Plans For Yosemite Reception.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—In the Yosemite valley President Roosevelt will be given a salute by a battery of dynamite cartridges. The walls of the valley are 3,000 feet sheer, and the report of a toy pistol within them reverberates like a series of volleys by heavy artillery. The explosion of dynamite cartridges is expected to produce extraordinary results. An enormous bonfire will be built on the overhanging rock of Glacier point. The great mass of fire will be thrown over the side of the projecting rocks to the bottom of the valley, 3,000 feet below.

Miss Alice Returns From Porto Rico.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The steamer Coamo of the New York and Porto Itico Steamship company has arrived. On board was Miss Alice Roosevelt, daughter of the president, returning from her trip to Porto Rico. Miss Roosevelt was accompanied by her maid. Governor Hunt's brother, Mr. Thomas Hunt, Mrs. Hunt and A. L. Kearns, a brother of United States Senator Kearns of Utah, are also on board.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Cruise Ended.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Mrs. Roosevelt and her children, who have been on a cruise on the Mayflower down the Potomac river and Chesapeake bay, have returned to Washington. A carriage from the White House met the party at the boat, and they were driven to the White House. All the family are well and greatly benefited by the week's outing.

Mexican Riots Not Renewed.

MONTEREY, Mexico, April 6.—Not a single disorderly act has occurred to mar the tranquillity of this city since Thursday's riot. Governor Reyes in speaking of the affair said that an investigation showed absolutely that the police first fired in the air, later firing at their aggressors only in defense of their lives. There have been no additional deaths. Several persons are under arrest, charged with complicity.

Postal Clerks Get Advance.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Acting Postmaster General Wynne authorized a general advance in salaries in the clerical forces of the Chicago postoffice. Under this action the salaries of 1,571 clerks are increased to the extent of $100 each and those of five clerks to the extent of $200 each. The action was taken under authority given by the last postoffice appropriation bill.

Mississippi Levees Break.

NEW ORLEANS, April 6.—The levees have broken at the upper line of ex-Governor Warmouth's Magnolia plantation, on the west side of the river and about sixty miles below this city. As the river bank at that point is very steep the break will have to be closed from the inside. The Grand Isle railroad refuses freight or passengers for points below Magnolia.

WILL NOT DIE.

Assemblyman Leavit is quoted as saying that the annexation act should be wiped off the statute books but that next year, if the people of North Plainfield desire annexation to Union county, they should appear before the Legislature and ask for it and their request is likely to be granted. It is evident that to satisfy Senator Hutchinson's dislike of Former Senator Reed, the legislators were willing to deprive the people of North Plainfield of their rights but are willing, in the future perhaps, to restore the rights which they have taken away.

There need be no fear on the part of any of the Assemblymen that they will not have a chance to right the wrong that they committed. The questions of consolidation and annexation are too live issues to be even seriously affected by the rebuff given in the Legislature. They are bound to come to pass some day. It may be annexation or it may be consolidation first but both measures will be brought about by that inexorable law which eventually gives to people the rights to which they are entitled.

A NEEDED BRIDGE.

That new iron bridge over Green brook at Giraud avenue is soon to be built. It is pleasant news to the people of the West End who have occasion to cross into the borough. The new bridge will permit the opening of that throughfare to a proper width and form a new connecting link between city and borough.

It will be remembered that the question of the new bridge came up two years ago but was delayed because the Somerset county Freeholders refused to spend the requisite amount of money. This year the Somerset Freeholders have apparently seen the error of their ways because the request for the new bridge came from that side. Thanks to Freeholder Westphal, Union county has lost no time in acting on Somerset's request and there will be no delay in the erection of the much needed bridge.

Now it looks as if there would be two local baseball leagues. If the second league is organized, the object of the City League in refusing the other clubs admittance will be defeated. With the two leagues playing two games each every Saturday and the Alis Club nine meeting an outside team the same day, there will be more attractions than there would have been had the four applicants been admitted to the league. It will then depend on the clubs that give the best article of ball to attract the greatest crowds. It will be competition with a vengeance but it is a question whether it will be a very good thing for the sport.

There are several subjects of interest that are likely to pop up at this evening's session of the Common Council. Something ought to be said about those complaints against the Industrial Home and a committee appointed to investigate and make recommendations. Then there is this application for a franchise for the Central Jersey Telephone Company. There's a public hearing to be held and a date for it should be set. In addition to these subjects, the annual budget will come before the Council and will be approved with such amendments as the Councilmen may see fit.

It was by the votes of the annexationists in North Plainfield that Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer was elected to office last fall. While it was not expected that he would take a stand for that movement, his strong advocacy of the "repealer" was hardly looked for. His course is going to still further complicate matters when the fall campaign begins in Somerset this year.

It is welcome news that the price of coal has come down again. This is not, however, the season when most of us are particularly desirous of burning it. It is the wise housekeeper who lays in a supply of coal in the spring and is ready for whatever emergencies may develop during the course of the summer. Those who did so last year were indeed fortunate.

That criticism of the management of the Industrial Home has managed to stir up a great deal of interest. It is now up to the Common Council to act even if the subject is not brought formally before it. A committee should be appointed at toight's meeting to investigate the subject and report what reforms, if any, should be instituted at the city institution.

Although the fire alarm whistle did fail to work on two occasions Friday evening, residents need not fear that the protection against fire has lessened. While the conditions at that time were by no means desirable, they were immediately rectified and steps taken to prevent any possible recurrance of such a state of affairs.

Governor Murphy has expressed himself as being well pleased with the work of the State Legislature. When you take into consideration the way the Governor's requests and messages were received and treated, one cannot help admire Mr. Murphy for his generous treatment of the legislators.

Now that the Borough Council has decided to go ahead on the new fire headquarters it is going to be a great sight to see the members of the famous "cellar gang" excavating for the foundation for the new building. It will be a memorable occasion for North Plainfield.

Now that the Legislature has concluded its sessions, the people of the State will begin to discover what the members of the Legislature have been doing. Measures went through so rapidly at the last that no ordinary man could get any idea of what was doing.

The new fire headquarters in the borough will be cordially welcomed. The borough department has, at present, very inadequate quarters which condition the new building will greatly relieve.

FUNERAL OF MRS. DREIER.

The Services Yesterday Conducted by Rabbi Freid, of New York.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Rachael Dreier were held from her late home on West Front street, yesterday afternoon. The house was filled to overflowing with relatives from this city and many other places.

Rabbi Freid, of New York, was in charge and conducted the regulation Orthodox service, preaching in English, German and Hebrew. Aside from this the obsequies were very simple. The body was afterward taken to Gateville, near Bound Brook, for interment.

Those who acted as pall bearers were M. Leichtentritt, Morris Abrams, Kalmon Rothberg, Joseph Block, H. Moledesky and H. Moskowitz.

John O'Brien's View of the City's Architecture Changed by Westfield "Red Eye."

Making use of his thirty years' experience as a mason, John O'Brien, a recent arrival from New York, spent the greater part of yesterday criticising the construction work of the principal buildings of the city.

To a large crowd which followed him about he explained just where the masonry was faulty and how, if he had been consulted, everything would have been all right. He wandered up to the North Avenue station and roundly denounced the engineers who had designed the tunnel and was vowing he could do it better without half trying when Patrolman Overbaugh gathered him in.

O'Brien explained to City Judge Runyon, this morning, it was Westfield "red eye" that made him critical as otherwise the Plainfield architectural scheme suited him. He was let go on his promising to go before Father Egan and take the pledge.

ANOTHER HARDFIGHT

Fiercest Battle of the War at Santo Domingo.

THE REBELS STILL HOLD THE CITY

Government Forces Under General Vasquez Preparing to Renew Attempt to Recapture the Capital City.

SANTO DOMINGO, April 6.—The recent attack of the government troops outside the city on the insurgents in the suburb of Pajarito was the most severe engagement since the rebellion broke out, and the insurgents were driven back to this city. The artillery from the fort covered the insurgents' retreat.

General Vasquez, at the head of a force reported to be 800 strong, is about to march on the city. The rebels are disposed to fight to the last, and it is supposed that if they are compelled to abandon the city they will embark on the gunboat Independencia, which is in their power, and go to the northern part of the island and join the rebels there.

A later dispatch says that no engagement has taken place since the above between the government troops and the rebels, but large government forces are now marching on the town, and an attack is momentarily expected. The rebels are making great preparations for resistance.

In the engagement at Pajarito the contending forces used firearms and cutlasses. Several persons were killed inside the city by stray shots. The government gunboat Presidente bombarded the town, and one shell fell inside the yard of the German consulate, but did not explode. The surgeon of the Atlanta assisted to attend the wounded in the Pajarito fight. Many of the wounded died for want of timely assistance.

The members of the consular and diplomatic corps here met and appointed a commission to notify both sides that they must observe the rules of war and to demand twenty-four hours' notice before any attack is made on the town in order that the foreign residents may go to a place of safety.

All places of business are closed, and the situation is extremely critical.

Americans Landed a Second Time.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—A report to the navy department from Commander Turner of the cruiser Atlanta at Santo Domingo city shows another repulse to the government troops who made an attempt to take the city from the revolutionists and that Commander Turner was again compelled to land marines to protect the United States consulate. Commander Turner's dispatch is as follows: "Government forces attacked city yesterday. Were repulsed. Report indicates Vasquez, the president, approaching with strong force. Government gunboat fired three shots last night without injury. City fortified. Apparently determined to resist. Landed marines to protect the consulate."

Dedication of Shiloh Monuments.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 6.—A large party of Memphians went to Shiloh battlefield today to take part in the exercises of dedication of the Indiana monuments. Governor Durbin, Senator Beveridge and a large party of distinguished Indianians arrived at Pittsburg Landing early this morning and proceeded to the Shiloh field. General Lew Wallace of Crawfordsville, Ind., was chairman of the day, and an oration by Senator Beveridge was one of the features. General George W. Gordon of Memphis, representing the state of Tennessee and her Union and Confederate dead, also spoke. The monuments were presented to Governor Durbin by Colonel James S. Wright of the Indiana Shiloh memorial park commission, and the governor in turn presented them to Assistant Secretary of War Sanger, representing the United States government.

Melnze's Victory Over Clark.

BUTTE, Mont., April 6.—The decision of the supreme court in the Pennsylvania mining case is worth $5,000,000 to F. A. Heinze and the Montana Ore Purchasing company, as it establishes their right to fully $2,000,000 worth of ore already taken out of the disputed ground by Mr. Heinze and claimed by the defendant, the Boston and Montana Mining company, and secured them in the right to follow the veins of the Rarus mine on their dip in the Pennsylvania ground. It is estimated that the ore yet in the territory in dispute is worth $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 more. It is probably the most important decision yet made by the court of last resort in the noted Heinze-Amalgamated litigation.

Royal Betrothal Rumored.

COPENHAGEN, April 6.—Rumors are current among the German emperor's suit and in Danish court circles that the German Crown Prince Frederick William is to be betrothed to Duchess Cecile, sister of the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, whose sister, Alexandrone, is the wife of Prince Christian, the grandson of the king of Denmark. Duchess Cecile was born at Schwerin on Sept. 20, 1886. She will thus be seventeen years old next birthday, while the German crown prince is four years her senior.

Oklahoma Bandits Captured.

GUTHRIE, Okla., April 6.—Sheriffs Morrison of Kiowa county, Tompson of Caddo, Porter of Garfield and Bottom of Washita surrounded a ranch near Cordele, Okla., and within a brief time captured six of the remaining outlaws of the Bert Casey gang, supposed to have robbed the Leger bank of $8,000 last Friday. The bandits were surprised and taken without trouble.

Women as Investors Of Money

ONE of the leading brokers of the United States recently made the rule that his firm should do no more business with women personally. For years he had an office for lady customers, where they had met to buy and sell stocks and watch the money market. They had undoubtedly enriched the surrounding broker by many thousand dollars, yet because one woman brought suit against him when she met with losses he shut down henceforth on all her sex. If a man had sued the broker on account of losses in the market, nothing would have been thought of it. Business would have gone on as usual. But one woman proved herself a fool; therefore in the mind of this perspicacious masculine reasoner all women are fools.

Women who have small or large sums of money to invest may learn from the above case the important lesson that when they meet with losses they must bear them "like a man" and not whine or go into hysterics. To meet adverse fate of all kinds with courage and calmness is the first step toward success of any kind.

Having decided that she will bear losses without squealing, the next consideration in the successful investment of money by a woman is to beware with perfect horror of get rich quick schemes. In at least ninety-nine cases out of a hundred they are mere traps to ensnare women and inexperienced investors. In a big city one lately collapsed that had defrauded scores of deluded women of all the money they had, some of it got by years of painful toil and skimping. When the end came and the concocters of the plot were arrested, it took half a dozen policemen to hold the cheated women in order, and then it was not done any too well. The unfortunate victims tried to do bodily violence to the rascals. "Just let us get at them!" they shouted. They crowded, they walked over each other, they shook their fists and screeched, and one or two tumbled over in as pretty a make believe feminine faint as you ever saw. Whatever you do, never do that. Don't be a fool.

Here is another don't—never lend any money for sentimental reasons to brother, uncle, friend or great-grandfather. You will be almost dead sure to rue it. Not long ago a widow with some money met a sweetheart of her youth. He appeared to be engaged in magnificent money getting schemes. He seemed to be more than ever devoted to her. He got $20,000 cold cash out of her "to invest." He swindled her as cleanly as even a woman's nearest friend or old sweetheart can do, and that is saying much. Now the woman has actually to do without proper food and lodging. Forget not this: Business is business. Never associate it with sentiment. If you do, it will be to your sorrow.

Once more: Never intrust your capital to an agent who is going to take it far away and "invest" it in ways that will bring you in a million dollars a minute. New mining regions are full of these so called agents who are spending money like water and reveling in dissipation on the money that has been put into their hands by small owners to be invested. If those who have given them the money could see them sporting on it, the deluded investors would be cured for good and all.

Where then shall women trust their money? To begin, let them learn to save money. She who can spare only $5 may put it into a savings bank and get 3½ to 4 per cent on it. A reliable savings bank is certainly one of the best places for the deposit of small sums. As these get larger there are state, city and county bonds, which are in nearly all cases to be depended on.

The absolutely best thing, however, for a woman to do is to learn business and investment methods for herself. learn them thoroughly, then sail in on her own account. Lucia E. Blount, a shrewd and successful money investor, says: "Business ability is not a question of sex, but of training and opportunity. I believe there are hundreds of women who could make money wisely if they would only set themselves to learn, just as their brothers do." Why not?

CHAPTER X.

The summer passed and the fall approached. The cotton, ripened, burst its bolls and whitened on the brown stalks till broad fields of snow lay on all sides of Carnleigh. For awhile Ronald had put aside his studies to superintend the picking, hauling and ginning of his cotton. The weather had been favorable and he had made a good crop. He had not chanced to meet Mrs. Lancaster again after the day she had called, and about the middle of August he learned that she had gone to Charleston. His informant also hinted that Evelyn was to follow her in October. He was trying to forget certain thoughts about her which had beat themselves into his heart during the summer, and though he felt a sharp pain over the announcement that she was going away, he tried to look upon it as providential.

There were other things, too, which forced themselves upon his attention. Reports were continually filtering through the gossips to him to the effect that Sydney Hart had sworn to be revenged on him for having made him the butt of ridicule on the night of the attempted lynching. The newspapers had given considerable space to the matter, and the local correspondents, being unknown to Syd, dared to write what they would never have said to his face. They made him out even a more desperate outlaw, if possible, than he was, and added a sting to these statements by making a great hero of Fanshaw, who was described as having every grace and virtue that could fall to the lot of one man. Moreover, a little parson, who was visiting in the neighborhood, and was told beforehand that Syd was in an adjoining county, had taken the affair as a topic for his discourse, and among other things which reached Syd with almost telegraphic rapidity, he said that Syd was a coward who was so much afraid of his shadow that he did his evil deeds at night. So when all these things had rankled for two months in Syd's mind, he decided that he could at once prove his courage and get even by having it out with Ronald Fanshaw.

One day Ronald was leaving the cotton gin, which was about a mile from the land he was renting, when Dave rode up on top of a big load of loose cotton.

"Hold on, thar, Ron," he called out, "I want to speak to you."

Ronald paused and Dave got down from the wagon and joined him.

"Look heer, have you got anything to hoot with?" was Dave's anxious question.

"Not a thing," returned our hero; "why do you ask?"

Before answering Dave drew his revolver from his hip pocket.

"Well," he said, as he proffered it, "you'd better take this, an' be on the safe side. Syd Hart and Thad Williams is in town, an' they are due 'long heer about now. Syd may pass you without a word; it's all owin' to his load o' rot-gut. He kinder likes me, an' I told 'im one day if he ever harmed you I'd make a sifter out'n his damn carcass, an' he knows I meant it; but the sight o' you might make 'im rabid."

Ronald hesitated, but, on being urged, he took the revolver and put it into his pocket.

"I don't want any row," he said, setting his lips firmly, "but I will not be shot down in a public road."

"Now you are talking like a free-born American citizen," said Dave, and he went off to unload his cotton.

Ronald had succeeded in banishing from his mind the unpleasant thought, roused by Dave's fears, and had crossed the creek bridge and was within sight of the dormer windows of Carnleigh when, down the deserted road, he heard a man's voice singing a rollicking song. It was Sydney Hart's voice, and its muffled quality indicated inebriation. He was still hidden from view by a sharp bend in the road, but a moment later he came into sight, slowly riding along on horseback. He did not recognize Ronald till he was within some fifty yards of him. Our hero saw him rein in his horse suddenly and then whip out his revolver. Ronald paused and put his hand on his own weapon, cocking it, while it was still in his pocket. He was, for the moment, conscious of no other feeling than the instinct of self-preservation. Even then he hoped that his antagonist had drawn his revolver only in a spirit of drunken bravado. But this hope was quickly put to flight by Syd's erect carriage and the steadiness of his aim, which was now directed on him. Syd laughed harshly.

"This is the moment that has been sent in answer to my prayers," he said, deliberately. "Thar's been a sight o' talk about yore spunk, but I never believed in it myself. I've always knowed yore liver war white. Now, this heer road is entirely too narrow fur me an' you both to travel on. You jest git into them thar woods, ur I won't leave a piece o' yore carcass big enough to bait a gnat on."

"I don't want to have any trouble with you, Hart," answered Ronald, who had still not drawn his revolver, "but I will not allow any living man, drunk or sober, to drive me from a public highway."

"You won't, hey? Well, we'll see how you like lead pills." Our hero saw the barrel of the revolver steady itself, and a blue puff of smoke rise from it, followed by a sharp report. Ronald heard the ball whistle by him. He drew his revolver, and, crouching down in the road, that as little of his body might be exposed as possible, he began to fire, coolly and rapidly. His every shot was returned by the dodging man on the horse, which, frightened by the fire above and in front of him, backed into the low bushes that bordered the road on the left. From behind these bushes Syd continued to fire, and wherever Ronald could catch sight of him through the foliage he coolly directed his shots. Ronald did not know which of his last two shots had done the work, but suddenly he saw the horse plunge into the road without its rider and start down towards Carnleigh at the speed of a runaway. For a moment Ronald remained where he was; his revolver was empty, and he did not know but that Hart might be unharmed, hiding in ambush waiting for him to draw nearer. At this juncture another horseman galloped up. It was Thad Williams, his long stringy locks flying in the breeze, his revolver drawn, ready for use. He reined his horse in at a point in the road from whence he could see behind the bushes that obscured Hart from Ronald's view. For fully a minute he sat astride his snorting animal, his eyes bulging from their sockets.

"Damn you, you've done 'im!" he said, with a deep breath, and he swung his revolver round till it pointed at our hero.

"Mine is empty," answered Ronald. "I'm in your power."

With another oath, the stalwart fellow thrust his revolver into his belt and swung his right leg over the rump of his horse and stood on the ground.

"You've killed 'im," he grunted, as he stepped towards the bushes; "dare to come nigh 'im, an' I'll let daylight through you!"

Ronald stood as if rooted to the spot. He had no desire to see the man who had fallen by his hand. A chill like that of death stole over him. He had killed a man—killed a man! Then his heart bounded suddenly—a little ray of hope burst upon him, for he heard Thad Williams' voice, low and tender: "Are you hurt, Syd, old boy? Say, old chum, come off; don't play tricks on me!" There was a low monotonous response to this, and it continued for fully half a minute. Then Ronald heard a guttural, labored coughing, and when it had ceased he knew that Sydney Hart was dead. Striding forward, he parted the branches of the bushes. He found Thad Williams holding the dead man's head on his arm, as he might have held that of an infant.

"Is he dead?" Ronald asked.

The giant lowered the lolling head with its glaring eyes to the turf and looked at the speaker with a glare of hate.

"He don't look like he's runnin' of a foot race, do he?" he sneered, and a sinister look took root in his face as he went on: "Me'n him used to stan' by one another, but as you say yore ammunition is out, I reckon me'n you had as well not take it up. The law will atten' to yore case—it ort to make it hot fur a cold-blooded murderer."

"I shot him in self-defense," answered Ronald, averting his eyes from the repulsive sight.

"Self nothin'," sneered Williams. "Jest before he died he tol' me how it come about. He said you shot first, an' that you said you had intended to slay 'im ever since that night at the swamp. I reckon the court will take my testimony, an' you bet I'll swear the truth."

"You are going to swear to that, then?" said Ronald, too deeply shocked by what had occurred to realize the full importance of the threat.

Williams nodded as he bent over the corpse and began to stroke the hair back from the clammy brow. There was a rumbling of wheels, and two cotton wagons filled with negro and white laborers rounded the bend in the road.

"Hold on thar!" Williams cried, as he straightened himself up and waved his two hands. "I want one o' them thar wagons to take a dead comrade home to his fireside!"

The wagons stopped. The men alighted, and, stricken with horror, stepped lightly to where the dead man lay. Ronald turned to go. "I am going to give myself up to the sheriff," he said, more to the staring group than to Williams. "I did it in self defense."

RELIANCE NEARLY READY.

Launching Saturday—Iselin Inspects His New Yacht.

BRISTOL, R. I., April 6.—So far as the hull is concerned the yacht Reliance, which a syndicate made up of several members of the New York Yacht club has constructed for the defense of the America's cup against Shamrock III., is practically completed, and the yacht will undoubtedly be launched next Saturday.

A few finishing touches, such as a coat of white paint for the top sides, some interior fittings and the setting up of the steering gear, will occupy the time until the boat goes overboard.

The tender of the Reliance, the steamer Sunbeam, has arrived from New York with C. Oliver Iselin, the managing owner of the defender, together with a number of his yachting friends who have been on cup defenders for the past ten years. Mr. Iselin, accompanied by Captain Charles Barr, who will command the Reliance, made a critical inspection of the new boat.

The Tennessee Derby.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 6.—The second week's racing at Montgomery Park promises to be more important than the six days just closed. The Tennessee Derby will be run on tomorrow, and some of the most prominent three-year-olds in the west are eligible to start. The event promises to furnish racegoers some idea of what may be expected from numerous colts and fillies which are to be seen later in the Kentucky, Latonia and American Derbies.

ST. LOUIS, April 6.—The Nationals won the second game of the exhibition series from the Americans after a hard battle. Attendance, 20,000. Score:

Americans	0	2	0	0	0	0	2	0	1	5

Hits—Nationals, 14; Americans, 12. Errors—Nationals, 1; Americans, 4. Batteries—M. J. O'Neill and J. O'Neill; Reidy and Kahoe. Umpires—O'Day and Sheridan.

A Mysterious Suicide.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Mrs. Louise Ames Van Welk killed herself in the Hotel Washington in Jersey City yesterday. She was perhaps thirty-five to thirty-seven years of age, a blond and good looking. She arrived from the west Friday morning over the Pennsylvania railroad. On reaching Jersey City she called a cab and was taken to the Hotel Washington. Those who met her at the hotel found her in good spirits. She seemed well supplied with money, and numerous packages arrived at the desk from New York stores for her. She was last seen alive Saturday evening. Mrs. Van Welk had disrobed except for her underclothing and had then drawn on a tea gown. This she had opened at the throat and, sitting in front of the mirror, had placed a revolver against her breast over the heart and outside her undergarment and fired. The bullet must have passed through the heart.

Costly Fire In Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 6.—The immense storage house of the Birmingham Fertilizer company in East Birmingham, said to be operated in the interest of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical company, was completely destroyed by fire, the loss being estimated at $225,000. It is yet impossible to obtain the amount of insurance carried. The fire originated in the engine room in the northeast corner of the building and was briskly fanned by a high wind. The wind swept the flames straight down the main building, and in thirty minutes the entire structure was a mass of ruins. The company was carrying a large amount of raw and finished products. Ten freight cars on a siding and in proximity to the shipping department also were destroyed.

Damage by Cold Wave.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 6.—During the cold wave the thermometer here at daylight registered 24 degrees above zero, and ice formed on still water during the night. It is not believed that any very serious damage was done to fruit trees because the buds are still small, but young plants suffered severely. Central New York vegetation has been slightly damaged by the recent cold. In northern New York buds had not developed enough to be caught. The sap has started again in the maples, and owners of sugar bushes are taking advantage of their chance. In the grape and peach regions growers fear much damage has been done.

Mass For Fallen Bulgarians.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, April 6.—The Macedonians here held a requiem mass at the cathedral for the repose of the souls of the revolutionary Bulgarians who were killed at Karbintzi, where a band of twenty-four insurgents under two Bulgarian officers were slaughtered by Turkish regulars and bashi bazouks. The portraits of the leaders of the band bound with crape were placed in the cathedral, and the officiating priest pronounced a sermon in which he held up the glorifying example of the victims. The edifice was crowded.

A LOCAL LODGE OF ELKS

PLANS ON FOOT TO SECURE A CHARTER FOR ONE.

Many Elks Reside Here, But Are Members Now at New Brunswick or Elizabeth.

Determined efforts are being made by a number of prominent men to organize a lodge of B. P. O. Elks, in this city. Success has so far attended their plan and within a short time, a charter is to be applied for. Fifty names have been placed on the charter list and there is a prospect for half as many more within the week.

There is already in this city in the neighborhood of fifty Elks, who belong to lodges at New Brunswick and Elizabeth. The time and trouble required to reach these places to attend meetings has been an incentive to have a home organization but no action was taken until recently. Those already in the order added to the new list, will see the lodge begin life with a membership of over 100. Several of the city officials are among those who have applied for admission.

Death Claim Settled.

SHAD IS VERY SCARCE HERE

PLAINFIELD'S FISH MARKETS EXPERIENCING GREAT DEARTH.

Prices Are Very High and No Immediate Prospect of a Reduction.

Plainfield fish markets, like those of New York and Philadelphia, are experiencing a dearth of shad, that is almost unprecedented. The season's delicacy in the seafood line was never so scarce and reports from the big shippers assert that next week will in all probability see a continuance, if not an advance, in the present high prices. Delaware Bay roe shad is now selling at from forty to fifty cents each at the wholesale stands and bucks are being snapped up at a cost of twenty and twenty-five cents. This is an advance of twenty-five cents apiece for roes and from eight to twelve cents for bucks since last week.

The big shippers along the lower Jersey coast blame the prevalent high winds for the meager supply. These prevent them from "fishing their nets," that is, getting the shad out after they have been caught in the meshes. In many cases the nets have been torn away and boat after boat has been coming in without a package of fish where they should be bearing hundreds.

Just how long this scarcity will last depends entirely upon the weather. From present prospects it is anything but encouraging as Delaware and Chesapeake bays are in an unusually bad state from high tides and roughness.

FUNERAL OF J. H. CUTHBERT.

Services Held From Grace Episcopal Church This Afternoon.

The funeral services over the remains of the late John H. Cuthbert, who died in New York Friday afternoon, were held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Grace Episcopal church when Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, the rector, officiated. The services were very impressive and many prominent New Yorkers, most of who were business associates of the deceased, were present at the services.

The floral display was very fine and among the contributions were pieces from Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, Anchor Lodge, F. and A. M., the Standard Oil Company, the Tidewater Oil Company and the Manhattan Oil Company. The floral display was unusually large and very elaborate.

The honorary pall bearers were Henry A. McGee, O. T. Waring, John Bushnell, Wade Hampton and two business associates from New York. The interment was at Hillside cemetery.

PERSONAL.

John H. Cose, of Spooner avenue, is confined to the house by illness.

Arthur Reed, of the Montclair Military School, is spending the Easter vacation at his home in Washington Park.

Rev. and Mrs. W. C. O'Donnell and son, of Jersey City, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Bowers, of Franklin place.

—Garret Sheppard has resigned his position with Woodhull & Martin.

—Johnston, 929 South avenue, is receiving daily shipments of best Lehigh coal and advises consumers to place their orders early. Telephone 2053.

Due Notice is Served.

Due notice is hereby served on the public generally that DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the only salve on the market that is made from the pure, unadulterated witch hazel. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has cured thousands of cases of piles that would not yield to any other treatment, and this fact has brought out many worthless counterfeits. Those persons who get the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve are never disappointed, because it cures. L. W. Randolph.

D. OF L. STATE CONVENTION

WILL BE HELD APRIL 21 AND 22 AT ATLANTIC CITY.

Movement on Foot to Re-Elect the State Councilor, Mrs. Mary L. Siefert, of Jersey City.

Representatives to the State Council of New Jersey, Daughters of Liberty, received this week circulars regarding the ninth regular session of that body, to be held in Odd Fellows' Hall, Atlantic City, on April 21 and 22. Owing to the fact that the majority of the councils are located in the northern and central sections of the State, it is not expected that the coming meeting will be as largely attended as those in the past, but it is claimed that at least 200 members will be present.

Delegates along the lines of the Central Railroad of New Jersey are making up a party to go to the meeting place on one train. They will make the trip on the afternoon express, leaving Jersey City at 3:52 o'clock and Newark at 3:35. For the accommodation of Essex county delegates, a special car will be attached to the train, and another will be given over to the Jersey City delegates. The party will be joined by representatives all along the line.

The board of State officers that arranged for the session is composed of State councilor, Mrs. Mary L. Siefert, of Jersey City; State vice councilor, Mrs. Bertha H. Jones, of Jersey City; junior ex-State councilor, Mrs. Sarah T. Rellstab, of Trenton; State treasurer, G. Albert Reining, of Port Richmond, N. Y.; State secretary, Willard L. Hayward, of Newark.

The reports to be submitted will show a membership of 13,003 in the State. This is a net gain of 743 for 1902. During that year the net gain in new councils was five, and in worth of councils $9,506.43. During 1902 the councils in the State paid out $19,428 in sick benefits and $13,335.50 in deaths benefit claims, a total of $32,763.50. Since January 1, 1896, these councils have paid about $140,000 in benefits.

A movement is on foot to re-elect the present State councilor. If this is done it will be a departure from the regular course, but many urge that one year is not sufficient to enable a State councilor to accomplish much work, and that the second year would see the development of plans made during the first.

The election of representatives to the national council promises to be a spirited contest. Seven will be elected, and if the experience of past years is repeated there will be about twenty candidates in the field.

LIFE HEREAFTER.

Rev. Dr. Lowis Belives That It Begins Immediately After Death—No Transistory State.

Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis occupied the pulpit at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church last evening and, in anticipation of Easter Sunday, preached an interesting sermon on the life hereafter.

He said while there was some discussion as to when that life begins he was of the opinion that when a person passed away he entered into the life at once and did not pass into any transitory state. He said that one should not fear death because it was leaving behind an earthly tent, which was but frail at its best, to go to a house not made with hands.

He was of the opinion that one should not mourn for the dead too deeply but should console himself with the fact that the absent one enters a place of everlasting rest and in to the Glory of God. He said that that was why the martyrs were able to enter the Roman arena with a smile upon their faces because they knew that the lion's teeth would be the means of tranporting them to a place where persecution was unknown and where life was everlasting.

Dr. Lewis's sermon was a most helpful one and was full of sound advice. In the morning Professor Thomas C. Hall, of Union Theological Seminary, preached.

BURGLARS CAME TO GRIEF.

One Killed and Two Others Caught In Western New York.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 6.—A special to the Post-Standard says:

"The series of burglaries which has been stirring the country around Himrods for the past few weeks was cleared up in a tragic manner early this morning. The night operator at Himrods thought he heard an explosion in the store of Eleed & Forbees. He gave an alarm, and a crowd of villagers quickly surrounded the place. A man's form was seen in the store, and he was commanded to surrender. For reply he boldly opened the door and, drawing a revolver, fired point blank at the crowd. The bullet failed to reach its mark, and before he could fire again his body was riddled with bullets and shot. He fell unconscious and died soon after.

"The burglar was a man of thirty-five years of age and weighed 160 pounds. His face was smooth, and he had sandy hair. His clothing was of excellent cut and material. A tattooed mark on the left arm just below the elbow may help to identify him. In a book in his pocket was the address 237 Edwards street and the name Julia Sheffer. A tag on his suit bore the name of Curnett Bros., Watkins, N. Y., and also the name of Frank Hennessey. The man was a stranger in the village."

A special to the Post-Standard from Waterloo, N. Y., says:

"Chief of Police Connor was walking past Clary's clothing store at an early hour in the morning when he saw a light in the place. Quickly gathering a few persons, he held the store surrounded and then entered through a rear window. With a revolver in his hand he leaped over a counter and called upon two men working at the safe to surrender. One of the pair made a dash at the chief, but a blow on the head with the butt of the revolver quieted him, and both were soon in custody. When taken to headquarters, one gave the name of Joseph McDermott of Cincinnati and the other John Kennedy of Brooklyn."

WABASH TROUBLE ENDED.

Men Get Substantial Advance In Amicable Adjustment.

ST. LOUIS, April 6.—After four months of controversy between the employees of the Wabash road and the officials of that system the differences have been finally adjusted and the controversy effectually and satisfactorily settled.

Officials of the brotherhoods representing the employees declare that the settlement is eminently satisfactory and is a sweeping victory for organized labor. The Wabash officials declare that all differences with the employees have been finally terminated in a satisfactory manner and that future relations in all probability will be most harmonious. The following are the main points embraced in the settlement:

Twelve per cent increase for conductors, brakemen and baggagemen in the passenger service and 15 per cent for conductors and brakemen in the freight service over the rates which existed Jan. 1, 1902, west of the Mississippi river.

East of the Mississippi river the rates will be brought up to this standard when competing lines in the same territory shall grant similar increases.

For the firemen increases were granted on the Canadian lines in accordance with the Canada Southern division of the Michigan Central. On the lines in the United States material increases and improvements in the working conditions were granted the firemen.

The various yardmen receive a substantial increase, varying in different localities.

There is an entire revision of rules applying to all classes of train service. This was the main bone of contention and was granted in its entirety.

Ten Days' Leave For Naval Men.

When the vessels of the squadron reach the mouth of Chesapeake bay from the south, where they have been during the winter, they are to be reviewed by Admiral Dewey and Rear Admiral Taylor, the chief of the bureau of navigation, after which most of them will proceed to the northern navy yards for docking and repairs.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May be of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

It must candidly be admitted that the present Legislature has come in for more condemnation from Republican newspapers and Republican voters generally, than any similar body convened since the days of '92 and '93.—Elizabeth Journal.

Through trolley connections between Jersey City and Philadelphia are nearly established. There only remains one mile of track to be completed a few miles below Bristol in Pennsylvania to make a continuous ride the whole distance. This short stretch of rail will be laid in a few weeks. Trolley roads now extend down through South Jersey and will eventually reach the southern boundaries of the State. They are making progress in other directions, so that in time every principal point in New Jersey can be reached by trolley connections.—Newark Advertiser.

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887 — PLAINFIELD N J., TUESDAY, APRIL 7 1903 — TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR.

CITY FATHERS AUTHORIZE NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

Vote For Bond Issue of $125,000 to Meet Cost of Site and Erection of the New Building.

ADOPT TAX BUDGET FOR THE YEAR

INCREASE IN APPROPRIATIONS FOR FIRE AND POOR—DECREASE IN AMOUNT OF THE GENERAL FUND.

The Net Increase in Total Budget Amounts to $4,125—Fix Date for Public Hearing on Project of Sewer for Southwestern Section—Report of Auditing of City Books is Not Made Public—Lots of Routine Business Comes Before the Common Council.

It is now a settled thing that the hopes of those who have long waited for the erection of a new City High School are to be realized, for the Common Council at the regular April meeting last evening in accordance with a resolution and the adoption on the second reading of an ordinance both introduced by Mr. Daniel, appropriated $125,000 for the purpose of purchasing lands and erecting such a school building. The sum appropriated is the same as recommended by the Board of School Estimate and reported upon some time ago. The recent decision declaring the McKee school act constitutional removed the last barrier in the way of the school.

In appropriating the $125,000, the ordinance provides for the issuance of bonds of $1,000 denomination each to bear 4 per cent. interest. The first sixty bonds will bear date of June 1, 1903, and the balance June 1, 1904. Three of the bonds are to mature September 1, 1912, and five more are to mature on March 1 of each year between 1913 and 1916 and the balance are to be payable in such manner so that they shall mature March 1 of each year from 1917 to 1933. The proceeds of the bonds are to be deposited with the custodian of school moneys, and taxes are to be assessed and collected in sufficient sum to meet the principal and interest on the bonds. The ordinance was adopted on first and second reading and ordered engrossed and advertised.

Next in importance to the new High School, the annual tax budget was considered. Mr. Daniel introduced the ordinance fixing the various amounts. The whole amount to be raised is $106,075 as against $101,950 last year. While there is a net increase of $4,125, there is also a decrease of $1,375 in the general fund. The sum of $46,975 to be raised includes $24,000 as a general tax for street improvements, salaries, rent, printing, stationery, Board of Health, exclusive of the other stated amounts. The amount for the police also comes out of the sum of $46,975. Last year the police received $16,500 and this year it is likely to be a little more owing to an increase in salaries.

The fire department appropriation is $23,000, an increase of $2,000 over last year. The poor department receives $6,000, an increase of $2,000 over last year. This also includes $1,000 which is to be given to the hospital for the care and treatment of the indigent poor who may be sent to that institution by the city physician, overseer of the poor or others who may have such authority. For street lighting the sum of $12,800 is appropriated, an increase of $300 over last year, while the Plainfield Public Library and Reading Room receives $4,000. Included in the budget is $5,600 principal on the sewer bonds and $6,500 for interest on the sewer obligation. The ordinance will be advertised according to law.

Another important matter considered was an ordinance providing for an extension to the sewer system in the southwestern part of the city included in that territory which it is proposed to improve and build upon. Mr. Tolles introduced the ordinance which was adopted on first and second readings and ordered advertised. A public hearing on the subject will be given at the regular meeting Monday evening, May 4. The territory provided for in the ordinance includes Plainfield avenue from Stelle avenue to Pemberton avenue, Pemberton avenue from Plainfield avenue to Grant avenue, Grant avenue from Pemberton avenue to Sherman avenue, Sherman avenue from Plainfield avenue to Grant avenue, Drexel road, Upland way, Gwenid avenue and Beresford place.

Then followed considerable routine business of more or less importance. The Plainfield Electric Light Company notified the Council that ten electric lights have been put in position, as ordered, and the Plainfield Water Supply Company notified the Council that a hydrant has been located on West Second street as ordered at a previous meeting. Armstrong Mulford and other members of the City Board of Registry and Election, in a communication, informed the Council that a recent decision in the district court at Orange was favorable to the claim made by the board for double pay in election work and the board asked for favorable action in the local claims. The matter was referred.

A communication was received from the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital in which the board offered to take care of the indigent poor of the city for one year for the sum of $1,000, $500 of which is to be paid July 31 and the other $500 December 1. A little later the offer was accepted on a resolution offered by Mr. Daniel and provision for the expenditure was made in the tax budget.

Street Commissioner Gavett reported that twenty-one sewer permits were granted between December of last year and March of this year. City Judge Wm. N. Runyon presented his first quarter's report. This showed that 115 cases had been before him, of which number thirty were fined, sentence was suspended on sixty-eight, fourteen were committed and three were dismissed. The fines amounted to $213, of which amount $2.04 was turned over to City Treasurer Wm. F. Arnold, the difference being paid for expenses. Building Inspector T. O. Doane reported that twenty-seven building permits were granted during the month of March.

Mayor O. L. Jenkins appointed Joseph B. Clark, a call-man, to the position of regular fireman in the city department, and Wm. Jaeger was appointed a call-man to take the place vacated by Clark. Both appointments were confirmed.

Mr. Daniel reported on the petition of C. W. Ellis regarding the tax on a property in Netherwood, and upon the advice of Corporation Counsel Marsh, he recommended that no action be taken. Mr. Marsh said that Mr. Ellis should have appeared before the Commissioners of Appeal for redress and that the Council now has no authority in the matter. Mr. Daniel also reported on the petition of W. J. Dodd, who asked for exemption from paying a tax on three dogs because they were only puppies. Mr. Daniel stated that the law does not specify any particular age at which dogs can be taxed and no exception is thus made. Following this action Mr. Daniel offered a resolution fixing $2 as the dog tax for the coming year. He also, by resolution, fixed the appropriation for the Board of Health for the coming year at $3,750, an increase of $250 over last year. The same procedure was taken in the appointment of George B. Wean as city stenographer and copyist to the Common Council and

PRIMARY TEACHERS ELECT

ANNUAL MEETING OF PRIMARY AND JUNIOR TEACHERS' UNION.

Reports for the Year Show Balance Still in the Treasury, and a Gain of Membership.

The annual meeting of the Primary and Junior Sunday-school Teachers' Union was held yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. building. There was a gratifying attendance of members and the reports showed progress and a good condition of the Union.

The officers chosen for the coming year are as follows: President, Miss Nettie Beeching; first vice president, Mrs. J. A. Powlison; second vice president, Mrs. F. R. Baker; third vice president, Mrs. J. P. Mosher; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. R. W. Barnes; librarian, Mrs. Morse; organist, Mrs. L. R. Schofield.

The report of the secretary and treasurer showed the receipts for the year to be $83.90 and the disbursements $79.12, with a balance of $2.19. This was made possible by the balance left over from last year. The present membership of the Union is forty-six, there being an addition of seven during the year.

The Union has contributed literature and clothing for the poor whites of North Carolina, through Miss Hall, formerly of Warren chapel, who is now a missionary to these people in the south. At the meeting yesterday a most interesting letter was received from Miss Hall and read. She told of her work among the poor whites.

GRAVE MISTAKE.

Thus Farmer Orator Martine Labels the Action of Legislature in Passing Repealer.

James E. Martine was asked by a Press reporter what he thought of the passage of the North Plainfield repealers?

"I think it a grave mistake," said the Farmer Orator. "If the measures were inoperative, then they could certainly do no harm to have left them on the statute book. If they were still operative then the people should have a vote on them.

"These questions were strictly the business of the people of Plainfield and North Plainfield and the exceeding industry of President Hutchinson in repealing the measures was unbecoming to say the least, there was no good argument advanced in favor of the repeal. Gentlemen of the Legislature, you have made a grave mistake and you will see it. Consolidation and annexation is inevitable. Nothing can stop it. It is no answer to the proposition to enter into violent and abusive attacks on ex-Senator Charles A. Reed. I believe Senator Reed is prompted from loftier purposes than sordid selfishness. To try to bring partizan politics into this is absurd. I am a Democrat and will make every reasonable and honest effort for my party but believe that he serves his party best who serves his community best."

RESIDENCES IN DANGER FROM BURNING BARN

Much Excitement in Dunellen Over Blaze in the Heart of the Town.

SENT HERE FOR AID

PLAINFIELD'S DEPARTMENT RESPONDED TO THE CALL FOR ASSISTANCE.

Turned Back at City Line When It Was Discovered That Blaze Was Not As Serious As First Supposed—Loss is $700.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, April 7—Dunellen was thrown into a fervor of excitement, yesterday afternoon, by the breaking out of a fire in a thickly built up section of the borough. The blaze originated in a barn belonging to Isaac Giddis, situated in the rear of his residence on North avenue, and was a mass of flames when discovered. An excited citizen thought Taylor's Hotel and several nearby houses were doomed and telephoned to the Plainfield department for assistance. Chief Doane, together with No. 2 hose wagon and the steamer, responded but on learning the extent of the conflagration, turned back at the city line.

The Dunellen department responded to an alarm sent in by Charles Vliet. The barn was beyond all aid and the firemen devoted their attention to saving Mr. Giddis' residence and that of Fred Stilger located in close proximity, both of which caught fire twice. It required two hours' hard work before the blaze was entirely extinguished.

In the barn were several wagons and a valuable hunting dog, the latter the property of Dr. E. A. Giddis and valued at $150, all of which were burned. Early arrivals made heroic attempts to rescue the perishing canine but were driven back each time. One of the wagons was a comparatively new surrey belonging to Paul Reusch.

The total loss is placed at $700, which is practically covered by insurance. A little over a year ago, Mr. Giddis' residence was badly damaged by a fire which broke out in the middle of the day.

CITY SCHOOL BOARD FIXES TAX BUDGET

This Year's Figures Are $64,000, Which Are $2,000 More Than Last Year's Budget.

AT REGULAR MEETING

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH ENGAGED FOR COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

Speaker for Occasion Has Not Yet Been Secured—To Paint Bryant and Franklin Schools—An Exhibit of the Basket Work.

Beyond the introduction of the ensuing year's expense budget, nothing of importance was transacted at last evening's meeting of the City Board of Education. All discussion in regard to the new High School was left to the Common Council and the subject was in no way touched upon by the members.

According to the finance committee's estimate, $64,000 will be needed to support the city's educational interest for the year 1903-4. This is an increase of about $2,000 over last year's appropriation and is exclusive of the State tax apportion which amounts to $25,000 for this district. The amounts must be submitted to the Board of School Estimate and may be allowed or decreased.

In the way of routine business, the tax collector's report showed $1,849.83 had been received during the month. The custodian of school money's report stated the receipts for the month to have been $3,992.26 and the disbursements $9,066.54, leaving a total balance on hand of $21,109.60. A request from the medical examiners to reimburse Dr. Norman H. Probasco for assistance in vaccinations was granted.

The bill for the new flagpole, erected in the Franklin and High School yard some months ago, and which was held up, was again presented by John Abbott. He asked $147 for a three-piece-pole, which is $50 less than a two-piece one would have cost and which the Board contracted for. The bill was ordered paid.

Superintendent Maxson stated he had, as yet, been unable to engage a speaker for the commencement exercises but hoped to succeed within the month. In this connection, the president was authorized to secure the First Baptist church for the commencement on the usual terms.

The committee on buildings asked for permission to solicit bids for the painting of the Bryant and Franklin Schools, same to be opened at a special meeting. The request was granted as was one from the committee on fuel to ask for coal bids.

After adjournment was taken, the mebmers of the board were shown an interesting exhibit of basket work made by the pupils of the Irving School and arranged by Superintendent Maxson. The samples were taken at large from many others completed during school hours and showed a marvellous dexterity. The average age of the pupils being taught this work is ten years and the members of the board were greatly pleased with the results.

NEW LEAGUE MAKES START

Formal Organization of Plainfield Association Baseball League is Made.

FOUR PLAINFIELD CLUBS

Councilman Robert L. Lee is Chosen President of the League—Three of Clubs Have Grounds—Clubs Are Reform A. A., Clinton Ave., Orange F. C. and Cuban Giants.

Representatives of the Reform A. A., Clinton Avenue A. A., Orange Field Club and the Cuban Giants met last evening at Reform Hall for the purpose of organizing another baseball league in this city. The meeting was attended by a number of interested spectators. Several committees were named, a president elected and other matters of importance were transacted.

Edward P. T. Smith was chosen president of the meeting and Bernard Brady filled the position of temporary secretary. Councilman Robert L. Lee was chosen permanent president of the league but the election of a secretary was deferred until Saturday night when the organization of the league will be completed. Two committees were appointed, one to arrange for games and the other to model by-laws. The committee on schedule comprises James Brown, George McVoy and Edward P. T. Smith and the committee on by-laws will comprise William F. Walters, John Kriney and Alfred Egan.

No committee was named for the selection of umpires, the matter being left to the managers of each team who, at the meeting on Saturday evening, will hand in a name for that position and the four names thus handed in will be acted upon by the league officers. It was decided that the league would be known as the Plainfield Association Baseball League.

The question of what kind of a ball to use at the games was brought up for discussion with the result that the standard Spalding ball was decided upon as being the best.

Each team has its own ball field except the Orange Field Club and it was decided that that club should use the Cuban Giants' grounds unless the Giants were playing a home game that day when the Orange Field Club would use the grounds of the other clubs.

The season will open with the new league on May 16 and during the season eighteen games will be played. Most of the teams have their nines enrolled but have not placed their candidates so far. This matter of business will be brought up at Saturday's meeting.

The managers of the various teams will be John Kriney, [of the Clinton Avenue A. A.; Edward P. T. Smith, of the Reform A. A.; William F. Walters, of the Cuban Giants, and Alfred Egan, of the Orange Field Club.

The games of the new league promise to be equally as interesting as those of the City League. In many of the lists of candidates for positions on the teams appear the names of strong ball players who have made good showings in ball games played in this city during past seasons.

SOME OF ATTRACTIONS TO BE FOUND AT LOCAL STORES.

Spring time is here and oxford ties will soon be popular. Nothing like being prepared. VanArsdale, the East Front street shoe man, has all the new designs from the best makers. Shoes for everybody.

Whenever it comes to getting the very best of values James R. Blair's haberdashery is the best place to go. He keeps at his Park avenue store a complete line of men's furnishing goods and the very latest patterns in shirts and cravats.

S. Scheuer & Company, of West Front street, are gratified over the rapidly increasing patronage at their store. This is attributed to the fact that the firm sells the best goods at the lowest prices. Prompt deliveries are made to all parts of the city and vicinity.

In the compounding of prescriptions, Dudley S. Miller, the Park avenue druggist, is especially careful, and besides he only uses the best and purest drugs. Mr. Miller's new soda-water fountain will soon be installed and he will then be prepared to give his patrons the best of soda.

As the time for many weddings approaches suitable gifts are the proper thing and there is no better place to make a selection than at Charles E. Vail's jewelry store on Park avenue. His stock comprises many handsome articles in silver and goldware and the prices will be within your reach.

"Don't be a clam" is a trite saying that made a Philadelphia man famous. What he meant was that people shouldn't be fooled into buying something they didn't want. Anyone trading at Fred Endress' market will never be fooled for the place is conducted on strict business principles.

Perhaps it may not be known that Hodge, the druggist in the Y. M. C. A. building, makes a specialty of prescription work. This branch of his service is under his personal direction and extreme care is taken in all work. All the standard preparations always on hand, while toilet articles are a feature.

One reason why so many people are contented with their grocer is because they trade at W. W. Dunn's grocery store on Duer street and Lincoln place. Everything in fresh greens and vegetables, such as rhubarb, cucumbers, celery, tomatoes and string beans are to be secured at that store besides staple and fancy groceries.

Somebody once said that there is no difference in butchers, they keep all the same meats and they are delivered in about the same manner. Smalley Brothers, on North avenue, have always aimed to conduct their business in a distinctive style and consequently they use great care in the selection of their meats and particular attention is paid to deliveries.

One has not seen the very latest styles in this year's millinery unless I. H. Boehm's has been visited. There one of the most complete displays of millinery ever seen in this city has been placed on exhibition this spring. The flowers are special designs made by some of the very best New York houses and therefore the hats secured at Boehm's are just as good and correct in style as they are in New York and what is more they are much cheaper.

Mrs. J. E. Truell, of Central avenue, returned home yesterday from a trip to Chicago and Buffalo.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y.

THEATRICAL.

"The liveliest, most musical and best musical show in town," is the declaration of the New York World, when "The Prince of Pilsen," Henry W. Savage's musical comedy opened its New York engagement at the Broadway Theatre. The metropolitan engagement promises to be a long and prosperous one, and Composer Luders' music is being whistled from the Battery to the Harlem.

Another signal triumph for the present managerial policy of the Grand Opera House, New York, is apparent in the appearance there this week of Klaw & Erlanger's magnificent production, "The Billionaire," with Jerome Sykes and the entire original company and stage paraphernalia employed in the one hundred and odd nights run, just ended, at Daly's Theatre. The stage of the Grand, being of unusual dimensions, proves a valuable aid for the proper presentation of the famous miniature theatre scene, which has been one of the greatest hits of the piece and, in fact, proved one of the most marvelous exhibitions of modern stage mechanism ever conceived.

DID THE WORK.

The Little Giant Fire Extinguishers Shown to be Very Effective at Demonstration.

A successful demonstration of the workings of the Little Giant fire extinguisher was held on the vacant lot, Sixth street and Arlington avenue, Saturday afternoon. It was witnessed by 100 persons among them being Chief Doane, C. W. Runyon, of the local telephone company; A. J. Bronson, of the Park Avenue Hotel, a representative from the Herzig & Kapp skirt factory and many others.

Two fires were started, the first of dry wood, which sent a flame twenty-five feet in the air. It was put out in a few seconds with two extinguishers. The second fire was made intense by the use of a paraffine oil but was killed in eight seconds with one extinguisher. All three extinguishers used had been in the possession of Chief Doane for five years.

Letters from Women

Cured by the use of Kodol are received daily. Their troubles nearly all begin with indigestion or other stomach disorder.

If the food you eat fails to give strength to your body, it is because the juices secreted by the stomach and digestive organs are inadequate to transform the nutrient properties of the food into blood. That is indigestion. The system is deprived of the amount of nourishment required to keep up the strength, and the result is that one or more of the delicate organs gradually grows weak, and then weaker, until finally it is diseased. Here a great mistake is made. That of treating the diseased organ. The best doctors in the land make this very mistake. Why should they? It is so easy to see that the trouble is not there.

Kodol Cures

This famous remedy puts the stomach and digestive organs in a healthy condition so that rich, red blood is sent coursing through the veins and arteries of every muscle, tissue and fiber throughout every organ of the entire body, and by Nature's law of health, full strength and vigor is soon restored to each.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders.

I have taken Kodol for nearly two months after each meal and it is the only remedy that gave relief from the terrible pains I endured. After a time I would take it but once a day, and now, while I keep a bottle handy, I seldom need it, as it has cured me. MRS. J. W. COOLSAUGH, Milo Center, N. Y.

PENNELL UNMASKED

Buffalo Paper Makes Grave Charges Against Dead Man.

A DEFAULTER FOR A LARGE SUM

It Is Also Claimed That Burdick Murder Suspect Had Contemplated Suicide For Two Years—How the Story Leaked Out.

BUFFALO, April 7.—Arthur R. Pennell, the principal suspect in the Burdick murder case, was a defaulter, according to the Commercial of this city.

His peculations, the paper says, amounted to between $150,000 and $200,000.

The paper also declares that Pennell contemplated suicide for two years.

The whole story, the Commercial says, leaked out as the result of a legal dispute over two life insurance policies and is to the effect that Pennell induced friends in the east who had known his family and the family of his wife to place money in his hands for investment. He acted in fact as their financial agent. He would inform them of some good investment which he had come across which would pay an excellent rate of interest, and they would send him money. The money which was sent him for investment, it is alleged, he spent, and when interest payments fell due he made the payments out of his own pocket.

Wallace Taylor, who was Pennell's attorney and intimate friend, is referred to by the paper as saying he had suspected irregularities, but that he had no proof of any such wrongdoing.

Incidentally it has been learned that Pennell made provision for the payment to Mrs. Edwin L. Burdick of $25,000. This was to come out of his life insurance.

Pennell carried over $200,000 life insurance in order that after his death the eastern estates to which he is alleged to have been a defaulter might be able to recoup the losses which they had sustained through him. In his will Pennell named as administrator of his estate his brother, J. Frederick Pennell.

He left to his administrator sealed instructions that upon his death he should make good in full out of his estate all the losses which had been sustained through his defalcations.

The statement filed by the administrator of the estate of Pennell bears out the suspicion that Pennell was the "John Doe" of Buffalo and acted as a go between for the municipal authorities and the city's sources of "graft." Practically the entire estate is in "personal property."

His estate consisted of $175,000 in personal property and only $3,000 in real property.

Pennell is said to have planned suicide for two years. The fact is known, says the Commercial, that Pennell planned two years ago to throw himself in front of a train at Peekskill and to make it appear that his death was an accident. He stopped off at Peekskill on the way back from New York with the intention of committing suicide in that way, but his nerve failed him. Recently he told the story of the Peekskill incident himself. During the Pan-American exposition he sought for days for an opportunity to commit suicide in a manner that would make it appear accidental. He had an idea that he could be run over in some way while at the exposition, but he never could nerve himself up to the point where he could throw himself under a train or drop under the wheels of a trolley car.

It appears there were two life policies which had not been handed over to the administrator. One was for $15,000 and the other for $10,000. Those two policies had been assigned by Pennell to Attorney Wallace Thayer in trust. In one he was referred to as "Wallace Thayer, trustee," and in the other he was designated "Wallace Thayer, as trustee."

The insurance companies took legal counsel in the matter and held up payments. J. Frederick Pennell, the administrator of the estate, was called in and insisted on having more information before he would consent to the payment of any insurance money to Mr. Thayer as trustee. It was then that the story of Pennell's alleged defalcations and his plans to commit suicide were made known. The $25,000 insurance money assigned to Thayer by Pennell in trust is supposed to be paid over to Mrs. Burdick in accordance with the provisions of the bond for $50,000 which Pennell gave prior to his death. Mr. Thayer won't talk about it. In fact, he has declined to give even the administrator of Pennell's estate any information concerning it.

Fatal Dynamite Explosion.

LANCASTER, Pa., April 7.—Roy Johnson, aged eleven years, who, with his father, Benjamin Johnson, and his mother, was injured in a dynamite explosion which wrecked their home in Providence township, is dead. Mrs. Johnson, it is thought, will also die, while the elder Johnson is expected to recover. The dynamite had been brought into the kitchen to dry when in some manner it was exploded.

Keene Refused an Injunction.

CINCINNATI, April 7.—Judge Lurton has refused the injunction asked for by the Keene interests to restrain the Harriman interests from voting the Union Pacific holdings at the Southern Pacific's company election that was to have been held next Wednesday.

Large Shipment of Coal.

PITTSBURG, April 7.—Nearly 1,250,000 bushels of coal were shipped south yesterday. This is an unusually large shipment for one day of this season of the year.

URGED NOT TO SIGN

Governor Odell Receives a Strong Anticanal Protest.

CASE STRONGLY AND TERSELY STATED

Every Dollar Recently Expended on New York Waterways Claimed to Have Been Wasted—Special Message on Taxation.

ALBANY, April 7.—John I. Platt of Poughkeepsie, who at nearly every hearing opposed the thousand ton barge canal bill, has filed with Governor Odell a brief stating objections to the governor's signing the bill.

Mr. Platt in behalf of the New York State Tax and Transportation Reform association and of the people of the state of New York asserts that the canal has for years failed to pay its own expenses, that the purposes avowed are not right or just, that cheaper transportation is not in the interest of the state unless obtained by cheaper cost, that canal transportation is not cheap because three-fourths of its cost has to be paid out of the state treasury.

Mr. Platt protests that there will never be any great gain in traffic or any great decrease in cost of transportation. Moreover, he attacks the practicability of the deeper canal. He says: "Nothing like the thousand ton barge is in successful use. It is known to theory only. It carries two-thirds of its load below the water line. The submerged section will occupy more than 20 per cent of the entire section of the canal, and no vessel can be economically propelled within so circumscribed a waterway."

The history of the canal is crowded with estimates and predictions which are not trustworthy, but not one of the proposed improvements has been completed within the promised cost, and not one of them has produced the promised results.

The amount expended within the last twenty years in "alleged betterments," Mr. Platt declares, is more than has been charged to the construction account of any railway in the state, "and every dollar of it has been wasted."

In a special message sent last night to both houses of the legislature Governor Odell emphasizes his views of the importance of some legislation at this session upon the subject of taxation of mortgages. Governor Odell insists that the pending measure is one to reduce the rate of taxation of mortgages and should not be regarded as a proposition to tax mortgages. Likening a mortgage to a note or stock certificate, the governor says, it has been the policy of the state to exempt the stock certificates of domestic corporations in the hands of private interests from personal taxation because an additional tax to that now levied upon the corporation itself would be manifestly double taxation. "But," says he, "the extent to which we have gone in the assessment and collection of taxes against corporations finds no parallel in the taxes of private individuals and private ownership."

Successful Wireless Experiments.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Wireless telegraphy tests between Washington and Annapolis with an experimental apparatus have resulted so satisfactorily that Rear Admiral Bradford, chief of the bureau of equipment, has ordered twenty more sets of instruments with which vessels and shore stations will be equipped. It is intended that masts shall be constructed at various points along the coast, including Boston, Cape Cod, Montauk Point, New York, Cape Henry, Va.; Norfolk, Dry Tortugas, Key West, Mare Island and Point Bonita, Cal. At the request of Admiral Bradford the Topeka has been sent to Annapolis for wireless work, and the Prairie will be detailed for like duty at Boston.

Two Workmen Killed.

MALONE, N. Y., April 7.—A steam shovel was being worked on the Delaware and Hudson railroad at a point between Saranac Lake and Lake Placid when a bank of sand caved in, completely covering the shovel and burying four men who were working it to a depth of five feet. Two men, an American and an Italian, were killed. The two other men, both Italians, were rescued with difficulty. Many other laborers had narrow escapes.

Trouble at a Colliery.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 7.—There was no work yesterday at the Barnum colliery, near Pittston, on account of the drivers and runners refusing to go to work. They claim that they are required to work more than nine hours a day, with no time allowed for dinner. Their demand is to quit work at 4:30 o'clock every afternoon in order to make up for the time they labor during the noon hour to keep the breaker running.

Frost's Damage Trifling.

HOOSICK FALLS, N. Y., April 7.—Horticulturists in this vicinity state that the recent heavy frost has caused no appreciable damage, but that vegetation received a slight setback. Some early blossoms were nipped, but these were so far advanced as to be unseasonable. Farmers were much concerned at first on account of fruit trees, etc., but it is now assumed that the damage was trifling.

Fatal Riots in Servia.

BELGRADE, Servia, April 7.—The gendarmes had to be called out to suppress the rioting which took place here as the outcome of a demonstration against an objectionable police regulation, and as a result two rioters and two gendarmes were killed and many wounded on both sides. One hundred and thirty arrests were made.

A DAY IN DAKOTAS.

The President Makes a Dozen Speeches.

FROM SIOUX FALLS TO ABERDEEN.

A Feature of the Public Greetings Was the Large Number of Children in the Throngs.

ABERDEEN, S. D., April 7.—President Roosevelt yesterday traversed South Dakota and made more speeches than on any other day during his present trip. He began with two speeches at Sioux Falls in the morning and ended his twelfth speech last evening at Aberdeen. The speeches were confined for the most part to the tariff and to the general prosperity of the country. In all his speeches he followed closely the lines of his former addresses on these subjects.

The president was accorded a cordial welcome at the different stopping places, and at many stations where the train did not stop crowds gathered and cheered as the special train sped by. One feature of the day was the large number of children in the various audiences, and the president referred to them several times, saying that he was glad to see that the stock was not dying out.

At Tulare the president departed from his usual custom and, descending from his car, shook hands with the people gathered at the station.

Yankton was the first stop after the train left Sioux Falls. To the multitude at Yankton the president spoke on the tariff and the qualities of good citizenship, saying:

"It is a real pleasure to see you, and I can sum up all I have to say to you in just a couple of phrases. You need wise laws. See that you get them. You need honest administration of the laws. See that you have it. But do not make the mistake of thinking that any law or any administration of the law can take the place of fundamental qualities that make a good individual citizenship and make a good nation, the qualities of honesty, of courage and of good common sense."

At Mitchell the president made the longest address of the day. His audience was large and his speech frequently interrupted by applause. Here he discussed the work of individuals and the important part they play in the upbuilding of the nation. "You can lift up a man if he stumbles," he said, "but if he lie down you cannot carry him. If you try to do so, it will not help him, and it will not help you."

Narrow Escape For Kane.

BRISTOL, R. I., April 7.—It has become known here that Captain Woodbury Kane, who is a guest of C. Oliver Iselin of the tender Sunbeam, had an unpleasant experience with some fluid disinfectant which he drank by mistake for distilled water Saturday night, and a physician's services were needed to relieve his distress. Captain Kane has now recovered his usual health. The disinfectant, it is understood, was in a bottle labeled "Distilled Water." He drank a little of it before he realized that it was not water. Shortly after he became very ill and in a comatose state was taken ashore to the home of John B. Herreshoff, where Dr. Neylan attended him. Captain Kane was restored to consciousness, and Sunday he was under treatment.

Carnegie's Offer to Cornell Students.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 7.—President Schurman of Cornell university announces that he has received from Andrew Carnegie, who is a trustee of the university, a communication in which Mr. Carnegie begged to be allowed to pay all bills incurred by students of Cornell university on account of sickness during the recent epidemic at Ithaca in all cases where the students or their parents will permit it. It is Mr. Carnegie's desire to place each student who has been ill in precisely the same pecuniary condition as that which he occupied at the outbreak of the epidemic. The gift is applicable to all sick students, those who withdrew from the university as well as those who remained at Ithaca.

Asked For a Life Sentence.

NEWARK, N. J., April 7.—Annie M. Hilderbrandt, the young trained nurse of Orange who was recently convicted of having shot and seriously wounded Bernard J. McCallam at Orange, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment in the county jail. When arraigned for sentence, she asked that she be sent to prison for life, saying that her life had been ruined and she might as well spend what remained of it in jail. She fainted after her sentence had been pronounced.

Ohio Elections.

COLUMBUS, O., April 7.—Municipal elections were held throughout Ohio yesterday. Returns as far as received show the re-election of Mayor Jones in Toledo, Johnson in Cleveland and Fleischmann in Cincinnati, the latter by a greatly increased majority as compared with previous years.

A TROLLEY STRIKE.

With labor troubles on every side, Plainfield will indeed be fortunate if it passes through the spring without a strike of some kind. Just at present, the only one that threatens is on the trolley lines. The motormen and conductors of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Street Railway Company have demanded an increase in wages. The demand affects the through line and the systems in Plainfield, Rahway and Elizabeth. Unless their demands are granted, the men declare they will strike.

During the ten years that the trolley cars have been running in Plainfield streets there has never been any trouble between employer and employe and the inconveniences and dangers, which have accompanied street car strikes in other cities, have never been seen in Plainfield. While the question of wages has come up before, it has always been settled without any trouble, both sides remaining temperate in their stand and meeting the other half way. It is sincerely to be hoped that this demand for more wages will be settled as satisfactorily as the others have been.

Those who have followed the details of the street car strike at Waterbury, Conn., cannot but feel how unfortunate it would be for all concerned if any such happenings, even if on a much smaller scale, should come to Plainfield. This city is fortunate in lacking an element in its population which has proved so disastrous in other cities. The machinists' strike last spring brought to light, however, the possibilities of violence which had been heretofore unsuspected. The citizens will be most glad to see a peaceful settlement of this question without giving even the opportunity for any interruption of traffic or other unpleasant features which so often follow in the train of these disturbances.

GO SLOWLY.

With the advent of spring has come the automobile, which promises to be very much in the foreground this summer. The State Legislature has just passed a law which gives the automobilist his just rights in all parts of the State and yet protects the rest of the inhabitants. Because a man has taken out a license for his vehicle and has the number properly displayed behind, he must not think that the thoroughfares of the State are his particular property and he can do as he likes thereon. The State law expressly provides for a "speed of one mile in seven minutes where such street or highway passes through the built-up portion of a city, town, township, borough or village where the houses are and average less than one hundred feet apart."

Local police officials should see to it that offenders of this law are not overlooked. A few examples at the opening of the season may be the means of preventing some disastrous accidents during the summer months. The automobilists have their rights, which should be upheld, but they must not exceed them.

There are no signs of the immediate demise of the game of golf, judging from the elaborate schedule which the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club has prepared. That club is now at its best and its membership is growing steadily.

Reports from upper New York State tell of blizzards, sleighing and other incidents of winter. Weather Prophet DeVoe, Hackensack's famous man, declared that April would bring a snow storm of serious dimensions.

The baseball fever has risen to such a high pitch that now an All-Plainfield team is being organized to play a midweek game in order to entertain the cranks in the intervals between the Saturday games

Last evening's Common Council meeting proved of more than the usual interest. There were several questions of much importance to the city which came before the City Fathers.

HIGH SCHOOL IS ASSURED

committees, fixing his salary at $400 for the year. Mr. Daniel also offered a resolution providing for the borrowing of $1,000 for sewer improvements and another resolution transferring $2,500 from the general to the fire fund. These resolutions were all adopted by a unanimous vote.

Mr. Tolles reported on the petition for sidewalks on the northerly side of North avenue, between Richmond and Berckman streets, stating that the walks would be laid within a short time. He also reported back the petition from John Hensey and other residents on North avenue, regarding the bad condition of that avenue and he said that the matter should be referred to the Board of Health.

Mr. Randolph offered a resolution providing for the appointment of Frederick W. Pierce and Harry Adams as special police, on the recommendation of Mayor Jenkins.

Mr. Murphy moved that the petition of the Home Real Estate Company for electric lights in the West End be granted and that one of the four electric lights petitioned for by the Plainfield Real Estate Company be granted. This light will be located at the corner of Monroe avenue and West Eighth street. Another resolution offered by Mr. Murphy called for an appropriation of $100 for the purchase of a typewriter for the use of Tax Collector F. H. Smith. The resolution was adopted.

The long expected report of City Auditor Collins, who for some time past has been at work examining and auditing the city books, was presented, but a motion was made by Mr. Daniel that it be referred to the finance committee. Thus the public was not made acquainted with the facts in the report. Many believe that inasmuch as the city has expended $900 for this work the public has a right to know the result of the auditing.

Mr. Gloak, as chairman of the alms committee, presented a letter received from the Organized Aid Association regarding the management and operation of the Industrial Home. This communication is the same as was published in The Daily Press in which the management was criticised for laxity, etc. Mr. Gloak stated that the committee has for some time past had under consideration the correcting of certain irregularities and he spoke of the conference held between the committee from the Charity Organized Aid Association and the committee from the Council, when certain plans were discussed. He said that it is the intention of the committee to adopt more strict rules for the management of the Home.

Mr. Daniel offered a resolution authorizing the tax collector to enforce the collection of taxes for 1900 under the Martin Act by publishing the names of the delinquents and selling the property where the tax is not paid, to the highest bidder.

A petition from W. H. Rogers and others for an electric light on West Fifth street between Central avenue and New street, was referred to the proper committee.

Licenses were granted to the following persons: Truckmen—Paul Meissner, H. J. Wierenga, George Conover & Sons (2), Frank Mobus, Frank Rickert, C. H. Staats; cartmen—Cyrus Binn, Spencer Conway, Richard Randolph, Wm. Kates; peddler on foot—Minnie Ferris, Jacob Berman, Samuel Sobel; peddler with horse and wagon—L. M. Bird, Metropolitan Supply Company, Jacob Sachar, Metropolitan Specialty Company; junkman—Frank Haulenbeek; sprinkler—City Sprinkling Company; hackman—Henry Hansen.

AN EASTER FESTIVAL.

Originality of Design and Modification of Paris Models at Hahne's.

Again the Newark shop, Hahne & Co.'s, of Broad street, is too big to be missed! And the occasion, an Easter festival. The great court, the largest in the country, so light and cheery, is given up to an Easter decorative scheme at once unique and elaborate.

Participating with wonderful potency in this Easter celebration are gown, suit and hat, proclaiming not only the luxury of the 1903 apparel, but the originality, the creative genius and the adaptability of the Hahne & Co. people.

In the matter of millinery it has been their aim this season to provide not only a wide collection of French models, but to create designs, less extreme; to modify the elaborate Parisian ideas, bringing them down to our more quiet taste, modifying the prices as well. And it is the consensus of opinion that they have accomplished their purpose; that in all points, save that of price, the product of their workrooms is in advance of that from the other side.

Their costumes! Lace, lace, lace, voile, crepe de chine and pongees, embroidered linen and—well, it's an age of luxury and an age of wonder along creative lines and marvelous in point of handwork.

There are but two departments connected with this great shop under the great high roof of which are assembled everything to wear, everything for the furnishing and beautifying of the home, and many good things to eat, but the same good taste, common sense and fair price conditions mark them all.

TRUANCY QUESTION.

Considered at Meeting of Borough Board of Education.

"Truancy and how shall we do away with it" was the main topic which came up for discussion at the meeting of the Borough Board of Education when they held their executive meeting last evening at the Borough High School. Several schemes were considered and the members of the board partially adopted measures which, they think, will break up the growing habit among the pupils.

The matter of teacher's salaries and applications was also considered.

Don't Anticipate Strike.

Local trolley employes say that the petition presented for more pay was not a demand but rather a request and did not intimate a strike. They declare, if the request is not granted, that with but few exceptions, they will abide by the decision. They are hopeful, however.

Struck by Train.

An unknown man, struck by a Jersey Central train at Bound Brook, was brought to Muhlenberg Hospital at noon today. He was suffering from severe scalp wounds and general injuries.

CUBAN CONGRESS RECONVENES.

President Palma Congratulates the Country on Peace and Order.

HAVANA, April 7.—Congress reassembled at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and will probably continue in session for three extra months on account of the necessity for the enactment of many laws before all the departments of the government get thoroughly under way.

These measures include approval of the naval station agreement and a permanent treaty covering Cuba's political relations with the United States, laws dealing with municipal government and defining the duty and authority of cabinet officers, both the latter laws including the question as to how far the general government shall continue to supersede the local governments in matters of sanitation and other public works; laws concerning gold and silver coinage, divorce and revision of the court system and customs tariffs.

A message from President Palma containing 12,000 words was read at the opening session. The president congratulates the country on the maintenance of peace and order since the strikes last November. He says that the scheme of reorganization of the rural guard has been begun and advises reform of the military laws, which, he says, are not adapted to a republican form of government, especially with reference to the jurisdiction over soldiers guilty of penal offenses.

The president says that negotiations have been completed providing for the entrance of Cuba in the postal union and for special arrangements with the United States and Mexico, and he advises an entire reconstruction of the postal and telegraph systems.

The majority of the municipalities, continues President Palma, exist with difficulty because their revenues are inadequate. The government feels that further assistance to the municipalities in many cases is unauthorized beyond paying the expenses of charities, schools and prisons, and the obligations of the municipalities cannot continue to be met unless congress specifically authorizes the government to act in this matter. The work of sanitation as at present conducted by the government is not in harmony with the constitution. Since the Platt amendment makes the government responsible for sanitation it is urged that an act covering the work of sanitation be passed. The message states that Cuba has now five diplomatic and seventy-eight consular representatives and that the government is considering various extradition treaties and the commercial treaty proposed by Great Britain. The message then says:

"Our relations with the United States continue to be close and cordial. Much more gratifying is the noble and resolutely favorable attitude of the president of that great republic. It is enough to remember the obstacles which his stubborn will have overcome in negotiating the reciprocity treaty and obtaining the ratification thereof and his firm purpose to summon a special session of congress to definitely approve it. Besides the sympathy and respect which we inspire among the American people by our exemplary conduct as an independent people who realize the duties and responsibilities of citizenship, these circumstances powerfully contribute in solidifying the good understanding between both nations.

"It is in our interest to worthily cultivate these sentiments, and we cannot do so better than by carrying out our obligations to the Washington government expeditiously, frankly and correctly, whether it be by granting what we ought to grant or refusing what we consider ourselves justified in refusing."

Kings Attend a Bull Play.

LISBON, April 7.—King Edward and King Carlos, accompanied by the Queen Dowager Maria Pia, Dom Affonso, the king's brother, and their suits, attended a bull play, called a "tourada," in the Campo Pequeno yesterday afternoon. The performance was highly spectacular, and, unlike the Spanish bullfight, none of the animals or bullfighters were seriously hurt. The performers gave a marvelous exhibition of agility in escaping from the rushes of the bulls. King Edward wore a Portuguese uniform, while the king of Portugal was attired in an English uniform.

Swiss Strikers Stone Police.

BASEL, Switzerland, April 7.—Two thousand five hundred masons and their assistants who are on strike here made a demonstration and endeavored to prevent nonstrikers from working. The police interfered, but were overwhelmed and stoned by the strikers, a number of the policemen being injured. The government has ordered a battalion of troops to be mobilized this morning in order to assist the police. Seven companies of soldiers are now picketing in the city.

Waterbury Men Held.

WATERBURY, Conn., April 7.—Eleven young men who are said to have participated in an attack on the nonunion crew of a trolley car in Waterville on the night of Feb. 26 have been held for the superior court on the charge of assault with intent to kill after a hearing in the city court.

Cheap Silver For Coinage.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The secretary of the treasury has purchased 236,500 ounces of fine silver for account of Philippine coinage at an average of 49.80 cents an ounce.

Refunding Bonds.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The amount of 3 and 4 per cent bonds actually exchanged to date for the 2 per cent consols under the secretary's recent refunding offer is $14,120,000.

Mr. Jepp Zensen, of 728 West Front street, pattern maker by trade says: "For a year I had a sort of grinding pain across my back at times extending up to my shoulders and there was a lameness over my kidneys and severe headaches. When I stooped I always felt dizzy and sometimes was fairly blinded. In the mornings I felt stiff and sore until I got some exercise. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in my city paper and so highly recommended for kidney complaint that I went to L. W. Randolph's drug store and got a box. They did me a great deal of good. From my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills I cannot do otherwise than endorse them."

LADY LABOR CONTRACTOR.

Mrs. Atwood and Her Success In a New Field.

One woman to evince great capacity in a wide field hitherto untrodden by her sex is Mrs. S. J. Atwood of Denver. Seventeen years ago Mrs. Atwood was a little widow with a baby, a father and mother and herself to support. The only legacy her husband left was a generous one of debts.

Her husband had busied himself at being an employment agent, contracting for the labor of men on railways, ranges and various construction works. He had made a poor showing at the business. Mrs. Atwood, however, knew something of it and resolved to continue it and make it successful. The husband apparently had not known what he was about. His widow did know.

She opened a small office in Denver and let it be known that she would supply men laborers wherever they were wanted. At once her business struck root and grew. Soon it became so large that she had not always time to eat or sleep, but had to attend to that part of her existence when she could and where. She herself accompanied her laborers to their destination and saw that their contracts were properly executed. This led to her making railway journeys east, west, north and south. Ere long she found herself shipping laborers by the trainload.

In this occupation Mrs. Atwood struck her gait, and she has kept to it ever since. Meantime the child that was a baby when Mrs. Atwood opened her first little office became a young lady, eighteen years old. She had grown to womanhood in the midst of her mother's business and seemed to understand it without specially learning it. She, too, has what in her mother seems a natural influence over men and can control and direct them. Suppose Mrs. Atwood receives a telegram for 200 men to work on a railroad 500 miles away. She gathers her men, and if business calls her elsewhere, so it is not convenient for her to deliver the goods—that is, the men—at their destination, she sends this eighteen-year-old girl as director and guide of the 200 laborers while they are on the train. Mrs. Atwood declares that this young daughter is the only woman besides herself in the world whom she would trust to conduct a trainload of men from New York to San Francisco.

The woman employment contractor's scheme has broadened out till it takes in the width of the continent. With headquarters at Denver she has branch offices in six cities. On one of the leading northwestern roads all the laborers are employed through Mrs. Atwood, who also manages their boarding trains and living arrangements. Her employment agency is the most extensive one in the world, yet she herself is a small, delicate looking woman physically.

Mentally, however, she seems to have trained herself according to the noble ideal of the ancient Stoics, who taught their disciples to say in the face of discomfort and suffering of what nature soever: "It is nothing. It will pass."

She says of herself: "I have schooled myself to endure whatever comes to me and to adapt myself to any situation. It is nothing to me to go eighteen to twenty hours without sleep. I have been nine days without removing my clothing, except for the purpose of taking off soiled garments and putting on clean ones. I can endure long spells of fasting without inconvenience."

Does it seem wonderful that a mere woman can endure so much? Yet it is no more than nearly all women—mothers, that is—have been equal to since the world began. They have watched day and night beside their children, have gone without food, sleep or rest many days at a time in their homes, and nobody thought they were doing anything uncommon.

In the region in which she operates Mrs. Atwood is called the "hobo catcher" because many of the men on her list are tramps at times. She finds these not so black as they are painted, and she is eminently successful in dealing with them. She is a philosopher too. She says, "Each of us has a groove, and if mine is catching hoboes I would better stick to it."

Another of her sayings to be commended to women in particular is, "It is no undertaking at all to handle man in the plural number, but in the singular he is absolutely formidable."

MARY EDITH DAY.

[Copyright, 1900, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.]

"The court will pass on that," threatened Williams, with a growl.

Ronald walked on. Under the condemning stare of his neighbors he felt almost as if he had committed a deliberate crime. They gave way for him to pass as if his garments held the germs of death. Round the bend the strident voice of Williams held him up.

"I SHOT HIM IN SELF-DEFENSE," ANSWERED RONALD.

"Handle 'im easy, men; he was not afeerd o' anything that ever wore a hide; you don't git to tetch many sech in a lifetime; his dead meat is better'n a meetin'-house full o' the common sort, in the best o' health. Easy thar! put yore han' under his head; he ain't a-goin' to pizen you. He's no more fur this worl'. You'll never heer his jolly laugh agin on this earth. My God! is it possible you are dead—dead, old comrade?"

CHAPTER XI.

With head bowed like an ox drawing a burden, Ronald plunged along the road. His fingers still held his revolver in a grasp of steel. The pinging of exploding cartridges still sounded in his ears—the dead man's stark face and glaring orbs seemed photographed on his brain.

"I've killed a man!" he tried to enunciate the words, but his tongue seemed to have swollen in his mouth. Suddenly that happened which at that moment he would have died to obviate. He saw the yellow pony-cart from Carnleigh, and its sole occupant was Evelyn Hasbrooke. He stopped in the middle of the road and stood staring at her as one paralyzed. Seeing him, she started, her fine features become suffused with a soft pink glow; she smiled and bowed, then, as she remarked the fierce stare of his eyes and the white helplessness of his face, she caught her breath.

"What has happened?" her eyes falling on his revolver.

With his disengaged hand he lifted his hat.

"I—I think you had better not go that way," he said, haltingly.

"But why?" her glance shifted from his revolver to his rigid face.

He hesitated, and then it occurred to him that he might as well tell her all. It might be better for her to hear it from his own lips than to get a distorted report from others.

"I have had trouble with Syd Hart." He wondered at the strange calmness that had suddenly come over him in her presence. "It took place just there, round the bend; you'd better turn your pony the other way."

Her face was as full of agony as her shrill voice when she said:

"You don't mean that you have—?"

He nodded. "They are removing the body now. Please be calm; don't be afraid of me! I had to do it; he would have killed me. Perhaps it would have been better if he had. I have always thought I'd rather die than kill a man, even in defense of my own life, but in the heat of the fight I did not look at it that way. All I wanted was to hit him—to hit him in the heart before he could kill me."

Every muscle in her body seemed to lend an ear to what he was saying. The reins fell from her inert fingers.

"Oh Ronald" (she had never called the name aloud before, and it thrilled him to the center of his benumbed being), "for God's sake, tell me it is not true—there must be some mistake."

"None whatever," was his reply, as his desperate eyes feasted on her sweet, love-filled face. "Evelyn, darling," a gentle glow showed in his face like the flame of his inward, spiritual fire, "there was never the slightest hope for our love, but had there been, this would have killed it. You have been only a hopeless dream to me. I have been unworthy of even your faith in me; this is the end; my struggles were great enough before, my burden is now too heavy to bear. Without a gleam of hope I cannot move—I haven't that."

She gazed at him steadily, her glance continually softening.

"I shall be true to you always," she said. "I love you more than I do my life. This will make me suffer as much as you. Remember that. I shall not have one moment's peace. Already I feel like an old woman. Where are you going, Ronald?"

He told her calmly enough.

"I guess that is best—if anything can be best," she said, bitterly. "I know where the sheriff lives. Get in the cart with me; I shall drive there; it is only a mile."

"That will never do," he drew back; "your father—"

She shrugged a shoulder, and took up the reins in a pair of suddenly firm hands.

"As if I could think of my father when you are in such distress. I should be ashamed of myself if I lost one minute with you between now and—"

"But," he broke in, "I have never felt that I had the right to—even your friendship—it would be unheard of, it would—oh! you see it would be unmanly of me, at such a time, particularly, to allow a young girl to compromise—"

"It would be unmanly of you to refuse to let me see you as long as possible, when your calamity is killing me. Oh, do come!"

Her melting eyes seemed to draw him outside of himself. As he took his seat beside her a sweet sense of her sympathy took possession of him and warmed him through and through. A momentary feeling of elation bounded and thumped in his breast as the little bay pony started back along the road at a brisk trot. She was first to speak.

"Why have you never told me before that you loved me?"

"Because," he made answer, "I have hardly felt that I had the right to tell myself so. I have been fighting it ever since I first saw you that day in the meadow."

"You are different from me, Ronald." He read vast truth in her deep, despairing eyes. "I have never for one instant fought my love for you. I have gloried in its growth. I'd rather go to prison with you than to a palace with any other man."

The road was very shady; large trees grew on each side of it and their foliage was interlaced overhead. He had a strong inclination to clasp her in his arms, but he did not give in to it; he told himself that his bloodstained hands should not pollute her being. Already he was taking advantage of her in allowing her to drive with him when to be seen with him at such a time would excite widespread comment. He made no answer to what she had just said and in looking in her face he saw that her eyes were full of tears.

"What is the matter?" he asked.

Her breast heaved convulsively.

"It has occurred to me that I am driving you to prison," she said, simply, the last word ending in a sob.

He would have comforted her if he could, but there was nothing in his mind to say. The awful realization was stealing back upon him that in killing Syd Hart he had blighted his whole future, covered the sun of his hopes with human blood. They drove out into an open space where cotton-fields stretched out on one side. Behind them now loomed the white facade of Carnleigh. A score of negroes were picking cotton beyond the rail fence, but they did not look up. Ronald was congratulating himself on this, knowing that the sheriff lived only a little further on, but his elation on this score was short of life, for just then a horseman appeared in front of them. It was Capt. Winkle, riding like an Englishman, rising and falling in his stirrups. As his trotting horse brought him swiftly nearer he lifted his hat and bowed to Evelyn. Evidently he had recognized Ronald and he showed much surprise. Looking back our hero saw that he had reined his horse in and was staring after them in a bewildered fashion.

SPORTING JOTTINGS.

Good Racing at Bennings—A Long Shot Wins at Oakland.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—A fine card, a track a bit soft in spots, but so good as to be almost fast, and perfect weather combined to afford excellent sport at the Bennings races yesterday. Three favorites, one second choice and two outsiders won, and the talent was reasonably happy. Jockeys Redfern and Burns each rode two winners and one place horse. The third was the prettiest race of the day. Tommy Foster, with Burns up, and Merrymaker ridden by Redfern, running nearly neck and neck for the entire seven furlongs, Burns winning on Tommy Foster in the last few jumps by a neck.

Surprise at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 7.—The Country Club handicap for three-year-olds and upward at one mile was the feature of yesterday's card and had eight starters. Waswift was favorite at odds on, with Harry New second choice, but the winner turned up in Emshee at 7 to 1. The weather was cloudy and track fast.

National Quakers Won.

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—The National and American league teams of this city played an exhibition game with the following results:

Hits—Nationals, 2; Americans, 4. Errors—Nationals, 2; Americans, 1. Batteries—Mitchell and Roth; Waddell and Shreckengost, Umpires—Moran and Smith. Attendance—2,545.

Long Shot Won at Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—After winning last week at odds of 80 to 1 Star Cotton came out again yesterday at Oakland and, quoted at 30 to 1, gained a nose victory over Blessed Damozel, one of the heavily supported starters in the third race.

Vanderbilt's Horse Second.

PARIS, April 7.—W. K. Vanderbilt's Lynx, with Nash Turner up, took second place in the race for the Prix Lotang-Laville at the St. Cloud meeting.

Wife Killer Caught.

BLAINE, Me., April 7.—After three days and nights of driving over roads heavy with snow and at times with a blizzard raging officers have captured Charles F. Malvine, the self confessed murderer of his eighteen-year-old wife. He has been caught at Carlingford, N. B., about thirty miles from Woodstock. From Thursday night until caught Melvine almost continuously plodded through the soft snow and when overtaken and recognized was too fagged out to make more than a show at resistance. He was brought here and after pleading guilty at a preliminary hearing was bound over to the April term of the supreme court. He was taken to the Houlton jail.

Both Sides Claim Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Estimates by Republican and Democratic campaign managers on the result of today's city election are 97,000 votes apart. Chairman Carey of the Democratic city committee declares that Mayor Carter H. Harrison is certain of re-election by 50,000, and Chairman Revell of the Republican committee asserts that Graeme Stewart, the party candidate, will have a plurality of 47,000. Daniel J. Cruice, the independent labor candidate, also expresses himself as confident of election by about 30,000 plurality. No mayorality campaign of recent years has been more bitterly contested, and intense local interest is felt in the result.

Unique Educational Exhibit.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The bureau of education has arranged a unique exhibition at the St. Louis exposition to consist of photographs of every school in each of a large number of counties to be selected from various sections of the country. The exhibit is designed to represent the actual conditions of the schools of the United States, the features of the teachers and the pupils, their clothing, the buildings, etc. New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, Nebraska, Kansas, Texas and California are among the states from which counties have been selected for this purpose. There will be about 2,000 pictures.

New Bait Fish Discovered.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 7.—Cable advices from St. Pierre-Miquelon state that a scientist in the employ of the French government has discovered a bait fish which is good for the whole season, replacing the herring, caplin and probably squid. The experiment has been made on the coast of Iceland. The French government has patented the discovery and will probably prohibit the importation of bait fish from Newfoundland. A naval commission will report if the discovery is suitable for deep sea fishing.

Alabama Town Destroyed.

COLUMBUS, Miss., April 7.—Almost the entire town of Kennedy, Ala., a station on the Southern railway thirty miles east of here, has been destroyed by fire. The loss will reach $40,000.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The Massachusetts legislature directed the arbitration board to report on the Lowell strike by April 22.

An agreement to arbitrate all differences which may arise during the next two years was signed by the carpenters' union of Providence, R. I.

A general strike was declared in Holland of all labor employed in transportation by land and water in a protest against proposed antistrike laws.

It was announced that the Macedonian revolutionary committee intends to proclaim a general insurrection in the European provinces of Turkey about April 20.

Individual Saving

seldom amounts to much. There is nothing like having a fixed sum to look forward to, whatever happens. That is why Life Insurance is preferable to any other form of saving.

GUARANTEED.

That word means something, when it is backed by the $5,000,000 capital and surplus of the

FIDELITY TRUST COMPANY.

It means for you an easy mind if you have one of those guarantees covering the title to your premises.

The man, who does business the way it was done a generation ago, is surely on the road to failure. This is an age of progress. There has been progress in methods of conveyancing as well as in other lines. Out of the need for something less uncertain than a lawyer's certificate and a lawyer's responsibility, has grown up the system of policies of insurance, or guarantees of title by companies with large capital and a force, specially trained in the work.

There is none better in this line than

THE FIDELITY TRUST COMPANY OF NEWARK, N. J.

It has an agency at Elizabeth for conducting Union County business. Rates will be given on application at its office, No. 215 Broad Street, and an investigation of its resources and methods is invited.

THE RED MAN'S AUTOMOBILE.

Big, Fat Indians Pushed Around in Baby Carriages by Their Long-Suffering Squaws.

This is the season of the year when the Indian chiefs come in from the reservations to see the Great Father, says the New York World's Washington correspondent. There are a score of them in the city now. A group of half a dozen standing on the curb watching an automobile recalled to some Texans who were passing the story Col. Bill Sterrett used to tell about the man who went into the Indian Territory to sell baby carriages.

Everybody said he was crazy. It was admitted that there was a fine crop of babies in the territory, but no one could see what the squaws, who were used to packing their offsprings on their backs, could do with baby carriages.

Still, orders began to come back, first for dozens, and then for car loads, and finally Sterrett went up to investigate. He went into one of the Indian villages.

"And I'll be dashed," said Col. Bill, "if I didn't see a dozen big, fat Indians sitting in baby carriages, all scrouged up, while the squaws were pushing them around. The baby carriage man had made the Indians believe that baby carriages were the right kind of pleasure rigs for the noble red man."

MRS. PORTER DIES IN PARIS.

End Sudden and Unexpected—Expressions of Esteem and Regret.

PARIS, April 7.—Mrs. Horace Porter, wife of General Porter, the United States ambassador here, died suddenly at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon of congestion of the lungs following a chill.

Mrs. Porter had not been in robust health for some time and decided to make a stay in Zurich, Switzerland, for rest and to recuperate. She returned to Paris last Tuesday considerably improved, though retaining lingering symptoms of the prevailing epidemic of grip, but the doctors did not consider her condition serious. A sudden change for the worse was observed at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and it became manifest that the congestion had attacked her lungs. Mrs. Porter sank rapidly until she expired an hour later.

The various absent members of the family were notified by telegraph and cable. The only daughter, Elsie, was in Germany, whither she had also gone on a trip for the benefit of her health, and the general's only son, Clarence Porter, who is in New York, was advised by cable. Word was also communicated to the American government and to the French authorities. The public announcement was made by Secretary Vignaux in a brief statement of the facts.

Mrs. Porter was a member of Dr. Thurber's Presbyterian church in the Rue de Berri, which is known as the American church and where the funeral ceremonies will probably be held.

The news of Mrs. Porter's death spread rapidly through the American colony and came as a complete surprise. Few knew that she was ill, and the announcement caused a universal shock and deep feeling of regret, and many expressions of esteem were forthcoming. At the public receptions of the embassy she had taken a personal interest in entertaining the throngs of American visitors, thus endearing her throughout the American colony.

Flood Threatens a Town.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., April 7.—Great anxiety prevails at Massena for the safety of the village. The high water recently caused the cave in of a fifty foot section of the embankment of the power canal, and a second section followed Sunday. Although three train loads of stone from the Gouverneur quarries and much stone from pavements, tons of hay, many loads of pine boughs and barrels and bags of sand have been dumped into the opening, another break occurred yesterday, and the water worked clear through to Grand Park. Farmers with teams are being called to take the place of men who have worked continuously since Saturday. No guard locks or gates were put in to hold back the waters of the St. Lawrence river in case of emergency

Stratton Will Contest Settled.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 7.—County Judge Orr has agreed to approve a compromise that has been reached between the attorneys for I. Harry Stratton and those for the executors of his father's will. Young Stratton is to receive $350,000 in cash. This includes his legacy of $50,000. The money will be paid at once, and all litigation over the estate of the late multimillionaire mine owner, Winfield Scott Stratton, will cease. Mr. Stratton bequeathed the bulk of his fortune, estimated at $15,000,000, for the establishment of a home for the poor in this city.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May be of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

An examination of the figures given in the report of the State road commissioner proves that the improved roads cost less to maintain that did the old dirt roads, upon which gangs of men were almost always working. Every heavy rainfall washed them out and they were either left in a state of neglect to make wagon travel difficult, or local budgets were heavily drawn upon to pay for repairs. Now the roads are worn only by constant use and they are always in good enough condition for vehicles, while only a percentage of the former cost is spent for repairs.—Newark Advertiser.

The people of New Jersey, with Senator Stroug, would like to know what the total cost of constructing the Rahway reformatory is to be.

Up to the present time $671,000 have been spent on that institution, and its board of managers is asking for an appropriation of a half million dollars this year.

Of all the State institutions the Rahway reformatory has been, so far, the most expensive and the least useful. It has been a wholesale swallower of money and there is apparently no limit to the capacity of its maw.

If the bill providing for the appointment of a commission to report upon the advisability of building a reformatory for women is passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor, he should suggest to the commission the wisdom of seriously considering the proposition that a part of the Rahway reformatory be used for the confinement of female criminals believed to be susceptible to reformation.

The institution as projected is large enough for the double purpose of caring for male and female criminals of the younger class for many years to come.—Trenton State Gazette.

NOT PLEASED WITH ALL THE PUBLICITY

Members of the Councilmanic Alms Committee Didn't Like the Published Attack.

CALLED IT ILL TIMED

CHAIRMAN GLOAK SAYS THAT COMMITTEE HAD PLANNED REFORMS.

Had Already Agreed to Remedy the Defects, and Had Met in Conference With Members of Charity Organized Aid Association.

Regarding the recent attack made on the management of the Industrial Home by members of the Charity Organized Aid Association, Chairman W. L. Gloak, of the Councilmanic alms committee, takes some exception.

Mr. Gloak was seen a few nights ago about the matter and in expressing his opinion about the published article, said that he thought it was most untimely and out of place. He said that only a short time before the article was published the members of his committee held a conference with the Organized Aid Association representatives at the home of Mrs. Tiffany and plans for correcting irregularities were discussed at some length.

"This was no new matter," continued Mr. Gloak. "The alms committee was fully cognizant of the condition of affairs at the Industrial Home and had planned for an extra appropriation this year to provide for a sewer connection and plenty of water so that the Home would be strictly sanitary. As to the charge of intoxication, I believe that only more stringent rules will decrease the extent of it. The inmates are allowed to leave the Home at stated intervals and while they are in the city there is no power to prevent them from securing liquor if they are determined to get it. In my opinion I believe that the inmates are allowed to visit the city too often and the time off should be cut down somewhat to obtain better results."

Another member of the committee coincided with the utterances with Mr. Gloak when he said that the published article was inopportune. In his opinion the charity workers have simply placed the cart before the horse. Mr. Gloak assured the representative for The Daily Press that every effort will be made this year to correct any existing evils and a set of very strict rules will be put in force at the Home, the violation of them being punishable by severe reprimand.

TROLLEY MEN CLAIM THEY'LL NOT STRIKE

Majority Are in Favor of Remaining at Work, Even If Request Isn't Granted.

A FEW TALKED STRIKE

AWAITING REPLY TO REQUEST FOR INCREASED WAGES.

Local Trolley Employe, Prominent in Circulating Petition, Declares That There Will be No Strike Under Any Circumstances.

"There will be no strike among the trolleymen," declared an employe of the local trolley system last night. Several days ago The Daily Press told of the petition sent in by the employes of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Street Railroad Company asking for an increase in wages. It was rumored abroad and so stated by several of the trolley men themselves that failure to grant the request would result in a strike.

"There will be no strike among the trolley men," said the employe already quoted who was prominent in circulating the petition for signatures among the local employes of the company. "Whatever answer is made to our request, we have no intention of striking. There are a few hot headed ones who have talked about strikes but if they had read over that petition they would have seen that there was not the slightest suggestion of a strike. We do not intend to strike and are not going to strike, whatever is the outcome of the petition.

"Of course, we would like to get the raise if we could but it is not worth fighting for. The company has used us fairly and we are going to do the same by them. Everything would have gone all right if a few had only stopped talking. Their strike talk is ridiculous."

Talk with other trolley employes brings out that there is a strong feeling against a strike whatever the reception of the petition. A few men have talked strike but their ideas have not found favor, it is said, with a majority of the motormen and conductors.

CASH BURNED TOO.

Peter Sabriski Left Money With His Mother—Then Her Home Burned Down.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, April 8—The home of John Sabriski in Washington Valley was burned to the ground Monday night. The blaze is thought to have originated from a defective flue and before the old man and his aged wife could do anything to put it out the whole building was in flames.

Their son, Peter, was in Somerville. Before leaving for this place he placed $70 in his mother's hands, saying that she should keep it for him. She secreted the money in the house and it was burned up with the rest of the contents of the building.

Neighbors arrived and managed to keep the flames from spreading to the barn. The house and contents were partially covered by insurance.

Serious Charge.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, April 8—Samuel Johnstone, a Millstone colored man who is charged with assaulting little Anna Hall, a white girl, twelve years old, was brought here yesterday, and given a hearing before Justice Kitchen, who held him for the Grand Jury.

FAHN IS DISMISSED FROM BOROUGH FORCE

Found Guilty of Being Intoxicated While Doing Police Duty in the Borough.

WAS GIVEN A HEARING

CHARGE PREFERRED BY CHIEF MARSHAL WILLIAM CAMPBELL.

Fahn's Defence Was That It Was a Cold Night and He Had to Drink Something in Order to Keep Warm While Doing Duty.

Lawrence Fahn has been dismissed from the police force in the borough on a charge of being intoxicated while on duty. He was arraigned before the police committee of the Borough Council last evening and after a careful examination it was found that the man, while not asleep as was alleged, was under the influence of liquor and was incapable of properly performing his duties.

The charges were preferred against him by Chief Marshal William Campbell, who claims to have seen him coming out of a saloon, while he was supposed to be on duty, and enter Saengerbund Hall. It was shown that he did not drink anything in the hall but was found there by Chief Campbell who ordered him home and to remove his uniform. Fahn's defence was that it was a cold night and that he indulged in some liquid refreshmens to keep warm. He was suspended indefinitely from the force.

An effort is being made by the police committee to improve the condition of the borough police force and the action taken last night in Fahn's case was an example to the other marshals.

A MASON AND MILITIA MAN

MAJOR GILBERT SNOWDEN COOK, OF SOMERVILLE, IS DEAD.

Funeral of Prominent Somerset County Man Was Held at Somerville Yesterday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, April 8—The funeral was held yesterday afternoon of Major Gilbert Snowden Cook, who was probably the best known man in Somerville a few years ago. He was born here and was for twenty-five years in the drug business in this place. When he retired from that he went in the straw-board trade in New York, but kept his residence here. He died in the city at the age of fifty-five years, from Bright's disease.

Major Cook was a veteran of the Civil War, having been a member of the Thirty-seventh New Jersey Volunteers. He was one of the organizers of Company H, Third Regiment, N. G. N. J., and at its first business meeting was elected its captain. In 1899, this company became Company M, Second Regiment, but Capt. Cook continued in command until elected a major in the latter part of the same year. He did not go to the Spanish-American war because of ill health.

He was a prominent Mason. He was made a Knight Templar in Couer de Leon Commandery at New Brunswick, but on the formation of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, at Plainfield, he affiliated with that order and was its first generalissimo. He was also a member of Mecca Temple.

He had been chief of the Somerville fire department and superintendent of both the First and Second Reformed Sunday-schools.

A widow, who was Miss Elizabeth Barcalow, survives him.

DIED IN PRISON.

George Vandervoort, of Somerset County, Sent There a Year Ago.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, April 8—George Vandervoort, who died in the State Prison at Trenton yesterday, was sent there from this place February 4, 1902. He was sentenced to three years of hard labor for assault with intent to kill. The confinement was too much for his delicate constitution and he succumbed to a lingering disease. The remains will be brought here for burial.

No Endeavor Meeting.

There will be no meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church this week as that society will join with the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church on Good Friday evening.

Will Have a Cozy Auditorium Well Equipped, and Other New Rooms on the First Floor—Will Also Have New Billiard Room.

It is now assured that the proposed addition to the Park Clubhouse on Washington avenue will be built this summer. Plans and specifications have been prepared by Architect Chas. A. Smith. Last night, at a special meeting of the Park Club, the governors of the club were empowered to go ahead and the details of the addition were left to their discretion. The vote on the question was a unanimous one.

One member of the club, in order to permit the enlargement of the clubhouse at once, offered several months ago to meet half of the cost of the alterations if the other members would subscribe the rest. Another member came forward very generously and with the assistance of the remainder almost the entire amount necessary to complete the plans has been secured. There is still a small amount to be raised but the governors feel that there will be no difficulty in securing it.

At the meeting last evening, Architect Smith was present with the plans which were explained to those who had not seen them before. Most of the members were acquainted with them. The changes will make the present building into an ideal clubhouse. There will be an addition on the rear which will convert the present hall into a cosy little auditorium with stage at the rear and galleries bounding it. Dressing rooms, a tea room and a kitchen will be located on the same floor. On the basement floor there will be a new and more commodious billiard room while the present billiard room will be converted into a club sitting room.

CELLAR GANG READY.

Each Member of That Famous Organization Will Dig Twelve Cartloads of Earth.

After the regular business meeting of the Warren Engine Company last night, a meeting was called of all the members present who signed the cellar digging compact for the new engine house. It was decided to begin digging the lot as soon as the staking out was completed. Each member of the company will dig twelve cartloads of earth. The work will probably be done by the members at night as soon as the weather permits.

There is no doubt that the digging, when once started will be rushed through to completion so as not to delay the work on the foundations of the new building.

MUSICAL TREAT AT CASINO

CONCERT GIVEN BY THE MOZART SYMPHONY CLUB.

Artists of Ability Played With Much Dexterity on Many Instruments.

Something very much out of the ordinary in the way of a musical treat was offered at the Casino, last evening, in the Mozart Symphony Club, of New York. It is to be regretted but few musical lovers were in attendance as the performance has seldom been equalled in this city. The audience, however, made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers.

The club consists of four artists, Richard Stoelger, Theodore Hoch, M. Blodeck and Miss Marie Stori. They play with marvellous dexterity on a wide variety of instruments while Miss Stori is a soprano soloist of no mean ability. She favored with several selections and in one she accompanied herself with a violin.

Solos were given by the other members on the viola, violin, cornet, 'cello, herold's trumpet and the Alpine echo horn. The latter was handled by Herr Theodore Hoch and while delighting with its clear, musical tones, mystified by the succeeding echo. The overtures by the quartette were greatly enjoyed and a descriptive fantasi "In the Clock Store" was a distinct feature.

SPORTING NEWS.

ON THE DIAMOND.

The St. Mary A. and L. Association will meet this week and complete plans for its 1903 team. A manager and captain are to be elected.

"Warrie" McLaughlin, of the Philadelphia team, is home for a few days on account of a slight touch of malaria. He will rejoin the team for practice work as soon as possible.

Ben Evans will again be seen on the Hope team this season. He was unable to wear the uniform last season owing to illness but has since regained his strength and old time form.

The Orange Field Club will play the Rahway baseball team at Rahway on Saturday afternoon. The city boys go down eager to win and wipe out the defeat suffered last year from the Rahway boys.

If the local firemen place a team in the field this year, it will be composed entirely of call men. At the request of officials, the regulars have decided to refrain from ball tossing and will take no active part in the game.

William Rushmore, who pitched one game for the Hopes, last season, will wear the Morristown A. C. uniform this year. He has been secured also by Manager Firstbrook for the All-Plainfield Wednesday games.

The City High School baseball team will meet the team from Westerleigh Collegiate Institute on Stillman Field this afternoon. The teams are of about equal strength and a good game will result. The game will be called at 3:30.

The Aeolian A. A., of Garwood, would be pleased to hear from all Plainfield teams wishing to secure dates. At present the association has April 28, and Saturdays in July and August open. Communications should be addressed to P. H. Lenz.

Many new faces will be seen on the St. Mary team this year. The inroads made upon it by other clubs has resulted in an importation of a lot of good material that is expected to place the club in the lead. Practice work will commence Saturday.

"Silent Tune" Hewitt, who was one of the Hope pitchers, last season, is at present unattached. He is considering an offer from the Granite City team of Nashua, N. H., and in the event of its falling through will affiliate with the Hopes again.

The management of the baseball team of the City High School has arranged a game to be played with the Pingry School team on Wednesday, April 15, in place of the one postponed last Saturday on account of the bad weather. The game wil be played in Elizabeth.

All of the City League teams are behind last season in getting out for preliminary games and practice. One year ago, all four clubs had practically assigned positions and the men were on the dimaond regularly. At present the managers or officials have only reached the point of trying aspirants.

Prospects for the Hope Y. M. A. retaining its present field are still somewhat hazy. The projectors of the south side park scheme have secured a further option on the property until the middle of May and the improvements may yet be made. The association has several other fields in prospect in the event of having to move.

The last bit of rheumatism remaining in "Jim" Montross' arm has disappeared and he is now ready to do his best with the Westfield club. The slow ball which proved such a puzzler to outside teams, last year, will again be his specialty, but he has improved wonderfully in speed. There is no doubt in the minds of any of his friends but what he will be heard from this year.

Wants a Trial.

Thomas Johnson, colored, who was arrested Saturday on a charge of embezzlement preferred by Rogers & Company, of West Second street, and who was committed to the county jail by Justice Huff, has made application to the Court of Quarter Sessions for a trial. The complaint charges that Johnston collected $3.75 which he failed to return to his employers.

Five New Odd Fellows.

At the meeting of Plainfield Lodge No. 44, I. O. O. F., held Monday evening five new members were received into the order. The initiatory work was done by the regular team of the lodge, the team master being John Becker.

Home-Made Cake Sale.

The women of the German Lutheran church will conduct a home made cake sale at the store of Joseph C. Blimm, 263 East Third street, Saturday, April 11. The sale will be for the benefit of the church.

THE GROTTO OF VISION; or, MYSTERY OF BALSAMA.

A new illusion now being presented in our Amusement Hall, Second Floor.

Don't miss seeing this beautiful and mystifying entertainment.

AN EASTER FESTIVAL

Our grand court, the largest in the United States, so light and cheerful, is transformed into a decorative scheme that is unique and elaborate. A beautiful electric fountain, with its changing lights and banked palms; a simple floral bower, from which depend golden cages, containing the most delightful songbirds; thousands of Ascension lilies and palms completely filling the esculator—are some of the features of decoration, and viewed from the various points of vantage, impresses one as a beautiful great garden far removed from anything commercial—a breath of nature, so to speak; and yet the idea would not be complete without some reference to the main object, the presentation of choicest plants for Easter home decoration. Here you will find, as nowhere else, the very choicest selections from the most renowned and celebrated nurseries Plants that need no further encomium than an examination to self satisfy that they are as choice as nature, with the assistance of man, can produce.

Azalias in a dozen varieties, rose bushes in bloom, to which are attached such names as Magna Charta, Ulrich Brunner and a dozen others as renowned; Daffodils, Hyacinths, Orange Trees, Marguerites, Genesta, Easter Lilies on high stocks, Rubber Plants, Hydrangeas and hundreds of other choicest Flowers and Plants, the whole forming an aggregation of floral elegance that at once appeals and with the assistance of our methods of reasonable prices makes the exhibit complete.

Second Floor—

The Crowning Feature of "Milady's" Easter Costume is a Becoming Hat, and New Jersey's Greatest and Best Millinery Department is so splendidly equipped and stocked with the best exemplification of the designers' art that any combination, no matter how varied, can be appropriately harmonized, and you'll be surprised at the smallness of cost. How jealous we are of that important feature and how faithfully we portray its benefits. Just a glance, as it were, will prove our assertion that here, and here only, can be found the very latest and choicest creations at our reasonable profits.

BASEBALL PROSPECTS GOOD

BOROUGH HIGH SCHOOL EXPECTS TO HAVE A STRONG TEAM.

First Game Will be Played With the Pennington Seminary Team April 11.

The first game of the season for the North Plainfield High School baseball team will be played with the Pennington Seminary team April 18 instead of April 11 when it was announced that the opening game would be with the Battin High School, at Elizabeth, on the home grounds. The date had to be changed on account of the alterations being made to the field which will not be completed before the latter date.

There are a number of promising candidates slated for the various positions on the team. For pitcher "Bill" Mundy, Edgar George and Fred Armstrong are spoken of favorably, and for catcher George Owens and William Cubberly are in the field. These candidates speak well for a strong team. On the bases will also be some good players. Eugene McLaughlin is slated for first, Arthur Humble second, and Edgar Williams third. Mundy and Conover are down for short stop while the positions in the field are being anxiously watched by Newmiller, Kipsey and Miller.

The manager of the team is Edgar George and he said that in his opinion there would be a very strong team this year representing the North Plainfield High School.

The game with the City High School has been postponed on account of the inability of the borough team to have its grounds in order by the time originally set.

MADE DONATIONS.

Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed Church Voted Assistance for Mission Work.

The Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church met in regular session Monday afternoon in the parlors of the church. Mrs. G. Q. Dolliver read an interesting paper on mission work in China. The treasury showed a good healthy balance and all bills paid.

The sum of $5 was voted to the student volunteer movement and $5 was also voted to assist in erecting a parsonage at Arapahoe, Oklahoma. There was also $5 donated to the W. C. T. U. and $10 was given to assist in purchasing flowers to decorate the church for Easter Day.

A nominating committee, consisting of Mrs. H. B. Paul, Mrs. A. L. Force and Mrs. A. M. Gillem, was appointed by the president, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Parse, to present names for the various offices, to be voted on at the next meeting. The members also decided to hold a strawberry festival early in June.

BOROUGH STREETS.

Street Work to Soon Start in Borough Under Committee's Orders.

Street work in the borough will commence in a few days, providing the weather will permit. Chairman James K. Arnold, of the street and roads committee is getting things in good shape for the spring scraping and repairs. Following out the suggestions made by Mayor Smalley at the last meeting of the Council it is very probable that there will be one or more streets macadamized this summer after the regular scraping, cleaning and repairing is completed.

TO ELECT ELDERS.

Annual Meeting of Crescent Avenue Church This Evening.

A meeting of the members of the Crescent Avenue church will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the chapel, to elect three elders in the place of Silas Yerkes, Frederick H. Andrews and Alfred W. Duxbury, and two deacons in place of Stuart H. Whitney and Samuel F. Kimball, all of whose terms of office expire; to hear reports from the officers and several departments of church work, and to transact whatever business may be regularly presented.

Social Time to Follow.

A meeting of Miantonomo Tribe I. O. R. M. will be held Friday evening at Red Men's Hall when they will enjoy a social evening after the business has been disposed of. A programme for the entertainment of the members has been arranged by the good and welfare committee. A feature of the evening will be a smoker.

Different Night to Meet.

At a recent meeting of the Ladies' Section of the Gesang and Turn Verein, it was decided to change the regular meeting night from Thursday to Friday evenings. The first meeting under the new arrangement will be held Friday evening, April 10.

New Flag Walk.

A flag stone walk is being placed in front of the Church of the Holy Cross, on Washington avenue. Heretofore there has been a brick sidewalk there but the laying of the stone walk will do away with the last of the brick sidewalks in the Park.

THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL.

Having waited until they were assured that there was no danger of legal complications, the City Fathers have now moved toward the building of a new High School. Having put themselves on record as favoring it, the City Fathers are now taking the necessary steps to bond the city for $125,000 to pay for the site and cost of erection.

There is nothing new in the decision of the Common Council to permit the building of the High School. The local educational authorities have been crying for such a building for fully ten years. That there is need of more room and proper equipment for that department of the public schools is now generally conceded. The only question was as to the amount required. While $125,000 has been fixed on as a maximum amount, it will not be necessary to spend all that if the decided work can be done for less. According to estimates, however, the new High School will eat up nearly all of the appropriation.

There isn't any doubt that Plainfield's present High School building is far behind the times when compared with the High Schools of cities of this size all through the country. The present building is far inadequate to meet even the most conservative demands. With the erection of a new High School it will permit the present building to be utilized by the lower grades which are now, in many cases, badly crowded. Something must be done to meet the demand for increased school facilities and it looks as if the plan in view would accomplish the desired result.

Now will come the selection of the site and the approval of the plans for the new structure. Both are very important subjects and the Board of Education should be particularly careful not to go to one extreme or the other. A cheap structure that will not provide for the future is not to be desired. Neither does Plainfield want an ornamental monument that will require a fortune to decorate and equip. It is the happy medium that we are after and, in trying to obtain it, the Board of Education should take the public into its confidence as much as possible.

THE TAX BUDGET.

After certain "ifs" are given due consideration, it looks as if the city tax rate would remain very close if not in its present position, which is 2.50. The Common Council fixed the tax budget at its April meeting Monday evening, making an increase of $4,125 over last year's figures. Now "if" the assessed valuation of the city increases as is generally expected, the increase will make up for the additional amount required to run the city's affairs. That will mean that the present policy will be continued another year in the local administration.

But there are a few more "ifs" to be considered before we know just what is going to become of the tax rate. "If" the demands for the public schools do not more than proportionally increase; "if" the State school tax does not increase; "if" the county does not want more than usual; "if" all these things do not happen, the tax rate is going to stay very close to the 2.50 mark.

There is some question as to the ability of Union county to hold its share of the taxes down to the present figure. By paying for the new court house with a bond issue, the Freeholders are hoping to divide the expense equitably so that there shall be no great burden on the county any one year. If this is accomplished, the city will have nothing to fear from an increase in the county tax.

It is pleasant to note that the position of the trolley employes is a perfectly respectful one. While they do not deny that they have asked for more wages, they want their employers and the public to know that it is not an arbitrary demand but a perfectly reasonable request and that the main body of trolley men have no idea of striking. It is a relief to see such common sense and judgment shown in matters of this kind. Results, unpleasant for both sides, are so often brought on by hasty action.

This question of a new telephone company is a mooted one. The columns of The Daily Press are open to any contributions on the subject. The Common Council is anxious to learn the public sentiment before acting in this matter.

FASHION NOTES.

Italian and Irish Lace—Simplicity in Fashions.

Imitations of coarse Italian lace will be popular as the season advances and will prove a rival to the Irish lace, but the latter is smarter for the adornment of outside garments owing to its raised figures.

The pelerine or little loose sack coat may be skillfully manipulated by the amateur. The chief difficulty in making a pelerine is the fitting on the shoulders, and the amateur must guard against making the woman with already sloping shoulders look ridiculous.

The keynote of the best fashions is simplicity—costly simplicity if you like, but still simplicity. Great discretion is used in the matter of trimmings. The worst of trimmings is that once they are used the uninitiated are apt to overdo them. We become a little tired of cords, passementerie and Armenian embroideries. They are all very well in their way, but directly they are overdone and copied in all sorts of cheap stuff the smart woman will have none of them.

The woman who is unable to spend much on her gown had better put it into cut instead of trimming.

The illustration shows an evening coat of black lace.

PICTURESQUE EFFECTS.

Rare and Becoming Gowns of Chiffon and Lace.

The picture dinner gown was at one time known as the tea gown. Now tea gowns are chiefly known by the name of picture frocks. It is difficult to draw any definite line between the two, for once we arrive at the floppy, comfortable gown it is exclusively for lounging purposes and is known as the peignoir.

With a very few exceptions there is no doubt that the picture frock is excessively becoming. Chiffon and lace of course form the chief elements in the composition of the picturesque toilet. Other fabrics are oriental satin, crepe de chine and all such clinging and yet sumptuous looking materials. Old brocades are being used but sparingly and in soft weaves. All the soft fabrics of the hour lend themselves admirably to the picturesque.

Fichus of white lace or point d'esprit edged with lace add greatly to the appearance of such a gown.

Hemstitched and also fagoted materials are to be bought by the yard beautifully made.

The picture shows a house gown made of soft plaited silk and trimmed with an odd effect of heavy lace.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

[Copyright, 1900, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.]

Evelyn gave her companion a comprehensive glance. "Never mind," she said, "he'll tell everybody he knows that he has seen us together, but you and I have other things to think about. Will my love console you at all?"

"More than anything in the world."

"Well, remember," they are now in sight of the sheriff's house, a five-roomed erection with a porch over which clambered a wealth of vines, "remember that I shall be thinking of you every minute."

"Thank you for that," he said, and added: "I might as well get out here and walk up to the house."

Her only answer was to whip up the pony; her face was pinched by pain as she drew up at the gate in front of the house. He got out.

"Good-by," he said.

She held out her hand.

"Good-by," she echoed, and as he took her hand he felt her quivering fingers tighten round his own. "I am going to pray for you night and day," she said. And then she turned her pony and drove slowly homeward. As he was entering the gate, he saw her stop and look back; then she signaled him to come to her. Obeying, he found her face wet with tears.

"Is there nothing I can do for you?" she questioned.

He reflected, and then:

"If you should happen to meet David on your way back, please tell him what I have done, and that I came to the sheriff."

"I wish it were something harder," she said, pressing her handkerchief to her twitching lips. "Oh, it is so awful—there is so little to hope for—you see you are so despondent!"

He could not deny this last charge; her very words seemed to add weight to his gloom. Lifting his hat, he turned away.

There was an open passage between the two front rooms of the sheriff's house, and at a washtub, on a little back porch, battling stick in hand, he saw Mrs. Ratcliff. She was about 30 years of age, but might easily have proved that she was a third older, if her appearance had been taken as testimony.

Ronald rapped on the door-facing to attract her attention, and when she looked up he asked her if her husband was at home.

"He was jest this minute," she said, coming forward and wiping her hands on her apron. "He took his gun jest now and went into the strip of woods down thar at the foot o' the field. Is it anything important?"

"I came to turn myself over to him, Mrs. Ratcliff; if you could send for him, perhaps he would like for you to do it."

"I could blow the dinner horn," she betrayed no surprise, if she felt any, over his announcement. "It might wake the baby, but I reckon I could quiet it down ag'in."

She gave him a seat in the passage and took his hat and laid it, according to rules of hospitality, on her bed in the room on the left. Then she reached up for the cow's horn, which hung on a nail on the porch.

"Have you got yoreself in trouble, Mr. Fanshaw?" she asked, as she raised the horn to her lips.

"I've killed Sydney Hart, Mrs. Ratcliff." He gave this explanation after a slight hesitation, for he feared that being a woman and alone with him it might upset her nerves.

"You don't say," she ejaculated; "well, I'll be switched."

She did not seem more surprised than if he had told her that he had had a tooth extracted, and then he remembered that she had been Ratcliff's companion in many a rough experience. One night when he was taking three desperadoes to jail and had stopped at home for refreshments, he found that the mountain streams ahead were so much swollen by recent rains that he could not go on, and there was nothing open to him but to convert their company room into a temporary prison. Mrs. Ratcliff sat up till daybreak with a shotgun on one knee, and a restless baby on the other, and remarked afterwards that she didn't sleep half the night.

Ronald watched her as she stood like an Amazon in the doorway and gave two long echoing blasts on the horn. Then she came back to him.

"Well I reckon you had obleeged to do it," as she looked into the room on the right at the little box cradle. "Mr. Ratcliff 'lowed you an' Syd would have a taste o' one another's gore 'fore long; he 'lowed he'd never seed a man with yore reckless nerve, an' that Hart never would sleep till he'd bucked ag'in it."

The baby being quiet, she stepped back to the door. "I see Mr. Ratcliff comin' lickity-split through the broom-sedge. We agreed when thar was anything important fur me to blow twice; I reckon he'll think the house is afire. My la! did you ever see a body skeddadle like that? You'd think a hoop-snake was at his heels! Nothin' ain't the matter!" (she shouted this to her husband); "you are wanted—that's all!" She stood in the doorway and waved her hands. "I want 'im to see I'm unharmed ur he'd break his fool neck."

A moment later the sheriff came into the passage panting and perspiring.

"Well, I 'lowed the niggers had riz," he laughed.

Briefly Ronald explained what he had come for and Ratcliff pulled his long brown beard thoughtfully. He would have made a joke if he were at a funeral and the joke had been at the expense of the corpse.

"It's bad on me," he said, drily, "if you fellers kill out many more ringleaders like Syd I'll be out of a job—that skunk has been bread an' meat to me fur a long time. But, no jokin', we'd better make a bee line fur town, an' I'll see if I can't git you up a bond. You are too good a citizen to be stuck in a common jail. We cayn't do a thing till we've had a committal trial. To tell you the truth, I don't like the looks of the business. Thad Williams is a devil on wheels; he'll give you trouble. What he'll swear won't be prompted by the angels, an his threat shows his hand. But his testimony, true or untrue, will go as fur at court as a presidin' elder's. Many an innocent man has had his life swore away by designin' rascals."

CHAPTER XII.

Twenty minutes later they were in the sheriff's buggy, on the way to Danube. Ratcliff had put a cheap cigar between his teeth, but he was not going to light it till they were entering the town.

"Thar's one disagreeable feature," he remarked. "At first, my idea was to hurry up an' git it over, so you wouldn't have to go to jail at all; but it has just struck me that this is Saturday, an' it is sometimes awkward work to have a trial the last day o' the week. You see the prosecution will want to summon Thad Williams, an' that will take time. Then, as to-morrow is Sunday, you may have obleeged to wait over till Monday."

Ronald told him that it would make little difference to him whether he spent the time in jail or out.

"You feel that away now," commented the sheriff, "but you will feel different when you git in thar, at least that's my experience with prisoners. A jail house is like a woman's bonnet; it has a better look from the outside than the inside."

ON THE DIAMOND.

The Orange Field Club will journey over to Rahway Saturday to play the strong Rahway High School team. Although the Plainfield boys were defeated last year, they are convinced that they will come home victorious.

Manager John Steiner, of the Y. M. C. A. team, is losing no time in securing his players. Yesterday he signed Pitcher Thomas O'Keefe, formerly of the St. Mary's and the speedy little southpaw will begin practice work with the team Saturday. Manager Steiner proposes to seek only in the city for his men.

HOLY WEEK SERVICES.

Male Choir Will Render "Tenebrae," at St. Mary's Church for the First Time.

Beginning with this evening, a special male choir at St. Mary's church will render the "Tenebrae," a solemn office, said or sung in Holy Week, commemorating the sufferings and death of the Saviour. It will continue Thursday and Friday and is the first time it has ever been attempted in this city. Father Egan will be in charge and he will be assisted by Father Smith and members of the church.

Tenebrae means darkness, and the office is said to be so called from a ceremony which is observed during its recital. A number of lighted tapers being arranged on a triangular hearse or candlestick, one on each side is put out alternately during certain portions of the service, until a single candle only is left burning. This is removed to the back of the altar and darkness meanwhile prevails. At a clapping or other noise from the choirmaster, the taper is brought forth again and the choir lighted up. This ceremony is said to signify the darkness which came over the earth at the crucifixion.

A Sweet Breath

is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary S. Crick, of White Plains, Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years—tried all kinds of remedies but continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once, and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. L. W. Randolph.

GYMNASTIC TEAM.

Will be Formed at Hope Y. M. A. Gymnasium—Athletic Competitions.

At the regular meeting of the Hope Y. M. A., last evening, two amendments to its constitution were proposed. One places the age limit for members at eighteen years instead of sixteen and the other gives the association permission to drop any member after a hearing, against whom charges of misconduct have been preferred. They were placed in the hands of a committee.

A special committee of which Geo. B. Cose is chairman, was appointed to secure estimates for the adding of a swimming pool to the gymnasium equipment. This committee was also empowered to have the bowling alley repaired and to secure a pool table for the use of members.

The baseball committee was given permission to secure all supplies necessary to fully equip the team This will include new uniforms.

Steps were taken to form a gymnastic team and competitions in athletic events in the gymnasium. A dozen members entered and they will be instructed by George McComb. The remaining business transacted was the election of two new members.

AT HIS OLD HOME.

Franz Scheelein, Old Borough Resident, Succumbed After Lingering Illness.

After a lingering illness of many months Franz Scheelein, an old resident of the borough, passed away last evening at 9:45 at his home on Pearl street, where he had lived for over thirty years. Death was due to a complication of diseases in which the heart and stomach were effected. He was seventy-two years of age.

The deceased was a member in good standing in the Gesang and Turn Verein, and if he had lived for another month he would have been made an honorary member. He is survived by two daughters and four sons. The children surviving the father are Anna, Elizabeth, George, Conrad, Frank and Lawrence. Mr. Scheelein came to this country thirty-five years ago and at once made his home in the borough.

The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 when the services will be held at the house on Pearl street. The members of the Gesang and Turn Verein will escort the remains to the grave at Hillside cemetery. The flag on the Saengerbund Hall has been placed at half mast.

Gone to Somerville.

Frank Willett, who was arrested a few nights ago on a charge of being drunk and disorderly and making a disturbance, was sentenced last evening to thirty days in the county jail at Somerville by Judge Dond. He was taken away this morning by Chief Marshal William Campbell.

Gypsies in Court.

Viola Bosewell, a gypsy, appeared before Justice Huff this morning, and entered a complaint against Alfred Reynolds, another gypsy, charging him with assault on April 5. According to the statement of the plaintiff, the defendant is now in Milburn, Hackensack or the "Notch."

AMERICAN POLICY IN CHINA.

Alleged Double Dealing Charged Regarding Indemnity Bond.

PEKING, April 8.—The American financial agent at Shanghai recently submitted to the international financial commission a silver bond for the American indemnity to be presented to the Chinese representatives for signature. The commission declined to present the silver bond, whereupon the United States financial agent forwarded it direct to the Chinese.

Information received from other than American sources is to the effect that the United States has withdrawn the silver bond and is preparing a substitute on a gold basis which is practically identical with the Japanese bond. There is a strong feeling among the other legations against America breaking the concert, particularly as the Chinese admit officially, as they have always admitted privately, that the debt is on a gold basis. The American policy is intensely unpopular with all classes of Americans in China.

A report has been on foot for some time past that France is preparing to intervene and suppress the insurrection in Kwangsi province, which borders the French colony of Tonquin and where 100,000 rebels are said to be in arms. The French minister to China, M. Dubail, who had been granted leave of absence and was going to France in April, has now received orders to remain here, and this step is regarded as a confirmation to some extent of the rumor.

Bond According to Protocol.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—It is stated by Secretary Hay that the bond submitted to the commission follows strictly the language of the protocol and involves no change of policy on the part of the Washington government. The United States for a long time has favored an adjustment of the indemnities on a silver basis.

ALEXANDER'S COUP D'ETAT.

King's Action Makes Him Now an Absolute Monarch.

BELGRADE, April 8.—King Alexander's arbitrary action has caused considerable excitement here, and it is feared disturbances may result. He issued two proclamations, the first decreeing a suspension of the constitution adopted on April 19, 1901, repealing objectionable laws passed thereunder by the retiring councilors of state, dissolving the skupshtina and re-enacting the laws as they existed previous to the constitution of 1901. The second proclamation restores this constitution to its former validity.

King Alexander by his coup d'etat removed the whole of the nineteen Radical senators, whom he himself nominated as a reward for their consent to his marrying Queen Draga and replaced them by Liberals and Progressists and neutrals. The senate now contains no Radicals. The new government is now Conservative and military, General Bogioevics being appointed president of the state council and General Belimarkovitch president of the senate.

In a word, the king has effectually muzzled the opposition by placing his own nominees in all possible offices, including the judiciary and the municipal administration. He is now virtually an absolute ruler.

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887 — PLAINFIELD N. J. THURSDAY, APRIL 9, 1903 — TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR.

YEAR'S WORK IN TWO CHURCHES

Election of Officers, Reports and Other Business Transacted at Annual Meeting of Local Presbyterian Churches.

FIRST PRES. CHURCH

Total Receipts for the Year Were $4,713.52—Slight Deficit Which Will Probably be Made Up on Easter Sunday—Church Membership is 373—Reports of Sunday-School and Various Organizations Connected With the Church.

The annual meetings of the congregation and trustees of the First Presbyterian church were held in the chapel of the church last evening, with a fair attendance considering the inclement weather. While the finances of the church show a deficit, this is almost sure to be made up at the Easter service on Sunday. The general condition of the church is excellent as shown by the various reports for the past year.

The congregational meeting was held first. Rev. C. E. Herring, the pastor, was chairman, J. M. Bettman, clerk and H. A. Pope secretary. The report of the clerk of the session, Mr. Bettman, the showed membership to be 373, about the same as last year. During the year there were six additions on confession and ten by letter, while sixteen members were dismissed to other churches and there were nine lost by death. The benevolent contributions for the year amounted to $1,504.97.

The treasurer's report for the missionary fund showed that $248.62 was collected and disbursed, with a balance of $82.11. The report of the treasurer of the Christian Endeavor Society showed receipts in the general fund to be $38.92, with a balance of $8.44. The receipts for the missionary fund were $93.08 and the disbursements $71.82, leaving a balance of $21.36, or a total balance of $32.05. The King's Messengers received and disbursed about $16.

The treasurer of the Woman's Home Missionary Society reported total receipts of $239.68 and disbursements $230.21, leaving a balance of $9.47. The society also sent several barrels of clothing and literature away to home mission fields. The receipts and disbursements reported by the treasurer of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society were $127.20. The deacons' fund showed receipts and disbursements of $266.86, with a balance of $27.61, which will be used to pay the General Assembly assessment.

The treasurer of the Ladies' Aid Society reported the raising of $700, which amount was used in building a kitchen addition to the church. Aside from this the society collected $40.45 and disbursed $38.03, leaving a balance of $38.42. The superintendent of the Junior Christian Endeavor Society reported the total membership to be fifty-four, with an average attendance of thirty at each meeting. The society raised $8.11 during the year and there is a balance of $3.43 in the treasury.

This concluded the presentation of the reports at this meeting. They were all read by the secretary, Mr. Pope, after which LeRoy Gates was re-elected an elder and Charles Hummer a deacon for the full term. The meeting then adjourned.

Immediately afterward the meeting of the trustees was held. Robert Radford was chosen chairman, while Mr. Pope continued to act as secretary. An interesting feature of this meeting was the presentation of the treasurer's report by William H. Shotwell. This showed that the total receipts for the year amounted to $4,713.52, all of which was disbursed. There is a deficit of $812.50. This is partially accounted for by reason of the fact that the report last year included two Easter offerings and other smaller receipts. It is believed that the Easter offering this year will wipe out the deficit and Mr. Shotwell will read a portion of his report at the service next Sunday morning for the purpose of urging the members to contribute more liberally.

It was unanimously voted to make the pastor's salary for the coming year the same as last year, $2,500 and it was also voted to give a sufficient amount of money to provide for the church music, including the salary of

CRESCENT AVE. CHURCH

Church Raised $43,021.39 for All Purposes During the Year—Total Membership of Church and Chapels is Now 1,589, An Increase of Nine — Reports of Chapels, Sunday-Schools and Other Auxiliary Organizations to the Church.

Elders and deacons were elected, reports were read showing the work being done in the different departments of the church work and other business was transacted at the annual meeting of the members of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church held in the chapel of the church last evening. The attendance was not large on account of the storm.

The meeting was presided over by Rev. J. O. McKelvey, moderator of the Session. Dr. Ellis W. Hedges, the clerk of the church, performed the duties of secretary. The first matter of business was the election of elders to succeed those whose terms expire. Alfred W. Duxbury and Frederic H. Andrews were re-elected and William D. Murray was appointed to succeed Silas Yerkes, who declined the nomination for another term, as he is no longer a resident in Plainfield. The deacons elected were Samuel F. Kimball and S. H. Whitney. The tellers were J. K. Myers and William Sandford, Jr.

Following the election of the elders and deacons the meeting proceeded to the hearing of the reports. The first was the nineteenth report of the Ladies' Aid Society. It now has a total membership of 209. Boxes of clothing and other gifts whose estimated value was $654.75, was sent out to the families of missionaries and schools. $2,323.09 is the sum total of the missionary gifts of that society.

As an adjunct to that society reports of numerous other organizations were read. The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society reports $1,181.70 as the total receipts of the year. Satisfactory reports were read of the Sunshine Mission Band, Woman's Home Missionary Society, Boys' Mission Band, the Chinese Sunday-school, where there are five pupils with a corresponding number of teachers and where much good work is being done; the floral committee, the McAll Auxiliary, and other societies. It was with pride that Miss Julia Jermain Ketcham, the secretary of the society, reported that during the past year the gifts of the Home and Foreign Missionary Societies exceed those of any pervious year. This interesting report is closed with the statement that $4,910.44 has been devoted to missionary purposes.

The report of the Christian Endeavor Society of the church was most encouraging financially, although it was reported that there had been during the year a decrease in membership of twenty, making the total membership now forty-two. There are six associate members. The treasurer reported $153.05 received and after expenses for the year a sum on hand in the treasury of $5.02.

The report of the Sunday-school showed that there was a total of 167 pupils and twenty-four teachers in the upper grades and eighty-five pupils and twelve teachers in the primary department. There are fifty-one pupils in the primary department and five teachers making a total membership, including eleven officers, of 353. The total enrollment for the preceding year was 395. The average attendance is 183. The loss in the number of pupils enrolled is ascribed to the fact that many of the teachers have moved away. The disbursements for the year amounted to $575.38, all of which was devoted to missionary purposes. In the report of the Sunday-school the resignation of Librarian Joseph B. Coward was read. He has served in that position for many years.

The total amount raised by the church during the past year amounted to $43,021.39. For benevolent purposes, $25,825.08, for congregational expenses $12,271.31, and paying off church debts $4,925. The total expenses of the church amounted to $12,271.31. For chapels, $7,029.83, balance on Hope chapel, mortgage and interest paid, $1,014.75. $7,500 has been subscribed for a new building for Warren chapel.

As treasurer of the Session of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, Andrew J. Gavett reported that $5,106.67 had been received for special offerings, and receipts from organ recitals, offerings and a gift from Dr. Richards for chapels, amounted to $2,151.72. The total amounted to $7,258.39. The church membership is 927. Bethel has 60, Hope 378, Warren, 224, making a total of 1,589. The total Sunday-school roll in church and chapels is 1,664.

Charles S. Cook, as treasurer of the Sunday-school, reported that $575.38 had been received by contributions, all of which was paid out for missionary purposes.

Reports were read of the work being done at the three chapels. These proved interesting. Bethel chapel has sixty members, or an increase of three over last year; Hope has now a membership of 378, or an increase of twenty-four, and Warren has a membership of 224, or an increase of ten over the total enrollment of last year. The total increase in the membership of the church and three chapels is nine, the figures this year being 1,589 while last year it was 1,580.

The Sunday-school collections amounted to $295.49, church collections were $584.02, and Friday nights men's services, $103.44. $142.75 was spent for foreign missions and through home missions $735.55 was spent.

Bethel mission reported through its pastor, Rev. F. D. Tildon, that its entire enrollment is now sixty members, it being three more than last year. This is the largest enrollment since 1898. The receipts amounted to $586.10 and the disbursements to $582.69, leaving a balance on hand of $3.42.

Hope chapel has made a gain of ten members. The enrollment in the chapel is 224. The report of the work at the Sunday-school was very encouraging, the receipts amounting to $2,407.16, most of which was spent for missionary purposes. The result of the good work being done there and in the different classes and departments of the week day and Sunday societies was pointed out and a tribute was paid to City Judge William N. Runyon for the work he has done there among the young men. Rev. L. B. Howard, the pastor of the chapel, told of the work being done there among the girls under the charge of Miss Lucy Humphrey and Miss Hazen. It was recommended that a boy's secretary be secured by the Y. M. A. so that the junior members of the chapel could enjoy the out door recreations like the members of the Y. M. C. A.

Stuart H. Whitney, treasurer of the Board of Deacons, reported that the receipts amounted to $1,151.11 and the disbursements, $955.24, leaving a balance on hand of $195.87.

Mrs. Katherine H. Pierson reported on the list of deaths which have occurred among the members of the church during the past year. Those who have passed away are Miss Anna M. Bunting, Mrs. Caroline R. Brunsun, Theodore J. Gillies, Willard Randolph, Charles W. Burton, Peter P. Dumont, Mrs. Martha Aborn, Mrs. Caroline A. Miller, Mrs. Joseph Myers, Mrs. Fanny P. Ketcham, Clarence E. Oakley, Miss Sarah R. Rockwell, William Chapman, Miss Louise M. Holmes and Mrs. Elizabeth Mair.

Stephen Cahoone closed the meeting with a prayer.

REPAIRS TO TROLLEY LINE

DELAYED ON ACCOUNT OF FAILURE TO SECURE MATERIAL.

Minor Repairs Being Made to Cars —Nothing Extensive Until Summer Comes.

It was stated yesterday on good authority that just as soon as the weather permitted and material arrives from the west, work will be started in making necessary repairs to the local trolley tracks. This work was started a few weeks ago where the repairs were most necessary but on account of the delay in securing material, which has been ordered from the west, the work has had to be temporarily abandoned.

Switches have been ordered and as soon as they arrive they will be installed on the various turnouts on the city lines. Repairs will be made to the rolling stock of the company in this city. Some of the cars are greatly in need of repair, but nothing extensive can be done with them until it is time to put out the summer cars so that the cars now in service can be taken to the repair shops to be overhauled.

Some of the cars are being repaired at present. The carpet on the seats is being taken off and the interiors and exteriors of the cars are being varnished and put in first class condition. The running gears will receive attention during the summer months.

Nothing was said in regard to the erection of a separate chapel but if the services prove successful it may be considered later. Another meeting is to be held Wednesday evening to complete all plans.

SIGNS COLLECTOR'S BILL.

Governor Murphy Approves of Two of Assemblyman Newcorn's Bills.

Assemblyman William Newcorn received word today noon that Governor Murphy had signed two of his bills, one of which is the collector's bill, which allows the Common Council to appoint a collector by a two-thirds vote. The other bill provides that rents for water hydrants for fire purposes be paid for out of the general fund instead of the fire fund. This will especially be of benefit in Plainfield, allowing the fire committee to spend its appropriation in the department, while the general fund will pay for the hydrants used.

Good Friday services will be held tomorrow at Grace Episcopal church, commencing at 7 o'clock in the morning with ante-communion. DECREASING DEBT.

Encouraging Reports Told at Annual Meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist Church Last Evening.

The annual meeting of the church and society of the Park Avenue Baptist church was held last evening, when the usual routine of business was considered. George E. Hall was chairman of the meeting.

There was an encouraging report from the board of trustees, and the report of the treasurer was most gratifying. This showed that all bills have been paid and the church indebtedness has been reduced $660. This report was the cause of much rejoicing on the part of all.

In the selection of trustees, Cornelius K. Compton, John H. Doane and L. R. Schofield were elected for a term of two years. All the other reports presented showed the church to be in an excellent condition spiritually and financially. No report was received from the committee on new pastor, this still being an open question.

TOLD OF CONFERENCE.

Rev. Dr. E. L. Earp Talked to Congregation at Grace M. E. Church.

Rev. Dr. Edwin L. Earp, who was recently reappointed pastor of the Grace M. E. church, addressed the prayer meeting held last evening and told of the conference at Newark, where he attended the sessions. He spoke of the reports of the various districts. They showed that there has been an increase in missionary offerings amounting to about $6,000. Encouraging reports were also read showing that there has been an increase in the conversions during the year and that there were 1,100 more this year than last. A phenomenal advance was noted in the advance in the value of church property, showing that a large number of the churches have paid off their indebtedness and have raised mortgages. The talk was a most interesting one.

KNOCKED DOWN.

Lynus Walpool Paid for Injuries His Horse Gave Frank Shott.

The case of Frank Shott, of Manson place, against Lynus Walpool, of Scotch Plains, has been settled satisfactorily, through the efforts of Assemblyman Newcorn, representing the plaintiff. Mr. Shott brought suit against Mr. Walpool for $1,000 damages, the result of an accident which occurred last summer.

Shott was standing at the corner of Park avenue and Front street waiting for a trolley car, when Mr. Walpool drove along with a horse and wagon. Accidentally the shaft of the wagon struck Shott, knocked him down and broke three ribs. The affair was purely an accident and little trouble was experienced in settling for damages.

SPECIAL SESSION CALLED TO REMEDY FATAL DEFECT FOUND IN PASSAIC POLLUTION ACT.

Either Carelessness Or a Deliberate Attempt to Defeat the Measure.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, April 9—The New Jersey Legislature will be convened in special session Tuesday, April 21, to remedy what is regarded as a fatal defect in the Passaic trunk sewer bill, passed during the closing hours of the regular session.

It has been discovered that an important amendment to the bill adopted by the Senate was not concurred in by the House, nor was it incorporated in the reprinted bill submitted to the Governor and signed by him last week.

Whether the omission is the result of carelessness on the part of some Senate or House official, or whether it is part of a plot to defeat an important and hard fought piece of legislation, is not clear yet.

The discovery that the amendment in question was not in the signed bill was made in Newark Tuesday and when information to that effect was received here shortly after noon that day there was a flutter of excitement such as is seldom seen about the State House.

Governor Murphy and his private secretary, John L. Swayze, made a hasty investigation of the records and the bill which soon convinced them that something serious was wrong. Then the attorney general was sought and was finally located somewhere in north Jersey.

Before 6 o'clock in the evening, the Governor, attorney general and Prosecutor Chandler W. Riker, of Newark, who had taken the first train for Trenton upon hearing that the sewage scheme was in danger, were engaged in consultation, the result of which was a decision by the Governor to call a special session.

He accordingly instructed the attorney general to prepare a proclamation which will bring the lawmakers together again.

WATER CO.'S HOUSE.

The Plainfield Water Supply Company has been granted a permit by Building Inspector T. O. Doane to erect a residential house at 1268 North avenue. The house will be 20x20x24 feet. The mason will be Charles Lowney and the carpenter, John Abbott.

Permits have been granted to the Boice estate to erect a large combination stable, shop and general store house on Park avenue in the rear of the store of the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company. The building when completed, will be used for the above named purpose by the latter firm. The structure will measure 70x70x60 feet. The architect will be John Clark, the mason Frank Clark, and the carpenter, William Ross.

Central Building Going Up.

The New Jersey Central will add two stories to its nine-story building in Liberty street, between West and Washington streets, New York. This has been decided upon by the officers, to meet the increased demand for better accommodations.

'PHONE COMPANY THAT WANTS EXCHANGE HERE

Something About the Central New Jersey and Its Ally at Trenton.

THE INTER-STATE CO.

INDEPENDENT COMPANY IS TRYING TO GET INTO NEW YORK.

Arguments Pro and Con for Granting Franchise to the Invading Company—Something About the Rates—Other Details.

In connection with the application of the Central New Jersey Telephone Company for a franchise to operate in Plainfield, it might be well to give a few facts and figures to show how extensively this concern, which is known in Trenton as the Inter-State Telephone Company, is in operation. The present company has only been in operation in Trenton six months where there are today nearly 1,700 subscribers. Bordentown has 200, Mt. Holly 260, Morristown 85, Camden 2,100, Bridgeton 350, Millville 280, Vineland 150, Ocean City 80, Atlantic City 1,200, Elizabeth 375, Paterson 1,200 and Passaic 400, while it has connections with over 22,000 subscribers in Pennsylvania, besides others in Wilmington and Baltimore.

This shows the extent of the independent company. According to the statement made by Mayor Katzenbach, of Trenton, the company is a benefit to that city. It makes competition and thus reduces the rates to the subscribers. The Inter-State Telephone Company installs a 'phone in a business house for $36 a year and in a residence for $24 a year. This is on a direct wire and there is no limit to the number of calls. As demonstrated at Trenton recently, the system apparently works just as well as that of the opposition company.

It is the purpose of the independent company to gradually cover New Jersey and then make an effort to establish a plant in New York. It has been said that the company will never be able to get in New York on account of the opposition of the Metropolitan Telephone and Telegraph Company. It has even been said that the companies with more money than that of the independent company of New Jersey have lost all their money in this attempt. On the other hand a substantial argument is offered in the fact that the present company in New York has 65,000 subscribers and this does not begin to represent the population of Greater New York. The independent company claims that there is a field big enough for two companies in New York and the rates would be cheaper. However, it can be depended upon that no opposition company will get in New York without a big fight.

The objection offered by many Plainfielders to another company is that it would mean two telephones in many houses and business places. They say that half of their friends would have one kind of a 'phone and the other half the other kind. In every place where the independent company is in operation the price for local messages to a non-subscriber is five cents, while in Plainfield it is ten cents. The difference in subscribers' rates is quite an item. In Plainfield it costs $90 a year for a direct wire in a business house and $40 for a direct wire in a home, while for party wires a rate of $30 is made for homes.

It cannot be denied that the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company has by the extent of its service a large advantage over any independent company and that company is in a position to defend itself ably in a fight. As for rates the company, if it was so disposed, could cut them down just as low if not more so than another concern.

As stated recently, the members of the Council are disposed to give the Central New Jersey Telephone Company a fair showing and the matter will be thoroughly investigated.

"If the company will agree to do all that the New Jersey Telephone Company has done," said a member of the Council, "it will be a difficult matter to turn them down."

Additional Facilities.

To facilitate the handling of the rapidly-increasing amount of freight on the Pennsylvania Railroad, a number of important improvements are being planned in and near Philadelphia. Additional tracks will be laid and there will be an entire rearrangement of all tracks used for freight.

A Few Interesting Items Concerning Greater Plainfield's Merchants

The acme of perfection in a cigar is made by M. C. Dobbins, the Park avenue tobacconist. His celebrated Yara brand need no introduction to Plainfield smokers. He carries a most complete line of pipes at all prices.

The tailors at the Paris Cloak Store on West Front street are kept very busy just now making women's suits for spring and summer wear. Mr. Fass, the proprietor, guarantees a perfect fit and all work is first-class.

Ever increasing sales indicate that John Wirth's bread, cake and confectionery is appreciated by the public. He employs none by experienced men in his workshop and everything is made fresh daily—no left-over stock sold. Prompt deliveries.

One of the prettiest showings in millinery is now to be seen at Bonn's on West Front street. His Easter display of hats is more extensive than ever and it convinces the women that they can get in Plainfield the proper style of headgear at reasonable prices.

Easter is almost here and many are engaged in making presents to friends. Before purchasing elsewhere it would be profitable to prospective buyers to visit L. Moraller's store where they have just received a most complete line of Easter silverware and jewelry.

Scalp troubles, including itching and falling hair, are quickly alleviated by the use of Schreiner's tar soap. It makes a splendid lather and after a shampoo with it, there is an enjoyable feeling of freshness. It is a sure foe to dandruff and imparts a healthy glow to the skin. It is to be had only at Schreiner's Central Pharmacy.

Soap and water is ordinarily a delightful combination but sometimes, owing to the inferiority of the former, the skin is injured instead of benefitted. Shaw's hard water soap is composed of ingredients that are absolutely pure and just the thing for cutaneous diseases. Sold only at R. J. Shaw's West Front street pharmacy.

Such a large concern as the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company never thinks of endangering its business reputation by attempting to palm off poor graded articles on the trusting public. It imports or manufactures all its own teas, coffees, spices and household necessities and guarantees them to be the best. The local store at 137 West Front street receives its supplies fresh daily and disposes of them at the lowest market prices.

Easter Sunday at Atlantic City.

Of the many gala days known to Atlantic City none is of more consequence than Easter Sunday, when there is gathered at this resort thousands of gaily attired pleasure tourists. One find on that day at Atlantic City the wealth of the land, and the incomparable board walk is thronged by a happy crowd and the sight is one long to be remembered. To accommodate the New Yorker who intends visiting Atlantic City on Easter, the New Jersey Central will run a special three-hour vestibuled buffet parlor car train from foot Liberty street, N. R., at 1:30 p. m., Saturday, April 11, stopping at Lakewood, Lakehurst, Chatsworth; and Sunday night, April 12, a special train for New York will leave Atlantic City at 5:30 p. m., arriving New York at 8:30 p. m. c

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Atwood, of West Sixth street, are entertaining relatives from Bridgeton.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y.

THEATRICAL.

Stuart Robson's brilliant revival of "The Henrietta," will be presented at the Grand Opera House, New York, next week. This popular old Bronson Howard masterpiece, which Mr. Robson first played fifteen years ago, continues to be a magnet of the same strength as in its first year. Additional interest attaches to the coming production, as it will be the last time the public will have an opportunity to see him in this part. Mr. Robson has made a million dollars out of this play, and undoubtedly could go on and make another million, but he declares he is not on the stage merely to make money, and desires to create new parts with which the public never before has identified him.

The chorus girls of Miss Marie Cahill's "Nancy Brown" company at the Bijou Theatre, New York, are in a class all by themselves. It is not that they are the only pretty maidens on Broadway or that they have managed to get along since the opening night without indulging in any of the petty quarrels which so often disrupt the ranks of the average chorus. It is simply that not one of them has received a costly diamond necklace, automobile, house and lot, or country villa from stage-door admirers and not one of them has made a fortune in six figures in Wall street.

Would Set Aside Conveyance.

John S. Dahl, through his counsel, Assemblyman William Newcorn, filed a bill in Chancery on Monday to set aside the conveyance made by Andrew Brovinesky to Sophie Kinosko, of the property on North avenue, built by Brovinesky. Dahl obtained a judgment against Brovinesky at the last term of court and just before the final payment was due on the building, and just before the January term of court opened, the defendant conveyed the property to Sophe Kinosko. Now the complainant wants the judgment satisfied.

A UNIVERSAL STRIKE

National Committee In Holland Orders General Tieup.

BUSINESS INTERESTS SUFFERING.

State Authorities Believe That the Labor Movement Is Doomed to Failure — Antistrike Bill is to Be Passed.

AMSTERDAM, April 9.—Late yesterday the national strike committee proclaimed a universal strike throughout the country.

The situation is practically unchanged. Railway men who are working are escorted by police and soldiers. The amount of traffic that is being handled is increasing. The railway companies still refuse to take back strikers who are willing to return to work.

The lockout of the dockworkers went into effect in the morning. The postal service is improved and the telegraph and telephone systems are working well.

The bakers who were ordered on strike by the strike committee refused to remain out and worked all night in the largest bakeries. Bread carts delivered bread from house to house in the morning. They were escorted by soldiers, both infantry and cavalry.

The masons and plasterers have gone out on strike.

Queen Wilhelmina is in constant consultation with the members of the cabinet and other officers and takes the most active interest in all the details of the strike.

The municipal employees met here last night and decided to go on strike this morning. This action effects the gas, telephone, sanitary and water services, but not all of the men responded to the strike call, and the military will be employed to maintain the public services.

The proclamation calling for a general strike of all trades throughout the country is considered to be a policy of despair. In authoritative quarters it is believed that the strike as an organized movement is doomed to failure and that the government's antistrike bill will be speedily passed, greatly strengthening the hands of the authorities.

Meantime there is no doubt that the public is suffering great inconvenience through the stagnation of trade resulting from the strike. There is a rush on the state pawnshops and the savings banks.

General Strike In Rome.

ROME, April 9.—Labor troubles have reached an acute stage here, and the city is under military guard. Clashes have occurred between the troops and strikers, and some of the latter were wounded, while many were arrested. The strike is quite general in all trades and the aspect of the city has been completely changed. No cabs pass through the streets, and cars, which run at long intervals, are escorted by police and are almost empty, as the people fear to ride in them on account of the threats of the strikers.

Redmond Favors Land Bill.

LONDON, April 9.—John Redmond, the Irish leader, made an important speech at Dublin last night, in which he welcomed the Irish land bill, in spite of its great defects, as the first measure proposed by an English minister having the avowed object of carrying into effect the policy of Parnell and the Land league. He said he did not wish to forestall the decision of the coming national convention at Dublin. The latter's acceptance of the bill would mean its amendment and its certain passage into law. The rejection of the bill by the convention would mean that both Chief Secretary Wyndham and his bill would disappear.

Ohio Professor Takes His Life.

COLUMBUS, O., April 9.—Professor Ernst A. Eggers, head of the department of German at the Ohio State university, committed suicide last evening by shooting himself at his home. It is said he was despondent from ill health. Though himself not a college graduate, Professor Eggers was noted among college educators. He taught in several Michigan high schools before coming to the Ohio State university in 1882. He was about forty-two years old.

Tillman Gets Time.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 9.—The case of James H. Tillman, former lieutenant governor of this state, who is charged with the murder of N. G. Gonzales, editor of the Columbia State, has been continued to the June term of court on motion of his counsel. Judge Klugh granted the motion out of hand without giving a hearing to the state's attorneys. United States Senator Ben Tillman, uncle of the prisoner, was in court.

Our Farthest North Mail Contract.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The postoffice department has awarded to S. R. Spriggs of Point Barrow, Alaska, the contract for carrying the mails from Point Barrow via Point Hope to Kotzebue, Alaska, about 650 miles, two round trips to be made each winter, for the next three winters at $750 per round trip. The mail is to be carried by reindeer.

Well Known Architect Dead.

BOSTON, April 9.—Henry Van Brunt, well known as an architect and as designer of the electricity building at the Chicago World's fair, is dead. He had been ill for some months. Mr. Van Brunt was a native of this city.

Indiana Tool Plant Burned.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 9.—The plant of the Terre Haute Shovel and Tool company has been burned. Loss $50,000; fully covered by insurance.

SHAMROCK III. FAST.

Makes Good Showing In Trial With First Challenger.

WEYMOUTH, England, April 9.—To all intents and purposes Shamrock III. sailed rings around Shamrock I. in the first real test of speed between the old and new challengers yesterday. In windward work the challenger sailed faster and pointed higher than the old boat.

Twice around a fourteen mile course, seven miles to leeward and seven miles to windward, the challenger finished nearly six minutes ahead of Shamrock I. despite the fact that smarter work was done by the crew of the original Lipton boat.

The wind was offshore from twelve to fourteen knots when the two big yachts straightened away for the starting line. Club topsails were set on both boats, and the conditions were ideal for a test both for speed and gear.

Designer George L. Watson in an interview after the race said he certainly did not like the challenger on her first run to leeward, but her after performances, he thought, made ample amends. Her windward work was already up to his best expectations, and he looked for further improvement.

Sailmaker Ratsey fenced the questions of the interviewer, but admitted the challenger's performances were a tale of a very different kind to that written by Shamrock II.

It is arranged if the conditions suit to send the yachts today over a measured America's cup course, fifteen miles to leeward and return.

Wet Day at Bennings.

WASHINGTON, April 9. — Aside from the regulars few persons except the most venturesome braved the elements yesterday to attend the races at Bennings. Rain fell at intervals during the afternoon, and the sixth race was run in a driving storm. The track was the worst of the meeting, being fetlock deep in slushy mud. Three favorites won, and all three of the other winners were heavily backed. Turnpike won the first race by a scant length after getting off quite twenty lengths behind the field. The Washington Jockey club announced that on Easter Monday seven races would be run, including a hurdle race at a mile and a half and a steeplechase at two miles and a half.

Work on Reliance.

BRISTOL, R. I., April 9.—The principal work on the Reliance yesterday was the closing up of the seams and spaces at the butts with cement. There were no dents on the underbody, so careful has been the riveting, while only a few have been found on the nickel steel on the topsides. The steel workers are rushing the work on the gaff, and it is expected that it will be done the first of next week. It is the hope now that the Reliance will be rigged and ready for her first sail trial on April 23.

Auto Goes Eighty Mile Gait.

NICE, April 9.—The automobile record for a kilometer was broken by M. Serjollet, the renowned chauffeur, who covered the distance in a car of his own design in twenty-eight seconds. That is equal to traveling at the rate of about eighty miles an hour.

Racing at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 9.—There was no stake feature at Montgomery park yesterday, but five well played races and a steeplechase over the full course attracted a large crowd. The track had dried out from the rain, and good time was made.

One Favorite Led at Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Dainty, winner of the handicap, was the only favorite to land at Oakland. The track was fast and weather perfect.

Shakespearean Play Out of Door.

NEW YORK, April 9.—An open air performance of "As You Like It" will be given at South field, Columbia university, on the afternoon of May 14 for the benefit of the kindergarten of the University settlement. The benefit will be under the management of Mrs. James H. Speyer, and the performance will be under the personal direction of Ben Greet, who has for many years been identified with open air Shakespearean performances in England.

Unique Strike In New York.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The strike of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners is on in full force, with the result that nearly every building in the course of construction in the city is tied up. Within a few days, unless the fight is settled, between 50,000 and 60,000 men of the allied building trades will be out of employment. The trouble is not one of wages or shorter hours, but a fight of one union to force another union to the wall.

Weather Probabilities.

Fair; fresh north winds, becoming variable.

King Christian of Denmark celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday.

A woman and two of her children were burned to death in a Philadelphia fire.

THE PENNELL INQUEST.

Buffalo Judge and District Attorney Agree on Programme.

BUFFALO, April 9.—Justice Murphy and District Attorney Coatsworth held a conference last evening on the Pennell inquest, which begins at the morgue at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The course of the public inquiry, so far as it could be discussed beforehand, was settled. The inquests of Pennell and Mrs. Pennell are to be joined. The last known statement of Pennell in his own defense, in which he says a woman killed Burdick at midnight, is to come out.

The question of suicide or accident is not to be tried out so far as the district attorney is concerned. That part of the case will be directed by Justice Murphy. The alleged defalcations announced as equaling the total of Pennell's life insurance have nothing to do with the death of Burdick, and the inquest will not be a trial of a dead man for swindling. But what in any way may tend to throw light on the murder of Burdick is to come out.

The letters Pennell wrote, the statement he left behind and all other papers that in any way touch upon or pertain to the affairs of Burdick are to be brought on if the authorities can get at them.

STEVENSON BADLY BURNED.

Former Vice President Injured at Fire In His Home.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., April 9.—Adlai E. Stevenson, formerly vice president of the United States, lost his hair and mustache and received painful burns on his face, head and hands while trying to extinguish a fire in his home.

The fire started in a bedroom. When Mr. Stevenson rushed into the room, the curtains were ablaze. Without calling for aid he attacked the flames.

In a moment the hair on his head went up in a puff of smoke. The fire then seized his mustache and blistered his face. Then Mr. Stevenson called for help. He retreated before the flames caught his clothing. The loss to the house was $1,000.

Colonel Sanger at Chattanooga.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 9.—Colonel William Cary Sanger, assistant secretary of war, was the guest last night at an elaborate banquet given by about fifty leading citizens of Chattanooga. Other guests at the banquet were John C. Schofield, chief clerk of the war department; Colonel Cadle, chairman of the Shiloh park commission; General H. V. HONOLULU, April 9.—J. B. Atherton, one of the richest and most influential men in the Hawaiian Islands, is dead after an extended illness, aged sixty-six years, Mr. Atherton came here from Boston in 1858 and was interested largely in the development of the sugar industry of the country and took an active part in the management of several other corporations and business enterprises. Kansas Strong For Prohibition.

TOPEKA, Kan., April 9.—Returns from all the towns in Kansas which held elections Tuesday disclose the fact that the vote in favor of enforcing the prohibition law is the most overwhelming in the history of the state. A special effort was made by the opponents of prohibition to make a good showing at this election and thus pave the way for a resubmission campaign two years from now. Only six towns of any importance in the state voted in favor of a liberal policy toward the saloons.

PRESIDENT IN PARK.

Roosevelt and Burroughs Enter the Yellowstone.

A REST OF TWO WEEKS PLANNED.

Headquarters to Be With Superintendent Pitcher — Special Train and Remainder of Party Wait Outside at Cinnabar.

CINNABAR, Mont., April 9.—President Roosevelt is in the fastness of Yellowstone park; and for the next sixteen days he expects to enjoy complete rest and cessation from public duties. He will be in almost daily communication with Secretary Loeb at Cinnabar, but nothing except of the utmost importance will be referred to him.

In company with John Burroughs, the naturalist, who accompanied him from Washington, he will study closely the nature of the various animals that inhabit the park. The president has looked forward to this outing for some time, and he was in a particularly happy frame of mind when he led the cavalcade into the park. Every trail leading into the preserve will be closely guarded, and no one will be allowed to disturb the president's solitude. His headquarters will be at the home of Major Pitcher, the superintendent of the park. Several camps have been established in different localities, and these will be occupied by the president from time to time.

The special train bearing the president and his party arrived at Gardner, the entrance to the park, at 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was met by a detachment of the Third cavalry and a number of cowboys. Major Pitcher also was on hand to welcome the president. Luncheon was served in the president's car, after which, dressed in riding breeches and coat, with a light colored slouch hat on his head, he mounted his horse and made a brief address to the people congregated near his train. He then bade the members of his party goodby and led the way into the park. Mr. Burroughs followed in an army wagon. The train returned to Cinnabar, where Secretary Loeb and the remainder of the party will live in it while the president is absent.

The president will start on his trip to St. Louis and thence to the Pacific coast on April 24. The weather here is very mild, and reports from the park are to the effect that there is but little snow in the vicinity of the president's headquarters.

Admiral Schley In St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, April 9.—Admiral Schley was given an enthusiastic reception by the citizens of St. Paul yesterday as he drove under veteran and military escort to the state capitol. He briefly addressed a joint session of the two houses, being introduced by Speaker Babcock. Governor Van Sant, Senator M. F. Clapp and Colonel A. K. McClure also made short addresses. Then, in the governor's parlors, a public reception was tendered the distinguished guests. In the morning the admiral and his party visited Hamline university, and addresses were made to the students there.

It is understood that Sternburg will now be appointed full ambassador.

NEW 'PHONE COMPANY.

Do the people of Plainfield want another telephone company? That is the question the answer to which the members of the Councilmanic street committee would like very much to know. The petition of the Central New Jersey Telephone Company is now before that committee. It has heard arguments from representatives of the company but no decision will be arrived at until the subject has been looked into more closely and some idea obtained as to how the proposition is viewed in town.

Plainfield has excellent telephone service now and it is a question whether the new concern would bring with it sufficient advantages to make up for the increased cost of another telephone service to the local merchants and business men and the tearing up of the streets for another system of conduits. Then the new concern will not have the out-of-town connections that the New York and New Jersey Company offers.

This invading company, while by no means the first that has attempted to establish an independent exchange in this city, is making the most active fight for a franchise of any of the invaders and it seems likely that if any rival concern is to be allowed in here, the Central New Jersey Company has the best chance of getting the coveted franchise.

For the benefit of the public at large as well as the Councilmanic street committee, The Daily Press will be glad to publish communications on the subject.

If Councilman Daniel imagines that the public is not interested in the report of the city auditor, he is greatly mistaken. The report is now in his hands and there have been rumors that the finance committee did not intend to make it public. It is understood that there is nothing the matter with the city's account, nevertheless the public has a perfect right to know what is in that report and Mr. Daniel will find some serious trouble on his hands if he attempts to suppress it.

Tomorrow will see the opening of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. While the clubhouse is not quite ready, the course is in good condition and what promises to be one of the most successful seasons of one of New Jersey's most prominent clubs will be inaugurated. The club is very fortunate in having a man of the ability of Former Councilman George P. Mellick at the head of its affairs and he will undoubtedly be an important factor in the success of the coming season.

It is rather early to talk of next fall candidates but mark, President of the Common Council J. F. Buckle will be nominated for the Assembly by the Republicans to succeed Assemblyman William Newcorn, provided he will accept the nomination. Mr. Buckle would make an unusually strong candidate and there isn't any doubt but he would be heard from at Trenton.

The building of a new City High School will be an argument for rather than against consolidation. It will give the boroughites a chance to enjoy a High School to be excelled by none in the State. Both city and borough now possess good schools but a modern building will offer advantages which neither can give now.

All sorts of wild rumors are being circulated regarding what the City Board of Health is going to compell the milk dealers to do. The Daily Press has already published the facts in the case. It will pay those who hear the stories to investigate their truth before passing them along.

According to the Philadelphia Record, an advertiser says that "direct results can be got by advertising a bargain sale, yet over and above the sales for that day there are indirect results. The sale may be conducted at a loss, and the profits will come into the store's coffers long after."

Having discovered a defect in the Passaic pollution act, Governor Murphy has called an extra session of the Legislature for April 21 to correct the serious mistake made at the regular session.

If you have any ideas regarding the benefits or disadvantages of another telephone company in Plainfield, write out your ideas and send them to The Daily Press.

Singing Section Meets.

A meeting of the singing section of the Gesang and Turn Verein has been called for this evening. The society will attend the funeral of the late Franz Scheelein, tomorrow afternoon, and will render some of its funeral music. The meeting, this evening, is for the purpose of practice. The society will meet at the hall, tomorrow afternoon at 1:30.

Death of Miss McCabe.

Miss Anna McCabe passed away yesterday at her home, 340 East Third street, after a long illness. She was twenty-four years of age and was a member of St. Mary's R. C. church. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and the interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Substitute for Miss Harris.

Owing to the fact that Miss Luella C. Harris, the soprano soloist at the First Baptist church, is ill, she will be unable to take part in the oratorio to be given at the church this evening. Her place will be taken by Mrs. Brach, a well-known soprano from Brooklyn.

For Muhlenberg Hospital.

The Coachman's Social Club, recently organized, has engaged Saengerbund Hall for a grand annual ball on the evening of May 21, and the club proposes to give the entire net receipts to Muhlenberg Hospital. Professor O'Reilly will furnish the music.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning April 12—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Christ's teaching about the resurrection.—John xi, 21-27, 40-44. (An Easter meeting.)

Easter is one of the most joyous of the Christian festivals. It speaks of those who have in sadness been taken from loved ones on earth, but it speaks also of hope—yea, even of assurance of resurrection from the dead and reunion with loved ones. Blessed hope of Eastertide, first heard when the angels announced the fact that Christ was risen from the dead and never to cease to be heard till earth and sea shall give up their dead and those who died in Christ, having risen, shall reign with him forever and forever!

In consideration of the fact that Christ was divine as well as human and could see and understand life beyond the grave, what He had to say about the resurrection becomes of infinite importance. The Old Testament Scriptures, while giving us some information upon the subject of the future, is not as definite and comprehensive upon the subject as we might wish, and yet even here we are not without encouragement to our faith. This is shown in Martha's reply to Christ's statement concerning the resurrection. "I know," she says, "that He will rise again at the resurrection in the last day." Evidently therefore Martha had faith in a resurrection at the last day, and this was true of most of the Jews. The Pharisees at least had derived from the Old Testament—Genesis, Job, the Psalms, Daniel and Ezekiel—a belief in both the immortality of the soul and the resurrection of the body. And it is with joy that we hail the fact that Christ abundantly corroborated their faith upon these subjects.

It is one of the crowning glories of the New Testament that here Christ brings "life and immortality to life through the gospel."

1. Christ taught that Lazarus should rise again. To Martha in her sorrow Jesus said, "Thy brother shall rise again." Nor did He refer to a future but a present resurrection, and that His prophecy was true was soon afterward demonstrated by His miracle of raising Lazarus from the dead. This fact convinces us of the truthfulness of Christ's words concerning the general resurrection of the dead.

2. Christ taught the doctrine of a general resurrection of the dead. "I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth on Me, though he die, yet shall he live." He came as man's life to make it possible for man to be raised again and to spend eternity in fellowship with him and the Father and all the redeemed. Christ's doctrine of the resurrection has been accepted and taught in all the Christian centuries. Paul developed it in all its phases, and little has been or can be added to what they have said upon the subject. The fact is glorious, and it is true, and, accepting it as such, we can leave the mysteries and perplexities surrounding it until revealed in God's own time and way.

A Stalwart Endeavorer.

Rev. Edwin Forrest Hallenbeck, D. D., of Binghamton is making an exceptional record as president of the New York State Christian Endeavor union, and in this connection his name is being prominently brought before the Endeavor world at large. Dr. Hallenbeck was born in Alexandria, Va., in 1864. He first came into marked prominence in state Christian Endeavor work in 1900, when he was elected vice president of the New York State union. The next year he was chosen president and is now serving his second term in that office as a recognition of his devotion to the work. He made an exceptional record as a convention speaker in convention with the "tour of the state plan," giving nearly three weeks of undivided attention to meetings "from Erie to the sea."

REV. E. F. HALLENBECK, D. D.

New York State's Keynote.

The New York state executive committee has selected "Soul Winning" as the keynote for the next year. An evangelistic committee has been added to the working force of the union, with F. H. Jacobs as chairman. Mr. Jacobs is secretary to William Phillips Hall, the noted evangelist.

Our Clearing House.

The prayer meeting is the clearing house, the stock exchange of the Father's business. I have a helpful thought, and I give it to you; you have one, and you give it to me, and God's business is doubly profited by the transfer.—"Business," by Amos R. Wells.

Proceedings of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

[OFFICIAL]

Adjourned meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union, N. J., held on Thursday, March 12, 1903, at 2:30 p. m.

The meeting was called to order by the Clerk of the Board.

Roll call showed all members present except Director Hubbard and Freeholders Krouse and Wahl.

The Clerk stated that owing to the absence of the Director it would be necessary to elect a Director pro tem., and called for nominations.

Freeholder King was nominated, and there being no further nominations he was declared elected as Director pro tem. by the unanimous vote of the Board.

The minutes of the previous meeting (the reading of the bills being omitted) were on motion approved as read.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By the Joint Committee on Jail and Public Grounds and Building:

Elizabeth, March 12, 1903.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—The committee to whom was referred the matter of the application of B. F. Oriell, sheriff, for the control of the county jail and the custody of the prisoners, would respectfully report that we have met and considered the matter, but have been unable to come to any agreement; we would, however, state that the sheriff and his counsel appeared before us and proposed that the sheriff enter into a contract with the county to furnish all provisions and help necessary for the keeping of the prisoners, also the attending the heating apparatus for jail and county clerk's and surrogate's offices, and cleaning the same, not, however, to include the physician's expense, bedding and clothing (said offer was without prejudice), on the following terms, viz.: 35 cents per day per prisoner. (Signed)

W. A. Westphal,
John Farrell,
Noah Woodruff,
J. V. Cady,
Joseph McCandless,
Committee.

On motion, the foregoing report was received and placed on file.

Freeholder Farrell moved that an offer of 30 cents per day per prisoner be made to the sheriff, in order to bring the matter before the Board, although at the same time expressing his belief that such an offer would not be accepted by the sheriff. He further moved that a committee of three (3) be appointed to present said offer to the sheriff, and also ascertain the lowest figure he would accept.

Freeholder Farrell's resolution was adopted on roll call by the following vote, viz.:

Ayes—Freeholders Adams, Cady, Connoly, King, Farrell, Robison, Tillman and Westphal—8.

Nays—Freeholders Bonnel, Brucklacher, Klee, McCandless, Pierson, Swain and Woodruff—7. Absent, Director Hubbard, and Freeholders Krouse and Wahl—3.

Director pro tem King appointed the following committee, viz.: Freeholders Westphal, Farrell and Woodruff.

On motion it was ordered that the Board take a recess of twenty (20) minutes.

Roll call after recess showed all member present except Director Hubbard and Freeholders Krouse and Wahl—3.

Freehodler Farrell of committee to see the sheriff, reported that the sheriff would accept 32½ cents per day per prisoner, if the same was not accepted by this Board, he, (the sheriff) should he take charge of the jail as he claimed the right to do under the law, would not be responsible for the heating, cleaning, etc., of the different county offices.

Freeholder Farrell read from the letters from Sheriff Nicoll, of Essex county, that he was allowed 40c per capita for each prisoner, and from Sheriff Carman, of Middlesex county, that he was allowed 32 1-7c per day per prisoners. The report was received.

In reply to a question, County Attorney Codington gave it as his opinion, that the sheriff was in no way bounden to take charge of, or keep clean the county buildings.

On motion of Freeholder Swain, it was ordered that the Committee on Jail Inspection take account of stock and contents of the jail.

On motion of Freeholder Robison, it was ordered that the Committee on Public Grounds and Buildings take charge of the heating, lighting and cleaning of the county buildings and offices.

Freeholder Robison moved to adjourn, which was carried, and Director pro tem King declared the Board adjourned until Thursday, April 2, 1903, at 2:30 p. m.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning April 12, "The Danger of Idleness." Text, Prov. xxiv, 30, 31. Rom. xii, 11.

"Why stand ye here all the day idle?"

The first thought would be that we of this age and nation are not open to the charge of idleness. We are usually represented as intensely active. We believe ourselves to be busy and fully occupied. We seem to be ever on the rush. How, then, can there be any danger to us from idleness? Ought we not rather to be exhorted to slow down and take matters more quietly and cultivate a little more the habit of leisure, if not of idleness?

Closer attention may show us that while we are unduly active in some things we may be entirely idle and negligent in others. While cultivating one field others have been neglected.

There is the matter of church attendance. A person may work so hard all the week that when Sunday comes it seems almost a physical necessity to rest, so as to get ready for another week of labor. It is such hard work to get up in time for morning service. Then if one does go all tired out the service does not seem to do much good. The sermon is dull, the singing does not interest, the mind is on business, and perhaps it is better to stay at home and rest. That is the excuse made by many. Whatever the cause, the fact remains that there is idleness in the work that the soul needs. However pressing the daily work may be, the soul cultivation is far more needful, and the public worship ought not to be unused.

The same is true in regard to the steady study of the Bible. Comparatively few of our young people have acquired the habit of regular Bible reading for devotional purposes. If they are in the Sunday school, they may or may not give some attention to the study of the lesson. Outside of this the Bible is not consulted from one week's beginning to another by very many who are Christians and members of the Epworth League. Such idleness bears fruit in ignorance. If there is lack of study, there must be lack of knowledge of God's mind and will and all that belongs to Christian living. This in turn affects the whole life, until it becomes difficult to see how such Christians differ from the people of the world.

Diligence is the opposite of idleness. It is essential for success in every line of human effort. No one can grow in the graces and gifts of the Christian life without constant communion with God. The prayerful spirit must be cultivated. The habit of prayer in secret must be acquired. This never can come by idleness and neglect.

Christian testimony is born from experience. However diffident one may be by nature, persistent effort will give some facility in the expression of thought, and constant thinking and practice in speaking, as there is opportunity in private and in meetings, will give any one some proficiency in Christian testimony and exhortation.

It is quite possible that a person may live a consistent Christian life and finally be saved who has never spoken in meeting and has done some things which the Methodist church discountenances. But beyond all question the safest course for all young Christians who wish to "grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ" is to "give all diligence to make their calling and election sure."

Read the things which aid to the knowledge and love of God more than any other literature.

Attend the services of the church and allow no other thing to interfere with this.

Persistently practice the expression of Christian experience and hope in the meetings for that purpose.

Be not idle, but watchful for openings to help some one in whatever way is possible.

Cultivate habits of regular and systematic and proportionate giving of your income.

Be not idle, but diligent in all goodness.

When Pride Is Sinful.

When is pride sinful? When it becomes the excess of the underlying virtue. Wrongful pride is the undue exaltation of self. It is regarding oneself from a mistaken point of view in reference to one's abilities, characteristics or disposition. It is centering thought upon self to the exclusion of others, their interests and the obligation which one sustains to them more than is consistent with duty to them. In other words, it is selfish, and whatever is selfish is so far sinful. The false notions which thus are begotten about ourselves lead to false adjustments of our lives to the lives of others. —Congregationalist.

Always the Same.

From generation to generation the creeds of men change, but Jesus Christ is unchangeable. He is "the same yesterday and today and forever." Faith that is centered in Him hath foundations that are immovable and eternal and therefore must abide and ever yield its rich blessings to its possessor. —Christian Advocate.

Prayer.

Only a word for the Master,
Lovingly, quietly said;
Only a word, yet the Master heard,
And some fainting hearts were fed.

Only some act of devotion,
Willingly, joyfully done;
"Surely 'twas naught," so the proud world thought,
But yet souls for Christ were won.

"Only"—but Jesus is looking Constantly, tenderly down
To earth and sees those who strive to please
And their love He loves to crown.
—Endeavor Hymnal.

Just before driving into the public square Ratcliff struck a match and applied the flame to his cigar, then he drew himself up more erectly and drove on to the office of Judge Richardson, the magistrate. A man coming out told Ratcliff that the judge had gone out to his farm to spend Sunday.

"You see," said Ratcliff, as he puffed, and seemed to view himself from the standpoint of a group of citizens who had gathered on the sidewalk and whose eyes were asking what had happened. One of the crowd stepped out to the buggy and asked if Ronald was under arrest, but he received only a non-committal grin and a shrug as Ratcliff turned his horse towards the jail, a modern red brick structure adjoining the courthouse in the center of the town. When they arrived the jailer, a short, thickset man, with a bald spot on his head, was playing checkers in the yard with the ordinary of the county. The jailer answered to his name reluctantly, without looking up from the board.

"You'd better git up from thar," called out Ratcliff, jocularly. "The taxpayers say they are tired o' payin' you fellers wages to draw flies like sleepin' niggers in the courthouse square."

The jailer crowned a king and got up from the grass with a lingering backward glance at the hand of his opponent. "What's wanted?" he asked as he drew near the buggy.

"Mr. Henderson, you remember Mr. Fanshaw, of Honeycut Destrict," reminded Ratcliff. "He's the feller that helped me out last summer with that lynchin' crowd over our way. Well, he's settled Syd Hart's hash to-day an' will have to register at yore shebang till Monday, I reckon. I want you to make 'im comfortable, Jeff; he's a friend o' mine."

"I'll do the best I can," promised the jailer; "but you know all the cells are alike."

They followed him into the jail and up the stone steps to a heavy iron door at the head of the stairs. The room was too large to be called a cell. It was light, having four windows, which were heavily barred, and a bed that was faultlessly clean. As Ratcliff and the jailer were leaving, the sheriff asked Ronald if he could do anything for him.

Ronald told him he could think of nothing; indeed, he could think of nothing at the moment but Syd Hart's eyes—Syd Hart's blood.

"You'll have to have a lawyer," suggested Ratcliff.

"Then send Mr. Redding to me," said the prisoner.

When they had left him, Ronald threw himself on the bed and stared up at the ceiling. Hart's corpse had a way of coming before him with new force each time that it made its appearance. It approached him now in solitude oftener and with more tenacious reality than ever. The afternoon died slowly. It began to grow colder as the sun went down, and the light against the western sky turned from yellow to gray. Once he fancied he saw the body on the floor by his bed, in the shadow, just as it was lying when he had last beheld it. Almost with a prayer for protection he turned his face away and stifled a scream, and yet the feeling of actual guilt had not come to him. He tried to draw Evelyn into his thoughts, but there was cold comfort in the memory that he had blighted her life as well as his own. Could he have done so then, he would have killed her affection for him that she might have the peace of soul that was denied him. He heard steps on the stairs and a key rattled in the lock of a little iron door in the wall, and through it came a woman's voice:

"Here's yore supper, Mr. Fanshaw."

It was the jailer's wife, and he arose and took the plate of food and cup of hot coffee from her hands.

"Mr. Ratcliff stopped at the door just now," she said, in a cold, methodical tone, "an' he said tell you Mr. Reddin' was out in the country, but he'd left word at his house fur 'im to come an' see you as soon as he got back."

When she had gone, Ronald put the plate on the bed (there was no table in the room) and washed his hands and face in the tin basin, but somehow the cold water added to the general chill that was on him and he quickly dried himself on a towel. The sight of the food gave him a touch of nausea; he started to drink the coffee, but remembered that coffee at night made him restless, and he wanted to sleep. He went to the window which commanded the widest view of the buildings round the prison. A negro on a bony horse was lighting the gas along the avenue, which stretched out till, on a distant hillside, it lost itself in the clouds. Two churches were within sight, and they were being lighted. The choirs were going to meet to practice for the service on the morrow. The nearest bell was rung. The night fell like a threat of coming terror.

He had another vision of the dead man. This time Syd lay covered with a white sheet in the sitting-room of his own home. Round the walls of the room sat the neighbors discussing his many manly virtues and his untimely end. He saw a white-haired mother, and old man Hart, from whom Syd had inherited his intrepid, turbulent spirit.

"Some men," shuddered our hero, "could justify themselves in such a case as this, but I shall never be able to forget. My ideal man—the Master of the World—would have found a way to avoid what I did. If only I had offered no resistance. Syd Hart would have been alive, and I—and Evelyn—"

There his agony overwhelmed him and he threw himself on his bed again and pressed his hands over his eyes. The strains of an organ swelled up from the nearer church and stole into his room; voices began to sing. The singers broke down and merry laughter—the laughter of free, hopeful people—rolled after the fleeing strains of music.

Suddenly there was a sound of a key being pushed into the lock and the big door swung open. The voice of the jailer cried:

Mr. Jepp Zensen, of 728 West Front street, pattern maker by trade says: "For a year I had a sort of grinding pain across my back at times extending up to my shoulders and there was a lameness over my kidneys and severe headaches. When I stooped I always felt dizzy and sometimes was fairly blinded. In the mornings I felt stiff and sore until I got some exercise. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in my city paper and so highly recommended for kidney complaint that I went to L. W. Randolph's drug store and got a box. They did me a great deal of good. From my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills I cannot do otherwise than endorse them."

DEATH IN A CYCLONE

Arkansas, Alabama and Tennessee Stormswept.

SEVEN KILLED IN ONE DWELLING.

A Swath of Destruction Three Miles In Width — Farmhouses and Forests Leveled—Communication Cut Off.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 9.—A cyclone three miles wide passed through Cleburne and White counties north of here during the night, razing to the ground everything in its path. The scene is remote from telegraph, and details are hard to obtain.

At Little Red, eighteen miles from Judsonia, seven out of eight persons in one house were killed instantly, the survivor being an infant.

Near Pangburn an old man named Williams was blown off a mountain side and killed. Many are reported injured, and it is feared the loss of life will be large.

Houses were picked up and carried several hundred feet. Two were killed at Heber, Cleburne county.

TORNADO IN ALABAMA.

Many People Killed and Great Damage to Property.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 9.—Passengers arriving here from Decatur on the Louisville and Nashville railroad bring meager details of a tornado which passed over the southern portion of Cullman county, one mile north of Hanceville, at 2 o'clock in the morning.

The path of the storm was narrow, but it played havoc with farmhouses, wrecking about thirty, so far as is known, and cutting a swath through forests, leveling every tree in its path.

Thirteen dead bodies have been found and about a score of injured are accounted for.

Among the dead are Henry McCoy, a farmer, his wife and five children, constituting an entire family. They were asleep in their home when the house was blown down on them.

John Griffin, a farmer, and his son were also killed and four others whose names are not yet known.

Wires are down, which makes it difficult to get news.

Violent Storm In Tennessee.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 9.—A heavy thunderstorm, accompanied by unusually violent wind, visited this city early in the day, and in half an hour the rainfall at this point was more than an inch. Telegrams from Charleston, Tenn., a point above here on the Tennessee river, state that the rainfall was 3.66 inches during the past twenty-four hours. At Clinton, Tenn., the rainfall was 3.56 inches. The storm covered the entire Tennessee valley, and the river is rising rapidly, with a prediction that it will reach within a few feet of the danger line.

Depot Destroyed by Lightning.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 9.—The depot at Camden was destroyed by fire as the result of being struck by lightning, and communication by wire has been cut off. The local telephone service was crippled by the burning out of a number of boxes.

Mrs. Washington Honored In Boston.

BOSTON, April 9.—Mrs. Booker T. Washington was a guest of honor at a meeting of the State Federation of Women's clubs held in Dorchester. Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, honorary president of the federation, also was present. Mrs. Mary Alden Ward occupied the chair, and addresses were made by Dr. C. H. Henderson of Concord, who spoke on the evils of child labor, his subject being "Birthrights of Childhood." He was followed by Professor Sanford Bell of Mount Holyoke, who took for his subject "Heredity and Environment on the Education of the Individual." Mrs. Washington spoke briefly.

Steamship Sunk, Passengers Safe.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The steamship Alleghany of the Atlas line was rammed and sunk by the tramp steamship Merriweather while coming up the bay just off Liberty island yesterday. The collision occurred in the dense fog. The Alleghany settled rapidly after the crash, and when she struck bottom her upper works were still out of water. All the passengers were taken off, and no one was injured.

A Deadly Volcanic Eruption.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The steamship Alleghany, just arrived from Kingston and the Spanish main, brought tidings of an eruption of the old volcano Del Tierra Firma, in Colombia, near Galera Zambia, on March 22 at 10 o'clock in the morning. During the eruption a village named Tiojo was destroyed and from 60 to 100 persons killed or injured.

Bonilla Lacks Only the Capital.

PANAMA, April 9.—A dispatch from Honduras received via San Salvador announces that General Sierra abandoned Nacaome, and it is believed that he will flee to Salvador. The town of Coray has also been captured by the forces of General Bonilla, and only the Honduran capital, Tegucigalpa, now remains in the power of President Arias.

Will Ship From Canadian Ports.

TORONTO, Ont., April 9.—Vice President Bosworth of the Canadian Pacific railway has announced that now that the company has secured its own Atlantic fleet as much as possible of the wheat from the Canadian northwest will be carried through Canada and shipped from Montreal and Quebec instead of from New York and Boston.

ON THE DIAMOND.

The City High School baseball team was to have met the time from the Scotch Plains High School yesterday afternoon on Stillman Field if the weather had been fitting.

The management of the City High School baseball team has succeeded in arranging a game to be played with the Bloomfield High School. The game will be played on Wednesday, April 29.

"Pete" Roseberry will again cover left garden for the Hopes. By order of his physician he refrained from playing last season but is now is his old time form and can be counted on to be heard from.

Manager Walters, of the Cuban Giants, intends taking his team up the Hudson during the summer for a series of games with the best nines along the river. Stops will be made at Nyack, Kingston, Saugerties, Newburg and Poughkeepsie.

Thomas Comerford and O. E. A. Heywood have been appointed a committee to arrange a schedule for the City Baseball League. They will hold a meeting at the home of Mr. Comerford on West Fourth street in a few days for the purpose of arranging dates.

Manager Muir, of the Safe Works, has been in communication with his last year's find, "Rapid Transit" Booth, who was a member of his original pitching staff. Booth is now with a team at Stroudsburg, Pa., and if matters can be arranged, will ask for his release to again appear in this city.

Members of the West End Hose Company are arranging to place a ball team on the diamond again this year. Dennis Bagley has been chosen captain of the team and Frank Perry will be the pitcher. A schedule will be arranged shortly and good work is expected as the candidates for positions this year are unusually strong in team work.

It is now positively assured that "Orrie" and "Shiner" Dodge, of Bayonne, will play with the Hope team. They were signed Monday by Manager Cose and will be given permanent positions as soon as possilbe. "Shiner" is a crackerjack pitcher and first baseman while "Orrie" stands second to none at short, second or third.

The Alis team is rapidly getting down to the point where the rough edges will be taken off and everything running systematically. John G. MacLaughlin, who captained the Y. M. C. I. A.'s last year, has the men in charge and is putting them where they will do the most good. He expects to announce the line-up within a few days.

The game scheduled by the Westerleigh Collegiate Institute with the City High School for yesterday afternoon was cancelled. Word was received Tuesday from the Institute boys that they would be unable to play the game as all their baseball supplies had been destroyed by fire. The High School management will attempt to arrange another game for the latter part of the season.

INDOOR SPORTS.

The novice contests, which have been the principal events of interest at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday evenings, will come to a close Saturday night. The events will be the shot put and the running high jump. The following Saturday night the championship contest will take place. Saturdag evening, April 18, the contest at Orange will be held. GUARANTEED.

That word means something, when it is backed by the $5,000,000 capital and surplus of the

FIDELITY TRUST COMPANY.

It means for you an easy mind if you have one of those guarantees covering the title to your premises.
The man, who does business the way it was done a generation ago, is surely on the road to failure. This is an age of progress. There has been progress in methods of conveyancing as well as in other lines. Out of the need for something less uncertain than a lawyer's certificate and a lawyer's responsibility, has grown up the system of policies of insurance, or guarantees of title by companies with large capital and a force, specially trained in the work.
There is none better in this line than

THE FIDELITY TRUST COMPANY

It has an agency at Elizabeth for conducting Union County business. Rates will be given on application at its office, No. 215 Broad Street, and an investigation of its resources and methods is invited.

A MISUNDERSTANDING.

Washington Authorities Correct Chinese Bond Stories.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Evidently considerable misunderstanding continues regarding the bonds which China is to execute to the United States in payment of the indemnity for the Boxer outrages provided in the protocol of April 1, 1900. The statement from Peking that the American financial agent under instructions from the state department is substituting a bond providing for the payment of the indemnity in gold dollars in place of a silver bond is denied in authoritative quarters.

Our government is disposed to take its own view of the interpretation of the terms of the protocol. This provided that China should execute to the United States an indemnity bond at the rate of exchange provided in the protocol, and it was also provided that the installments of the indemnity payable thereafter should be at the rate of exchange existing when these payments fell due. If the United States, desiring not to avail itself of the loss which China should suffer in these payments as a result of the depreciation in silver, prefers to demand them at the rate of exchange existing when the protocol was signed, that, it is held, is a matter which concerns us alone and leaves the other powers to do as they please.

The instructions of the department of state to its representative in China who is conducting the negotiations relative to the settlement of the indemnity look to the retention of independence while faithfully carrying out the engagements entered into by the United States in the Peking settlement.

Mitchell Looked to For Settlement.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 9.—The reports sent out concerning a general feeling of unrest among the mine workers in many cases are exaggerated. In this valley there is some little dissatisfaction at a few of the collieries, but what there is, it is believed, can be readily remedied upon the arrival of John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, who is expected to reach here some time during next week. Many officials of the various coal companies admit that there is some dissatisfaction among their employees, but contend that this is due to misinterpretation of the mine commission's award. The companies in general stand ready to adhere to all the stipulations and provisions of the award.

JERSEY'S DEAF MUTES HAVE UNIQUE PAPER

The Boys in State School at Trenton Publish "The Silent Worker."

BEST PAPER OF ITS KIND

HOW THIS STRANGE PUBLICATION IS PREPARED BY THE BOYS.

This Monthly Journal Holds a Place of Distinction Among Enterprises of Its Kind Throughout the Entire World.

While New Jersey has utterly failed to keeping pace with representative States in the making of material provision for the education of the deaf, the children of silence who study the art of printing at Trenton take part in the production of a monthly journal that holds a place of distinction among enterprises of its kind throughout the world, because of its progressive style and tone, relates the Newark News. For this publication a few rooms are kept apart in the small industrial building where the printing office engine sends its smoke and steam from a conspicuous brick chimney in the rear of the ancient brick building of the New Jersey School for Deaf Mutes, formerly occupied as the "Soldiers' Orphans' Home."

Ten years ago "The Silent Worker" was as amateurish a specimen of deaf-mute literature as might be found anywhere. It was printed on a small job press and had no list of paying subscribers. Today, under the management of a practical typographical artist and teacher, it is printed on a high grade of book paper, handsomely illustrated with half-tone engravings made on the premises with the aid of students, has a large and growing support in this country and Canada and goes regularly to England, Australia, Sweden, Italy, Germany and China. It is acknowledged by "The British Deaf Mute" to be the best deaf mute publication in America, and that is surely as unreserved a compliment as could be expected from an English contemporary.

From a typographical point of view the present status of "The Silent Worker" is the achievement of Prof. George S. Porter, who fills the complex role of publisher, associate editor, foreman and instructor, and imparts to his students the same spirit of earnest and painstaking application by which his own success has been won. His work is predominated by the unwavering conviction that the deaf should consider themselves thoroughly a part of the gay, busy world and strive to be as much like other people as possible.

At 8:30 o'clock in the morning of each school day the printing office is taken possession of by a company of children not yet in their teens, who engage in sweeping, washing rollers, cleaning presses and galleys and sorting "pi." In spite of the mingled and complex details of printing and teaching the room is a model of neatness and order. Mr Porter gives the beginners a short lesson at the case, where they learn to point out at random the letters and characters in the various boxes and to distinguish n from u, b and d, and p and q.

Of course when these little printers begin to handle type they get things badly mixed. Their first proofs are apt to be so bad that they must "distribute" and begin over again, and the teacher is often obliged to give the order to "clean cases." With sticks and rules in hand, and mounted on several tiers of boxes, they begin with the lower case and set up all the "a's" therein, returning the wrong letters to their proper apartments, and so on through the alphabet and the entire contents of the cases.

Intermediate pupils occupy the early afternoon hours at the printing school. With them uniform spacing, justification of lines and clean proofs are insisted upon, wrong notions corrected and habits of punctuality, neatness and accuracy encouraged. They are made to feel that it is dishonorable to be slovenly or to shirk work. When these students are transferred to job work, the stone, and the press, the teacher begins to take substantial pride in the fruits of his labor with them, and, although the advanced students spend but one hour each day with their instructor, they are an important factor in the publishing of "The Silent Worker." They manage the presses, mark out "overlays" to secure uniform surfaces of impressions, and set up jobs and advertisements that please the most exacting customers of the concern.

When the students complete their course of practical training and leave school they are able to earn fairly good wages at once, but often they prefer to avail themselves of the advantages of a post-graduate course and further perfect themselves in their art. Photo-engraving was instructed as a feature of the school work several years ago, and has been successfully developed. Prof. Porter believes that in order to get the best results in the printing from half-tone plates the young printer must know how these engravings are made. This is characteristic of his thoroughness. He requires his students to cultivate artistic judgment. They inspect the proof sheets of "The Silent Worker" and learn to discover and remedy the slightest defects.

During Prof. Porter's management of this interesting printing school two of his pupils have become foremen in offices outside the field of deaf mute endeavor, several have established job printing offices of their own and many are making a comfortable livelihood as employes.

FIRST BAPTIST CHOIR GAVE LENTEN SERVICE

A Sacred Cantata "St. Mary Magdalen" Was the Chief Feature of the Service.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH WAS CROWDED AT THE SERVICE.

Cantata Given by Quartette Under Direction of E. J. Fitzhugh, and Assisted by a Large Chorus and a String Quartette.

An audience, which tested the capacity of the edifice, greeted the choir of the First Baptist church at the Lenten musical service which it gave, last evening. In point of excellence the affair equalled, if not surpassed, those similar given by the organization on previous occasions.

Previous to the choir's offering of the sacred cantata, "St. Mary Magdalen," a service took place in charge of Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes and Rev. Dr. Edward Judson, of New York. A feature of it was several selections by the string quartette which accompanied during the evening and which was composed of Otto K. Schill, first violin; Miss Dorothy Waldo, second violin; Fullerton L. Waldo, viola; and Dr. Leonard Waldo, violincello. This quartette has been heard in the church on several occasions but never fails to be enthusiastically received. The numbers given were from Haydn and Schubert and were played with the precision and deftness which has always characterized the artists' work.

Edward J. Fitzhugh, of New York, was in charge of the cantata and its success in a great measure was due to his leadership. The excellent tempo and blending maintained revealed the training to which the vocalists had been subjected by him. The soloists who took part were Mrs. Anna Burch, soprano; Mrs. Ferdinand M. Ward, contralto; George H. Smith, tenor; and William Holmes, baritone. Howard M. Case was at the organ and Miss Jessie M. Utter at the piano. They were assisted by a chorus of twenty voices.

The parts allotted Mrs. Burch and Mrs. Ward afforded them an opportunity to display their ability. While Mrs. Burch is a new comer to Plainfield audiences she was warmly received and her solos were among the best given. She is possessed of a voice that is strong, yet sweet, and its range seemed in no way confined. Mrs. Ward was at her best and her contralto solos were greatly enjoyed. The trio work was especially good.

In the rendition of the tenor and baritone numbers, Mr. Holmes and Mr. Smith were perfectly at home and their admirers were delighted. Both are capable artists and their singing could not be improved upon. Backed by the splendid work of the chorus, which was far above the average, the musicale was indeed a treat. The words of the cantata were compiled and written by Rev. William John Sparrow-Simpson, B. A., of Trinity College, Cambridge, while the music was composed by John Stainer.

Previous to the close of the service a brief address was made by Rev. Mr. Judson, bearing upon the musical subject. Benediction was pronounced by Dr. Yerkes.

Her First Great Grandchild.

The life of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, of Boston, has been so helpful and full of loving service to the world that all that concerns her is of public interest. The birth of a child to Mrs. Henry Marion Hall, of East Orange, is told through the land, the child having the distinction of being Mrs. Howe's first great grand-child. Mr. Hall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Prescott Hall, of Madison avenue, and his early years were spent in Scotch Plains and Plainfield.

Successful Orator Here.

It was the first time the prize was taken by a colored student.

E. Maxwell Honeyman, of Grove street, will sing Easter Sunday in the chorus choir of Holy Trinity church, New York, of which William E. Mac Clymont, of this city, is organist and choirmaster. After Easter, Mr. Honeyman will take the position of tenor in the second quartette of the chorus choir. He was formerly second tenor in the male quartette at the First Presbyterian church. Previous to that he sang in several of the large New York churches.

DIED IN ARIZONA.

Albert T. Hinrichs Passed Away at Phoenix, Monday.

Word was received in Plainfield yesterday of the death of Albert Theodore Hinrichs, which occurred at Phoenix, Ariz., last Monday, after a lingering illness with consumption. Mr. Hinrichs spent his early life mostly in Plainfield, frequently taking pleasure trips to various parts of the country. He was 31 years old. Last fall he went west with Percy Sandford. Later Mr. Sandford returned home and Mr. Hinrichs' mother, Mrs. Loeser, went west and remained there with her son. Mr. Hinrichs attended Columbia P. & S., of New York, for one year, finally giving up his studies. Mrs. Loeser is now on her way to Plainfield with the body. Committee From Park Avenue Baptist Church Denies Report.

The committee from the Park Avenue Baptist church having in charge the matter of securing a new pastor, deny the report in another paper that Rev. S. V. Whittemore, of Trenton, is considered a possibility for the charge. The committee has not yet formed any definite plans and probably will not for the present. The pulpit on Sunday will be occupied by Rev. Mr. Braker, formerly of Stamford, Conn., who recently preached at the church. Theodore I. Runyon is chairman of a committee of seven, which is searching for a pastor.

Of course, Rev. J. W. Richardson, formerly of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will not be here, and owing to many other duties during today Rev. E. V. Stevenson, rector of Grace Episcopal church, will not be able to attend. That church will be represented, however, by Rev. Dr. Rodman, rector emeritus.

Among the other pastors expected to be present and take part are Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, Rev. Dr. W. O. Snodgrass, Rev. C. L. Goodrich, Rev. John MacMurray, Rev. E. L. Earp, Rev. J. O. McKelvey and it is also expected that Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, of the Brick Presbyterian church, New York, will be present. PARKS KEEP TROPHY; BEATING JERSEY CITY

Veteran Whist Four Wins Its Sixth Consecutive Victory for Metropolitan Trophy.

GAME VERY CLOSE ONE

NEXT CHALLENGERS ARE FROM THE ELIZABETH CHESS AND WHIST CLUB.

Strong Team of Jersey City Whist Club Goes Down to Defeat by a Score of 8 to 5—The Parks Regular Team Plays.

The veteran Park Club whist four still hold the Metropolitan challenge trophy, which was won from the Camera Club team six weeks ago and the record made of six consecutive victories is a source of much pleasure to the friends of the team. Last evening the Parks met the strong team from the Jersey City Whist Club, challengers, and defeated them by a score of 8 to 5. The match throughout was very close and in some respects just as exciting as the recent match with the Brooklyn Whist Club. The Jersey City team is considered to be one of the strongest in the State, it having won many honors in the whist field. The challengers lost the match last evening in the first and second round.

The Parks took the first round by a score of 3 to 2 and the second round 3 to 1, while in the third round the team broke even, each scoring two points, making the total score of 8 to 5 in favor of Parks. The Elizabeth Chess and Whist Club is the next challenger and the team will play the Parks on Thursday evening, April 16.

Last evening the challenging team consisted of Daniel Bowly, captain; O. S. Mecabs, H. L. Scott and J. Howard Bumsted, Jr., while the Park team comprised the original four, Samuel Townsend, captain; S. St. John McCutchen, George T. Rogers and Joseph H. Howell. After the match the Parks entertained the visiting team in the usual pleasant manner with light refreshments.

FLORIDA GROVE GONE.

Resort for Many Years Where Tough Things Have Occurred Becomes a Claybank.

The indications are that Florida Grove's career as a resort has ended. For a number of years Joseph Fugen has managed the place, and this year he has leased a grove on Staten Island.

Florida Grove is situated on the shore of the Raritan river, just west of the Perth Amboy city line. It is several acres in extent and it is about fifty feet above the level of the water. It was one of the original salt water day resorts, and it has been in use every year for more than three-quarters of a century.

Until a few years ago prize-fights and cock-fights were pulled off there, and the old grove has been the scene of more than one greengoods transaction. About two years ago the National Fireproofing Company bought the property from a brewery company for the clay deposits which underlie the grove.

GOOD FRIDAY MARKED BY SPECIAL SERVICES

How the Day is Being Observed at Roman Catholic and Episcopal Churches.

SERVICES HELD ALL DAY

ALTHOUGH NOTHING ELABORATE WAS ATTEMPTED BY ANY.

Services in Commemoration of the Day on Which the Savior Was Buried—Special Sermons to be Preached in the Evening.

Services were held this morning and this afternoon in the Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches in commemoration of the burial of the Saviour after the crucifiction. Nothing elaborate was attempted in any of the churches although in the evening, in some cases, special sermons were preached.

At St. Mary's R. C. church this morning the Mass of the Presanctified was held at 8 o'clock with Rev. Father Egan as celebrant; Rev. Father Smith as deacon and Rev. Father Frederick as sub-deacon. At that time the Sacrament was taken from the repository and the ceremony of consecrating the Host performed. At the 8 o'clock mass, the evening Tenebrae will be celebrated and the Adoration of the Cross will be observed. The masses will be celebrated tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock when the blessing of the Holy water and the baptismal font, and the blessing of the Paschal Candle and Fire will be done. Special services will be held Sunday.

At St. Joseph's R. C. church in the borough, special services were also held this morning. No masses are said in the Catholic churches on Good Friday although the ceremony called the Mass of the Presanctified was said at 8 o'clock when prayers for the conversion of the world were offered and the blessing of the Sacrament and the carrying of it from the repository to the altar was held. At 3 o'clock this afternoon the children's service was held when the beautiful ceremony of the Way of the Cross was observed. This evening a special sermon will be preached by Rev. Father Miller on the Passion.

Good Friday was observed this morning at St. Stephen's church at 7 o'clock, when the ceremony of the Way of the Cross was observed. At 10 o'clock mattins, litany and sermon was held when the rector, Rev. E. Vincent Dawson, officiated. Between 12 o'clock noon and 3 o'clock the three hours' of devotion was held and at 4 o'clock the children's service was conducted.

Services in celebration of Good Friday were held this morning at Grace P. E. church with an ante communion service at 7 o'clock. At 9 o'clock there was a children's service and at 10 o'clock a morning prayer, litany and sermon was held. The rector, Rev. E. V. Stevenson, conducted all the services. From 12 to 3 o'clock this afternoon the three hours' devotion was held when a meditation on the Passion with addresses by Rev. Melville K. Bailey, of Grace chapel, New York.

There will be a special service this evening at the Church of the Heavenly Rest when the rector, Rev. Harris C. Rush will officiate. This will be the only service at that church today. Special music will be rendered. The services will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Services were held this morning at the Church of the Holy Cross in commemoration of Good Friday. The services were conducted by the rector, Rev. W. Montgomery Downey. There was the regular morning prayer, litany and communion this morning at 10 o'clock when a sermon was preached, on the lessons of the day. Tomorrow evening a prayer service will be held when Rev. Mr. Downey will officiate. There will be no services at the church this evening.

CHANGES ON LEHIGH.

Several Officials Shift Positions—Some Places Abolished.

During the past few months there have been a number of changes among the officers of the Lehigh Valley Railroad and the changes still continue every few days. G. N. Wilson has been appointed general auditor of the company as well as of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, and the office of comptroller, recently resigned by Isaac McQuilkin, has been abolished. Rumors are current that some of the chief clerks at the head of the various divisions in the general auditing department of both companies would be removed. There is no doubt, however, that a general reorganization of the auditing department of the companies will take place under the new management.

Erwin B. Leland, of Sandford avenue, has returned from Williams College for the Easter vacation.

For liver troubles and constipation
There's nothing better in creation
Than Little Early Risers, the famous little pills
They always effect a cure and save doctor bills.
Little Early Risers are different from all other pills. They do not weaken the system, but act as a tonic to the tissues by arousing the secretions and restoring the liver to the full performance of its functions naturally. L. W. Randolph.

THEATRICAL.

Western music lovers are now in a position to congratulate New York since "The Prince of Pilsen" has scored its pronounced hit at the Broadway Theatre. Wherever this tuneful and laugh provoking musical comedy was seen in the west it was pronounced one of the best entertainments of its kind yet brought out by Henry W. Savage. Record breaking business greeted it and there is a general impression that its authors, Pixley and Luders, have excelled their "King Dodo" in the new piece, at least New York thinks so.

"Mr. Blue Beard," at the Knickerbocker Theatre, continues the reigning theatrical success of the season in New York. Up to its eleventh week, it has been seen by 132,000 people, who have endorsed it as the greatest theatrical entertainment ever presented in this country. Such is undoubtedly the fact, as there is much more of attractive novelty in each act than has ever been presented in any piece in its entirety, with the exception of its predecessor, "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," last season's big hit. Klaw & Erlanger engaged a very strong company for "Mr. Blue Beard," its roster of comedians, headed by Dan McAvoy as "Mr. Blue Beard" and Eddie Foy as "Sister Anne," presenting the strongest array of comedy talent ever seen on Broadway in any one production. One of the great features of the production continues to be the most discussed theatrical incident in New York—the flight of the premiere of the Grigolatis flying ballet from the stage to the upper balcony rail and return, sixty feet above the heads of the audience, distributing natural flowers. This is the most thrilling and sensational feat ever seen in a New York theatre. Prices for the evening performances and the Saturday matinee range from 50 cents to $2; at the Wednesday matinees, from 50 cents to $1.50. All orders for seats received by mail or telegraph receive prompt attention through the mail order bureau. Seats may by ordered a month ahead.

Due Notice is Served.

Due notice is hereby served on the public generally that DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the only salve on the market that is made from the pure, unadulterated witch hazel. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has cured thousands of cases of piles that would not yield to any other treatment, and this fact has brought out many worthless counterfeits. Those persons who get the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve are never disappointed, because it cures. L. W. Randolph.

New Cup Challenger Wins Again Over Shamrock I.

WEYMOUTH, England, April 10.—A fifteen mile run to leeward and a beat home, giving a leeward and windward test of thirty miles under conditions as similar as possible to those expected during the races for the America's cup off Sandy Hook, was the course set yesterday for the two Shamrocks. The breeze was very light, not over four knots, as the boats under club topsails ranged up for the start and were sent off from a markboat off Weymouth pier.

The Shamrock I. was hopelessly beaten from start to finish and was wholly unable to match the pace set by the challenger. The latter passed the winning mark over seventeen minutes ahead of the Shamrock I. Yachtsmen consider this to be a notable victory and as showing the Shamrock III. to be a much more formidable challenger for the America's cup than even her admirers had heretofore suggested.

Dead Heat at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 10.—For the first time in years the judges announced a dead heat at Montgomery park when in the fourth race at a mile and a sixteenth Floyd K. and Banter crossed the wire in a desperate drive nose and nose. The finish was the most sensational ever seen here, and winners and losers alike rose and cheered the two horses and riders to the echo. Rankin, the favorite, finished third only a length away.

Oakland Results.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—The fifth race at Oakland yesterday was marked by several incidents. While at the post Bozeman, rider of Warte Hicht, was kicked on the leg, and Buxton was substituted. Gorgelette, 15 to 1, won the race, but was disqualified after Watson admitted that he fouled Warte Hicht and made no effort to take his horse off.

Yale Beats Brown at Chess.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 10.—Yale defeated Brown 7 to 1 in the first day's play in the chess tournament held here. Easton of Brown was the only man to score, winning two half points by holding his opponents to a draw.

New York Nationals Won.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The New York Nationals opened the baseball season at the Polo Grounds by defeating the Fordham college nine 8 to 2.

Quaker Nationals Ahead.

PHILADELPHIA, April 10.—In a ten inning game between the local National and American league teams the former won by a score of 6 to 5.

Yale Ties With Georgetown.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Yale tied the score with Georgetown yesterday in the ninth inning by two singles coupled with two wild pitches.

Holland Strike Situation Unchanged.

AMSTERDAM, April 10.—The strike situation is unchanged. The city remains quiet, but the cafes and theaters are almost empty, the streets deserted and only partially lighted. The railway companies have reduced their Easter train service to a minimum, in many cases there being only one train in three hours. The railway men remaining at work receive double pay. The socialists are trying to induce the newspaper printers to come out on strike, but so far without success. The expected financial help from abroad not being forthcoming threatens to paralyze the whole strike movement.

Hoof and Mouth Disease Again.

HAVERHILL, Mass., April 10.—The hoof and mouth disease has broken out afresh in this vicinity, and forty cattle which had been exposed to and infected with the disease have been killed in Hampstead, N. H., a few miles from this city. The herd was owned by Arthur Little, and United States officials did the killing. A rigid inspection of all of the cattle in Hampstead is being made, and every precaution will be taken to prevent a further spread of the disease.

This is a Store for Men

as well as women and children—keep pretty busy all year round telling of general lines of home furnishings, too—but today we speak in part of apparel for the sterner sex. Our lines are so very comprehensive and reasonably priced, as well as varied, that it is impossible to convey a definite idea of their extensiveness—rest assured, however, that in providing proper raiment for the man and boy this big store is in better position to serve them with the very choicest the markets afford at our invariably reasonable prices.

IOWA'S GUN BURSTS

Three Men Killed and Five Injured.

PREMATURE EXPLOSION OF A SHELL

Pieces of Shattered Cannon Fell Upon the Men Below Decks at Mess. Bodies Were Terribly Mutilated.

PENSACOLA, Fla., April 10.—A disastrous explosion occurred on the battleship Iowa while the vessel was at target practice in the gulf. The forward port twelve inch gun burst from the premature explosion of a shell, twelve feet of the piece outside the turret being demolished. Three men were killed and five injured, two seriously.

The killed are First Class Seaman Kiele, Ordinary Seaman Percell and Gunner's Mate Berry.

The injured are First Class Seaman Gaught, Ordinary Seamen Thursdale, Brown, Mansdale and Purucker.

The men killed and injured were on the second or gun deck at mess. Three pieces of the exploded gun, each weighing over a ton, passed downward through the spar deck, falling upon the men at mess, instantly killing the three named. All of the men were horribly mutilated. The heavy missiles after passing through the gun deck continued down to the third deck, where they came in contact with the armored deck, the heavy steel bringing them to a stop, thus saving the engineers and firemen who were at work below. Although the upper decks were covered with men, no one there was seriously injured.

The explosion occurred just as the mess call had been sounded. Firing was to have ceased after the shot for the dinner hour. The range had been set, and the Iowa was steaming along at a speed of twelve knots an hour when Lieutenant Reed, in charge of the forward twelve inch turret, gave orders to load and fire. The time fuse was cut for the range, the piece charged, breech closed and the word given to fire. Following the report of the gun there was a smothered noise as the shell exploded midway in the gun and pieces of the bursted gun and shell were scattered broadcast. Three great holes were torn through the deck. Those who were below began coming on deck, some bloody and mutilated, while lying on the floor, crushed almost beyond recognition, were the three unfortunate men. The Massachusetts, six miles distant, was signaled for aid, and one of the cutters put off with the surgeon and assistants. The wounded men were taken to the hospital and their injuries dressed. The dead were brought to Pensacola.

Some claim the explosion was caused by a defective shell, and others think that the frequent firing of the piece at Culebra during the winter, added to the work done here during the past ten days, so strained the piece that the force of the charge burst the gun.

Governor Davis May Be Impeached.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 10.—The ways and means committee of the house of representatives has filed its report on the investigation of charges pending against Governor Jefferson Davis by Attorney General George W. Murphy in behalf of the state penitentiary board. The committee is divided in its findings, seven of the eleven members signing the majority report, finding certain charges sustained by the evidence. Three members signed a report exonerating both Governor Davis and the members of the penitentiary board from any action of a criminal nature. If the majority report is adopted, impeachment proceedings may follow.

More Tornado Victims.

HANCEVILLE, Ala., April 10.—Two more deaths resulted from the tornado which swept the country west of here Wednesday morning. They are Isabelle McCoy, aged six years, and Effie McCoy. Two other members of the same family also are expected to die. Reports of the damage of the storm across the river have reached here. The storm jumped to Summit, Ala., which is in the northern corner of Blount county, where several persons were severely injured and a dozen houses and barns destroyed.

Astor Buys British Castle.

LONDON, April 10.—William Waldorf Astor has purchased Castle Hever, near Seven Oaks, Kent. The castle, which is said to be the birthplace of Anne Boleyn, one of the wives of Henry VIII. and whom he had beheaded in the tower of London, contains many relics. The price paid was $185,000.

Women Paid Church Debt.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., April 10.—A mortgage on the parsonage of the First M. E. church of this city was burned by Mrs. C. V. Grismer, wife of the pastor, before a large audience. The obligation was assumed by the ladies' association and was paid entirely by their efforts.

Fell Sixty Feet to His Death.

BUFFALO, April 10.—Burt Marion, a laborer, was dashed to death in a fall of sixty feet from an iron girder on the partially wrecked electric tower at the Pan-American exposition grounds.

American Artist Dead In Rome.

ROME, April 10.—Dwight Benton, artist and journalist and formerly United States consul general to Hawaii, is dead here, aged sixty-nine years. He was from Norwich, N. Y.

Wood Made Field Marshal.

LONDON, April 10.—General Sir Evelyn Wood, who is now in command of the Second army corps, has been promoted to the rank of field marshal.

THE GOVERNOR'S WORK.

Governor Murphy has managed to wade through the mass of bills passed by the Legislature. To 136 of them he attached his signature. Twelve he vetoed. Of the latter, one was a measure he much desired but it was found defective and so he vetoed it in order to avoid any possible complications. It was the bill which makes it a misdemeanor to use the American flag for advertising purposes.

Of really great importance was the act, among those he signed, that fixes September 22 as the date for a public vote on the State constitutional amendment regarding the judiciary. It decides whether the people of New Jersey want a change in the courts.

There were some bills which received the Governor's signature before the Legislature adjourned. The bulk of the measures were passed during the last few days and Mr. Murphy has been taking his time about signing them. Governor Voorhees tied to get rid of the measures as soon as they came from the Legislature and sat up late nights working on them. Mr. Murphy's more deliberate plan seems the better one as it may be the means of discovering some improper bill, rushed through in the last hours of the Legislature.

One can feel pretty sure that the friends of Greater Plainfield will make another move before many months pass by. The consolidation act still remains on the statute books and a vote on that question would not be surprising. While consolidation in two counties is not as desirable as consolidation in one, yet it would be a great step in advance and would be the means of ultimately changing the county line. There is a strong movement in the borough in favor of consolidation. The project would be passed by a large majority.

The recovery of Wilson Fredericks, one of the victims of the Westfield disaster, marks the success of probably the most remarkable case of skin grafting on record. There were 1680 distinct pieces of cuticle grafted on his legs, arms, abdomen and face. Over one half of the surface of the body was so badly scalded that the old skin would not grow. To the physicians who so skillfully conducted the operation and to his Masonic brethren, who supplied the cuticle, does Wilson Fredericks owe his life today.

Plainfield is famous all through the State for the remarkable good feeling which exists among its clergy. This is as it should be. One of the greatest evidences of this admirable state of affairs is the annual union Good Friday service, which will be held tonight at the Crescent Avenue church. The pastors of all the evangelical churches will gather on the same platform and forget doctrinal points to join together in remembering an important day to the Christian world.

Now it is discovered that somebody made a mess of the attempt to pass the Passaic pollution bill and an extra session of the Legislature is necessary to correct the trouble. The first mistake made was when Senator Hutchinson was made president of the Senate. Since that time the legislators have been missing right along opportunities of doing the right thing. Somebody has got to answer for all those mistakes.

Today is Good Friday. While the day is observed as a holiday by many New York houses, there is little general observation of the day as a holiday in Plainfield. Sunday will be Easter when nearly all the local churches will hold special services appropriate to the day.

WHAT HE SAID.

S. W. Bodine Corrects Report Given of Rev. Mr. Shott's Talk.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—In the interest of truth and justice I wish to deny a report made in another Plainfield local paper of the 7th inst., giving an account of a meeting in New Market Baptist church, last Sunday evening. The report gives a wrong impression; the only two items I recognize being the fact "that Mr. Shott denounced the liquor traffic," and "he told of witnessing a brawl on that evening." Mr. Shott rather gave to me and others the idea, of a decided improvement in Scotch Plains, and that the saloons there receive much of their patronage from outsiders. Many in one town were surprised at the construction given in a report of said address.

S. W. Bodine.

Dunellen, N. J.

What Charge Was.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—My attention has been called to an article of the 8th and 9th inst., in which Alfred Cole is named as defendant in a case brought by Mamie Kelso. I wish to state in regard to same that the case arises from the fact that the plaintiff has been dispossessed, and losing some of her property, caused a complaint to be sworn out against Mr. Cole, charging him with taking the same, which afterwards proved to be a mistake.

Walking Suits Most Popular—Etamine Suits.

A walking suit, ankle length, will be found indispensable this summer. Black or navy blue, either in mixed or plain goods, is the most serviceable. The jacket should be blouse and the skirt strapped or plaited.

For afternoon wear nothing can be prettier than an etamine, either in white, cream or pale gray with touches of satin or panne and a little white about the neck and front.

Light crushed strawberry is admirable with black and pale blue and lends itself admirably to touches of ecru lace.

For cool days there are very effective flannel shirt waists with bands of embroidery which transform them, and for warm weather very smart linens and batistes embroidered in white. There is besides, of course, a full line of dainty sheer waists.

Skirts with yokes are just now very fashionable, and this is a very becoming style for the woman whose hips incline to plumpness.

The hat in the illustration is of red straw, trimmed with poppies.

Artistic Bits of Lace and Fringe Which "Make" a Gown.

Lace collars are greatly improved by touches of embroidery, and it is quite easy to find some large wheel or scroll which can be removed or altered to admit an embroidered medallion.

wear and will appear on all the new coatees and boleros and on evening coats and carriage wraps. Everything will be done to give an air of novelty to these collars, and velvet tabs of various designs will be used and ribbons run in and out of the more open designs.

Fringe is used to give a good effect on smart wraps, and it is seen on dressy gowns of all kinds. It is dyed to match the gown with which it is used.

Dresses with the trimmings, even to the laces, dyed to match are a fad of the hour.

Utility dresses of black and white figured and checked foulards will be much seen this year. These gowns are made without any lace as trimming, and they are decorated simply with strappings, tiny pipings and fancy buttons.

The all black gown is, as a rule, very effective, particularly if the bodice be embroidered with really good jet or silver. Black lace robes with many ruffles around the bottom are trimmed with jet stripes or detached figures.

The picture shows an evening gown of cream mull over green silk. It is trimmed with medallions of black and white lace. JUDIC CHOLLET.

"wake up thar, Mr. Fanshaw. I've fetched yore brother up to see you!"

Dave came in with a candle which the jailer had given him, and he stood with it in his hand, awkwardly shifting his big feet in their new shoes, till the jailer had locked the door and had gone.

"I come on, Ron," he said, "as soon as I could after I got home, and Miss Hasbrooke had drove up the second time to tell me what you'd said. She 'lowed she had took you to the sheriff's house. She was a-cryin' as if 'er heart 'ud break—she could hardly talk. She begged me to come on an' offered me money to buy anything that might be needed."

"I hope you didn't take it, Dave," burst from the prisoner's lips.

"No, I didn't take it; somehow I didn't think you would want help from a woman—you are not that sort."

"What do people think about it, Dave?" Ronald took the candle from the poor fellow's quivering hand and placed it on a little shelf on the wall.

"Sympathy's always with the dead, at first," answered Dave. "I never have heerd as many good things said about George Washington as I have about Syd Hart in the last three hours."

Ronald sighed despondently.

"I presume that they blame me?"

"Some few 'lowed that you ort not a-bucked agin 'im that night at the swamp."

"But the boy was innocent," said our hero.

"That's a fact, Ron; but mountain folks don't reason that way; they only remember how mad you made 'im when you turned his cake to dough. They don't admit that you was right, kase they don't want to know how nigh they come to murder that night. The nigger that did the deed has long ago met his God, but some of 'em try to believe he was innocent. Let a body have even a spindlin' excuse, and he'll clear his own skirts. Do you reckon they will let you out on bail?"

"Mr. Ratcliff is going to help me try for it," replied the prisoner. "We shall not know what can be done till after the trial Monday."

Dave moved towards the door, as if he were ready to go, but he lingered.

"I reckon," he said, as his eyes roved about the bare room, "that you feel a little lonesome heer." Receiving a nod from his brother, he went on: "You needn't look to pa for help. Bill Tygh hinted to 'im this evenin' that folks would naturally expect him to sign yore bond, an' it made 'im as mad as a wet hen. He swore like rips fur fully five minutes on a stretch, an' said some'n about yore bein' no son o' his'n. Ma run out to him an' slapped 'er hand smack dab over his mouth, an' tol' 'im to shet up ur she'd make 'im regret it to his dyin' day. They both went off in the smokehouse, jowerin' like cats a-fightin'. I slid up agin the wall o' the smokehouse to see ef I could make out what was wrong. Thar they had it up an' down fur half an hour, but I couldn't catch head nur tail of it. But it seemed like pa had committed some crime or other durin' the war, up in Tennessee, an' she was threatenin' to give him away. They kept bringing yore name into the fuss, but I couldn't tell why they did it. You was too little durin' the war to 'a' done anything wrong."

Ronald made no comment on these remarks; indeed he had caught only about half of what his brother was saying, so far away were his thoughts from any row between his mother and father.

Noting his inattention, Dave shook the iron door, the signal agreed on between him and the jailer to indicate his readiness to go. "I've got a long ride before me," he explained. "I'll be in Monday sure."

And when the jailer and Dave had departed with the candle, Ronald lay down on his bed to spend his first night after killing a man.

CHAPTER XIII.

When Evelyn reached home, after leaving the message with Dave, she found her sister waiting for her in the garden. Caroline Hasbrooke said nothing until the groom had led away the pony, then, with a malicious glance at Evelyn, she opened up:

"I guess you've heard about Ronald Fanshaw."

Evelyn nodded; she could not trust her voice to calm utterance just then; besides, it behooved her to dissemble.

"He has murdered Sydney Hart."

Evelyn drew a quick breath and retorted:

"He did it in self-defense—absolutely in self-defense!"

"I don't believe a word of it."

Evelyn bowed her head, and passed on up the steps, realizing that even if she could justify her lover in Caroline's eyes it would not benefit his cause in the slightest, and she had heart for nothing that could not lighten his woe. But Miss Hasbrooke was not satisfied. Nagging was an amusement to which every brain-cell she possessed was adapted. She followed Evelyn into her room and closed the door with significant care and softness.

"So now what you escaped." This was her first shot, and she coolly fired it again on Evelyn, who stood at the dresser, removing her gloves and hat.

"I don't understand you," said Evelyn.

Caroline came a step nearer, her sharp eyes flashing.

"You came within an inch of falling in love with him last summer. Capt. Winkle has told me a thing or two. I intended to report it to father if you had not changed your tactics. Suppose you had let your silly romanticism run on, how would you have felt now?"

This sort of goading was maddening. Evelyn turned upon the offender. "I don't see how I could be more miserable than I am," she said, with sharp frankness of voice and look.

The elder girl grasped the speaker's arm and her bony fingers tightened on it. "Evelyn," she said, raspingly, "you are not in love with that man?"

"More deeply, Caroline, than you will ever love—or ever could love anybody with that stony heart of yours. Yes, I love him! If it would give him one moment's relief, I'd go to his cell to-night and share his sufferings."

"Evelyn Hasbrooke!" Caroline stood like a figure of stone. "You cannot mean it!"

But Evelyn simply sank into a chair in the semi-darkness of the room. Her sister's voice sounded as if it came from a great distance.

"I shall not tell father," Caroline was saying. "It would humble him to the dust. It would simply break his heart." She paused. The plantation bell rang for the last time. It was a signal for all loiterers in the fields to come into the quarter, a custom which had been kept alive since the days of slavery. The elder sister drew up a chair and sat down near Evelyn.

"Tell me how it came about," she said.

For a moment Evelyn seemed drawn out of a stupor of gloomy reflections.

"He had threatened to kill Ronald," she began—"to kill him on sight—and Ronald's brother gave him a—"

"Oh, I mean how did you ever happen to fall in love with such a creature as he is?" broke in Miss Hasbrooke, almost angrily. "How can you admit such a thing, when you remember who and what the Hasbrookes are?"

"I have never thought of them as being gods, nor even angels," Evelyn blurted out, and then she laid a firm, determined hand on her sister's arm. "I must beg you, Caroline, to leave me alone this evening. I cannot bear to hear you run him down for what he cannot help. Please go!"

Caroline drew herself up from her chair and moved to the door with a step full of dire prophecy. "I shall not tell father," she repeated. "No, I shall not tell him."

"But I shall," answered Evelyn. "I am helpless to aid the man I love—the man I'd die for willingly, but I shall not conceal the truth from a single soul. At least I can do that much. I can be true to him. I shall not deny him."

Caroline leaned on the swinging door, her cold, vindictive face rested on her arm. It was on the tip of her tongue to make an angry retort, but she evidently thought dumb silence on her part would be more crushing, so with a look of forced incredulity on her face she turned away. "I shall not tell father," came like a belated echo from the hall. "I shall not be the one to break his heart."

The colonel had come in from a tiresome ride across his domain and sat in his study looking over some legal papers. The soft light of a German student lamp brought his fine face out strongly and clearly from the darkness round him. He had spread the papers on the top of his mahogany desk. Only the day before he had insured his life for another large amount, and he was thinking of making a will which would divide his property equally between his two daughters. One of the servants approached with a card.

"Tell Capt. Winkle," said he, as he glanced at the card, "that I cannot see him to-night, unless it is something of importance."

"He said it was very important, suh."

The old man fumbled his papers with nervous fingers.

A COMMITTEE RULES

Rules Committee Is "It" In New York Assembly.

ALL LEGISLATION IN ITS HANDS.

By the Adjournment of Thirty-five Other Bodies Great Power Rests With Five Men.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 10.—Thirty-five assembly committees have adjourned sine die, and several hundred bills are now formally turned over to the assembly committee on rules, who from now until adjournment day, April 23, will have complete control of the arrangement of the assembly calendar. No bill can be considered unless it appears on the calendar, and it cannot appear on the calendar unless the rules committee says so.

The rules committee consists of Speaker Nixon, Majority Leader Rogers and Assemblymen Bedell of Orange, Morgan of Kings, Palmer of Schoharie and McKeown of Kings. In these six men are vested the committee rights of the other 144 members of the assembly. From now on the door of the assembly committee on rules will be daily watched to learn what the all powerful six have decided to report out.

All bills that may have been reported out of assembly committees before will nevertheless come under the jurisdiction of the rules committee, because the arrangement on the calendar is fixed by that body. The cities committee met in executive session, but reported out no bills. Should a new mortgage bill be introduced it will be passed upon in the assembly by the rules committee.

Senator Wagner moved his bill amending the tax law in relation to the payment of taxes on personal property by persons removing from the state. Senator Wagner's amendment is less than thirty-five words in length, but if enacted into law would work havoc among the holders of vast amounts of personal property. The amendment reads:

"If such person at the time such assessment is made resides without the state all such personal property shall be taxed in the tax district where it is located."

This would bring under the law millions in bonds, pictures and other personal property.

Paris Plans For Edward's Reception.

PARIS, April 10.—The official announcement made after the meeting of the council of ministers of the programme for the entertainment of King Edward indicates that it is the purpose of the government not to spare any effort to give his majesty a most cordial reception. The time of the king's arrival in Paris is definitely fixed at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, May 1, when President Loubet, with the entire ministry and a large escort of cavalry and infantry, will receive him at the railroad station. The president will give a grand dinner at the Elysee palace Saturday night, and it will be followed by a gala performance at the Comedie Francaise.

Tiffany & Co. to Move.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Tiffany is to move uptown. Following the northward march of business, the historic jewelry house is to leave Union square, where for nearly thirty-five years its home has been a landmark in the busy life of Broadway, and will occupy a great new building to be erected at Fifth avenue and Thirty-seventh street. The land on which the new structure is to be built has been purchased for $2,000,000.

Immigration Records Strained.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Yesterday was one of the busiest days the immigration officials on Ellis island ever experienced. Seven big steamships arrived in port and brought in their steerages 8,378 foreigners, all of whom were landed on Ellis island. The inspectors worked until 10 or 11 o'clock at night. Over 4,500 immigrants arrived on Wednesday.

Railroads Must Answer.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The interstate commerce commission has made a number of important railway lines respondents in proceedings involving the legality of their local rates on grain and grain products and in the case of two of the roads the class and commodity rates. It issued an order requiring the roads to file answers by May 1.

Labor Riot In Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., April 10.—As a party of nonunion workmen from the Walkerville Bridge company's plant in Walkerville left the ferry at the foot of Joseph Campau avenue last evening they were met by a number of the union men who were on a strike. A riot followed, in which one man was shot dead and several seriously injured.

Emperor Washed Twenty-four Feet.

VIENNA, April 10.—Emperor Francis Joseph, assisted by eleven archdukes, in the Hofburg performed the ancient Holy Thursday ceremony of washing the feet of twelve old men. Their ages ranged from ninety-two to eighty-nine, aggregating 1,082 years.

Troops Must Be Vaccinated.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Major General Davis, in command of the division of the Philippines, has issued an order directing that no troops be allowed to land at Manila until they have been vaccinated.

Weather Probabilities.

Increasing cloudiness, followed by showers; north winds, becoming east and fresh.

EASTER MUSIC AT CHURCHES

Programmes for the Services at Many of the Local Churches Tomorrow.

PLANS ARE EXTENSIVE

Roman Catholic and Episcopal Churches Will Make Most Elaborate Preparations, But Nearly All Will Celebrate the Day Christ Rose From the Dead.

Easter Day will be observed in most of the local churches and some have made quite elaborate plans for the day's services. As usual music will be a special feature while the interiors of the sanctuaries will be bright with flowers.

At St. Mary's church there will be one of the most elaborate services ever attempted in the musical line. There will be a choir and quartette of twenty-six voices and during the services Haydn's Imperial Third Mass under the arrangement of Vincent Novello will be rendered. The choir will be augmented by an orchestra of six pieces. They will render the Kyrie, Gloria, Credo, Sanctus, Benedictus and Agnus Dei. The soloists will be soprano, Miss Annie Daley, alto, Mrs. Morris Owens; tenor, Robert M. Clark; basso, Edward A Harding; organist, Miss May Smith; and conductor, M. J. Cashin.

The choir will comprise E. A. Harding, Miss Alice Keeley, M. J. Cashin, Miss McKeon, Miss Margaret Day, Miss Harding, Mrs. Owens, Miss Smith, Miss Carty, Miss O'Keefe, Miss Hillman, Miss Shay, Albert Matthews, Brian Hanrahan, W. J. Keefe, and J. A. O'Keefe, Miss McCarthy, Miss Lannon, Daniel Corinne, Frank McInerny, Miss Elizabeth Day, Mrs. Turner and others. The orchestra is composed of violins, Arthur Mosher, Joseph Sattell, M. A. Audsley; cornet, Chris Sorensen; trombone and 'cello, Kenneth Shupp.

Masses will be held at 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30 and 10:30 in the morning. The last will be the solemn high mass when Rev. Father Smith will be the celebrant, and Rev. Father Hangley, of Newark, will be the deacon. Rev. Father Frederick, of Bloomfield, will be the sub-deacon. The sermon in the morning will be preached by Rev. Father Egan. He will talk of the "Resurrection." In the evening at 8 o'clock solemn vespers will be held which will be conducetd by Rev. Father Egan and Father Smith.

SOCIAL ACTIVITY TO FOLLOW EASTER DAY

The Many Events That Are Scheduled to Take Place Here Next Week.

DRAMATICS AND DANCES

RECEPTION AND LOAN EXHIBITION GIVEN BY THE D. OF A. R.

Final Cotillion at Casino Monday Night — Park Club Easter Dance Tuesday Evening—Leal's School Dramatics Thursday Night.

Following the very quiet Lenten season, Plainfield society folk will lay aside this quietude for something more lively. After tomorrow, in fact commencing on Monday, there will be a number of social events to attract the society folk of the town. Monday evening will be held the last of the series of cotillions. Preparations have been made for a very pleasant time and there will be the usual pleasant features. Tuesday evening there will be a private dress rehearsal of "Gloriana," the comedy to be given by the students from Leal's school. Wednesday afternoon there will be a public dress rehearsal of "Gloriana," and Wednesday evening Company K's dance and reception will be held. Thursday evening the regular performance of "Gloriana," will be given.

In addition to these events, all of which will be held at the Casino, there will be many others during the week, including a fair under the auspices of the T. A. B. Association. This opens Monday evening. The same evening there will be a large euchre party at Stafford Hall, given by the choir of St. Mary's church.

An event of more than ordinary interest will be the entertainment at the Casino Tuesday afternoon under the auspices of the Cup Bearers' Circle of King's Daughters. This will consist of tableaux and a short play and the sale of candy, etc. Tuesday evening the customary Easter dance will be held at the Park Club. Among the events scheduled for Thursday evening is the concert at Monroe Avenue church by the Wesleyan Glee Club, under the auspices of the Young Men's Association of the church.

Probably one of the most important events of the week will be the reception and loan exhibition under the auspices of the Continental Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, to be held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Phillip V. R. Van Wyck, of Stelle avenue. This affair will be on an elaborate scale. Besides these events there will be a number of smaller ones, including dinners, luncheons, etc., all of which will keep the society folk very busy. Several important weddings are scheduled a little later in the month of April and during May and June and altogether there should be no end of pleasure for society during the next three months.

EASTER EXERCISES.

Held at the City High School Yesterday Morning.

Easter exercises were held at the City High School yesterday morning. The programme was solely of a musical nature and consisted of three Easter cantatas, "See Now the Altar," by Faure; "Awake, Thou That Sleepest," by Maker, and Alfred R. Gaul's sacred cantata, "Ruth."

This cantata tells the story of Ruth and there are four characters taken by soloists. These are Ruth, Naomi, Orpah and Boaz. These parts were respectively taken by Mrs. Thomas McDonald, soprano; Miss Mary Collier, contralto; Miss Cornelia Miller, soprano; and Chas. L. Lewis, bass.

There are several choruses in the cantata and these were taken by the school and by a semi chorus of twenty-seven voices. Miss Mabel Maxson was at the piano.

A Double Loss.

Robert Patterson, formerly of West Dunellen and father of Harvey L. Patterson, who was killed in the Westfield wreck, died at his home in Port Chester, N. Y., last week. The demise came the day after he left Dunellen. The only surviving member of the family is Mrs. Patterson and the double affliction has left her completely prostrated.

Announcement was made yesterday morning at the City High School that the salutatorian and valedictorian of the graduating class had been chosen. Miss Alice A. Pugh was appointed salutatorian and Miss Louise M. Taylor valedictorian of the class.

VISITED THIEVES' KITCHEN

REMARKABLE EXPERIENCES OF MISS WRAY, A CITY MISSIONARY.

She is to Speak at the Men's Meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Tomorrow Afternoon at 4 o'Clock.

Miss Wray, who speaks at the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow afternoon, has had some remarkable experiences. It is told that she stood one day in the Whitechapel district, in London, at the door of what was called "The Thieves' Kitchen." She knocked, and a rough voice said, "Come in." She opened the door, and saw in the dim light four gamblers about a table on which were playing cards and a pile of money.

She asked, "Have you heard the news?"

Without looking up, one man said in a surly tone, "What news?"

"The news that Jesus came into the world to save all who would let Him come into their hearts," she replied.

The man leaped to his feet, threw his cards on the floor with an oath, and said angryly to her, "Who sent you here?"

"Jesus sent me with the good news."

"Did anyone see you come in?"

"No," replied Miss Wray.

"Well, no one will ever see you go out," said the ruffian, as he threw open a trap door which was over the surging waters of the Thames, adding, "You'll not be the first one to go down there who came to interfere with our business." Then he started toward her threateningly.

She drew herself up, and pointing a finger at him said: "Stop! not one step farther. You dare not touch me!"

"Indeed!" he said, jeeringly. "Who will prevent me?

"My God, who sent me here with the good news, will not let you touch me," said the frail girl.

The murderer's hand dropped and he turned pale. One of the other men arose and opened the door, and she went forth in safety into the sunlight.

TO NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Boys of Y. M. C. A. Leave Monday for Three Days Excursion.

The full complement of those who are going to Washington on the Y. M. C. A. boys' department excursion, Monday, has been made up. The boys will be accompanied by Secretary Kenneth Robbie and the trip will embrace three days. Those who will go are Martin B. Stutsman, John Schofield, Rex Schoonmaker, Irving Buckle, O. F. Mueck, Charles Hoff, Harold Millar, Harold Hamilton, George Endicott, Lester Radford and Arthur Williams. The train bearing the members of the party will leave Monday morning at 9:14. This will be the first railroad excursion of the year.

BLOSSOMS FOR THE ILL.

King's Daughters of Grace M. E. Church Plan for Easter Day.

The King's Daughters' Circle of Grace M. E. church, at a recent meeting held at the home of Miss Della Voehl, of Somerset street, decided to make Easter as bright as possible for the sick members of the church. They will send flowers to those who will not be able to attend the services. A clipping social will be held at the church, Thursday, April 30, when the proceeds will be devoted to finishing the pledge towards the support of the city nurse.

Double Rental.

A double rental of the property at 114 Elmwood place was made yesterday. Through the agency of J. T. Vail, of North avenue, one half of the house will be occupied by Mrs. Mary V. Morgan and daughter, of Brooklyn, while through the agency of G. Foster Updike the other half half will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Abram V. Nelson, of Dunellen.

Wore Out Door Bell.

William Jeffery, the real estate and insurance dealer, has written the following to The Daily Press: "I have had so many calls through advertisement in The Daily Press that my door-bell was completely incapacitated today. It's now fixed, however, but how long it will last under the present strain is a matter of conjecture."

Disorder Must Cease.

Deacon Spencer Conway, of the Calvary Baptist church, wishes The Daily Press to state that all lounging and boisterous talk in the vicinity of the church must cease. Stringent measures are to be adopted to prevent such persons from blocking the walk near the church and making a disturbance.

GOOD FRIDAY UNION SERVICE

Memorable Service Held at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church Last Night

LOCAL PASTORS THERE

Brief Addresses on the Words of Christ From the Cross—Rev. Dr. Wm. R. Richards Returned to Take Part in the Service—What Was Said in Part.

The Union Good Friday service, held last evening in the Crescent Avenue church, attracted a large and devout congregation of worshippers, and the words spoken by the various pastors echoed the true spirit of the occasion in short talks on "Meditations on Words from the Cross." This service has been an annual one for several years past, bringing together the members of all the evangelical churches.

In the opening part of the services, Rev. E. M. Rodman offered prayer, Rev. John MacMurray conducted the responsive reading, and Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass read the Scripture lesson and was the first speaker, being given the first word — "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do." The chief thought here expressed was the forgiving Spirit of Christ, that in His divine, as well as human nature, He had only the most devoted interest for those who had persecuted Him. The speaker impressively spoke of the divine relationship between Christ and God and how this is transmitted to those who believe in Him.

Rev. E. M. Rodman took the second word—"Verily, I say unto thee, today shalt thou be with me in paradise." He spoke of the sudden conversion of the thief on the cross, who had asked the Father to remember him. Here, again the divine and human nature was shown and the strong example of forgiveness. Dr. Rodman said he believed that the thief was truly repentant and for this reason Christ assured him that he would soon be with Him in paradise.

The third word—"Behold thy son; behold thy mother," was given to Rev. E. V. Stevenson,. He pictured an impressive scene many miles from Plainfield, where a white haired old woman sits in loneliness deriving her only comfort in the knowledge that she has given to the world those who can labor for Christ and do His will. He said that Christ must claim the assurance of all because of the good life He lived. In conclusion he drew a strong picture of the divine sympathy and love of Christ and he urged all to cultivate this love and thus exercise it toward others in the true spirit of Christ.

Rev. E. L. Earp spoke on the fourth word—"My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" The speaker said that inasmuch as Christ had been tempted in all points, it was imperative that He should experience the withdrawal of the Father's face for a time. He was shut out from the face of the Father, the same as those who refuse to seek Christ and believe in Him. He urged all to live close communion with Christ and not lose sight of Him.

"I thirst," the fifth word, was given to Rev. C. L. Goodrich. His chief thought was that Christ knew what it was to be tired, hungry and thirsty, that He was a real man suffering as a human being. He spoke of the terrible thirst Christ experienced, likening it to the thirst of those who seek and follow Christ.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., spoke on the sixth word—"It is finished." He made an impressive point of the fact that Christ's work was finished and completed, that He had rounded out His life on earth. He said that it was no ordinary work, but the accomplishment of the world's redemption through His atonment. He thanked God that this redemption is completed, that Christ died for the redemption of the world.

The last word—"Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit," was the subject given to Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, of the Brick Presbyterian church, New York, who came to Plainfield to attend the service. He spoke briefly of the great divine love of Christ and of His resignation into the hands of the Father. He thought it was an unanswerable argument in the divinity of Christ and His power to save.

After a brief silent prayer, Rev. Dr. W. C. Hubbell offered prayer. An offering was then received for the Children's Home. After the singing of a hymn, the benediction was pronounced.

the course of a storm by tearing down the signals that give warning of its approach. Neither can you cure a cold by temporarily stopping a cough with opium-laden "medicines." KODOL Digests What You Eat.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Kodol

Digests What You Eat

Mrs. Loring Nichols of Penn Yan, N. Y., writes: After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders, and gives the heart a full, free and untrammeled action.

THEATRICAL.

"Bigger, better and grander than ever," are the apt terms which describe the Barnum & Bailey circus now in its third week at Madison Square Garden. It continues to dazzle thousands of eyes nightly and at each performance, the big auditorium is packed with children large and children small. Some of the features of the show that continue to attract the attention of the crowds are the women who do lofty trapeze stunts in evening gowns, the Jap who slides backward down a tightrope from the roof on his feet and the agile woman who twists herself through napkin rings and gets all tangled up. In addition to the big programme followed out in the three rings, there is to be seen the menagerie, warships, freaks and prodigies all for the one price of admission. Two performances are given daily at 2 and 8 p. m. The box office is open daily for advance sales of seats.

Easter week will inaugurate several good things in the theatrical world at Proctor's various places of amusement. A production of more than passing interest will be given at Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre of "The Face in the Moonlight," a romantic drama in four acts, by Charles Osborne. The best continuous show in town will be in vogue at Proctor's Twenty-third Street house next week. The 'headline" act is one that vaudeville can be proud of, for nearly every man, woman and child who has ever attended the theatre has seen John and Emma Ray. After considerable negotiation, Mr. Proctor has secured these stars of "A Hot Old Time" and they will appear in their newest vaudeville sketch, entitled "Casey, the Fireman." Over in Newark at Proctor's twice daily, a strong bill will be the attraction, headed by Newark's favorite actress, Una Abell Brinker, in a clever sketch, entitled: "A Husband in Clover." Others on the bill will be Sparrow, the "Mad Juggler;" Ferguson and Mack, in "The Dimple Sisters:" Frencelli and Lewis, in Lyric novelties; Belmont and O'Brien, comedians and fifteen other star specialties.

WHERE TO PURCHASE.

The Fischer Piano Has the Reputation That Attracts.

With the Easter tide begins a new departure in almost any business enterprise, and the trade in pianos is not exempt from the impetus. Like the making of books, of making pianos there is no end. But the making of pianos that are of pronounced and indisputable reputation tone, artistic individuality of workmanship and wonderful durability is quite another thing. It takes years of keen sighted, practical skill to accomplish this, and the confidence of the public is the result.

A visit to J. and C. Fisher's warerooms will convince anyone that the reason for this public confidence, and for their solid reputation, is their admirable business integrity, and the superior merit of their pianos.

For Excursions.

Steamer "St. Johns," formerly of the Sandy Hook fleet, may be chartered by the day for Sunday-school or other special excursion parties after June 1. The largest, safest and best excursion boat in New York Harbor. For rates, etc., apply to C. M. Burt, general passenger agent, Central Railroad of New Jersey, 143 Liberty street, New York.

A Leading Concern.

The Union Building and Loan Association is one of the leading concerns of its kind in the city. It is a strictly local association, managed by Plainfield's best business men. A new series will be opened at the meeting Monday night. The shares are limited.

County Committee Meeting.

The Union county Republican committee will hold a regular meeting in Elizabeth next week Tuesday, to transact important business. A meeting of the executive committee was held at Elizabeth, Wednesday, but only routine business was considered.

John Hall, of East Front street, was out yesterday for the first after a week's illness.

Hamilton J. Sours, of Elizabeth, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Hawkins, of West Front street, yesterday.

ANY CHURCH or parsonage or institution supported by voluntary contribution will be given a liberal quantity of the Longman & Martinez Pure Paints whenever they paint.

NOTE: Have done so for twenty-seven years. Sales: Tens of millions of gallons; painted nearly two million houses under guarantee to repaint if not satisfactory. The paint wears for periods up to eighteen years. Linseed Oil must be added to the paint, (done in two minutes). Actual cost then about $1.25 a gallon. Samples free. Sold by our Agents.

PENNELL CASE ENDS

No Light Thrown on Burdick Murder Mystery.

JUDGE MURPHY'S VAGUE FINDINGS.

Cannot Say Whether Fatal Plunge of Automobile Was Accidental or Designed—Dead Lawyer's Antemortem Statement.

BUFFALO, April 11.—The evidence thus far given at the inquest into the deaths of Arthur R. Pennell and Mrs. Pennell before Justice Murphy will not help the authorities in any way to a solution of the Burdick murder mystery. Whether the tragedy at Gehre's stone quarry on March 10, in which Pennell was killed and Mrs. Pennell was fatally injured, was due to accident or design was not proved.

Thomas Penney, who has acted as attorney for the Pennell family since Arthur's death, declared that so far as he was aware nothing in the papers left by Mr. Pennell would throw any light upon the murder of Edwin L. Burdick.

Mr. Penney's refusal to answer questions relating to the alleged defalcation on the grounds of professional privilege was sustained by Justice Murphy.

"Evidence that would show defalcation would simply be accumulative," said Justice Murphy after the evidence was all in. "No stronger motive could be proved than has already been brought out here. But proving a motive does not establish suicide. The court is prepared to announce its findings.

"I hereby find and certify," continued Judge Murphy, "that Arthur R. Pennell came to his death on the 10th day of March, 1903, as a result of injuries received while riding in an automobile, the said automobile plunging from an embankment into the Gehre stone quarry; that I cannot determine from the evidence submitted whether such plunge was accidental or designed; that Carrie Lamb Pennell came to her death as a result of the said plunge of the automobile into the quarry."

W. C. Omphelius, formerly Pennell's stenographer, produced a typewritten copy of the first draft of a statement prepared for publication by Pennell before his death. The main features of the statement are as follows:

"Now that the flood of sensationalism and yellow journalism has lessened and that public excitement has died down to a calmer consideration of the facts and events leading up to a terrible tragedy which has recently taken place in this city, I wish in behalf of myself, but especially more in behalf of others whose sufferings are even greater than mine, to make this statement.

"Owing to the fact that my name was so unfortunately at this time connected with the pending divorce proceedings, it was forced into greater publicity in connection with the tragedy itself. So far as any possible connection with that crime was concerned I satisfied, I think, the district attorney and his assistants thoroughly that I had nothing to do with it, and since that time neither has my house nor myself been under suspicion or surveillance. After being out for a short time in the early part of that evening I spent the rest of it at home, as was shown by the evidence of my wife and the servant girl in our house. I think I was soon acquitted both by the public and the authorities with any connection with the crime.

"It now becomes incumbent upon me to make some statement relative to my connection with the divorce proceedings. In this statement I wish to say as little as possible of the dead. But it must be remembered that those who are living have their lives to live and the rights of the living are greater than the rights of the dead. There was no truth in the charges brought by the plaintiff in that proceeding against the defendant and myself. The charges were absolutely denied under oath, and counter charges had been made, and in a short time the case would have been quietly tried before a referee and settled.

"The relations existing between the plaintiff and the defendant had been strained for some time. Twice he had unjustly attempted to make her leave her home. My wife and myself had taken her side in the controversy that arose between them, and she had consulted me for legal advice and protection.

"During this time the man himself was in intimate relations with a woman whom he desired to marry. For that purpose it was necessary to be free from his wife. He discovered the fact that his wife knew of these relations by gaining access to the safe deposit vault where she kept her papers through forgery and a written order over her blank signature and purloining the keys from her. Being thus apprised of the evidence against him, he determined to anticipate her action by bringing an action himself in order that he might have the appearance of being the injured party, and out of vindictiveness and a desire to injure me as much as possible he made me a defendant in the action. His allegations were properly denied, and the issues would have been squarely met when his death occurred at the hands of some unknown woman whom he had invited to his house at midnight. Nothing more unfortunate could have occurred for everybody involved."

Three Killed In Engine's Plunge.

ELIZABETH, N. J., April 11.—Plunging down a twenty foot embankment into a pond, a seventy ton drill engine of the Central Railroad of New Jersey carried three men to death here.

THE RELIANCE READY

Herreshoffs Announce a Sunset Launching.

MISS ISELIN TO CHRISTEN NEW YACHT

Sixth Racer Constructed by Famous Rhode Island Firm Gives Promise of Being Fleet Enough to Hold the Cup.

BRISTOL, R. I., April 11.—There will be launched just before sunset today from the Herreshoff works in this city a ninety foot composite fin keel sloop yacht which a syndicate of six prominent yachtsmen of the New York Yacht club have had constructed for the defense of the America's cup against Sir Thomas Lipton's third challenger. As the yacht moves slowly down the ways Miss Mora Iselin, the daughter of Mr. C. Oliver Iselin, the managing owner, will with the customary ceremonies name her the Reliance, and it is a safe assertion that the entire membership of the club is convinced that she will keep intact the successful record of the past fifty-two years against more than a dozen attempts on the part of British yachtsmen to regain the blue ribbon of the seas.

The Reliance is the sixth yacht which the Herreshoffs have constructed for the defense of the America's cup. Three of their productions, the Vigilant, the Defender and the Columbia, have defeated the British challengers, while two others, the Colonia and the Constitution, did not prove in the trying out process sufficiently reliable to warrant their selection for the honor.

The Reliance will also be tested and tested as never a cup aspirant was before, for the owner of the Columbia, zealous of her magnificent record of two successful defenses of the cup, will again be in the field, while Mr. August Belmont, who controls the Constitution, is particularly keen to retrieve the honor lost to the Columbia two years ago.

Although the Reliance, as in the case of nearly all the cup defenders, has been built in secret, it is known that her underbody is constructed of tobin bronze and her topsides of nickel steel. It is also known that she is about 140 feet over all, just short of 90 feet on the water line, about 20 feet deep and 24 feet beam.

When fully rigged, she will be able to spread over 15,000 square feet of canvas, which is the largest amount ever hoisted by any racing ninety foot sloop.

Feltz Wants to Meet Corbett.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 11.—A certified check for $1,000 has been deposited with the sporting editor of the Morning News on behalf of Tommy Feltz to bind him for a match with "Young Corbett" for the featherweight championship, the men to weigh in at the limit, 122 pounds, at the ringside, or for a match with Harry Forbes for the bantam championship, the men to weigh in at 115 pounds. Feltz is willing to meet either of the men before any responsible club, and his forfeit is up. Feltz claims the championship in both these classes, asserting that neither Corbett nor Forbes has fought at the weight of his class in months.

Favorites Ahead at Bennings.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Form players were well rewarded at Bennings, as five of the six races were won by the favorites. The upset came in the sixth race, when Knight of the Garter, the second choice, won handily, the favorite, Black Dick, running last. The card was fairly good and furnished excellent sport throughout. The fine weather attracted a big crowd, but the track was still heavy and lumpy.

Several Upsets at Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—There were several upsets at Oakland yesterday, only two favorites winning. In the six furlong handicap Sad Sam, the favorite, set the pace, but tired in the last part and was beaten easily by Nigrette. Canejo won the third race at 15 to 1. The weather was fine and the track fast. President Williams announced that the racing here will end Thursday, April 30.

Memphis Races.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 11.—The features of the card at Montgomery park was the Memphis club handicap at seven and a half furlongs. James Arthur's Huzzah, McIntyre up, won in a drive from Elsie L. In the third race, a purse event, W. B. Gates, at odds of 20 to 1, Wonderly up, finished several lengths ahead of the three other horses in the field. Weather threatening; track fast.

Giants Win From University Men.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Columbia university's baseball team made a rather poor showing against the New York Nationals at the Polo grounds, the latter winning by the score of 11 to 1. The base running of the New Yorks was the feature.

Whitney Orders Park Improvements

SARATOGA, N. Y., April 11.—William C. Whitney, president of the Saratoga Racing association, after a tour of inspection of the running park here ordered immediate work to be begun on additional improvements.

Yale Defeated Navy.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 11.—In a hotly contested pitchers' battle the Yale Baseball club defeated the navy by a score of 1 to 0 in a six inning game.

Nationals Again Defeat Americans.

PHILADELPHIA, April 11.—The game between the local league teams yesterday resulted in the Nationals winning by a score of 6 to 3.

STILL OUTSIDE CITY

7asquez's Attempts to Take Santo Domingo Fail.

REPULSED AFTER HEAVY FIGHTING.

All Negotiations For a Peaceful Settlement, Initiated by the Consuls, Without Results — Provisions Are Getting Scarce.

SANTO DOMINGO, April 11.—The negotiations for a peaceful settlement of the questions in dispute initiated by the consuls having failed and the suspension of hostilities being ended President Vasquez again opened fire on the revolutionary positions. The rebels in this city replied with cannon, and the fighting lasted the whole of a day and through the night, by which time General Vasquez's troops had been finally repulsed in their assault on the city. The number of killed and wounded is unknown.

The government troops made a second attempt the following morning to force their way into the city, but after a heavy fight on the banks of the river they were again thrown back. The insurgent general Pepin was killed.

President Vasquez's forces are at the suburb San Carlos, and their prospects of a successful assault on the city appear remote, as it is well barricaded and defended by heavy guns. A suspension of arms has now taken place in order that the Red Cross corps may attend to the wounded.

Italian and German warships have arrived here and have landed marines to protect their respective consulates. Many families have gone on board the foreign warships for safety. It is reported that the foreign warships will disembark parties of marines in case of pillage. The population is extremely anxious.

Another engagement between the government forces and the revolutionists who are in possession of the city took place April 5. The troops of President Vasquez attacked the revolutionists and were repulsed after severe fighting, during which many men were killed or wounded on both sides.

The Atlanta's doctor is helping to care for the wounded in the recent engagement. Direct telegraphic communication from this city continues interrupted. In view of the critical situation the arrival of further foreign warships is expected. Milk, meats and other country provisions are difficult to obtain here, and prices are rising.

Governor Has Libel Bill.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 11.—The libel bill, which has stirred up the entire newspaper press of the state, has come into the possession of Governor Pennypacker for his approval or disapproval. The bill passed the house finally by a vote of 125 to 57 after a somewhat bitter fight. Three Democrats voted with the majority, and twenty-three Republicans joined with the minority. The bill was introduced in the house on Monday night by a Republican member from Philadelphia, and an identical measure was presented by a Republican senator from Philadelphia in the senate on Tuesday. Both bills were moved up rapidly. The opponents of the measure charged that the Republican state organization issued "orders" that the bill be rushed through before the members went home for the week. The governor has granted a request and will fix a day for a hearing. He has thirty days in which to approve or disapprove the bill.

The Rhode Island Deadlock.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 11.—The deadlock in the house of representatives as the result of the attempt to legalize the sale of liquor at Block island has been made complete by two additional members joining the two who on Thursday announced their intention to prevent legislation until the liquor bill was killed. With four members taking an obstructive position all legislation must give way, including the general appropriation bill. If that fails to pass, the various departments will be left without funds. The residents of Block island voted no on the license question, but a bill was passed by the legislature last year authorizing the sale of liquor during the summer months. The repeal of this law was demanded.

Dr. Alexander's Trial Postponed.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 11.—Prosecutor Ruckelshaus announces that the second trial of Dr. J. C. Alexander, demonstrator of anatomy in the Central College of Physicians and Surgeons, charged with connection with grave robbing, has been postponed indefinitely. The trial was set for Monday, but the negro ghouls in jail awaiting trial have announced that they will not testify against him. The state will proceed now with the trials of the negroes. Mr. Ruckelshaus said after receiving the ultimatum of the negroes: "Dr. Alexander's trial is indefinitely postponed. We have no witnesses against him."

Tanners Return to Work.

CHICAGO, April 11.—Three thousand tanners and curriers have returned to work, ending a strike of several weeks, the settlement marking the first victory for the Chicago Employers' association since it made a rule to grant absolute union recognition to no labor organization.

Disturbances In St. Petersburg.

LONDON, April 11.—A Central News dispatch from St. Petersburg says serious disturbances took place in various districts of the city Thursday night, and nearly 2,000 individuals who were not provided with passports as required by the law were arrested.

A GREAT MISTAKE.

Governor Murphy must certainly have had the courage of his convictions when he vetoed the bill which prohibited the sale of cigarettes to all boys under sixteen. The mere vetoing of such a measure would raise storm enough from certain quarters by itself but Governor Murphy's remark about it is going to make him the subject for a lively attack. "Most boys at sixteen smoke and generally without injury" the Governor is quoted as saying.

Even if Governor Murphy did think that cigarette smoking was not injurious to boys and young men, it must be admitted that it was very poor judgment to publicly proclaim that fact. As a private citizen Franklin Murphy has a right to think as he pleases but, as chief executive of the State of New Jersey, it is a very poor policy to make such an assertion when it is recognized as a scientifically proved fact that cigarettes are harmful and when the entire educational department of the State is doing its best to point out the evils of that same habit to the rising generation.

It may be that Mr. Murphy has been wrongly quoted but there seems good reason to believe that he was not. If he has said that, he has stamped himself a man of poor judgment and narrow mind. There wasn't anything particularly harmful in his recent statement that the record of the last Legislature was one to be proud of although it was rather amusing to anyone who had followed the happenings at the State House this winter. Now, however, he has, if the quotation is a true one, made a statement that may seriously interfere with the efforts of one of the State departments and one, too, which deserves the Governor's strongest support. Whatever may have been his ideas regarding an attempt to legislate a bad habit out of existence, it certainly is not fitting for the Governor to thus encourage that which is of menace to the welfare of the young men and boys of the State.

After the Councilmanic finance committee has had the opportunity of looking over the report of City Auditor Collins, the document should be reported back to the Common Council and the public allowed to know just what that $500 investigation discovered. Certain recommendations are made in the report. Let the public know what they are.

The Somerville Unionist-Gazette thinks that the Somerset county Board of Freeholders is "real liberal" to build an iron bridge at Girard avenue, North Plainfield. But of course it is nothing that North Plainfield pays its money over to the county so that Somerville may have the benefit. The point of view makes all the difference in the world.

The street signs are very valuable possessions of the city and they should be well protected. When boys fail to remember their value, it is time that they have the fact called carefully to mind.

Elaborate musical programmes have been prepared at many of the local churches and the lovers of good music will not have to go out of Plainfield to hear some fine selections tomorrow.

Fair and warmer is the weather for Easter Sunday as given out by the weather observers. A pleasant Easter is particularly to be desired.

PASSION MUSIC.

(Written after hearing the Lenten musical service at First Baptist church Thursday evening.)

Soaring voices, violin,
Leaping flames of wailing,
Raise their sweet and shrill of din,
Martyred saints are hailing.

Cello, tempestuous, passionate,
Deep voice of man, heart of lover,
Low, in abysmal depths,
Sobs for a Savior.

Stealing from tenebral silences,
Mergeth the mystic viola,
Grief and pain mellowing, blending
With love that shall never know ending.
Quietly there, where He sleepeth,
Mary of Magdalen weepeth.

BANK HAS NEW CHARTER

GRANTED BY TREASURY DEPARTMENT TO FIRST NATIOTAL BANK.

The Early History of One of Plainfield's Most Flourishing Institutions.

By reason of the fact that the old charter of the First National Bank recently expired, application for a renewal of the charter for a term of twenty years has been made to the treasury department at Washington and granted. The charter will expire at the close of business on February 24, 1923.

In the renewing of the charter, many of the older citizens will recall the early history of this bank. It originally was the Union County State Bank with offices where Griffin's hardware store now is. At the time the State Banks had been done away with, as they proved a handicap to general business. The property now occupied by the First National Bank was purchased from "Tinker" Smith, and the bank began business in a small building on that site. Afterward the institution was transferred to where the Hotel Rosell now stands. A little later a more modern building was erected on the property, with a store underneath. This structure remained until a few years ago, when the present handsome building was erected.

One of the original stockholders of the bank is L. E. Barkalew. For many years Carman Parse served the bank as cashier, being succeeded by F. S. Runyon, who died over a year ago. The present cashier is David M. Runyon. The institution has been most successful in its affairs, being conducted on sound business principles, which predict a promising future.

SUBURBAN NEWS

A Department Devoted to the Minor Events in Greater Plainfield's Suburbs by Our Own Correspondents.

DUNELLEN.

The annual meeting of the Presbyterian church was held Thursday evening in the chapel. At that time the report of the treasurer, Travis Sutphen, was read and showed that the past year was one of the best and most encouraging in the history of the church. For the first time in a number of years a small surplus was reported in the treasury. The reports of the Ladies' Aid, Woman's Missionary, Christian Endeavor and Junior Endeavor Societies for the past year were received and read. During the year $2,429.60 has been received for general purposes. $1,000 has been paid on the church mortgage and it is now entirely free of debt, although a small mortgage remains on the parsonage. $300 has been given to various benevolences during the year and $800 has been spent in repairing the church. The members of the church feel greatly encouraged and are very proud of their year's record. After the church meeting a meeting of the board of trustees was called by President Wynkoop for the election of officers. John Doty was elected president, and Chas. Mattis and Frank Touzeau were elected members of the board.

The members of the local W. C. T. U. feel quite indignant at the report in another paper of a temperance lecture given by Rev. George Shott, of Scotch Plains, in the First Baptist church, in New Market, Sunday evening. They say that the report does Mr. Shott great injustice as he did not go there to talk of Scotch Plains but on temperance and that the facts were much distorted.

Miss Hattie VanNest, Mrs. William Colthar, Mrs. C. F. Colthar and daughter, Gladys, and Mrs. Samuel Richardson, of Plainfield, spent Thursday at the home of Mrs. Richardson's sitster, Mrs. Thomas B. Todd, of Front street.

Miss Nellie Brown, of Dunellen, who has been spending a month with relatives in Brooklyn, returned home a few days ago. She received a surprise upon her return by being presented with a piano by her parents.

The Misses Opdyke, of Washington avenue, have been entertaining Miss Daisy Hyatt, of Brooklyn, and Miss Ann Counel, of Philadelphia, for a few days.

An exceedingly pleasant evening was spent by the Orokinole Club last evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Wynkoop, of Front street.

The Dunellen Juniors had a game scheduled for this morning with the Orange Field Club seconds, of Plainfield.

The Dunellen A. C. will hold practice on their field this afternoon.

Adam Dealaman still continues to improve slightly.

Mrs. A. A. Lake is spending today in Plainfield.

W. G. Winges spent this morning in Plainfield.

NEW MARKET.

Contracts have been awarded by the Township Committee to Garretson & Gray, and J. Wilson & Co., for stone for macadamizing the township roads.

A large number attended the cottage prayer meeting held last evening at the home of Henry B. Snowden. Rev. Frank Fletcher led the meeting.

The ball team will hold practice this afternoon.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The local baseball diamond is to be put in first-class shape before the opening of the season, May 2. The diamoond will be rolled and scraped, while the outfield will be put in first-class shape. The club needs more seating capacity and it is probable that another line of bleachers will be built along the first and third base lines. Manager Johnston has signed Pete Borgan, who made so many friends among the fans last season. Pete will be found in his customary place behind the bat.

Miss Louise Robison, of the borough, entertained a number of her friends Thursday evening at her home. The pleasant affair was arranged in honor of her friend, Miss Browning, of Camden, who is spending a few days with her. The evening was given up to music, games and social chat, during which refreshments were served. Friends were present from Camden, Westfield, Glenside, the village and borough.

The pupils of the public school will not enjoy an Easter vacation of one week like some of the schools of neighboring towns. The pupils benefit by it on their summer vacation, school closing from one to two weeks earlier than those who take the week at Easter.

The members of the baseball team are the first to announce the opening of the strawberry festival season. The club and its friends will hold a festival for the benefit of the club treasury during the early part of June.

The High School baseball team is playing the Netherwood Field Club on the Plainfield diamond this afternoon. Quite a good delegation went with the boys to help them root out a victory.

Services at the Baptist church tomorrow will be as usual: Sunday-school, 9:30; morning preaching, 10:45; B. Y. P. U., 7; evening sermon, 7:45.

The members of the primary department of the Methodist Sunday-school will enjoy an outing on the mountains this afternoon.

John Soden, of Alton, who broke his leg over two months ago, is improving and will soon be around again.

Galvin's Park, along the trolley line between the village and Westfield, will reopen Decoration Day.

Fanwood Council, R. A., will have an initiation at their meeting in the Library rooms Tuesday evening.

Tomorrow being Easter Sunday, special services will be held at All Saints' Episcopal church.

Postmaster and Mrs. Norman Dunn have rented the Corey property on Park avenue.

The weekly prayer meeting of the Methodist church will be held tonight.

Frank Hengler has taken a position with John Dunn, the ice man.

John Rickerson was the guest yesterday of friends in Elizabeth.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Services pertaining to Easter will be held both morning and evening at the Baptist church. Baptism will be administered at the moring service.

It is the opinion of many who travel the Plainfield avenue that some improvements in the road might be made by filling in ruts and holes.

George Ryno is building a neat fence around a portion of his property. A new slate roof has been put on his house.

Mrs. Albert Soper and her daughter, Mrs. Farley, visited New Market friends yesterday.

Pupils who attend the Plainfield school will enjoy the Easter vacation next week.

Rev. J. A. Cubberly, conducted a meeting at New Durham last night.

Throat Sore?

There's no telling what a sore throat will do if you give it "right of way." Uncertain remedies often cause dangerous delay. Make a cure sure with Painkiller, known for half a century as a specific for sore throat, croup, coughs, and all kindred troubles. Keep it by you for an emergency. It never fails. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. 25c. and 50c.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

A Decline in Stocks—Heavy Retailing—Textile Market Disturbed.

NEW YORK, April 11.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Lower quotations in the stock market than at any other time since October, 1901, do not signify depression in business. The law of supply and deman must prevail. Compared with the high record for stocks last September, the sixty most active railways have declined $15.85 per share on the average, and the volume of new securities offered to investors has proved greater than the available funds could assimilate.

Aside from the prevalence of strikes and possibility of further interruption to industrial activity next month on this account, the business outlook is most gratifying. Late frosts caused some damage early in the week, but low temperatures did not continue, and in most sections agricultural products had not advanced sufficiently to suffer materially, while the prospects are bright for large crops, and heavy sales of fertilizers testify to extensive operations. Despite some unfavorable weather, Easter retail trade has been heavy, and jobbing activity in summer fabrics indicates expectation of a vigorous consumption as the season advances.

In the textile industries there are still adverse factors, notably the labor controversies at cotton mills. Lowell mills are idle, but thus far the threatened strikes at other points have been averted. Beyond a moderate revival of export purchases for China there is no increase in the sales of cotton goods, both sellers and buyers awaiting some more definite information as to the future.

Staple products develop irregularity as the season advances, and speculation has again become a prominent factor.

Failures this week numbered 197 in the United States against 198 last year and 15 in Canada compared with 19 a year ago.

Widener's Art Collection.

PHILADELPHIA, April 11.—P. A. B. Widener, the capitalist and traction magnate, has offered to the city his entire art collection, providing an art museum is erected at the Green street entrance to Fairmount park. Mr. Widener says also that the collection of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Wilstach will be added to his. The proposal was made to Mayor Weaver, who says he can see no reason why the project cannot be accomplished. Mr. Widener has been for many years one of the most extensive buyers of paintings in this country. His outlay in this direction is calculated to be nearly $1,000,000.

Venezuelan Rebels Victorious.

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, April 11.—News has been received here that the Venezuelan revolutionists have defeated the forces of the government in the neighborhood of Caracas and captured two cannon and a large quantity of ammunition. They have also captured the city of Barquisimeto, which is the key to the western part of Venezuela, taking many prisoners. Heavy fighting of an undecided character has taken place at Coro. Direct cable communication between this city and the United States is delayed on account of the revolution in Santo Domingo.

A Fatal Quarrel Over Cards.

ALTOONA, Pa., April 11.—Herman Henderson, aged twenty, and Samuel Hamm, aged twenty-one, both colored, quarreled over a game of cards in the woods in the suburbs of the city, and the latter was severely beaten. Returning home, Hamm secured a revolver and, meeting his antagonist on the street, shot him dead. Hamm escaped by boarding a westbound freight train.

Unseasonable Weather In Austria.

VIENNA, April 11.—Extraordinarily severe weather for Eastertide is prevailing in many districts of Austria. Heavy falls of snow are reported from Prague, Semmering, the district of Salzkammergut and even as far south as Cattaro, on the Adriatic.

World's Fair Workmen Injured.

ST. LOUIS, April 11.—Five men at work on the mines and metallurgy building at the world's fair site were injured, three of them probably fatally, by the falling of a derrick with several tons of building material.

Our Revolution Ended.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Senor Corea, the Nicaraguan minister, has received a dispatch from Foreign Minister Sanchez, at Managua, which says: "Revolution is suppressed. The entire republic is at peace."

Good Showing For Wheat.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The average condition of winter wheat on April 1 was 97.3 against 78.7 on the same date last year.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Colorado and Southern railroad men get wage advance.

British sailors are reported to have begun a piratical cruise in the gulf of Mexico.

French troops were reported pouring into Kwangsi province from Assam.

The Russian consul at Mitrovitza has died of a wound inflicted by an Albanian sentry.

A union miner received eight years for his connection with the murder of a nonunion man.

All strikers in Rome except the compositors have resumed work. Foreigners are returning to the city.

A strike was begun in a factory at Schenectady, N. Y., because a young woman was discharged for laughing.

The main building of Edwards, college, near Austin, Tex., a Roman Catholic institution, was burned. Loss, $175,000.

THE BLIND CHAPLAIN DEAD.

Rev. W. H. Milburn Was For Years a Figure at Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The Rev. William Henry Milburn, the venerable blind chaplain of the United States senate, has just died in Santa Barbara, Cal. Word to this effect has been received here by Colonel D. A. Ramsdell, the sergeant-at-arms of the senate.

Mr. Milburn, accompanied by his two nieces, the Misses Timley, left Washington for the Pacific coast about a year ago. The chaplain was in broken health. The change brought no great improvement in his condition, and when congress met in December he forwarded his resignation to Washington, but it was never acted on. The deceased was a native of Philadelphia, where he was born in 1823.

When he was five years of age, a playfellow accidentally struck him in the left eye with a piece of glass. For two years he was confined to a dark room under medical treatment, and when he came out one of his eyes was entirely blind and little sight was left in the other. He, however, pursued his studies at school and college for about twenty years, the sight growing dimmer until gradually he became totally blind. In the spring of 1838 he went with his father's family to Jacksonville, Ill., and in 1843 he became a traveling preacher of the Methodist Episcopal church, serving charges in various sections of the country.

Mr. Milburn was twice elected chaplain of congress, the first time in 1845, when a little over twenty-two years of age; was twice chaplain of the house of representatives and lastly chaplain of the senate, to which office he was elected in 1893.

No Word From the President.

CINNABAR, Mont., April 11.—Secretary Loeb received no word from President Roosevelt during the past twenty-four hours. The president is in the mountains at a camp forty miles from his headquarters. When he started for this place, it was his intention to remain there for several days and possibly a week. Snow fell yesterday in the vicinity to which the president has gone, but the fall apparently was not heavy. John Burroughs, the naturalist, did not accompany the president, as he was suffering from a slight cold. This has about disappeared, and it is Mr. Burrough's intention to join the president today. While Mr. Burroughs will be with the president off and on during his stay in the park, he will not accompany him on all his trips. The president is studying animal and plant life in the park and is enjoying himself there.

Secretary Yung Lu Dead.

PEKING, April 11.—Yung Lu, the comptroller of finance and first grand secretary, is dead. He had been suffering for some time past from dropsy and was known to be very critically ill. A month ago he asked permission to retire from office, but the dowager empress urged him to take a rest instead, as the emperor needed his services. Yung Lu was a Mantchoo and at the time of the beginning of the Boxer outbreak was viceroy of the province of Pechili and generalissimo of the Chinese army. He was then said to be the most powerful man in China, his influence being even greater than that of Li Hung Chang. Since the death of the latter Yung Lu has more than once been represented as dictating the policy of the dowager empress and emperor.

He is known to have borrowed considerable sums of money in connection with his business ventures, but the bankers who made the loans are well protected by good indorsements.

Enforcing Act Against Congregations

PARIS, April 11.—Premier Combes is actively pursuing the task of enforcing the law against the congregations. He has issued two circulars addressed to the bishops. One notifies them that they must absolutely forbid the members of congregations from preaching in the churches of their dioceses and warns them that neglect to do so will result in the closing of those churches in which the law is infringed. The other circular directs the immediate cessation of religious services in all establishments to which authorization has not been granted.

The New York receipts were $1,203,738, increase 9 per cent, and Chicago $939,-004, increase 5½ per cent.

In the Domain of the New Woman

MEN are desperately put to it sometimes to give plausible reasons for endeavoring to hold all the money and the power in their own hands. If they would come out square and say, "We've got the power, and we mean to keep it," one could have some respect for their honesty at least. But when a city board of education gives among its reasons for steadily discriminating against women in the distribution of the higher and better paid places for teachers that women are unwilling to serve under women principals and superintendents this may be considered a little too much. Plainly, as a general statement, it is not true. If there ever was a time when women had this haremlike jealousy of one another, that time is happily gone by. Women now know that the advancement and happiness of each depend upon all of them standing together as one. "I looked and saw that all the women held one another by the hand," says Olive Schreiner in one of her marvelous mystical "Dreams." With here and there a lone, blighted exception, women are standing together. They know that womanly sympathy, help and friendship are priceless to women themselves. Wherefore all women of heart and brain rejoice every time one of their sex is advanced to a post of honor and emolument. Each knows that in such a case her own chance for promotion and better pay in every field is by so much bettered. Women teachers gladly serve under women superintendents and principals. They know that thereby they are upholding the banner of the splendid advancing army of womanhood, that army which shall draw all the world after it into the kingdom of peace and justice. Beside one of the glorious Brunehildes of this coming army the petty, spiteful woman who opposes the promotion of a single one of her own sex becomes a hideous black dwarf.

Beautiful garments were meant originally to adorn the body, but in all cases to be secondary to the body's own beauty. Many women appear to have lost sight of the original intention and to regard clothes themselves as the end instead of merely the means. So long as they have the clothes, everlastingly the clothes, they apparently consider that any sort of an old body will do to hang these on. It is the worst mistake that even a woman can make.

"I wonder," said the absentminded professor, "what is the reason women don't marry nowadays?" "They don't have to," promptly responded the girl bachelor.

The more splendid and beautiful clothing there is piled upon an ugly, ungraceful body the more hideous it looks by contrast. If women cared less for elaborate clothes and more for beautiful bodies to hang them on, the human race would rapidly grow toward perfection. Every woman not positively deformed can make her body beautiful and graceful by industriously and perseveringly using means within the reach of all. Natural and hygienic physical culture is the means. American women are born queens, and they ought to look it.

Do something. Be of the noble army of those who do things.

Women sometimes call themselves "critical" when they are only fault finding. There is a difference between the critical faculty and the fault finding one.

Now go outdoors. Get the sun and rain in your face, the wind in your hair.

A young wife lately tried to commit suicide because for the first time her husband stayed out late one evening. Never mind, young woman. Just stay in the flesh five years longer, and then you won't mind it. There are wives who feel like committing suicide because their husbands do stay at home nights.

Many American young women are studying Egyptian and Babylonian hieroglyphics with the view of becoming professional translators of these. Professor Hilprecht considers that here women will find an attractive and lucrative occupation. In America in various museums are over 150,000 hieroglyph bricks waiting to be read. Professor Petrie's chief assistant is a lady, Miss M. A. Murray, who is now in Egypt with him, making excavations. Miss Murray has written and published a hieroglyph primer, showing how the glyphs may be read.

Mrs. John Mitchell Clark, a musician and musical composer of New York, has invented for the piano a sounding board which adds greatly to the sweetness and resonance of this instrument. It is attached to the piano lid.

Following the new woman trend of today, a number of ladies in Alabama have established a company of their own for the purpose of drilling for oil in the Tennessee valley. The president of the new company is an Englishwoman, Mrs. P. Collings, the sister of Sir Marcus Samuels. All the officers of the corporation are women. The secretary and general manager is Mrs. Ray Nelson of New Decatur, Ala. All the ladies actively engaged in the enterprise are women of means. The company is capitalized at $2,000,000.

ELIZA ARCHARD CONNER.

[Copyright, 1900, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.]

"It has come at last," was the thought in his mind; "but she shall not be coerced. I shall never ask a child of mine to marry against her inclinations, and Evelyn has acted strangely in regard to him.

"Well, send him in here, Nebo, and then see that we are not disturbed."

Col. Hasbrooke opened the door of a big iron safe and thrust into it his papers. He remained standing, his eyes on the door. Capt. Winkle wore riding boots and held his gloves and whip in his hands as he entered.

"I dropped in only for a minute, colonel." That was his greeting, but it was a cold one, unlike the young officer's usual suavity. Indeed, his tone seemed almost to carry a menace. The colonel's perception was keen, and he fell to wondering and drawing hasty deductions.

"You are always welcome at Carnleigh, Capt. Winkle. Nebo, take the captain's things. What will you drink, sir?"

Winkle waved the servant away, and stood watching him till he had gone, then he leaned on the back of a chair.

"I called to see you in regard to your daughter," he said, still coldly. "I hope you will pardon the informality of my visit, colonel."

"I must admit that I suspected that you might wish to speak of her—of Evelyn," answered the old man, now reassured as to Winkle's intentions.

Capt. Winkle started. It had flashed upon him that he was being misunderstood, and yet there was a dogged something in his eyes which seemed to say that a little thing like a temporary misunderstanding—even in so delicate a matter—would amount to nothing as an offset against the humiliation Evelyn's conduct had brought him. Hasty reflection on this line made him unusually blunt of speech.

"Yes, I want to talk to you about her, but not in the way you perhaps anticipate, Col. Hasbrooke," said the captain, almost patronizingly. "I felt it my duty as a personal friend of yours to come directly to you."

"It must be a proposal, after all," thought the old gentleman, whose face was divesting itself of its look of perplexity, "the fellow is badly rattled." He waved his hand towards the captain's chair and sat down himself. Winkle took his seat and crossed his tightly clad legs, his spurs jingling as he moved.

"That's right, Capt. Winkle," went on the older man, "that's always best; I like the old way—a father has the biggest interest in a daughter after all has been said."

Winkle's attention seemed not to fasten to this last remark.

"May I ask if Miss Evelyn is at home?" he asked, introductively.

Hasbrooke could not restrain a smile. He told himself that he had never dreamt that Winkle would be knocked off his feet by such a formality, and yet it showed that the fellow was hard hit, and that was what he ought to be.

"I don't know," replied he, "but," he added, "of course she is; she is never out so late as this alone, and she went for a drive shortly after dinner. Shall I send up your card?" The colonel reached out for the old-fashioned tasseled bell-pull.

"I should like to know if she is at home, for sure," said Winkle; "if—if she is, there can be no immediate danger—though I feel certain—"

"Danger!" ejaculated the colonel, "what the devil do you mean, sir?"

"Colonel, you may regard me as meddling where I have no right, but I flatter myself that you cannot fail to appreciate a thing done purely in your interest, and under a sense of duty. The truth is, I saw Miss Evelyn in the cart with Ronald Fanshaw driving rapidly away from the scene of the shooting. They were going towards the railroad station. I have hesitated for three hours over what I ought to do, and at last—"

The colonel stepped towards him, and raised his two hands as if to clutch the speaker's throat, but he restrained his fury and stood staring in Winkle's face.

"What damnable nonsense is this?" he thundered.

"I have known for some time, colonel," answered Winkle, calmly, "that she was falling in love with this fellow; but I could not feel that I had the right to speak—"

Hasbrooke was as pale as death, and he shook from head to foot as a man with palsy. He put his hands behind him and held them tightly one in the other.

"You have made a serious, culpable mistake, sir," he said. "I don't believe my daughter has even a speaking acquaintance with Fanshaw—if she has that—and as to your extravagant statement that you saw her—"

"I am your friend, Col. Hasbrooke," protested the younger man, quickly, "and I do not want to leave your house until I am assured that your daughter is safe under your roof. Every minute we are talking here may be valuable to [illegible]. Let me beg of you to ascertain if she is at home."

"You shall have your wish, sir." The old man's step across the room to the bell-pull was majestic. As he drew the [illegible] cold toward him he smiled.

"You shall certainly have your proof," he [illegible] "and then"—the old soldier looked significantly at the door and bowed.

James entered softly and stood waiting.

"Ask Evelyn—say to her," corrected the colonel, "that I should like to see her here for only a minute. But, hold; has she returned from her drive?"

"WHAT DAMNABLE NONSENSE IS THIS?" HE THUNDERED.

"Yes suh; des a minute 'fo' you got back, suh."

The colonel swept a triumphant glance at Winkle, and then concluded his command to the servant.

"Ask her to come down."

"I trust," said the captain, when the man had withdrawn, "that you will pardon my fear that—that the couple really had the intention of eloping; but, seeing them together at such a time, I was naturally disposed to wonder what could have caused such a meeting; and a few minutes later, when I came across the dead man, and learned that Fanshaw had killed him, it was natural that I should think—"

"You shall be convinced, sir," burst from Hasbrooke's lips, "that you have had an attack of blindness that is dangerous to the reputation of honorable women!"

"I shall not dispute with you, colonel," said Winkle, in a conciliatory tone; "but I passed as near them as I am to you now. I shall leave it to her. She will not deny my statement."

The old officer shrugged his shoulders in stern unbelief, and five minutes of sullen silence bore down on the two men. It was lifted by the approach of Evelyn. Both men were on their feet as she entered the room. Capt. Winkle bowed low, but no word of greeting passed his lips. Her father placed a chair for her, but she signified her desire to stand. Her lip curled with disdain as her eyes fell on Winkle's face, and then she gave her undivided attention to her father.

"You are to decide a point between Capt. Winkle and myself," began the old man, as he released her hands, which he had taken to lead her to the chair. "He is sure he saw you in the cart with Fanshaw, driving away from the scene of the tragedy. I, of course, firmly denied it."

Evelyn held her head high, her arms tightly folded; she seemed to have stopped breathing.

BACOLOD CAPTURED.

A Hundred Moros Slain by Pershing's Force.

MANILA, April 11.—Captain Pershing's force has captured Bacolod, island of Mindanao, killed 100 Moros and wounded many others. Three Americans were wounded.

Pershing's force consisted of Shaw's battalion of the Twenty-seventh infantry, Kilpatrick's troop of the Fifteenth cavalry and McNair's battery.

Pershing was surveying the west shore lands when the Bacolodians opposed his advance and provoked the fight. Pershing surrounded and attacked their stronghold, first shelling them, and, rushing his troops forward, charged gallantly.

After crossing a deep moat and entering the fort the Americans engaged the Moros, bayonets against creeses. A hundred of the defenders were killed, including the datto of Panandungan, and many were wounded. After the capture of the fort it was destroyed.

The Bacolod leaders and the majority of the people of that district had been hostile to the Americans and encouraged attacks on the American camps. They rejected the tenders of friendship.

It is expected that the defeat of the Bacolodians will result in all the Moros acknowledging American sovereignty.

Pershing's column is going to Marshue, which is also hostile.

IOWA MUCH DAMAGED.

Explosion of Big Gun Caused Serious Results.

PENSACOLA, Fla., April 11.—The damage to the battleship Iowa caused by the premature explosion of a shell in the forward port twelve inch gun has developed to be more serious than was thought when the first examination was made, and as a consequence the big ship has been ordered to the New York navy yard to go out of commission. She steamed down to Pensacola navy yard, where she is fitting out with supplies and coal preparatory to sailing as soon as possible for the north.

It is known that three decks, including the upper deck, in the forward part of the ship will have to be entirely removed and rebuilt. It is feared that the steel supports under the twelve inch port turret are sprung to such an extent that they will have to be removed, though this cannot be stated positively as yet. The gun itself is a hopeless wreck.

According to the record of the exploded gun, it was good for at least another year of service. Reports that the gun had been condemned are declared to be without foundation.

Russia's Evacuation Delayed.

LONDON, April 11.—The Times correspondent at Peking telegraphs that the evacuation by Russia of Niuchwang and the second section of Manchuria is delayed, according to the Russian version, because the Chinese taotai has not yet arrived, and formal restoration is therefore impossible. The Chinese, however, declare that the Russian authorities are detaining the taotai at Moukden, and the failure to restore Niuchwang argues in favor of Russia's intention to exercise pressure in respect of her forestry rights on the Chinese side of the Yalu valley and of Russia's claim to establish an independent customs at Dalny.

Plot to Kill King of Servia.

VIENNA, April 11.—The rumors current of a plot against the life of King Alexander of Servia receive apparent confirmation in private dispatches which have been received at Budapest and according to which an attack on the king's life was planned for tomorrow. The plot was discovered, and fifty persons suspected of complicity therein were arrested. Other arrests are expected. Semiofficial reports from Belgrade declare that these rumors are false, but it is thought here that King Alexander's recent coup d'etat was probably hastened by the discovery of the alleged plot.

Holland's Strike Failing.

AMSTERDAM, April 11.—The workmen's defense committee has issued a manifesto explaining that a continuance of the strike will only expose the strikers to the vigorous penalties of the new antistrike bill, which has practically become law. The committee has therefore decided to leave each trade union free to act as it thinks best. The calling off the strike has resulted in the holding of angry mass meetings of strikers. The anarchists and socialists are busy exploiting the situation, urging the men to ignore the committee and continue the strike.

Severe Storm In Utah and Montana.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 11.—A severe windstorm, accompanied by rain, hail and snow, is raging throughout the entire intermountain region. The wind at some points has reached a velocity of forty miles an hour, and telegraph and telephone service is partly demoralized. HOW THE GOVERNOR VIEWS THE SESSION

His Publicity Expressed Opinion as to the Acts of the Legislature This Winter.

HE SAYS HE IS PLEASED

BUT HE EXPRESSES REGRET ABOUT CERTAIN SUBJECTS.

He Reviews the Work Done by the Legislature and the Most Important Measures That Were Passed at the Session.

It is rather interesting to hear how Governor Murphy has summarized the work done at the last session of the State Legislature. After the final adjournment of that body last week, the Governor made a public statement. Under the existing conditions, it was requisite that he should find as much good as possible. Those who remember his recommendations to the Legislature when it first convened and his repeated messages to that body will find this summary particularly interesting.

"The result obtained," the Governor said, "have been particularly gratifying and pleasing to me, and I think they will be quite as gratifying to the public.

"As we all know, the Legislature was slow about getting down to work. In fact, most of the important measures were left to be acted upon until nearly the end of a session which was rather longer than usual. As we also know, there was some natural apprehension as to what the outcome might be. Happily those apprehensions were wholly dissipated, and the laws passed will be found, I believe, of more far-reaching importance to the people of the State than any results reached by any Legislature of our time.

"Of course, in Newark, we think the Passaic pollution question was the most important subject of the session, and because of the large population in that part of the State and the vast interests involved I personally think it was the most important that was considered. After a long fight the Trunk Sewer bill was passed by a handsome vote. Now, we are going carefully to watch the Passaic and clean out and wash out the filthy river, and rid the great Passaic Valley of what has come to be an intolerable nuisance.

"Next in importance, if not really more important, is undoubtedly the primary election law. When everything else that this Legislature has done is forgotten, I believe that law will remain a monument to its memory. While not entirely what the people as a whole would like to have had, I believe that the bill contains the essentials of a competent primary election law. Experience, I think, will show that it can be improved, but it will accomplish much in doing away with the corruption propagated by separate primaries, the voting of the same men at the primaries of both parties, and other evils of the old methods, and will convince the independent voters that they can control primaries and nominations when they desire to do so. It is peculiarly gratifying to me that the bill should have been finally passed as a non-partisan measure.

"One of the other important laws is that for the purchase of voting machines. We are going to have as a first instalment enough of the machines to give them a fair and thorough trial. If the results prove to be satisfactory we can provide next year for the purchase of the machines for general use.

"The new child labor law is another important measure. It is simple, and yet comprehensive. What it does is to raise the employment age for boys from twelve years to fourteen years as the time when they may begin work in the factories or elsewhere. A companion law makes it compulsory for boys to attend shcool until they are fourteen years old, and does not require them to go to school after they begin work. This is reasonable. It is hardly fair to ask a boy to work in a factory ten hours a day and then spend two hours in study at night. The new law will simplify factory inspection and give the factory inspector a chance to enforce the law with less difficulty.

"Another thing as important as any we have done is to provide for a hospital for the consumptive poor. The appropriation for the institution is $300,000, and I have taken the contract to see to it that the hospital is completed within that amount. If I live and retain my health I shall endeavor to fulfil the contract.

"The Morris Canal Commission plan is, I think, a wise one. Whether it be right or wrong, there is a belief that some facts should be known before the proposed abandonment of the canal is permitted, and the Legislature apparently has been unwilling to vote for the abandonment until it knows more about it. From the investigations made and the conclusions reached by the eminent men I have asked to do this work, I believe the question may be settled next year to the satisfaction of all.

"Strange to say, no measure of the year seemed to attract more public attention and discussion that that for the regulation of the speed of automobiles. The bill which was passed seems to satisfy almost everybody, and it puts New Jersey among the foremost of the States that have adopted automobile statutes.

"We also have passed a law to prevent the desecration of the flag. Why this was not done before, I fail to understand. About thirty States have a similar law, but our own State has held up this measure for a long time. It is right that the flag should be protected from desecration, and I am glad that we are going to do it.

"Altogether the session has been satisfactory and gratifying to me, and the Legislature is to be congratulated on its work."

The Governor expressed some disappointment that the bills putting county officials on salaries and establishing a commission to report upon the advisability of a State Board of Control had not been passed. He also said that he was disappointed that the Legislature had not passed the bills advocated by him to prevent strike suits against corporations.

SEAMLESS TOY BALLOONS.

An American Novelty Lately Added to the Long List of the Street Trade.

"Look at that," said a wholesale dealer in street novelties. "The very latest and newest and biggest thing in the market to-day."

He picked out of a box on the counter a little, loosely folded rubber bag about two inches long and having at one end a little neck, which he drew over a nipple on a machine something like a bicycle pump, and expanded the bag into a red rubber globe; it was a child's toy balloon, and a perfect sphere in shape, says the New York Sun.

"There it is," he said, "a seamless gas balloon, the first ever made anywhere, and this produced in the United States. Up to now all the toy balloons sold in the world have come from Belgium, France and England. We import, all told, a million gross a year, and these ballons all have seams in them. They are made in sections and united on a machine something like a sewing machine, except that instead of needles it has little hammers which hammer the seams together.

"There is a certain percentage of loss on them. Now, these modern American balloons, seamless, perfectly round, are not only superior in every way to the foreign balloon, but they can be made cheaper, and are far more durable, and I expect we shall put the English, Belgian and French makers of toy balloons out of business. We are already turning these new balloons out here and there's a factory for making 'em with a capacity of a thousands hands, now under way.

"That's the high novelty in this trade to-day, the American seamless toy balloon."

EASTER SUNDAY IN PLAINFIELD

How the Day Was Observed at the Local Churches Yesterday.

BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS

The Rain of Yesterday Did Not Affect the Attendance at the Morning Services—Details of the Celebration at Various Churches and Schools.

Although Easter morning did not dawn bright and clear, the day proved an eventful one. The shower of the early morning but slightly affected the attendance at the morning services while the clear weather of the afternoon and evening brought out large congregations for the later services. Beautiful music and gorgeous floral displays marked most of the Easter celebrations.

MONROE AVE. M. E.

Rev. John MacMurray was in charge of both morning and evening services at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church and preached appropriate sermons. His subjects were "Easter Joys" and "Easter Thoughts." Pretty decorations of flowers were in evidence about the pulpit.

In the afternoon a special programme of carols, songs and recitations was given by the members of the intermediate and primary departments. They were in charge of Miss Charlotte Aldrich and Miss Emily Haff. Those who took part were:

Intermediate department — Matilda VanDuzer, Margaret Camp, Ada Thompson, May Stafford, Florence Brown, Agnes Brown, Harry Lude, Marion Praed; kindergarden department: Violet Lindabury, Roy MacIntyre, Helen Davenport; primary department: Florence Gilbert, Edith Gray, Gertrude Gray, Bessie Gunzleman, Louise Praed, Clara Brown, Zeta Voorhees and Edith Schwartz. Miss Mae Brower rendered an acceptable solo.

At the evening service solos were given by Mrs. Bender and Miss Ida M. Tallamy.

ST. MARY'S R. C.

Never before in the history of St. Mary's R. C. church has there been a larger congregation than yesterday morning when the Easter services were held and there has never been a more elaborate display of flowers in that edifice.

The largest attendance was at the 10:30 mass when Rev. Father Smith was the celebrant and Rev. Father Hangley, of Bloomfield, deacon. Rev. Father Leanado was the sub-deacon and John Butscher, of Seton Hall Seminary, was master of ceremonies. In the evening solemn vespers were held, when the rector, Rev. Father Egan was celebrant, Rev. Father Smith was deacon and Rev. Father Leanado sub-deacon. The singing at both the services was under the leadership of M. J. Cashin, the chorister. At the morning service Rev. Father Egan preached eloquently on the Resurrection and in the evening a sermon was preached by Rev. Father Smith on the "Spirit of Easter."

ST. JOSEPH'S R. C.

Every seat and aisle in St. Joseph's R. C. church was filled yesterday morning when the Easter services were held. There were no less than 500 people in the church at the 10:30 o'clock mass, when Rev. Father Miller was the celebrant, [assisted by Rev. Father Tyrrell, of Newark, as deacon and Rev. Father Brennan, of Trenton, as sub-deacon. The choir, assisted by sixteen extra voices and Korff's orchestra, rendered Giroza's third mass. Other selections were rendered including Mozart's Benedictus and Giroza's Regina Coeli. The decorations included Easter lilies, cut flowers, potted plants and palms and many ferns.

Those who took part in solos in the morning service were Miss Tina Smith, contralto; Miss Harriet Hifton, alto; Alfred E. LaPorte, tenor; and James Bailey, bass and leader. Mrs. Alfred E. LaPorte presided at the organ.

GRACE P. E.

Resplendant with beautiful cut flowers including Easter lilies and poted palms and ferns Grace Episcopal church held a large congregation at the morning services. Special music was one of the great features of the Easter service and was under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Freeman, the organist.

The services were conducted by the rector, Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, assisted by Rev. William H. Neilson, of this city, and Rev. Dr. E. M. Rodman, rector emeritus.

During the morning service the new alms basin, which was presented to the church by the women of the Chancel Society, was dedicated and was used for the first time. A sermon was preached on the "Resurrection," by the rector. At the evening service an Easter sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Roper, a professor in the Union Theological Seminary. An Easter service of song and prayer was held in the afternoon by the children of the Sunday-school when Rev. Mr. Stevenson presented each child with an Easter card. He also sent to each communicant of his church an Easter remembrance.

GRACE M. E. CHURCH.

Rev. Dr. Edwin L. Earp, pastor of the Grace M. E. church, preached a sermon yesterday morning on the topic "An Exaggeration Turned to Prophecy." The choir was under the leadership of John Steiner, the chorister. The organist was Miss Alice Carroll. Solo parts were sung by John Steiner, Miss Agnes Tingley and Miss Carrie Tingley. During the afternoon a children's carol service was held by the members of the Sunday-school led by Superintendent John Valiant. Those who had the arrangements in their charge were Miss Mary Steiner, Miss Belle Lunger and Mrs. Dyckman Winkler.

In the evening a sermon was preached by the pastor on "A Message of Life."

ST. PETER'S CHURCH.

Nothing was attempted in the way of special music at St. Peter's German Lutheran church yesterday morning on account of the illness of the chorister, Mr. Ebel. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Theodore Duensing, who preached on the lessons of the day.

SWEDISH LUTHERAN.

At the same church in the afternoon the Swedish Lutheran congregation held Easter services which were conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. Johnston, of the Upsala College. The services were very largely attended and the music was very fine.

TRINITY REFORMED.

Easter services at Trinity Reformed church were opened at 6:30 o'clock in the morning with a sunrise prayer meeting which was led by City Judge William N. Runyon. There was a good attendance and the meeting was a helpful one. Miss Bessie Martin rendered a solo, "There is a Green Hill Far Away."

At 10:30 o'clock, the regular morning service was held when Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck preached a sermon on "The Significance of Christ." The music at that service was very fine, and was rendered by a chorus choir.

In the evening the Easter exercise, entitled, "Resurrection Glory," was rendered by the children of the Sunday-school. Those who took part were Ralph Martin, Russell Abbott, Henry Kinney, Harold Schenck, Percy Emory, Howard VanArsdale, Harold Storr, Ida Saums, Clara Lee, Anna Vail, Mildred Preamer, Raymond Stevens, Benj. Cooley, Clifford Cole, Russel Hoagland and Adelaide Cole. Part of the programme consisted of a march entitled, "The March of the Lilies." Those who took part in this part of the programme were Helen Woolley, Edna Oliver, Edith Richards, Elsie Tier, Helen Roberts, Rosamond Rogers, Ethel Vail, Gertrude Schleif, Margaret VanDeventer, Lulu Terwin, Lillie Smith and Jessie Smith. The children's programe was in charge of Mrs. J. M. Tier, superintendent of the primary department. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Schenck, made a short address.

At the evening service Organist A. L. Titsworth was assisted by Kenneth Stuart, violin; Elmer Wheeler, flute; and Miss Lillian A. Force, piano.

The floral decorations were especially fine and were under the charge of Mrs. J. C. VanDyke, chairman, Mrs. H. VanName, Mrs. Curtis M. Thorp and Mrs. S. C. Peck.

SWEDISH PILGRIM.

Easter services were held morning, afternoon and evening at the Swedish Pilgrim church when Rev. Mr. Lindholm officiated. Special decorations of flowers and banners were arranged about the church. The music was very fine.

WARREN CHAPEL.

The people of Warren chapel celebrated Easter with a service in the morning when Rev. J. O. McKelvey officiated. The Sunday-school held its exercises in the afternoon. In the morning the communion service was held when the individual cups were used for the first time. The afternoon exercises, which were presided over by Dr. Thomas C. Hall, in the evening with a praise and preaching service led by the pastor.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

The services at the First Baptist church were elaborate and attracted large congregations both in the morning and afternoon. The floral display was one of the finest seen in several years. At the morning service the chorus choir rendered several pretty anthems and there were solo parts by the quartette, Miss Louella C. Harris, soprano; Mrs. F. M. Ward, contralto; William Holmes, bass; and George Smith, tenor. An appropriate discourse was given by Rev. Dr. R. M. Luther, of South Orange.

In the afternoon the Sunday-schools of the home church, Mt. Olive Baptist church and the East Third street chapel, assembled and joined in a special service. Howard Case presided at the organ and Miss Jessie Utter played the piano. This programme consisted of carols, anthems, Scripture reading, special exercises by the primary and junior departments. In one of the anthems, Mrs. Ward, contralto, and Mrs. Giddis, soprano, rendered a pretty duet. Dr. Luther spoke especially to the children.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

Special Easter services were held morning, afternoon and evening at the First M. E. church. In the morning the chorus choir under the direction of Charles S. Lewis, rendered several Easter anthems and Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, the pastor, preached an appropriate sermon. The church decorations were very pretty.

In the afternoon in Vincent chapel the Sunday-school enjoyed a special praogramme, and assisting with the music were the following: R. Wilson Derby, violin; Alvah V. Davis, flute; Kenneth Shupp, trombone; A. H. Derby, bass; Miss Gertrude Sharp, piano. There was an exercise entitled "The Lord of Life and Death," in which the teachers of the school took part, and an exercise was given by Manila Symons, Edward Crone, Jubilee Rowley, Blanche McVoy and Edward Hartpence, little tots from the primary department. Interspersing these exercises there were carols by the school. Superintendent J. R. Joy was in charge of the programme and made a short address. Last evening the choir of the church rendered several anthems and Dr. Snodgrass again delivered a sermon appropriate to the day.

A feature of the afternoon exercises was the placing on the cradle roll of the name of Alfred Hart Stafford, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stafford.

HOLY CROSS CHURCH.

At the Church of the Holy Cross, Easter services were held at the morning and evening sessions. The music was exceptionally fine. The decorations were in keeping with the day. The services were conducted in the morning and afternoon by the rector, Rev. W. Montgomery Downey.

The Sunday-school Easter festival was held in the afternoon in place of the afternoon service. Rev. W. Montgomery Downey officiated, assisted by Rev. William Neilson. POND'S MEN ENDOW A BED

A PROMPT RESPONSE TO HOSPITAL'S APPEAL FOR AID.

Action Take by Pond Tool Works Beneficial Association Saturday Afternoon.

Prompt response to Muhlenberg Hospital's recent appeal for aid was made by the Pond Tool Beneficial Association at its regular meeting, Saturday evening.

On recommendation of a committee, composed of Edward Harding, chairman; James Bell, John King, George H. Batchelor, Samuel Foster, James Brown and J. Fred Wharton, the members appropriated funds from the treasury to endow a bed for a lifetime and made an additional contribution of $100 to be paid at once. The society has had the matter in contemplation for some time, mainly for the reason that so many of its members receive medical care and attention at the institution.

The gift will be doubly appreciated when it is realized that the money is paid by the shop employes and not the officials. A committee, consisting of George Batchelor, James McKeon and Ddward Harding, was appointed to confer with the Hospital Board in making arrangements for the bed endowment.

EASTER MESSAGE.

Dominant Thought at Impressive Funeral Service of Walter Raynolds Yesterday Afternoon.

The Easter message was the dominant thought at the beautiful service held yesterday afternoon in loving memory of Walter Raynolds, who died on the morning of Good Friday. The service was held at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Raynolds, 40 Jackson avenue, at 4:30 o'clock and was very largely attended.

Mr. Raynolds was deeply interested in both the religious work and the musical life of Plainfield, and had many friends in the church and social circles in which he moved. He was secretary of the Congregational church Sunday-school, and a member of the Endeavor Society, and both were very largely represented among these present.

The service was conducted by Rev. Charles Lyman Goodrich, the young man's pastor, assisted by Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis. A quartette, composed of Mrs. F. M. Ward, Mrs. Giddes, and Geo. Smith and Wm. Holmes, rendered the following hymns: "I Need Thee Every Hour," "Hark, Hark, My Soul," and "Never Alone."

The Scripture readings were passages of the Revelation which describe the beauty and happiness of the heavenly home. In his address, Mr. Goodrich dwelt especially on the beautiful character of his young parishioner, and his likeness to his Saviour in giving himself to his Father's work in boyhood, serving Him through life, and dying on the anniversary of the Saviour's death. He also emphasized the thought that to one so beautiful in character death was not a defeat, but a conquest of suffering and weakness, and a going to his reward and the presence of his Saviour.

The tender and heartfelt prayer offered by Dr. Lewis was full of the Easter joy and thankfulness for the blessed life of the reunion in the better land.

Many beautiful floral tributes were placed about the casket. The burial will take place in Concord Mass.

NIGHT OPERATORS.

Young Women Will Take Place of Young Men at the Local 'Phone Office.

Following the custom adopted in other cities, Manager Charles W. Runyon, of the local office of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, has replaced the night boy operator by two young women. Experience has taught the telephone company that the women are more reliable and less trouble is the result than with boy operators.

The change at the local office went into effect last evening for the first. Miss Mabel Cardner, a former operator, and Miss Mabel Carpenter, of Park avenue, a new operator, have been assigned to the all-night work. Up to 10 o'clock in the evening extra operators will be employed, as usual, to handle the increasing business. By the change an improvement in the service is expected.

Ripe Old Age.

Mrs. Wm. Swalm, of West Front street, entered her eighty-eighth year yesterday and celebrated the event by attending the morning Easter services in her church, Trinity Reformed. Mrs. Swalm has all her faculties and enjoys very good health.

STARTS FOR ALGERIA

President Loubet to Visit African Possessions.

A WARM RECEPTION AWAITS HIM.

Squadrons of British, Italian and Russian Warships Assembling at Algiers In His Honor—Two Weeks' Absence Planned.

PARIS, April 13.—President Loubet, accompanied by M. Fallieres, president of the senate; Foreign Minister Delcasse and M. Pelletan, the minister of marine, left Paris last evening for Marseilles on his way to Algeria. The president was warmly cheered as, accompanied by the usual escort of cuirassiers, he drove across Paris from the Elysee palace to the Lyons railway station. Premier Combes and those ministers who do not accompany the president were present at the station to bid him farewell.

After a short stay in Marseilles, where great fetes will be given in his honor, President Loubet will embark tomorrow on the new warship Jeanne d'Arc, which has been specially arranged for his accommodation and, accompanied by MM. Fallieres, Delcasse and Pelletan and escorted by the battleship St. Louis, will proceed to Algiers, where a large French fleet is assembled to receive him. Squadrons of British, Italian and Russian warships are also now assembling at Algiers in his honor.

The president will remain in Algeria until April 26, visiting important points in the colony, both on the coast and in the interior. It is expected that during his stay a meeting will be arranged with the sultan of Morocco, the latter coming to some point in Algeria near the Moroccan frontier for that purpose. Everywhere throughout the colony splendid fetes are being organized in honor of President Loubet, this being the first time since Napoleon III. that a ruler of France has visited Algeria.

The French president will embark again on the warship Jeanne d'Arc for Tunis. He will land April 27 at La Goletta, the port of Tunis, where the bey of Tunis and all the high officials of the regency will be assembled to receive him. After spending three days in visiting the various parts of Tunis President Loubet will embark at the naval port of Bizerta on the evening of April 29 for Marseilles. He will arrive in Paris in time to receive King Edward VII. on the latter's arrival here.

Besides Ministers Delcasse and Pelletan, M. Maurejouls, minister of public works, will also be of the presidential party. He has gone in advance to meet the president at Algiers. A number of senators and deputies will accompany the presidential party throughout the trip, being accommodated during the trip across the Mediterranean on board the battleship St. Louis. Much political significance is attached to the journey, as it is the first time that any president of the French republic has visited her African possessions, and it will be the first meeting on African soil between a French ruler and a north African sultan and the bey of Tunis. These meetings are expected to make a deep impression on the natives. While the international attention shown to President Loubet by the assemblage of powerful foreign squadrons in Algerian waters to salute him on his arrival is not without significance, a fact which has already made a powerful impression on the Tunisians is that the bey of Tunis will go to receive the president on his landing, a step that that potentate has never made before for any royal visitor. The natives consider this as an evidence of the complete acknowledgment of French sovereignty.

Witness Killed by a Ball.

DALLAS, Tex., April 13.—Aaron Sokolski, a witness in a murder case that is being tried at Orange, Tex., and whose testimony was considered important to the prosecution, was killed in a most peculiar manner. While waiting his turn on the witness stand the judge permitted witnesses who were not needed for a considerable time to go to witness a baseball game. Sokolski was leaning with his back against a low fence back of the catcher. A wild pitched ball passed the catcher and hit Sokolski in the right temple, knocking him insensible. He died in two hours' time after the accident.

Colorado Dam Bursts.

DELTA, Colo., April 13.—The dam of the Boney reservoir, near Olathe, fifteen miles from this city, gave way, causing damage estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000. The reservoir is owned by the Garnet Ditch and Reservoir company and furnishes water for irrigating the Garnet mesa. No lives are reported lost, but crops in many places were ruined, and several hundred head of cattle are reported as lost.

Serious Street Car Collision.

ST. LOUIS, April 13.—In a collision between a street car and a lumber wagon here six persons were injured, one probably fatally. All the injured were passengers on the car, and the latter five were badly cut by falling glass.

To Celebrate Edward's Birthday.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 13.—The government has decided to issue a proclamation providing for the celebration of the king's birthday on the 24th of May, Victoria day.

A Buffalo Killing Epidemic.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 13.—Two and possibly three murders and two suicides, one of the latter a Salvation Army officer, occurred in this city last night.

PRESIDENT HUNTING

Big Game Plenty In the Yellowstone.

VERY SEVERE WEATHER REPORTED

Heavy Snow Will Make Park Exploration Difficult, but Mr. Roosevelt Will Not Relinquish His Plans.

GARDINER, Mont., April 13.—President Roosevelt has been hunting mountain lions twenty-five miles from Yanceys, on Slough creek, and it is reported that he killed one.

In company with Major Pitcher, the acting superintendent of the park, and a guard of soldiers the president left Fort Yellowstone Thursday morning for Yanceys, fifteen miles east of Mammoth hot springs, whence he went to Slough creek.

There are more elk and deer in that locality than in any other portion of the park, and where the big game is most numerous there are also to be found the most mountain lions. The president will get plenty of opportunities to shoot a few wolves, as there are many of those big gray fellows in that section. The president will shoot no animals protected by the rules of the park, but lions, wolves and coyotes kill deer and elk and may be shot without violating the regulations.

The president left Fort Yellowstone in excellent spirits. No members of the president's party accompanied him to Yanceys. The trip was not an especially difficult one, as soldiers had broken a trail through to the Yellowstone. From Yanceys the president probably will visit the lower falls, to which the soldiers also have broken a trail.

Lower Falls is five miles up the river. There are great numbers of elk and deer in that section also. It is in the vicinity of Slough creek that Death gulch is located, and it is understood that the president contemplates a visit to that strange canyon. The snow is deep in that vicinity, and it may be that the president will not undertake the trip.

The weather was fairly good when the president left Fort Yellowstone on Thursday morning, but it turned bad later. It has been snowing heavily since, and the cold is severe. Those who have been in the park many seasons say that the weather is worse now than it ever was before, so far as white men know, at this time of year.

President Roosevelt and Major Pitcher will return to Fort Yellowstone tomorrow if the former carries out his present plans. He will leave there immediately on a tour of the park, and it is his intention to go through to the lake. The new snows will make the trip more difficult than was anticipated, but it is understood that the president proposes to make it if he has to travel on skis most of the way.

No one will accompany the president on this trip through the park except the soldiers. The guard will be changed, and another officer will be substituted for the one now in command, Major Pitcher will not leave the president while he is in the park.

To Lay the Cable to Manila.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—On the steamer Alameda seventeen employees of the Commercial Cable company left for Honolulu, with 350 tons of freight and provisions. These men include three chief operators for Midway, four for Guam and a number of carpenters and electricians. They took unframed houses, tents, cable instruments, batteries and all necessary paraphernalia for the landing stations at Midway and Guam. Charles Curds, chief electrician of the cable company, has arrived on his way to the orient to meet the cable ships that are to lay the cable between Manila and Honolulu. He says the work will begin at Manila and will be completed by July 4.

Holland's Strike Over.

AMSTERDAM, April 13.—The strike has collapsed. The aged socialist leader, Domela Niewvenhuis, who emerged from his retirement in order to run the strike agitation, was present at a stormy meeting of the labor organization which sat during the whole of the night and until half past 6 o'clock in the morning. He proposed to terminate the agitation, since the cause of labor had been betrayed. The meeting acquiesced in this view and decided not to elect a new strike committee. A similar decision was reached at a local meeting of strikers at Rotterdam.

Bagdad Railway Ownership.

LONDON, April 13.—The Standard learns that an agreement has been concluded whereby Great Britain, France and Germany will participate equally in the control of the proposed Bagdad railway, the revenues of which will be guaranteed by the Turkish customs. The main Bagdad railway is to run from Konia to Karamanereyli, Mossul, Bagdad and Basra, with branches to Aleppo, Urfa and the gulf of Alexandretta.

The Decision Praised.

RICHMOND, Va., April 13.—The decision of the United States circuit court of appeals in the Northern Securities company case Mr. John Skelton Williams, president of the Seaboard Air Line railway, says he regards as one of the greatest blessings and the brightest promises for railroad interests and general business that the country could have.

Murdered In Bed.

SHREVEPORT, La., April 13.—Mrs. Aline Matthews, aged forty-five years, wife of Frank Matthews, a well known civil engineer, has been brutally murdered in her bed, and her daughter, Aline, aged ten years, was fatally wounded. An ax was the instrument used in both cases.

MISSION TROUBLES.

German Interference in Carolines a Surprise.

A LITTLE LIGHT ON THE MATTER.

Change In Ownership of Islands Has Caused Interruption of the Work of the Misses Baldwin at Ruk.

NEWARK, N. J., April 13.—None of the relatives and friends of the Misses Baldwin, whose school at Ruk, Caroline islands, is said to have been interfered with by German officials, can understand the matter. The last letter from one of the sisters came some time ago to her brother, Frederick W. Baldwin. It was written about twenty days before the interference is said to have taken place. Mr. Baldwin refuses to make the contents of the letter public. He was greatly surprised at the news sent out from Boston telling of the trouble. The news is also a surprise to the Rev. Dr. Fraser of the First Presbyterian church, from which church the sisters went to be missionaries. Dr. Fraser has been kept informed by the sisters as to the progress they were making. Mr. Baldwin thinks the trouble, whatever it was, occurred between the natives and the Germans rather than between the Germans and his sisters.

Although most conservatively written, letters received in the past from the Misses Baldwin are now taken to have meant that the transfer of the Carolines from Spanish to German control was not accompanied by altogether smooth sailing. When after the Spanish-American war Germany obtained control, many changes were made in the regulations, and the abrupt shift from Spanish easy going ways to the stiff and precise way of the Germans does not seem to have been relished by the natives.

It appears that one regulation was that German should be the language of the islands. In Ruk this hampered the work of the Misses Baldwin. Neither knew German to speak it, and when the regulation was made they set about learning the new language. They have written they made good progress and were urging the natives to also learn the language of their new rulers. In one letter one of the sisters, Jane, is said to have referred to official objection being made to the manner in which German was taught. Just what this meant is not certain. It would also appear from the letters that the Germans started a training school in Ruk, but that the natives did not take kindly to it.

The Misses Baldwin are well to do. They paid all their own expenses out to Ruk and have also been bearing the main cost of their work in the field, although working under the American board. They have been almost five years in Ruk.

Stokes Invents Floating Battery.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Anson Phelps Stokes, at the age of sixty-five, has patented a floating battery that is said to be a monster for coast defense. Mr. Stokes claims for his battery that its cost is not large and, though of great power in offensive work, is virtually impregnable. The patent letters bear the date of April 7, 1903. In the specifications it is stated, "Heretofore numerous attempts, more or less successful, have been made to produce a floating battery which would prove practically impregnable, but these batteries all possessed certain disadvantages which, among other objects, it is the purpose of my invention to overcome."

Rockefeller to Aid Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 13.—Officers of the University of Nebraska last evening confirmed the report that John D. Rockefeller has proffered a gift of $66,667 for the construction of a university building to cost $100,000, conditioned on the remaining $33,333 being donated by July 1, 1904. The building is designed for social and religious purposes. A committee has been appointed to solicit funds and make possible the acceptance of Mr. Rockefeller's offer.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 13.—Colonel Bill Root, a frontiersman, a companion through his life of Buffalo Bill and a friend of Bill Nye during the latter's repertorial days in Laramie, has died suddenly of heart failure here. He was about thirty years old. When a young man he settled in Laramie, became interested in the Laramie Boomerang and took Bill Nye into partnership with him. This was the beginning of the latter's fame as a writer.

WHY CHANGE WAS MADE.

One of the bills signed by Governor Murphy, which has thus become a law, is the one which provides that the Common Council may, by ordinance, provide for the election of a city tax collector by the Council by a two-thirds vote. This measure was introduced by Assemblyman Wm. Newcorn for the express benefit of Plainfield. A bill, somewhat similar, was introduced early in the session but met defeat, Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer being loud in his opposition to it. A subsequent explanation of the situation in Plainfield led the opposition to the first bill to disappear and the second one went through without much opposition.

Most cities that have a collector elected by the people possess a delinquent tax collector, who is appointed. Plainfield used to have one but the office of delinquent collector was abolished and the two places combined into one which was filled by popular vote. The trouble has been that collectors were not anxious to round up delinquents with a sharp turn when they realized that each enemy made meant a vote lost at the next election. So it was argued that, in order to obtain the greatest efficiency for the office, it was necessary to take it out of the elective list and have the Common Council make the choice.

Now that the measure has become a law, it is to be expected that the Common Council will act under it. An election will then be held in the Common Council and Frank H. Smith, the present city collector, will undoubtedly be chosen to fill the place. Then one can expect that Mr. Smith will go after the delinquents with a sharp stick. While the Martin act enables him to round up delinquent taxes on real estate, the tax on personal property has always been hard to collect. He will now be enabled to use more drastic methods without fear of injuring his chances of re election.

A DELUSION.

In closing an editorial about the passage of the annexation "repealer," the Somerville Unionist-Gazette remarks:

"We trust that the minority of annexationists will now settle down and submit to the will of the majority gracefully."

Poor deluded people! They still insist that the situation in North Plainfield today is the same as it was last fall when the annexation election was held. They forget that things are vastly different now as a municipal and a school election have shown. And they might just as well wake up to the fact that annexation and consolidation are both going to come to pass even if the Legislature and Governor Murphy have attempted to prevent the borough from submitting to the will of the majority gracefully or otherwise.

Since the establishment of the boys' department of the Young Men's Christian Association on a more elaborate scale, a number of innovations have been introduced in the work among the youths of the city. No more successful one has there been than the little excursion to the National Capital, which started this morning under the direction of Boys' Secretary Kenneth Robbie. A proper acquaintance with the National Capital is an excellent thing, something which many of us older ones lack. The trip will prove an instructive one as well as a very enjoyable and entertaining one.

Today marks the resumption of social gaiety after the quietness of the Lenten season. Many events have been arranged for this week, beginning tonight, and the young people and many of the older ones will be kept busy attending to the many demands on their time. Society promises to be fairly active this week while the next month has promise of more than the usual attractions.

It is very important that the Councilmanic street committee should get an idea of how the public feels regarding this new telephone company which has asked for a franchise here. Is there a public demand for it? Would the people of this city prefer a continuation of the present conditions? If you have any ideas on the subject, The Daily Press will be glad to publish them.

The Relief Association has made a plea for assistance. There is no organization in Plainfield that is deserving of heartier support than that one and it is to be hoped that some of Plainfield's well-to-do citizens will come to its assistance without delay.

KILLED BY FLYER.

Old Dunellen Resident Met Instant Death on the Central Railroad Saturday Night.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, April 13—Fred. Shafer, an old resident of this place and an employe of the Central Railroad, was killed at the Grove street crossing, Saturday night, it is supposed by the 9:54 express, although the body was not found until next morning.

Shafer had been down town buying groceries and probably did not hear the approach of the flyer which threw his body sixty feet and the groceries which he was carrying, fully a hundred feet. The head and chest were badly crushed and death was instantaneous. The man's watch stopped just at the time the express went by so it is supposed he met death by that.

He was fifty-three years of age and leaves a wife and three children, John, Seymour and Ella. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

For liver troubles and constipation
There's nothing better in creation
Than Little Early Risers, the famous little pills.
They always effect a cure and save doctor bills.
Little Early Risers are different from all other pills. They do not weaken the system, but act as a tonic to the tissues by arousing the secretions and restoring the liver to the full performance of its functions naturally.

DUNELLEN.

Rev. N. J. Sproul, of the Presbyterian church, exchanged pulpits with Rev. Mr. Tyack, of Hightstown, yesterday. Mr. Tyack preached at the morning services yesterday before a large congregation. The church was prettily decorated with plants and special music was rendered by the choir. In the evening the Sunday-school was in charge of the services and Mr. Tyack again addressed the children, who sang several pretty hymns.

The mortgage on the Methodist church has at last been paid off and besides that not a cent of debt remains on any part of the church property, every bit of outstanding bills having been paid off. The church is now waiting the payment of the legacy from Mrs. Newton's estate.

A brakeman on the Central Railroad, whose name could not be learned, was thrown from his train by a sudden jolt, Saturday night and fell some distance to the ground. Dr. Brakeley was called and sewed up a gash two inches long in the man's head.

NEW MARKET.

The First Baptist church was prettily decorated for the morning services yesterday and a large congregation was present. Rev. Frank Fletcher preached an Easter sermon and the choir sang. Beside the regular music the choir rendered two anthems, "Christ is Risen" and "Hail Blessed Morn" in excellent fashion.

J. P. Finch, of this place, was thrown out of his wagon Friday by the running away of his horse. The animal became frightened at a passing vehicle and made a bolt for liberty. Mr. Finch was thrown out upon his head which was badly cut and bruised. The wagon was smashed to some extent but the horse was unhurt.

A lively practice was held by the local baseball team Saturday afternoon. The practice showed that the team is able to put up a good article of ball this year.

Easter services were held in the Seventh-Day Baptist church on Sabbath morning. Some special music was rendered by the choir.

An interesting game of baseball was played Saturday afternoon on the local diamond between the Netherwood F. C. and the High School team. The visitors were a mixture of players from the Reform Club team and the field club. So, as Manager Bryant Johnston of the school nine was a little short of material, some of the timber of the first team was pressed into service. The combination made a close and exciting game, the local winning out by a score of 11 to 8.

Rev. Geo. E. Shaw, who was recently appointed by the conference as pastor of the Methodist church, occupied his pulpit for the first Sunday. Mr. Shaw is an able speaker and the pastorate gives promise of being a most successful one.

CROWDS VIEW YACHT.

The Newly Launched Reliance Attracts Much Attention.

BRISTOL, R. I., April 13.—The harbor was alive with small craft yesterday, and hundreds lined the shore and crowded about the wharf where the Reliance is moored. Many well known yachtsmen saw her for the first time. No one was on deck, but a seaman on the dock warned sightseers against a too near approach to the boat. Everything is in readiness for the stepping of the mainmast today or tomorrow. Mr. Iselin will not see the big spar put in place, as he left for New York. The Reliance's tender, the Sunbeam, and the Satellite, the tender of the Constitution, are at Newport, where several members of the club committee have gone to be present at the Neilson-Vanderbilt wedding.

Among the yachtsmen here are Charles F. Herreshoff of New York. He is very favorably impressed with the Reliance. He referred to the fact that she cleared the water at a lesser angle than the Constitution and said that the sheer was just as well developed as is the latter boat's, though not so noticeably, because of the overhang being greater.

Pickpockets made their presence known at the launching. Robert Gammell of Providence reports that he lost a scarf pin valued at $1,000.

Shooting Tournament at Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 13.—Celebrated shooters from all parts of this country are coming to this city on every train to take part in the fourth annual grand American handicap tournament at inanimate targets, which will begin here tomorrow and last four days. Everything is in readiness for the tournament, and it is expected that the shoot will be the most successful at targets ever held in the history of the Interstate association.

Chicago Defeats Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 13.—The Chicago American Baseball league team again defeated the Kansas City American association club with ease by batting the local pitchers hard by a score of 14 to 4.

Americans Win at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, April 13.—The Americans defeated the Nationals in the fourth and last game of the exhibition series, which makes it an even break. The attendance was large. The score was 8 to 1.

Pittsburg Defeats Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., April 13.—About 4,000 persons saw the Columbus American association team defeated by Pittsburg in a close and exciting game. The score stood 4 to 3.

Flooding Burning Colliery.

SYDNEY, N. S., April 13.—Through a sluice cut from a dam made on the shore of the Atlantic ocean and opening into the old working, water is now pouring into the burning colliery No. 1 of the Dominion Coal company at the rate of nearly 3,500,000 gallons per hour. The pit is flooded up to the seventh level, and there are four more levels to be flooded before the fire is reached. This will require an estimated 450,000,000 gallons of water. The depth of water at the lower end of the pit is about 170 feet, and it is backed up toward the shaft to a distance of over 2,500 feet. It will take six more days to flood the mine to such an extent that the entire fire area is submerged.

Cloudburst Kills Two.

HENRYVILLE, Ind., April 13.—A cloudburst at noon yesterday flooded this part of Clark county and did great damage. The heavy fall of water has extended north as far as Sellersburg and Seymour. County Commissioner Raymond and wife were drowned while crossing Blue Lick creek. The water rose so rapidly that the buggy was swept away. Both bodies were recovered.

Railroad Men Get More Pay.

DENVER, April 13.—Manager Edson of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad has granted an increase in wages of 5 per cent to engineers and firemen working on ordinary engines and 7½ per cent to those on compound engines. The men had demanded 17 and 20 per cent increases, but will accept the compromise offered.

O'Brien For the Land Bill.

LONDON, April 13.—William O'Brien, the Nationalist member of parliament for Cork, has written a letter indorsing John Redmond's attitude toward the Irish land bill and deprecating "mere nagging and petulant denunciation" when the bill comes up before the national convention in Dublin.

Snow In the Rockies.

DENVER, April 13.—About three inches of snow has fallen along the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains in Wyoming and Colorado Springs. It will be a boon to stockmen and farmers. The storm was unaccompanied by wind, and there is no danger to exposed stock.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The antistrike bills as passed by the Dutch parliament were at once signed by Queen Wilhelmina.

Colonel J. E. MacGowan, the veteran editor in chief of the Chattanooga (Tenn.) Times, is dead.

The retirement of Major General Robert P. Hughes was followed by a large number of changes in important army commands.

It was reported that the forces of President Zelaya had recaptured Fort San Carlos and that the rebellion in Nicaragua was practically at an end.

The postoffice department has ordered all promotions in the New York office held up pending the result of the investigation into the existence of an alleged "promotion pool."

BLACK NET GOWNS.

How They Are Made—Other Fashion Notes.

Some of the most elegant gowns are made of plain black net, and this is trimmed in various ways. One of the most effective styles of developing this material, in itself so insignificant, into beautiful gowns is to overlay it with chenille or silk stars or crosses and then trim the whole skirt, disregarding the stars and their positions, with narrow lines of black satin ribbon in the narrowest width or black velvet ribbon, with bands of black chantilly insertion around, arranged to form a certain design. Sometimes it is done to represent headings to a simulated flounce, and again it is simply set around and around. Again it may be put on in horizontal or perpendicular lines, but, however it is applied, it is handsome. The decision as to how the lines of lace should be applied should be made with due consideration of the height and figure of the wearer. The pointed effect as shown in the illustration comes nearest to fitting all figures, even the unduly stout one.

Black net gowns should be worn over a black taffeta slip, but if one wishes to do so any color preferred may be adopted. The waist for a gown of this description is generally made in full blouse form, and it may be high or quite low on the neck and shoulders. So many afternoon dresses are made of lace in whole or in part that this one would serve for a guide to all, with such differences as each individual case might require. For day wear the sleeves may be in the bishop form and as ornate as wished.

The beautiful grenadines of this season are trimmed so lavishly with lace that they might almost be called lace. There are sets of bolero, stock, deep cuffs and skirt trimmings, besides many distinct motifs, as the separate pieces are called, and these are applied as taste dictates. What we did before this very useful fashion came in vogue I do not know; but, according to all present signs, it is here to stay. I may add in passing that every kind of lace is seen—yak, mohair, silk guipure and cotton and linen as a matter of course. And this does not take into account the new mercerized silk laces, which are made wide and narrow, with straight edges of application on the different garments. Some of the castle braids of this wood fiber silk are made so fine and open that they bedeck half the handsomest costumes. They are called Russian silk lace. The effect of bands of this lace over the ever beautiful china crape gowns is indescribably rich, and it has the merit of novelty, for it is new.

The new deep pelerines and capes and the long stole collars of the heavy yak or renaissance lace are much sought for, and they may even displace the fluffy boas of chiffon. These are so very becoming that it is a pity to allow even the lace pelerines to take their places.

For skirts for everyday wear at home or in the street mohair in one of its many varieties is the favorite. Never have we had such a rage for mohair. An extended description of the varieties of designs in this fabric would be profitless and impossible, but we may note the black china crape, half silk and half wool and all silk, the eolienne and the voiles. These are silk and fine wool mixed and very soft, lustrous and beautiful, and also some of the newest of the all wool blacks, such as corola, natte, corvette, roselle and veiling. Roxane is wool and mohair, and there are some handsome stuffs of silk and mohair. All these and many more are all black. In fact, nearly nine-tenths of the street skirts are black except in tailor costumes. Twine cloths, nub cloths, serges, etamines, twilled and smooth faced broadcloths and German prunella are among the black goods offered for skirts to wear with the waists above mentioned. All of these are produced in colors, but good taste would dictate black.

But, if black is best form in the wools and mixtures, there is no dearth of colored silks. There are many of the old favorites and some new ones in the list, such as taffeta, peau de soie, peau de cygne and moire velour. The colored silks embrace all those mentioned, besides liberty, soie de crepe and polka dotted satin liberty foulards. Louisines are shown in great variety, many designs being in small checks and stripes. The satin foulards are figured. Pongee, plain and richly embroidered or planned to be decorated with lace, is among the best of the summer silks. The checks are very stylish, particularly the tiny pinhead checks, which were always very Frenchy.

HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

[Copyright, 1900, by A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Co.]

"Capt. Winkle is quite right," she answered, in a low, tense tone.

The colonel reeled as if he were dizzy. For the ensuing moment there was no other sound in the room save his labored breathing. Suddenly he steadied himself before her, his eyes expanded.

"Are you crazy, my child?" he blurted out.

"Almost!" Evelyn laughed harshly. "The only man I ever loved as women love once in their lives is facing the most horrible crisis of his existence; I happened to meet him on his way to give himself up to the sheriff, and, as I love him and wanted to be with him as much as possible, to comfort him, and assure him of my fidelity, I insisted on driving him to Ratcliff's. He begged me not to insist on it, but I would have it so. If you cast me off a million times I shall have all the more heart to bestow on him—the more pity in his sorrow!"

The old soldier seemed to wither like a plant under a fierce heat; his hands hung limply at his sides for a moment, and then he drew himself up as erect as if he were on parade and faced his visitor.

"You have rendered me a valuable service, Capt. Winkle," he said distantly, "and I hope some day to be able to show better appreciation for it."

He moved backward to the bell-pull, his eyes studiously avoiding those of his child.

"Capt. Winkle's horse!" he called out to the servant. His words rang like pieces of falling metal.

When Winkle had gone, Hasbrooke stood for a moment eying his daughter sorrowfully, then he sank into his big revolving chair and lowered his head to the desk. Evelyn looked down on him pityingly, and then she stepped to him and laid a cold white hand on his head.

"Father," her voice cut sharply into the silence, "I love you as fondly as any daughter ever loved a father, but as sure as God is in Heaven that love will die—you will kill it if you turn against me in my first hour of actual woe! I am suffering for the man I love as I never fancied even a lost soul could suffer, and yet you have no pity for me. You demanded more in your daughter, but I tell you I demand more in a father! God made me love Ronald Fanshaw; He did it by opening my eyes to his greatness of mind and character. I will not allow you to insult him by your tears," her voice rose to a sharp command and she stamped her small foot. "I will not, I say!"

The white head was raised. The old man's eyes gleamed with the fires of despair, but as they rested on the calm, undaunted face of his best-loved child their glance wavered.

"Do you mean that, Evelyn—my God—are you in earnest?"

"Thoroughly in earnest, father; you have often told me about the strength of the Carnleigh women in their love. Would the Carnleigh you wedded have allowed her father to weep because of her love for you?"

The colonel stretched out two trembling hands and took hers in his grasp.

"You are right, my daughter, in a way"—he kissed her lightly on the brow—"but I am right, too. Pardon me if I have been impolite; you and I have never had a disagreement before, but I can see farther than you—the light of calm reason is stronger than the flare of infatuation. Now go to bed, and let me think; ah, let me think!"

Without a word she moved away. At the door she turned and looked back. He stood where she had left him, his arms folded as if in death. "It is awful! My God, it is awful!" she heard him muttering.

CHAPTER XIV.

All that night Ronald Fanshaw lay awake. The coming of dawn—its first gray streaks in the east—was like the sight of land to a starving, shipwrecked man, and yet when the sun was up its genial rays failed to disperse the shadows in his heart; he found that it ached as well by day as by night.

After breakfast Mr. Redding called to see him.

"Well, this is a pretty howdy-do!" he exclaimed, in a cheery voice, as the iron door clanged to after him. "The sheriff rode out to King's plantation last night to tell me the news, but I couldn't get back till this mornin'. He's bent on gettin' you out o' this if he can."

"I am awfully sorry to have to call on you in such a disagreeable matter," returned Ronald.

Redding thoughtfully pinched his nose between his thumb and forefinger.

"Ratcliff told me the particulars," he said, frowning a little. "There is no use cryin' over spilt milk—or spilt blood, either. This case will give you a chance to practice a little on your own hook. The main thing is to keep a stiff upper lip and take a cheerful view."

"I am afraid I take a dejected view of it," said Ronald. "You will find me a hopeless sort of client. I feel so awfully knocked out over taking a human life that even the prospect of being publicly justified does not brighten my horizon."

"I can sympathize with you, my boy," the voice of the lawyer softened and he pinched his nose again. "I once told you—or rather I hinted at a great sorrow in my life—a big drawback to my energies, well—" Redding broke off and waved his hand, as he sometimes did when expression failed him.

"I remember you hinted at some disagreeable occurrence; but as you were unmarried—"

"My trouble didn't wear petticoats," interrupted the lawyer, forcing a little smile, and as he went on his face grew more serious than it had ever appeared to Ronald. "It took place right down thar in front of the courthouse door—just after the close of the war. I never pass in or out of the building without stepping over his body. People don't mention it to me now; I sometimes wish they would rank it with other events in my career; it's their danged silence that hurts.

"Me'n him was candidates for the legislature; it was a sort of duel. I was ready for 'im—certainly was loaded for bear; I had three revolvers an' a axhandle. I proved, without much trouble, that he pulled down on me fust. A feller come to my counsel an' said he would swear Le Roy had said he was goin' to kill me on sight. His testimony cleared me, but the same skunk come to me after it was all over an' wanted ten dollars. I can't forget the hell in his eye. I knew he had perjured himself, but I was afraid to refuse him the money. Then thar was the young widow. It left her as pore as Job's turkey. She let me supply her an' the boy, that had his daddy's eyes, with the necessaries of life, an' then she began to make eyes at me. Somehow I took a fool notion that I ought to marry 'er, an' the thought weighed on me till I nearly got off my nut. Jest about then Judge Bates began to see whar the wind was blowin' her bangs an' said one day: 'Locky heer, Reddin', let that slide—it never will mend matters a bit; you'll always feel as if you killed 'im to get his wife.' She married another fellow." Oh, yes," Redding broke off with a deep drawn breath, "I know all about it, an' that's why I didn't sleep much last night. The worst feature in yore case is the evidence Thad Williams threatens to give. As far as I know, his oath would be valid. Do you think that the dead man told him you attacked him first?"

"If he did he was out of his mind," answered Ronald; "I think Thad Williams told me that to frighten me."

"But Ratcliff says you actually heard the two talking together just before Syd died."

Ronald nodded. "That is a fact, I was not near enough, however, to overhear what was said."

Redding mused a moment and then he looked up suddenly.

"I must see him at once, my boy, before the prosecution gets 'im to commit 'imself to the'r side. I shall try to show up the consequences of perjury in a strong light, and frighten him off o' that line. He's a good natured sort of feller if you strike him right. I never shall forget" (Redding seemed bent on cheering up his friend) "Thad was captured about five years ago as a moonshiner, an' Jim Lowe, who was in the employ o' the government, an' no better 'n Thad, started with 'im to Atlanta for trial. They made a sort of picnic of it an' got drunk together, an' postponed their trip till that night. They was waitin' in the office of the hotel to ketch a train, an' Jim had gone in to his supper, leavin' Thad smokin' at the stove. Then amongst us we got up a joke on Jim an' went to his prisoner an' told 'im if he wanted to, he could git away as easy as shellin' peas. But Thad shook his head an' helt out his hands to the fire. 'Me'n Lowe is sorter chums,' he said, 'an' if you will have the truth, I never have had much of a ride on the cyars in my life, an' I sorter 'lowed I'd like the trip.' Then we proposed a compromise. We told him he could ride within a few miles of Atlanta and jump off while Jim was not lookin', and in that way he could get his ride and liberty also. You ought to have heard 'im laugh. 'Don't you give me away, an' I'll play it fine,' he said. And he did work it. He turned up here two days later, making for the mountains. He was the worst bunged-up chap you ever laid eyes on. Not being familiar with the running of trains, he had hurled himself at a bank, eight miles out of Atlanta, when the train was goin' like greased lightnin'. But Lowe never did try to arrest him again." Redding's smile vanished as he turned to the door. "I'll try to win 'im round to us this mornin' if I can get at 'im," he concluded. "He'll be apt to be at the funeral. Now, don't you worry! I'll do all I can, an' we'll try to have you out on bail to-morrow."

WHY BECK RESIGNED.

Assistant Attorney General Has Joined New York Law Firm.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—It is announced that Assistant Attorney General James N. Beck tendered his resignation to President Roosevelt before the president's departure for the west. In tendering his resignation Mr. Beck took occasion to express his pride and gratification at having been privileged to serve under the president's administration and that of his predecessor. In accepting the resignation the president wrote the following letter:

"My Dear Mr. Beck—I regret to receive your resignation as assistant attorney general, which is accepted to take effect April 30 next, as indicated.

"I appreciate your expression of the satisfaction you have taken in your public service. It is a pleasure to me to say that you have performed your duties with marked ability, and I hereby extend my best wishes for your continued success in your professional work and for your health and prosperity."

When questioned with reference to his resignation, Mr. Beck said: "I have become a member of the law firm of Shearman & Sterling of New York city and expect to commence my work there on May 1 and shall after that date be a resident of that city. I shall retain my present connection with my Philadelphia law firm. I leave the department with very great regret. My associations have been most pleasant. It is a matter of especial pride that in association with Assistant Attorney General Day and Special Counsel D. T. Watson I was privileged to take part in the recent merger case."

Mr. Beck was appointed by President McKinley in July, 1900. He had previously been United States attorney for the eastern district of Pennsylvania.

HEAD ON COLLISION.

Four Killed and Several Injured In Nova Scotia.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 13.—Four persons dead, two fatally hurt, at least one missing and several others slightly injured is the record of a head on collision on the Intercolonial railway which occurred just before midnight near Windsor Junction, seventeen miles from Halifax.

The wreck prostrated the poles and telegraph lines along the roadside and cut this city off from communication with the outside world for hours.

The trains that were in collision were the Canadian Pacific railway express No. 26 from Montreal for Halifax and a fast freight from Halifax for Montreal. The conductor and driver of the freight had orders to take a siding at Windsor Junction and let the express cross, but for some unknown reason Driver Copeland of the freight ran past the junction on the main line and met the express without an instant's warning two miles beyond. The freight was running twenty-five miles an hour and the express was two hours late and traveling about forty-five miles an hour at the time of the collision.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 13.—Secretary of the Navy Moody and party of ten, including Postmaster General Payne, Representative Cannon of Illinois, Senators Proctor of Vermont and Hale of Maine and Private Secretary Fishback, arrived here on the dispatch boat Dolphin late yesterday. The residence of Dr. Joseph Haas was nearly burned to the ground. The fire started from the furnace.

Sailor Goes Mad.

NEWARK, N. J., April 13.—John T. Larsen, a sailor on the schooner Mary A. Hall, became violently insane and tried to murder the crew. He slashed Andrew M. Johnson so he may die. In running to escape from the captain and mate of the Hall Larsen fell overboard and was drowned. Larsen had been melancholy for several days, and it is believed that he suddenly developed homicidal mania.

Killed by Polanders.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 13.—Anthony Kolas of West Pittston was stabbed to death at Stumerville last night during a fight with a number of Polanders. The men had been drinking during the day and evening, and on their way home they quarreled, and a fatal stabbing was the result. Five men were arrested, charged with the crime, and committed to prison.

Statements Attributed to Rev. G. M. Shott by Another Paper.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

BADLY BEATEN.

City High School Defeated by Boys' High School at Brooklyn Saturday Afternoon.

The baseball team of the Brooklyn Boy's High School defeated the City High School team Saturday afternoon by a score of 16 to 2. The game was played in Brooklyn.

The Brooklyn boys had no difficulty in defeating their opponents, scoring almost at will. Though there was an improvement in the batting of the local team, the Plainfield boys seemed unable to connect with the ball in the field. The Brooklyn team was in excellent form both at the bat and in the field. Twelve singles were made off VanAuken and only three errors, against eleven by the High School.

VanAuken was in good form in the box, striking out eight men. He had no support in the field and the large score was due to the errors in the field.

The score by innings follows:

B. B. H. S.	1	1	7	1	1	2	2	2	—16
P. H. S.	0	0	0	0	1	0	1	0	— 2

partment, a violin solo by Arthur Mosher and vocal solo by Willard Wadsworth, and an address by the pastor, Rev. C. L. Goodrich. He also delivered an appropriate sermon in the morning.

SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST.

Services appropriate to Eastertide were held at the Seventh-Day Baptist church Saturday morning, when an augmented choir of twelve voices rendered several anthems under the direction of D. E. Titsworth. The floral decorations were exceptionally attractive. During the service the pastor, Rev. George B. Shaw, delivered a sermon explaining the significance of Eastertide and the resurrection.

WILSON MEMORIAL.

The Easter services at the Wilson Memorial chapel, yesterday afternoon and evening, attracted large congregations. In the afternoon the exercises were under the direction of the Sunday-school and there was music by a string and double quartette, comprising solos and anthems. Rev. Theodore Duensing, of this city, made an address in the afternoon. In the evening the address was made by George A. Chapman, of this city, and there was special music. The decorations were unusually pretty.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

The Easter services at the First Presbyterian church yesterday including special music at the morning service by the regular quartette, Miss Etta Raybert, soprano; Mrs. S. H. Tugwell, alto; Elmer D. Cutting, tenor; Sydney R. Titsworth, bass, assisted by Dr. Frederic Nice, of New York, violinist. Mr. Cutting was the soloist at this service. The anthems included "Christ Our Passover," and "Welcome Happy Morning." The pastor, Rev. C. E. Herring, delivered a fine sermon.

In the afternoon services were held under the auspices of the Sunday-school, Superintendent E. M. Cave being in charge. There were carols by the school, a reading entitled "Mary," by Mrs. Charles Hazeltine and selections by the quartette of the church. There was also an address by Rev. Mr. Herring.

In the evening the regular quartette choir rendered several anthems. The solo work was by Miss Etta Raybert, soprano. Dr. Nice also played "Meditation," from Bach, on the violin. The quartette work at all the services was very commendable, also the work of Dr. Nice. Clifford A. Braider, organist, had charge of the musical programme.

MT. OLIVE BAPTIST.

Previous to the preaching service in the Mt. Olive Baptist church, last evening, exercises appropriate to Easter were given by the following members of the Sunday-school: Mabel Jones, Lue Stout, Bertha Hill and Maude Green. The choir rendered several selections and Pastor E. E. Jackson was presented with a handsome bouquet of flowers by the Faithful Workers. The decorations were arranged under the joint auspices of the Faithful Workers and King's Daughters.

MT. ZION A. M. E.

Outside of carols, there were no special Easter features at the Mount Zion A. M. E. church. The floral decorations were unusually elaborate and were admired by everyone. They were arranged by Mrs. E. B. Maynard.

CRESCENT AVENUE.

At both morning and evening services in the Crescent Avenue church, the musical programme was in keeping with the day. The services were well attended and the floral decorations about the pulpit were more attractive than in former years. At the Sunday-school session the pupils were addressed by Superintendent George Strong and Rev. W. S. Hubbell.

HOPE CHAPEL.

Simpleness marked all three ceremonies at Hope chapel. In the morning, Rev. L. R. Howard preached an appropriate sermon and two infants were baptized. At the Sunday-school session, an interesting programme was furnished by the members of the primary department. Carols were sung and a recitation was given by Edith Thompson while Anna Warnock contributed a pleasing solo. Rev. Dr. Riggs, a returned missionary from India, was in charge of the evening service and gave an address dealing with his labors in the far-off field.

PARK AVE. BAPTIST.

At the Park Avenue Baptist church, Rev. Mr. Braker, of Brooklyn preached in the morning and three anthems were given by the choir. George E. Watts contributed two solos. Rev. Mr. Braker again addressed in the evening and the choir rendered appropriate music.

The entire Sunday-school membership marched into the church in the afternoon and held a special Easter programme. A GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

IT IS TO BE HELD AT ST. LOUIS, MO., APRIL 27.

National Aid in Road Building Likely to be Principal Subject of Discussion.

Several weeks ago arrangements were completed for assembling in St. Louis April 27 the greatest good roads convention ever held. It is proposed to make it not only national but international in character. Judging from the selection of delegates already made in many States, it looks as if the convention will be made up of representative men from all parts of the county.

Undoubtedly the principal subject for discussion will be that of National aid as outlined in the bill introduced in the last Congress by Representative Brownlow. The friends of that measure will go to the convention "loaded to the muzzle" with arguments in its defense. Among the arguments which they offer with the greatest confidence, the following may be noted:

First. The Government aided in the building of many of the great railroads, especially in the West by grants of enormous areas of land, and otherwise. Yet these roads are without exception owned by private individuals and corporations, and operated solely for private gain. How much more necessary and proper then for the Government to aid and encourage the building of highways which are public property for the use and benefit of the people?

Second. The Government annually appropriates many millions of dollars for the improvement of rivers and harbors to facilitate commerce. But these appropriations are of necessity very unequally distributed, a few States receiving the greater part, and many others receiving none whatever. But the improvement of the public highways is just as important to commerce, and a National appropriation for that purpose, could be so distributed as to give each State its proper share.

Third. Money appropriated by Congress for other purposes only accomplishes results commensurate with the amount spent; but money appropriated to aid and encourage road improvement would accomplish vastly more, because States and counties could only secure the benefit of this aid by contributing proportional sums. A National appropriation for this purpose would serve as a universal stimluus to road improvement.

Fourth. The free delivery of mail in the rural districts must always remain limited to those communities which, by reason of their wealth or favorable natural conditions, are able to have good roads. Other communities whose people are equally deserving, and whose contributions help to maintain the whole postal system, are deprived of the blessings of free delivery because of their poverty or because natural conditions make road improvement difficult and expensive. Here is a grave injustice which can be remedied in one of two ways: Either the whole scheme of rural free delivery must be abandoned because it cannot be carried out with equal justice to all the people, or the National Government must lend a hand to help the less favored communities improve their roads thus making universal rural free delivery possible. The fathers of the Republic provided for just such a contingency as this when they empowered Congress to establish postoffices and postroads.

These and similar arguments will be put forward with a great deal of zeal and enthusiasm by the advocates of National aid. As several State conventions have already endorsed this scheme, it will not be surprising if the St. Louis convention also approves it.

Funeral of Mrs. Collins.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Collins, who passed away last week at the home of Mrs. Richard Yetman, of East Third street, took place Saturday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. C. L. Orudup, pastor of the Fillmore Avenue church. The interment was in the Baptist cemetery.

Death of Miss McGlone.

Miss Mary McGlone, an old resident of the borough, passed away this morning after an illness of several months at the age of sixty-six years. The funeral will be held from her late residence on Duer street, Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock, and at 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's R. C. church.

Two Complainants.

Two complaints were filed at police headquarters, this morning. J. B. Mills preferred a charge of assault against Dennis Sheehan and Owen Gavin, a trolley conductor, made complaint against Edward Korman for the use of improper language. Both defendants will be arraigned tomorrow.

Died at Westerley.

Mrs. Thomas B. Cardner, of Orange place, received word this morning of thedeath of her mother, Mrs. M. N. Woodard, at Westerley, R. I. Mrs. Cardner left at once for that city where the funeral will take place, Wednesday morning.

Freeholders to Meet.

The Somerset County Board of Freeholders will meet in regular session at Somerville tomorrow.

—The Rasores Club will meet tomorrow morning with Mrs. L. N. Lovell, 112 Crescent avenue; subject, "Thomas Carlyle."

SOCIETY AT A COTILLION

Easter Dance of Cotillion Club Marks Resumption of Social Activity After Lent.

ONE NOVEL FEATURE

Two Orchestras and Cotillion Has Double Set of Figures So That There Are No Intermissions—Sets Led by Mr. and Mrs. Timpson and Mr. and Mrs. Waring.

Lent, with its forty days of sackcloth and self sacrifice, had hardly been closed by Easter before society came forth in brilliant array to resume its rounds of gaiety. The first event was the cotillion held at the Casino last evening by the Cotillion Club. It was the last of a series of three and was by far the most brilliant in point of decorations and attendance. It was the Easter cotillion and the decorations were arranged to harmonize with the season. The usual decorations of bunting and palms were missing but in their stead were fancy cut flowers, orange blossoms, daisies and roses. The effect was at once pretty and attractive.

In the main ball room the decorations were red while in the dining rooms the color effects were pink and green. Upon the stage behind a hedge of very handsome Easter lilies, roses and a great profusion of daisies sat the large orchestra of T. G. Austin, of Brooklyn. Something novel and decidedly original was introduced at the cotillion in that the music was continuous. There was no stop between the dances. The orchestra comprise fifteen pieces which was divided in two sections. One section played while the other half rested thus giving continuous music.

The cotillion was led by Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Timpson and Mr. and L. E. Waring. It was danced without any intermission. One set of figures weer led by Mr. and Mrs. Waring and as soon as that was completed Mr. and Mrs. Timpson, directed another set. Some of the favors were very clever and all were appropriate to Easter. Among them were Easter eggs, fancy pipes in which were imitation tobacco, golf clubs, tennis racquets, canes, horns, and sun flowers made of paper arranged on long sticks. Some of the figures were the horse shoe, the windmill, basket and chain. Most of them were entirely original and were introduced by Mr. Waring and Mr. Timpson.

In the last figure before the supper the participants led to the dining rooms where tables were set for almost a hundred guests. On each table were arranged small candelabra of pink set off with decorations on the tables of green.

The patronesses who gave out the favors were Mrs. Elliot T. Barrows, Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, Mrs. F. G. Meade and Mrs. Edward H. Ladd, Jr.

The committee in charge of the dance comprised L. G. Timpson, F. W. Yates, E. T. Barrows and L. E. Waring.

Some of those who were present as guests were Captain and Mrs. Patrick, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Victor, of New York; F. Raymond Lefferts, of New York; Mr. Baldwin, and Mr. G. T. Waite, of New York.

BELIEVE CRONIN WAS LOST IN COLLISION

Dunellen Man Missing Since Day of Collision of Steamers on Long Island Sound.

PASSENGER REGISTERED AS "CROWIN" WAS DROWNED IN ACCIDENT.

Justice Warden, of Dunellen, Has Been Investigating, and Is Now Convinced That Cronin Was the Passenger Drowned.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, April 14—Positive proof has practically been obtained by Justice A. W. Warden that Michael Cronin, of this place, was among those killed or drowned in the collision between the Fall River boats, Plymouth and City of Lowell, in Long Island sound, March 20. He left this borough on that date and since then has been missing. In order to make proof absolutely certain, the justice has placed the matter in the hands of a Plainfield attorney to sift to the bottom.

When Cronin left home, he placed his twelve-year-old son, John, in the justice's care and stated that he would return in a few days. He was going, he said, to a small New England town and would take the Plymouth part way to his destination. The collision occurred on the day he left New York.

When two weeks passed and no word was received from him, Warden wrote the steamship officials and yesterday received information that a passenger named "Crowin" was on the boat when it left for the eventful trip. This passenger was among the killed and no one claimed the body. As the name Cronin might easily be mistaken for Crowin, it is generally supposed that the Dunellen man met his death.

Once the identification is made absolutely certain, suit will be brought against the company in the name of the son, who is left without a relative. A Plainfield attorney, has the matter in charge and will begin his investigation at once.

OVER THREE HUNDRED AT CHOIR'S EUCHRE

Successful Event Given by Choir of St. Mary's Church Last Evening.

AFTER THE GAME WAS OVER, DANCING WAS ENJOYED.

The Attendance Was Very Large and Euchre Was Declared to be a Great Success—Those Who Won the Various Prizes.

Success from every point of view attended the grand euchre given by the choir of St. Mary's church, in the school hall, last evening. First among the social events to take place after the Lenten season, the attendance was very large and gayety reigned supreme. The proceeds from the affair will be devoted to the fund for organ improvements.

Play began shortly after 8 o'clock with eighty tables in use. Nearly all of the participants were expert players and the result was some spirited contests. Games were contnuied until shortly before midnight when the prize winners were announced. Among them were the following:

Miss Margaret Harding, first, 10 games, china coffee set; Miss Mamie Casey, second, 9 games, umbrella; others were Miss Theresa McGinley, Miss Jeannette Summers, Miss Marie Flynn, Miss May McLaughlin, Miss Julia Day, Mrs. John Traynor, Mrs. Frank McInerny, Mrs. Frederick Burner, Edward Harding, Michael Connolly, Thomas Carty, Jr., and Robert M. Clark. The prizes were exceptionally handsome affairs and were contributed by friends of the choir.

When the prizes were awarded, the hall was cleared for dancing and the rivals for euchre honors dropped antagonism for the delights of Terpsichore's art. Music for the occasion was furnished by O'Reilly's orchestra. It was 2 o'clock before the enjoyable occasion terminated.

Credit for the arrangements and carrying out of the euchre rests with the church choir, the members of which worked hard to make it successful. There were no particular committees outside of the reception which consisted of Miss Kathrine Carty and Miss Anna O'Keefe. M. J. Cashin was in general charge and he was assisted by all the members in caring for the players. Daniel Corinne acted as floor manager during the dancing

LOCAL YOUNG PEOPLE SPRING A SURPRISE

Miss Florence Williams and Wm. S. Loizeaux Wed in New York a Week Ago.

AT HOTEL MANHATTAN

HAD EXPECTED TO KEEP THE MARRIAGE A SECRET.

They Were Engaged and Were to be Married This Spring or in the Fall—The Ceremony Was Performed Sunday, April 5.

This morning's New York papers had something of a sensation for their Plainfield readers in the announcement of the marriage of two young people from this city. Miss Florence Williams, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Williams, of West Seventh street, and William S. Loizeaux, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Loizeaux, of Brook avenue, were married at the Hotel Manhattan, New York, Sunday, April 5, by Alderman Isaac Marks. The facts given concerning the marriage were correct although the details regarding the couple were more or less exaggerated and incorrect.

Both of the young people have resided in Plainfield for many years and have been well acquainted for a long time. They have a large circle of friends here. Mr. Loizeaux, although a young man, has been very successful in business. Their engagement was announced last fall and it was expected that the marriage would take place either this spring or in the fall. There was no objection to the match by either family.

The day the marriage took place, the young people were visiting friends in New York. Accompanied by Miss Josephine W. Sadler, a friend of Miss Williams, they went to the Hotel Manhattan where the ceremony was quietly performed. A dinner followed and then the party returned to Plainfield. It was understood that the marriage should be kept secret but, in some unknown way, it leaked out.

Mr. and Mrs. Loizeaux are now stopping at the home of Mr. Loizeaux's brother, Paul, in New York. They are expected to return to Plainfield this evening. While the marriage was a decided surprise to all but its few who were in the secret, it was not a runaway match. The parents of the young man have been wintering in Nassau and are now at one of the southern resorts on their way home to Plainfield. They are expected to arrive this week.

A member of the Loizeaux family, interviewed this morning over the telephone, expressed great displeasure over the affair and declared that the whole family was heartily ashamed and disgusted that Mr. Loizeaux should seek such methods to get married. The first intimation of the marriage was learned last evening, when the Loizeaux family obtained knowledge of it through the reports from the New York newspapers.

When Mrs. E. P. Williams was asked over the telephone concerning the marriage, she said that she was not prepared to say whether it was true or not and she would not give out any statement until she learned the facts. She said that her husband had cautioned her not to say anything about the affair for publication and she begged to be excused from talking.

BLEW OFF HEAD WITH SHOT GUN

Wm. H. Carman, of Dunellen, Killed Himself Supposedly With Suicidal Intent.

HIS WIFE FOUND HIM

Found Dead in Parlor at 8:45 This Morning—Wife Attracted by Sound of Shot—Entire Upper Portion of Head Blown Off—Death Was Instantaneous—Cause Unknown.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, April 14—With the entire upper portion of his head blown off and his brains scattered to every part of the room, the lifeless body of William H. Carman, of this place, was found in the parlor of his home on Front street as 8:45 this morning. The discovery was made by his wife who was attracted by the report of a shot gun followed by a heavy fall. She was nearly overcome by the horrible sight which greeted her gaze but managed to retain her composure long enough to summon assistance.

Neighbors called Dr. P. W. Brakeley, but the man was beyond all aid. Death must have been instantaneous. The county physician was notified and will examine the body this afternoon.

There is little doubt the fatality was the result of suicidal intent and not accidental. His wife, however, can assign no cause for the act as his home life had always been pleasant and, outside of slight attacks of indigestion, he enjoyed the best of health.

For the past three years he had been manager of the meat department of Scheuer's grocery at Plainfield but for some reason did not go to work this morning. Mrs. Carman paid no attention to his movements and was unconscious of his whereabouts until the gun was fired. He had removed it from an upper closet but just how it was made to explode will remain a mystery.

Beside the widow, he is survived by three sons, Clarence, Ellis and William, the latter but two years old. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral.

A report was current in the borough, today, that he was to be superseded in the management at Scheuer's which might have caused him to brood until he decided to make way with himself. The head of the firm was questioned and declared emphatically that no change was to be made or had been contemplated that would in any way effect Carman.

THEATRICAL.

Spectacular extravaganza of the most alluring kind seems to have attained new vogue in New York City. One of the most emphatic current successes now upon the metropolitan stage is "The Wizard of Oz," which is testing the capacity of the new Majestic Theatre at every performance. The extravaganza is described as an adroit effusion of the most attractive elements of burlesque, ballet, comic pantomime and smart up-to-date musical comedy. The chief factor in the success of this novel entertainment is, according to the New York critics, Julian Mitchell whose reputation as a stage manager is international. "The Wizard of Oz" is characterized by the New York press as the most fascinating and novel spectacle seen in recent seasons, and no imported production from London or Paris has excited so much genuine enthusiasm among playgoers of all classes and walks in life.

Exposure to a sudden climatic change produces cold in the head and catarrh is apt to follow. Provided with Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh. Price 50 cents at Druggists or Ely Brothers, 56 Warren street, New York, will mail it. The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation, cleanses and cures. Cream Balm quickly cures the cold.

WILL PUNISH GUILTY

Postmaster General Payne Returns to Washington.

THE INVESTIGATION TO CONTINUE.

Head of Department Says Postoffice Charges Will Be Thoroughly Probed—Justice to All Concerned.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Postmaster General Payne has given out a statement in which he announces that the investigation of the affairs of the postoffice department will be continued and that any parties found guilty of wrongdoing will be dealt with summarily. The statement is as follows:

"During the months of January and February information and reports reached me which I deemed it for the public interest to investigate, and I personally gathered such information and facts as would enable the proper officers of the department to undertake a thorough investigation as to the truth or falsity of these reports. I directed Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow to take the proper steps to investigate the necessary inquiry, using for that purpose the postoffice inspector's division and such other methods as would thoroughly ascertain the truth or falsity of the charges or insinuations made, and he was instructed to proceed promptly and with vigor during my absence. Since my return I have not seen General Bristow, so that I am not advised of the progress made.

"The investigation will continue, and if any wrongdoing is disclosed the parties guilty of such wrongdoing will be summarily dealt with. If the system or method of doing business in the department is faulty, the proper remedies will be applied without fear or favor. I inaugurated the investigation with the determination that it should be exhaustive. It is proper for me to add that I laid before the president the information which I had in my possession and that he fully approved of the action proposed by me."

The whole administration of the postoffice department is made subject to the investigation under Postmaster General Payne's directions, and every charge will be probed thoroughly and the inquiry made as thoroughly as the department's most expert inspectors can make it.

At the same time Mr. Payne's purpose is to give fair and just treatment to all concerned and not to act arbitrarily and with undue haste. For this reason it can be stated that no immediate changes of importance in the personnel of the service are now contemplated, and changes will depend largely on the report to be made by Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow on the investigation, although developments in the meantime may necessitate some deviation from this policy.

The office of the assistant attorney general for the postoffice department is among the bureaus included in the general inquiry, and until the investigation of affairs generally is completed it is probable that no successor to Assistant Attorney General Tyner will be named.

Postmaster General Payne did not reach the department until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A score of newspaper men were awaiting him with queries concerning the postoffice investigation, but he parried all questions with remarks on his trip to the West Indies. He expressed particular gratification at what he had observed of postal conditions in Cuba and said his observations in Cuba and Porto Rico would be helpful to him in administering the postal service.

Lock Dealings Explained.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 14.—With reference to charges of discrimination by postoffice department officials in favor of the Binghamton Lock company, of which he is president and Colonel G. W. Dunn is a stockholder, Senator G. E. Greene of Binghamton said: "The whole affair is picayune. We first began furnishing these time locks in the Cleveland Democratic administration. The number that we furnished was very small, and, as these charges of discrimination and demands for repeated competitive tests were reiterated every year, we about decided to give up the whole business on the ground that the game was not worth the candle. We finally secured this contract to avoid further conflict. It was a most ordinary business transaction, in which politics cut absolutely no figure. We made a proposition in open business form to the representative of the government, and it was accepted."

SPORTING JOTTINGS.

Reliance's Trial April 25—Racing in the Rain at Bennings.

BRISTOL, R. I., April 14.—With her steel mast towering aloft, her bowsprit in its station and the martingale and port and starboard whiskers in their place, the new yacht Reliance is fast rounding into shape for her first trial spin. Even with the excellent progress made yesterday, however, probably little less than two weeks will be required to place the boat in readiness for her first run under her own canvas. Captain Woodbury Kane, a close friend of C. Oliver Iselin, manager of the Reliance, said that the first trial would probably take place Saturday, April 25, just two weeks after the yacht was launched.

The Tennessee Oaks.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 14.—The Tennessee Oaks for three-year-old fillies at one mile was won by J. G. Greener & Co.'s Oleflant, by Ornus—Alveria M., in a driving finish by a head from Sarah Maxim, who beat Avoid a length for second money. Winkfield was brought on here to ride the favorite, and it took all his strength and prowess to land Oleflant a winner in the last stride. The race was run over a muddy track, and the time, 1:45¾, was creditable.

Racing In the Rain.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Easter Monday races at Bennings were run in a drizzling rain and on a track heavy with sticky mud, but despite the unfavorable conditions one of the largest crowds of the meeting was present. Seven races, including a hurdle race at a mile and a half and a steeple chase at two miles and a half, were run. Today closes the meeting.

Surprises at Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—There were several surprises at Oakland, but the real upset occurred in the mile race, Gorgolette, a 15 to 1 shot, winning. Organdie, the 1 to 2 favorite, failed to show any speed.

Giants Whitewash the Jerseys.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The New York Nationals defeated the Jersey City Eastern league team on the Polo grounds more decisively than on last Saturday, the score being 11 to 0.

FOILS CHINESE PLOT

Commander Drake's Prompt Act Averts a Slaughter.

NIGHT ATTACK ON CANTON PLANNED

American Officer, Assisted by English, Germans and French, Landed an Armed Force, and Many Arrests Were Made.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Quick action and common sense treatment of a critical situation by an American naval officer in China recently saved the foreign residents in the province of Kwontung, along the east bank of the Canton river, from falling victims to a plot which, while directed primarily against the Manchurian dynasty, inevitably would have culminated in an attack on the foreign population.

While this attack was averted by the precautionary measures taken by Commander F. J. Drake, commanding the United States steamer Monterey, with the assistance of the English gunboats Sandpiper and Britomart, the French gunboat Avalanche and the German tug Shameen, the coalition known to have fomented the trouble extends to several provinces, and official advices received both at the state and navy departments show that reactionary measures on a scale far larger than is admitted either by foreign representatives or the Chinese government have been planned by the rebels.

Hearing that a force of rebels with Hung Chun Fuk, a native of Waichow, had planned an attack on the viceroy and Chinese officials of Canton during the celebrations of the Chinese new year during the night of Jan. 28-29, Commander Drake prepared to defend the foreign residents. An armed force of 3,000 men had entered Canton surreptitiously several days before he learned the news and were hiding with sympathizers.

As most of the foreigners and official representatives of the various nations resided in Shameen, Commander Drake first completed his plan of defense for this section, and then to allay the excitement which prevailed he officially informed the consulates and Chinese officials of his preparations and advised the commanders of the English, German and French gunboats of the line of action to be pursued in case Shameen island was attacked. The foreign commanders offered their cooperation, and plans were perfected to meet any trouble that developed, whether on the island or on water.

Instead of visiting the Holy temple in the inner city at midnight to offer incense, the viceroy and officials, contrary to long custom, remained in their respective yamens securely guarded. Around the viceroy's yamen alone were assembled 4,000 armed troops. By 7 o'clock the gates to the inner city were closed and the streets cleared.

Many arrests were made that night, in which some compradores were implicated, and large amounts of stores were seized in houses and shops in Fongchun and Pates, opposite Shameen. Many other indications of the intended attack were found, and the officials agreed that the rebels abandoned their plot only because of Commander Drake's discovery and his prompt action and that of the other foreign commanders in taking ample precautionary measures. Landing of an armed force from each of the foreign men-of-war had been agreed on by the American, English, German and French commanders at the first evidence of attack on the foreign section.

Hurricane In Alabama.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 14.—A hurricane in the vicinity of Blocton wrecked a number of houses and did considerable damage to farming property. The total damage is about $15,000. Coleanor and Garnsey suffered houses being partially wrecked, many trees prostrated and wires blown down. In Birmingham a small windstorm wrecked many chimneys near Thirteenth street and Avenue One, and a young woman named Miss Jernigan was injured by a falling chimney. No fatalities are reported.

Bagdad Railway Company.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 14.—The Imperial Ottoman Bagdad Railway company has been organized here, with a capital of $3,000,000. The president of the company is Arthur Gwinner, one of the managers of the Deutsche bank in Berlin, and the vice president is Adolph Bernes, the administrator of the Imperial Ottoman bank in Paris. The British representative on the directorate has not yet been appointed. The headquarters of the company will be at Constantinople.

Trolley Car Passengers Injured.

PITTSBURG, April 14.—A trolley car of the Pittsburg Railway company was struck by a Baltimore and Ohio freight train at the Fleet street grade crossing in Rankin borough, and the sixteen passengers aboard the car were all more or less injured. Two of the passengers, Mrs. Catharine Powers of Turtle Creek and Mrs. Jane Morton, were seriously hurt. The car was dragged thirty yards and completely wrecked.

Fire In Wilmington, Mass.

WILMINGTON, Mass., April 14.—Four structures in the business part of this town were burned, entailing a loss of $20,000. The quick response of fire apparatus from the neighboring city of Woburn prevented a conflagration which to all appearances would have carried away buildings over a large area.

Insurgents Capture a Fortress.

MADRID, April 14.—Dispatches from Melilla, Morocco, announce that the insurgent Moors have captured the fortress of Frajana. A part of the garrison escaped and took refuge in Melilla.

REPORT OF ORGANIZED AID.

Intelligent helpfulness in place of impulsive and unthinking almsgiving underlies the operations of the Organized Aid Association in its dealings with poverty and misfortune.

The president of the association, Henry M. Maxson, gives an idea of the breadth of the work in the closing words of his annual address:

"It is not merely a 'charity' society, it is an employment agency; a legal aid society, a children's aid society; an association for the improvement of the condition of the poor; a refuge for the friendless; a society to care for the insane, the feeble-minded and the imbecile; a society of female guardians; a lend-a-hand socity; in short, a center of information and aid both for those who are no longer masters of their own fortunes and for those who wish to lift up the fallen and relieve the needy."

The report of the general secretary, Miss Sarah Manton VonBoskerck, is full of encouragement and chronicles 1510 calls made, 980 calls received, 603 letters written and 391 letters received. The analysis of cases, showing the disposition of applications and the causes of distress tell a story of wise judgment and careful investigation.

"In the multitude of counsel there is wisdom," is an old and true saying, and the problems that would baffle one single handed and alone, can be brought to the bi-weekly conference for friendly visitors and before the district committee that meets monthly. Prevention and cure are the results of this careful study and oversight, and the community is wise that appreciates the labors of such an association as the Organized Aid in Plainfield and co-operates with the leaders in their good work. Co-operation does not mean shifting all responsibility for your charitable work on this organization and saying work for me. It means rather, working with, and side by side.

An engineer on a Royal Blue Line train was killed by striking his head against a projection as the train was speeding between Philadelphia and Baltimore. The train ran for some distance without a man at the throttle. Then the fireman discovered that the engineer was dead and stopped the train. A writer in a sensational New York paper tells how the conductor and passengers were wildly excited, believing that something was the matter in the cab, and were unable to stop the train. It was a very cleverly written story but the author evidently forgot that all modern trains are supplied with appliances whereby the air breaks can be applied from any car.

It has turned out that those reports of the destruction of the peach crop were premature after all and that the Hunterdon county peach growers declare that the crop this year will be as large as usual. That severe frost of a week ago did not do the damage many feared it would. It managed to chase out the usual story of the destruction of the peach crop which it is pleasant to know has just about as much foundation as usual.

For two years the boys of Leal's School have been appearing in amateur dramatics with much success. This year they will give another clever play at the Casino and their admiring parents and friends will undoubtedly see something really to be proud of in their annual performance. Several of the young men, who made their debut in school theatricals in past years are now prominent in college dramatics.

There is no class of public entertainers that receive a more enthusiastic reception from Plainfield audiences than the musical clubs of college boys. So far this season, Plainfield has seen none of them. The boys from a New England college, who are to appear one evening this week at the Methodist church in the West End, are likely to profit by this fact and draw a crowded house.

Society has resumed its activity. The last of the season's cotillions was held at the Casino last evening and marked the formal opening of the season after Lent. Like the others it was a decided success. This week promises to be quite full of attractions for the society folk as nearly every evening has some form of attraction scheduled.

The changes in the North Plainfield Board of Education are already becoming apparent. There will be a number of changes in the corps of teachers when the schools assemble in the fall after the long vacation.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

Tiring of the turmoil of metropolitan life, a New Yorker, accustomed to the luxury of an official career, removed to this city two years ago. He wanted to get among "the plain people" and he was gladly "taken in." Recently he removed to a beautiful dwelling near "the brook" and told his friends that he would soon be "touchin'on and appertainin' to a gentleman-farmer. The other day he set out to engage a "farm hand" to clean his spacious lawns. Returning in a few moments he proudly proclaimed that he had found "the best farmer that Plainfield ever had." The toiler set to work with an iron rake. Soon he informed his happy boss, whose grin was by that time as broad as that of a youth at a circus, that he could work much better with a wooden rake which could be had for fifteen cents "Good! go get one—here's a five dollar bill—bring back the change." A newspaper man found the gentleman-farmer seated on his front porch that night still hoping for the return of "the farm hand" and incidentally the change from his five dollar bill. The scribe went away whistling "Back to the woods."

DUNELLEN.

Mrs. Mary Coriell, who resides in North avenue, had a mysterious visitor Saturday night about 1 o'clock, and is at present wondering as to the visitor's object. The door bell rang violently so that Mrs. Coriell became frightened and looked out of a window to see who was there before she opened the door. It is probably fortunate that she did so as she might have been seriously hurt. A tall figure stood on the porch dressed in a black dress with the face concealed. The right hand was wrapped in white and by the moonlight Mrs. Coriell could see that her nocturnal visitor carried a stout club by its side. She did not open the door and after a while the figure went away and tried without success to bring somebody to the door at S. L. Blocks', next door, but without success. Mrs. Coriell thinks from the size of the figure that it was a man dressed in woman's clothes, bent on either robbery or murder.

TO PROTECT EUROPE

Proposition to Be Presented to Agricultural Congress.

AMERICAN COMPETITION IS FEARED.

Leader of German Reichstag Outlines His Scheme—A System of Protective Tariffs Considered the Proper Remedy.

ROME, April 14.—Count von Schwerin Loewitz, a leading member of the reichstag and president of the German agricultural council, who has just arrived here, will present a proposition to the agricultural congress for a European agricolo-commercial zollverein to meet American competition. The count outlines his plan as follows:

"My proposition does not exactly contemplate a European zollverein, but merely an understanding between the European countries to put themselves in a position to safeguard their agricultural interests through a combined system of protective tariffs. I shall submit my proposition at today's session of the congress, and it will explain my ideas.

"My scheme is based on the differences in the natural conditions of production which will have to be leveled by protectionist duties. These differences are considerably less between the European states, especially the central states, than between the European states and the over sea countries. The unequal competition of the non-European product is growing daily owing to the diminution in the expenses of transportation from the non-European countries, especially America and the British colonies.

"I understand that the economic superiority of large industrial territories tends toward economic coalition; hence a coalition of the European countries is absolutely necessary. The efforts in this direction have failed hitherto because no government wishes to abandon its independence in this field in favor of such a union, and it is also difficult to agree on a common tariff."

Count Schwerin Loewitz also intends to submit a proposition with a view to preventing non-European goods landed in one country from being exported therefrom as originating from the country in which they were first landed.
